UK Media Censor OfCom's Painful Argument in Steyn v OfCom

DR NAOMI WOLF

Like 62 Share Transcript
If I flew to London for a June 11 hearing at the Royal Courts of Justice - a judicial review of UK 'Media Regulator' OfCom's sanctions against respected commentator Mark Steyn. OfCom had concluded that Steyn's show on GBNews in October 2022, on which he had allowed me to present findings from the Pfizer Papers of deaths, sterilizations, and disabilities due to the mRNA injection, had caused 'harm'. In court, OfCom's counsel admitted that it did not matter that what I had said was true. 'Conspiracy theories can be true,' said OfCom lawyer in court, which elicited incredulous laughter. In this video, I read and explain OfCom's dangerous argument about why it has the power sweepingly to censor all broadcast content in Britain, which is surreal in its Orwellian logic. This is a hearing that affects whether or not the UK will have any freedom of speech at all.

Cheat all over the place. If an assertion can successfully be characterized as a conspiracy theory, then there is no need to bother about whether it's true or not; it can properly be dismissed on general principles.
Harmful. One might naturally assume that harmful in this context means harmful or potentially harmful to the main mass of the population (or even everybody). But we have some mental slight of hand going on, where harmful really means — now — harmful to the interests of the power elite.

I find it very disturbing that OfCom has no interest, and seems to be not even conscious of the problems created in "vulnerable people" by increasing the risk they will take a dangerous action that just happens to be recommended by the medical industrial governmental bureaucracies.

The WEF's cowardly faceless puppets at UK's CORRUPT Ofcom are totally out of control. Their mission is to hide truth at every opportunity, on behalf of Big Pharma, and to destroy those amongst us that have the balls to spread the TRUTH about dangers from mRNA injections designed to depopulate the planet!
If Pfizer and other manufacturers of poisonous injected materials were subject to 'LIABILITY' this farce would not exist.
Instead, Pfizer can continue to pretend to test and trial their profitable poisons with absolute freedom from any culpability because Pfizer, et al, control the fake Government bodies that were tasked with policing medicines for human wellbeing. The Ofcom fake 'safety net' is bought and paid for by Pfizer and all other evil members of Big Pharma. They continue to profit from the CULL BY INJECTION program specified by the WEF's New World Order.
Unpalatable Truth! I'll live longer without evil, profitable medical intervention.

Great stuff. I listened in the car, so I wasn't able to take notes - and there are many things I'd like to comment about but can't remember all. Here's one:
There is a difference between:
- committing mass murder: is either a fact if it has occurred or is occurring, or not a fact if it did not occur and is not occurring. Naming it is not being a "conspiracy theorist". It is simply naming a fact, or claiming an untrue fact. Facts can be checked.
- a conspiracy to commit mass murder is, likewise, either a fact if it has occurred or is occurring, or it is a not a fact if it did not occur and is not occurring.
-claiming a conspiracy (to commit mass murder, for example), is an accusation, not a "conspiracy theory."
- a conspiracy theorist, in logical English is someone who postulates, creates and discusses theories about conspiracist that surround us. Many businesses are "conspiracies" by design. Therefore, the ruling establishment has taken over "people.
- when most people today say "conspiracy theorists" they are really saying "false-conspiracy theorist". They are claiming or accusing someone of creating or believing in conspiracies are false, that do not exist. It's convenient, because it permits people who don't think, or don't want to think, or are not able to think or investigate a simple solution. All "conspiracy theories" are therefore false, therefore, no conspiracies exist. Life is good!
- accused of being a "conspiracy theorist" is actually being accused of being a "false-conspiracy" theorist, of spreading "false-conspiracy theories." It is simply a slur. It is not even a real accusation because an accusation requires specifics. There is no interest and no incentive to describe or detail the false-conspiracy that the subject is "accused" of believing or spreading. Describing and discussing the actual "conspiracy" would facilitate a defense. Those who accuse "conspiracy theorist" or "spreading conspiracy theories" can't have to face such scrutiny. This is why the accusers of OfCom are not interested in facts. Accusing "conspiracy theory" facilitates dismissal of facts.

