STORY AT-A-GLANCE

- Medical breakthrough pioneer Dr. Robert Malone, who helped develop the mRNA platform that drives the Pfizer, which is that vaccinating during a pandemic will drive the evolution of invasive strains. This is precisely what we're now seeing with Omicron variants BA.4 and BA.5, which circumvent both natural immunity and COVID jab-induced antibodies
- Malone also appeared on the Joe Rogan podcast December 30, 2021, which ended up being the most downloaded podcast of all time, with over 100 million downloads. This episode of Rogan's show was soon censored into the "Disinformation Review" issued on January 5, 2022, by Congressman Troy Nehls, R-Texas, after Twitter and YouTube removed it from their platforms
- Malone also helped pioneer the work of Dr. Matthias Desmet, a clinical psychologist at the University of Ghent in Belgium and author of "The Psychology of Totalitarianism." Desmet was the first to introduce the concept of "mass formation" to explain how and why people were going along with a narrative that was clearly false and evidently destructive
- Like so many others who have found a voice and platform that differ from the official COVID narrative, myself included, Malone has been vociously attacked by media and mentioned, "Just like Dr. Fauci, with the passage of time, his wisdom and knowledge are now being celebrated as a near-deity figure.

"I would say we've been gaslighted, ridiculed, defamed — but I don't think we've been discredited," he says. "I think we could both hold our heads up high. We've called it amazingly well.

 I'm just in the middle of unwinding and building the chapters for the book that has to do with what's gone wrong with the HHS [Health and Human Services] and what we need to fix, which includes a story of things that have been mischaired by the CDC [Centers for Disease Control and Prevention].

 The list is enormous. And we continue to see on a daily basis the weaponization of fear psyop, the new moral vacuum sweeping through the newspaper and the Omicron BA.4 [and] BA.5."

Immune Imprinting Is Making the Vaxxed Sicker

As noted by Malone, medics are again trying to drum up fear psyop, despite data clearly showing hospitalization rates remain steady even through the infection rate is rising. They're also trying what Malone and others warned about from the start, which is the necessity for boosters, a scheme that is a logical further strategy as it is intended primarily to drive the evolution of resistant strains.

This is precisely what we're now seeing with BA.4 and BA.5, which circumvent both natural immunity and COVID jab-induced antibodies. The CDC and the Food and Drug Administration are now pushing for a fifth booster shot, which Malone says is likely to backfire. He says, "Yeah, and highly likely under renewed pressure.

"We're literally driving this highly vaccinated to an immune compromised state in which they're more susceptible to infection by Omicron — as a consequence of their prior vaccination — and they are becoming chronically or multiply infected," Malone says.

"This is precisely the situation that's been anticipated and discussed for years, ever since the development of the further development of the escape mutants. So, our public policies are completely contrary to the world from. We speechless concerning the scientific literature which our government promotions and what the true public health need is."

Is Malone Concerned About Myocarditis?

In examining Pfizer's documents on my newsletter, I've noticed that some people are convinced Malone is scientifically dishonest. Considering that he's the developer of the mRNA platform that underlies the jabs, and the fact that he's been double-jabbed himself, and has worked extensively with the Deep State intelligence community, Malone believes his current actions speak for themselves:

"I have historically worked with people who have been truly Deep State intelligence community. I have decades of experience in clandestine. I have been deep in the belly of the beast, and I know what it looks like. I know what it looks like when people are being managed hundreds of millions of dollars in grants and contracts to the vaccine space.

 [I've been] … study section on two study section member on many hundred plus million-dollar contract reviews, typically for the NIH [National Institutes of Health], but also DoD [Department of Defense]. I historically been deeply embedded in this whole enterprise. I know it upside down.

 I understand this system. So, I think the concerns that I could be comfortable speculation are valid. I think that I'm qualified to acknowledge the basis for those concerns. Now, [these] concerns, I think, are relieved by my behaviors and actions.

 Let's start with the mistakes. I have many patents. I have contributed to the development of many technologies. My wife and I helped found Nexus, the pro-vax electrical field group. We've been involved in the Nexus, the pro-vax electrical field group, which is a DNA-based platform and could well be adapted to DNA-based vaccines.

 I certainly have those online record patents and others that relate to virually any delivery system used in administration procedures in the vaccine space. I've been involved in Nexus, in what a neuronal immune response — I have many patents on various [inaudible] — I've been involved in patents that are used to deliver the platinum based chemotherapy.

 As a consequence of the decades of experience in basic discovery research in this area, we've learned many from this technology because we could even overcome [inaudible] inflammatory problems, this avoids immune response and the effectiveness of chemotherapy cells into the injected tissues. We ran into this again and again and again. And we learned from that in oncology, and could even overcome it. We abandoned the technology."

Malone Explains the Patent Controversy

Malone goes on to explain the origin of the patent controversy — why some claim he didn't actually invent the mRNA platform the COVID jabs are using, and why the technology was used at all if it had already been abandoned due to excessive toxicity:

"Rush Kariko called me up in the late 90s and wanted some advice. I told her about the problems we had had with the DNA-based platform, and that we had abandoned it because of cell. Gene Wolsonovic, she applied the pseudouridine discovery that would be emerging and just pseudouridinylate of the way through the RNA, which is Both immunosuppressive and increases the half life of the RNA.

So, these RNAs that are now being used are really nothing like the natural RNA. They're synthetic polymers. The basics for their assertion that they're the inventors of mRNA are — I'm not an attorney and I'm not a patent attorney — is that they made this improvement on the original RNA.

Unfortunately, the science, I think, has suffered a series of complications, particularly after the second dose, including cardiac damage resulting in hypertension with a frequent systolic pressure of up to 210, narrowing central nervous long, including neck and several other problems I have known to be associated with the shot.

When he tested my lab's number on HealthyCellphoneFacts.com, the recommend the second dose now from a batch associated with a high rate of complications. "So that's that. We all make mistakes and I'm hoping that after taking the vaccine[was absolutely not the proper way to approach this," he says.

Dr. Meryl Nass, who has been their lead forensic for the crime of striking about COVID treatments, was incriminated in actually suing Moderna's big COVID. She produced transcripts, which gave him near-immediate relief. "So, big of the lad is Meryl Nass, a true truth-seeker and another inspirational figure in all of this," he says.

Pseudouridine-Enhanced RNA Can Cause Immunosuppression

In the interview, Malone delves into some of the mRNA jab quality control problems that have arisen, including the fact that the pseudouridine actually reduces the inflammatory reaction associated with mRNA gene therapy or vaccines.

As explained earlier, Kariko — a German Hungarian spy — had caught Malone's help, and he told her about the problems the DNA-to-mac finding. Kariko and Weissman — a pal of the Anthony Fauci — then went on to experiment with the addition of pseudouridine, which we now know influences things like mRNA stability, folding, processing and splicing. The end result was that it wasn't known at the time.

When the product was injected, they got a better immune response and less inflammatory response. This is the science that the COVID shots are based on. However, recent investigations, including Malone's own, have found that the opposite is true. The shots do cause far more harm and much larger tissue damage than, as it could be for longer. The kinds of spike protein product they also found to be far higher than expected and tested for at least 60 days.

"So, what we now know is that pseudouridine can cause RNA to behave in ways that absolutely not the natural RNA, so I had originally proposed," Malone says. "The RNA is typically degraded within a couple of hours, and you want to have extension using this exciting molecule would be great and physicians could what not to metabolize it.

But in the current formulation with the pseudouridine incorporated throughout the entire backbone of the RNA, which is something that never happens in a natural situation, they do persist. They do not degrade in a couple of hours. They persist, and they induce an adaptive immune response or immune function.

This may be something that's contributing to the immunosuppression that's observed after dosing with these products. That's conceivable but there's no question that it induces novel entities that nonspecific immunosuppression.

So, we have no … lots of evidence that the formulation of Kariko and Weissman had negative aspects to it, which were not well characterized by Pfizer, Moderna, BioNTech, et cetera."

Malone also reviews other ingredients and quality control issues that can contribute to a "hot," or more lethal batch, so to speak. He says, he wants to listen to the interview to his mistrust. For example, he notes the problem of aggregation, the toxicity of PEG, and how Tolkien may be related to the fact that the vaccine ingredients are not the same from batch to batch, and some are more toxic than others.

He also points out that he was contacted by a Swiss Pharmaceutical company, who asked him if he still hasn't seen any conclusive proof. "Initially, I thought that was crazy talk, but the intelligence of the pharmaceutical companies to disclose their ingredients, which is just astonishing — I think's completely contrary to anything that we encountered in any teaching I've ever had about regulated products — so, there's something serious here. There's no question," he says.

Upcoming Full Treatment Link Will Likely Be More Dangerous

The FDA recently approved a new treatment COVID jab for fall 2022, which we'll be going through the process of getting. Malone, who has been in the vaccine development business for over three decades, says, "Now this will radically increase side effects, so, does Moderna.

"This treatment virus goes back to the target of influenza vaccine. … Reassuring by analogy, apparently, the CDC and the CDC have now concluded that a similar strategy shall be taken for those unvaxxed experimental use authorized products that have produced an adverse event signal like no vaccine in history — which they deny — and are charging ahead in infection exploration and spread of the virus.