It is becoming clear just how clear this legislation is, although it would not have been apparent at the time, since "protecting people from harm" sounds so nice and cuddly.
The law can mean anything Ofcom want it to mean. And they can shut down any opinions they don't like. All the definitions are subjective in nature.
This legislation is one of many time-bombs planted by the Blair government. Almost everything that is going wrong in Britain today can be traced back to Blair's reign of terror.
I sensed this man's demonic intent right from the start, and in 1999 I started moving my assets to Florida, where I still feel safe. What will happen in Florida when DeSantis' term expires I do not know.

Dear Naomi,
Sorry for addressing you in such an informal and irreverent manner. The truth is that we never met but I learned to know you from your writings and your other media appearances.
After your engaging in the fight for truth you became really dear to me.
We are living in a post Christian and post truth age, and we know the tribulations which await us.
I follow the Jewish man who said, "I am the way, the truth and the life", Jesus Christ my Lord and Saviour. I know that you have a lot in common with him and that he would love to spend a generous part of eternity talking with you, so please prepare yourself for the joy of being in his company.
When you have talked with him I hope that you will spare a minute to have a chat with me also.
Stay brave, stay truthful and stay abundantly blessed dear Naomi!

I see that at about 25 minutes in, "Harmful AND offensive" has now become "harmful AND/OR offensive". There is a distinction.
Which is it?

The whole argument is a dog's dinner.
What is 'harm'?
What's 'offensive'?
Who's the arbiter of harm & offense?
What are their criteria?
Why do these individuals believe THEY have any right to police others' opinions – or the presentation of facts from Pfizer documents?
These WICKED bureaucrats – doing the bidding ultimately of oligarchs – are either IGNORANT of the foundational role freedom of expression plays in maintaining any half-way fair society... OR they know perfectly well but they're suppressing our RIGHTS because they're paid to be little dictators or simply like abusing power.

The hypocrisy is sickening. The whole thing is so sickening I can hardly stand it. Just about everything they say actually applies to mainstream media and mainstream medicine. People might believe what they say and might make harmful decisions based on their expert advice, their status, and their positions of authority.
I couldn't help but think ... what if someone at OfCom is trying to get the word out? Every time they are compelled to quote what you've been said, they are multiplying the people who will hear it. In trying to suppress it, they are broadcasting it even more, and getting it put down in official documents for posterity. I find it quite humorous... :)

As so often these days, the criminals are accusing the decent people of the wrongdoing THEY commit.
These are the people who think it's fine to inject babies & pregnant women with TOXIC juice. THAT is VoMM.

Briefly – at approx 29 minutes in, I believe you quote Ofcom's duty under the 2003 Communications Act as being to protect the public from material which is "harmful and offensive". That is "harmful AND offensive", not "harmful OR offensive". If I have got this right (and I'm quoting from memory) that is an important distinction.
Ofcom may try, with Alice-in-Wonderland logic, to argue that Mark's programme was "harmful", even if true. But they will struggle to show that it was also "offensive".

Ditto on the thanks. I remain in awe at the magnitude of the battle Dr Wolf has taken on with OfCom. Dr Wolf represents millions of people who just want to hear a conversation and hear people's best informed opinions on the most accurate information and arguments that they have access to. Dialogue does not need to be polluted. This whole move to identify insults and dupity, by the government no less, is dead in the water. Sayonara. Civilized people seeking the truth will have nothing to do with the likes of OfCom.

so really what their lawyer said is that its causing harm to the industries product and this must not ever be allowed to happen and that conspiracies even true can be harmful to the industries products - that really it has nothing to do with people really except it might stop them from using a toxic product and then that would be a loss of profit for the industry
I'd guess and health officials and MSM really cared about our health they would all be outraged at the harm and damage caused thus far - that they are not - instead they are actively silencing censoring and trying to shut you up for doing stella work in exposing this - should show us that their form of care and keeping us safe is bogus - but we all know they don't care they show it with their actions everyday - our rights are more than important they are inviolate their logic - their argument - just reveals them - exposes them - we see them - they don't seem to see us though that gives them a false sense of security

the industry is a mafia tied to the military for GoF for bio weapons - Dr Boyle as come out and said that directly - if this is the case - who are the targets if not we the people - the people govts derive their power from - or it used to be - so you - we the people who are awake enough are up against this behemoth which is using every dirty trick in the book because they can there is no one really stopping them

we have just witnessed the impotence of the ICJ unable to enforce its rulings on Israel and we are seeing many instances where even the justice system is tied into this nefarious behemoth which shows us all how powerless these systems are to do the right thing - bring justice

During Tucker Carlson's interview with Neil Oliver, he mentioned, several times, that media censorship, or "freedom of speech" was worse in the UK than in the States. He also mentioned the sad state of affairs in Australia, New Zealand and Canada...