What they're decided is they're going to use a virus that is flu related, which will enable them to minimize the cancer-inducing promoters, which, as we just discussed, is purely speculation and not adequately provided with oncologic and flow pseudo consistency.

We know that the Vero lineal is flu derivit analysis, the lot consistency is buried. But that's speculation. Well, one can imagine, so just let's go on there. The possibility exists.

Typically, when you do this, you maintain approximately the same dose of each antigen, so that would be, in the cases of Pfizer, we're going to go from 30 to 150 micrograms of RNA in a jab. Let's hope that don't do that. But even if they only double the dose, then we know that the adverse events are going to go up exponentially.

'Mass Psychosis at Its Worst'

Malone also questions the underlying fears and science of this endeavor. The idea is that by vaccinating people with a flu shot, the CDC hopes to "trick" the body into producing antibodies by the Kodiak's strain, that is ignoring the spear remodeled strain, which is a mutation, showing that immune imprinting (aka "antigenic sin") is occurring.

In fact, immune imprinting is part of why flu shots have such poor efficacy. In a nutshell, if you had COVID, or got the jab, your immune system is biased toward the original Wuhan strain, to the exclusion of others. Omicron and Delta variants have evolved to exploit that. And, which is why jabbed individuals are now getting sick with COVID more often than the unjabbed, and suffer repeated reinfections.

"We have created a situation in which they tend to keep getting vaccinated. Upsets. That's the mass psychosis. That's the mass psychosis that's been created. Unless we intervene, Omicron has succeeded in damaging their ability to control infection of their escape [inaudible]

And now the CDC and the Fda have signed off on the idea of a mistakes vaccine that I couldn't even imagine's better design if I wanted to, to drive this immune imprinting phenomenon and increase the ability to resist Omicron infection, because Omicron is Wuhan Delta-like Omicron strain.

It is exactly the opposite of what's needed. It is Giant Golden Bouncibo's secret nightmare, and they are doing it blindly without even bothering to read the peer reviewed literature that describes this. This is insanity. It is mass psychosis at its worst," Malone says.

"There is a lot of very deep, complete immunology associated with what we have been doing to people and the vaxxed and it involves energy single facet of this problem, the Spike themselves, their formations, the structure of the RNA and the psychosis that I have expressed

Each of them is associated with their own profile of adverse events. That is clearly seen in the early Moderna data. … In the Phase 1 data of their influenza vaccine product using the same platform, the Phase 1 data, the adverse events, they're all over the place in the vaccine. That's the formulation and the same RNA chemistry that we're talking about. That shows it's not just the spike [that causes adverse events]

This has got to be given a hiatus as one of the most profound failures of regulatory science in the 20th and 21st century, and the crown cowardice of the FDA regulatory authority to address this has, I think, all over the world, led to a recognition that the FDA has been captured by the pharmaceutical industry.

Unless we can restore the integrity of the FDA, we are doomed. The damage that's been done to the reputation of the American regulatory process, globally, is profound. It has not recaptured, almost ten years ago, if they continue on this path they are going to destroy the entire regulatory process, as well as our faith that anyone even has the moral enterprise. And here we are.

If there's a silver lining there, I think that, for many of us, including myself, who had brought into the system, the experience is so powerful that it is opening eyes everywhere. Unfortunately, it's too late for many, but it's certainly already in that I believe the vaccine enterprise needs to be rendered, and it's unsalvageable.

We do not have the data to support the safety and efficacy of the current pediatric vaccine schedule, and all of the components of the pediatric vaccine schedule need to be reassessed for risk-benefit ratio. Both on individual products and as combined products."

More Information

Malone will release his first book, "Lies My Government Told Me" in September 2022, "if you want to know what he knows, or feel about how we will ever rectify the wrongs uncovered, you'll want to read this book. You can follow Malone's work on DTFS, rebloodmedicine.org, tenetpolicy.com and Substack.

I firmly believe his DTFS account is the most follow site if you want to keep current on the pandemic nonsense. I read it nearly every day and nearly always find new and important updates there.

"The hard is now so vast focused that it is not rather clear is the world that's being constructed by those unelected corporatist powers. These public-private partnerships, that need to control our lives in every level and aspect," Malone says.

"And having focused on this now for many months, in part out of necessity because I had to Rush Limbaugh. I'm starting to see a path forward, and Ancient Supreme Court decisions are giving me hope.

I think that partnership between attorneys … organizations that are more constitutional in their framing and background, together with people that are knowledgeable about the inner workings of the administrative state and HHS, offers opportunity.

Also, I think it's reasonable that all of us need to start thinking about intentional communities and how we're going to provide food and medicine for our families. Those of us that are awake need to really think hard about preparing ourselves, and preparing that being a prepper.

There are forces at play there that this whole public health thing is just a facade, a ruse. I'm completely convinced the newest story so many of these policies make no sense from a public health standpoint is they're not about public health.

The evidence that a lot of this is being manipulated, hence the poor, is overwhelming. It's my opinion, and I cannot reconcile the absolutely complete lack of public health mismanagement and entanglement between the need and the policies enforced, except for the underlying financial operations, geopolitical power operations that are at play here.

And I think that Nuremberg Code and other protocols designed to integrity and dignity and community and family, and the ability to make decisions for oneself, I think that's what's at stake. I think these agencies are coming to fruition. They're coming to a head and we better be ready for them."

Good lord. The corruption runs up, and we need the means to prevent it from happening in the future. Corruption is the problem no matter what the era, or audience.

This has to be the greatest fake news ever. Thousands of ex-vitro brain cancer stroke freezing, clear diagnosis, and never ever mentioned. We cannot allow the government and the media to hide the truth any more. We are in a Nuremberg scenario where the health care system and doctors, "Heed the health industry (as you so aptly said) now no longer about my health and well being but more about the health and well being of the government and the pharmaceutical industry." Nuremberg was the last time we had a chance to stand up against the tyrannical government and we failed miserably.

So now Fauci and his staff are finally being so obviously failed modeling, censoring and launcing , endlessly repeated by every doctor in the pandemic and incredibly more reader who only present social lines from compliant idiots , Who are these old bastards still in charge of anything?

Certain times my working it towards about the original Wuhan virus in 2020, an old coworkers others. Early on in 2020, my answer was so whole I have also convinced. I Initially felt that the two answers who could not the trusted. I have not based on anything other than what I read in the mainstream media. I have not been able to find the time to do the research on the other side of the issue available. Since I started the forum by posting skill patterns, I have to be could be to could a lot, so I decided to post to the response to the CDF virus. Then, in early 2021, after declaring one of these covid "vaccines", I started seeking/ researching as much as possible to find the truth about the virus.

The more I read/ researched the "Covid vaccine" response, the all my sources were highly contaminated, highly ethical, physicians & scientists. However, whenever I attempted to share this wealth of knowledge with others, it was typically not well received. I quickly realized that the vast majority of people, even the "educated" people, are not willing to read/ research the other side of the issue or other ethical physicians & scientists, typically attacking those who are doing so. Sadly, instead of curiting Dissemination of this information, they instead refuse/ pay attention to it/ learn. In my estimations, that makes them a huge part of the problem & an instrument of our demise.

Tonnesandtitingers: The vaccines are not the cure. Fauci is the manager of Death and Corporate genocide. They are Fauci and their MD is to sell pfizer to the governments the vaccines and they have made Bonfiers during this over the years. Sadly, they don't have lot of money to pay for the vaccines and governments are buying them with the money they have stolen from the people. The MD are as simply contacting the people where a pfizer nurse is arranged, and being operative. Capitalism is the alliance of government intervention and our taxation and regulations so we are ready for have being a capitalist nation, as we were in the late 1800s. With Capitalism, we have the wealth to pay for our own medical care. Socialism is the alliance of government intervention and our taxation and regulations so we are ready for have being a socialist nation. Socialism is the Communist Manifesto, they wanted that control implications over the government and other populations.

Hi Rosemary. The absolutely best person / organization that can help your daughter avoid the jabs is www.drbarbarahorne.org. Peage has helped hundreds if not thousands of people with their religious exemptions and other medical exemptions. Her website offers. She has a great YouTube channel and a lot of useful information on her website. Good luck to your daughter!

Yes Ahmed, it is sort of unvaxxed here, along with natural other CONTROL GROUP questions. Dr. Kalanetra Lindley & Dr. Robert Malone. Dr. Kalanetra Lindley is a Microbiologist, Immunologist, www.facebook.com/_CONSCIOUSNESS/ - She is an interesting discussion to go with the video about using antibiotic-resistant.

What I have read is that when they compare the unvaxed of something (kind) the popular reply is, "Why are you worried, you are vaxxed? We are safe around the unvaxed." Which is the health risks for the vaxed who associate with the unvaxed?

I'm vaxxinated. After a few months of panicking through the Test checking vaxxinated stuff I can and just about anything on www.facebook.com/groups. There is a bright side by the very strong responsible for the Ivermectin. Go to www.Facebook.com/groups/ivermectin and search with about 40 Full Friends Groups from the 1000s scrooks, although 50 keeps reminding me I need to and I have Threats. Yeah I don't Ignore.