I thought Tucker was being too critical about the UK.

I think I was ill-informed.

Will be listening to this.

Thanks Naomi.

Now we know how people who realized what was going on in the 1900s must have felt when they saw Rockefeller trashing natural medicine and paying to set up his Pharma-allopathic medicine system.

The Ofcom argument is a MESS. It's also a clear suppression of the right to freedom of expression.

They argue, ludicrously, that we don't have a right to challenge conventional medicine even if it's unsafe and ineffective.

They qualify that - laughably - by saying they may tolerate such challenges if they're made by people with no credibility!

It's foolish and funny but also wicked and dangerous.

We have the RIGHT to challenge whatever we want.

And we have the RIGHT to hear credible people challenge whatever THEY want.

Imagine a pregnant woman during the thalidomide years.

She would not have been allowed BY OFCOM to hear a doctor express grave concerns about the disabilities the drug was causing.

She would not have been allowed to hear that peppermint tea might be an alternative remedy for morning sickness.

Ofcom are DISGRACING themselves with this case.

They are simply proving they work for Pharma in the sense that they forbid challenges to 'conventional' treatments.

Hopefully the judge will consider OUR RIGHT to freedom of expression, including our right to hear 'authoritative' people challenge the status quo. Hopefully she will not be part of the captured system we live in and will find in favour of liberty rather than Pharma & its bought-off government friends.

After all the corruption that has been exposed in the last 5 years though, it won't be surprising if the verdict supports Ofcom and 'conventional' medicine. There are such powerful forces gearing up to make trillions of dollars with artificial mRNA 'therapies'. We know where Ofcom stands. Let's see what the judge is made of.

Thalidomide, a drug for sedation, was strongly advertised as a replacement for barbiturates to help expectant mothers with problematic morning sickness. Manufactured by a German company that began with the letter G, a main man there had served 9 years in prison, after the Nuremberg Trials found him guilty of war crimes.

Thalidomide was advertised as "Safe and effective".

Brilliantly stated, your whole post. When my mind is forced to bend into a pretzel as it did when trying to follow the "logic" of the fallacy you point out, I feel something deep within me begin to break. It's a dangerous thing to swallow such deceit. It impairs your ability to recognize and take inspiration from truths and insights you come into contact with going forward.

The increasing arrogance of crooked people in power is becoming increasingly disturbing.

I heard your remarks this morning regarding the kid gloves Congress used with Fauci.

I don't think their generosity with him is entirely due to money. I think there is also a strong element of fear as well.

There is a scientist (sorry, don't remember the name) who believes that gain-of-function research is being simultaneously distributed to labs around the world, with the pathogen then released simultaneously.

In other words, it isn't just Wuhan, China conspiring solely with the lab in North Carolina. He thinks that the simultaneous outbreaks in NYC, Italy and around the world prove his point.

Simultaneous sharing of gain-of-function research is a concept promoted by the WHO for the Pandemic Treaty.

Which in my mind indicates a world-wide conspiracy of those sinister people in power to de-populate that is not limited to Fauci and who may even have threatened Fauci, a global cartel at work, beyond the reach of Congress but also able to threaten Congressmen and women in some way.

Great you must be very supportive of no Vaccines at all if you think there are no viruses.

30 years or so ago there was no recognition of the microbiome

20 years ago there was no recognition of the presence of lymph system in the brain.

Understanding the virome is in its infancy.

People not understanding is a reflection of where science (even under the constraints of the censorship of the military pharma banking globalist complex) has gotten to.

The investigations into deliberate release of a lab derived bioweapon needs urgent attention.

The fact that you are resorting to bad language and pictures shows that you have no scientific understanding of viruses.

Every mother knows that children catch things. Illnesses such as measles and mumps or scarlet fever get passed around.

Some of us have retained our common sense.

Viral particles are carried in the air we breathe or in aerosolised water droplets from toilets on flushing (so called fecal plume) probably something you should familiarise yourself with except you don't think viruses exist.

But you believe what you like, and you won't need to get any injections and you will not get ill from the biowarfare agents that you don't believe exist so they can't be spread around nor, will you need to know what you can take to alleviate any symtoms.