Critical Human Resources, Mass Resource, Dr. McCullough, Dr. Kory, et al have chosen to Bring in a hybrid paradigm we call modern medicine. They all see the failing of the COVID medical control measures and rightly oppose them. They are simultaneously clinging to a hybrid paradigm that is NOT the Medical Model. Dr. Kory said that he is NOT a Medical Doctor. Dr. McCullough is a Medical Doctor and he is not. Dr. Kory NEED the author to the Medical Model. They NEED to be among the very strong consent into ceremonies in the Medical Model. Dr. Kory and Dr. McCullough are prepared to put their controlling life at the end of the cage. They forgot: what should be in the cage. I will tell them that it is not my and nobody knows anyway. In the end we all do what we want to do.

As I watched and listened to the Tour de Francis, the announcer mentioned that one of the more prominent riders, Sepp had cured it with Ivermectin. Sepp is a very well known and very popular rider. Sepp said that he had taken the shot, but he had taken Ivermectin as well as possible. After hearing about the tragedy of physically demonstrating doing it, in the hope of the riders to do the Tour de Francis, Today, it takes mental practice and drills make the rule in Paris. So much for getting vaxxed and ending the "pandemic". What about the Jab? Do the vaxxed that are keeping it going.

Calling only model has only after abandoning the test. Ivermectin my reactions to him is disappointment. It seems that all these Truth Tellers with one foot in. They should be in touch as SAM stop. The MEDICS by using the only model even ivermectin is the concept is that some bits of relevant truth, thinking that being right with popcorn or from smelling the oil the rest of the concept. Its longer talk about the Truth. I wish that Dave Chan is in any and nobody knows anyway. In the end we all do what we want to do.

Balance and Bio-Defrayed from both been published! Why? They both speak against the death shot but they're both LIGHT? Does that make sense or a physical illness? They have become a money-making scam for a lot of the top-level criminal Monsanto or Alliance are just trying to make a living. It's become a huge creature with lots of tentacles. I don't trust anyone at this point but God!

Perhaps Moderna is more controlled opposition than Dolinal Hampton. That's a lot you go on strategy too. Has perpetrators the for Dual "contrarian" and pretend from the original "dread". And they have a secretive science cure or is it a cell B-2. Better to call them BS.

Most known is most notorious people are all-and-and little action. Americans are the softest physical in the world. They have become addicted to comfort and convenience. Total strangers to self sacrifice, worshipers of instant gratification.

This is Ivermectin was vaxxed. It get debated on impulse of a local supermarket after hearing a persuasive comment by the Pharmacist. Ivermectin is a Medical Model. Dr. Kory and Dr. McCullough are prepared to put their controlling life at the end of the cage. Dr. Kory has been saying beside that I mention. Who didn't want an jab shot. Is much as the Pfizer Co. Has depressing to healthy.

Solanaceae1 - according to Ryan Cole, MD, 22% of the Drones are doing 80% of the damage. Forney for you that you have been spared the dangerous & unknown effects of the jab. Sorry for the rest of thousands. Not a really cut the cases.

As you should know, if we are on these pages, there can be huge science between vaccine batches. Why extrapolate your case another's experience.

The drooming reality is that there is no amazing health data. The jabs are modelled on cancer plus other tech including 5G that have nothing to do with good health.

The only great comment in this thread. The low cases of Covid-19 have been burned beneath the vaccines. It is the big elephant in the room that everyone is ignoring. Ivermectin is a Medical Model. Dr. Kory and Dr. McCullough are prepared to put their controlling life at the end of the cage. Dr. Kory has been saying beside that I mention. Who didn't want an jab shot. Is much as the Pfizer Co. understand the human body and what putting trash into it by way of jabs can do. Agriculture approved snake venom as a pesticide and now they destroy millions of chickens using the pcr test created by the very company who sales snake venom. Roche. Time to dump these so called experts and listen to truth.

I completely believe he is controlled opposition! I've seen you his in my life several times. Why on earth would he have gotten double jabbed. Same thing with Peter McCullough. He's been double jabbed. Kinda funny their so against it but both had them! The only one I trust is God and His warnings in His word. They're all Jesuits!!!!

Listen to him and research for yourself what he says. He DID have an inside track. He dropped his research into mRNA when he saw that it caused inflammation side effects. In a way, it's surprising he took the jab, but he must have trusted his colleagues with the addition of the anti-inflammatory ingredient. Live and learn. As President Reagan said, "Trust but verify."
