Mercola Website Shutdown — Why You May Be Next

Suppression and harassment of those who dissent against COVID tyranny has created an awakening. We simply can't pick and choose approved speech.

STORY AT-A-GLANCE

- September 23, 2022, the Mercola website was cyberattacked and taken offline. The attack also destroyed our email servers and all our email accounts were lost including my primary email
- Over the past two years, we've been censored and deplatformed by several social media companies at the request of the federal government. Banks have also shut down our accounts and canceled our credit cards, and PayPal has shut down the accounts of our business partners
- Since August 2021, our reach has been primarily restricted to subscribers of our newsletter, and with this cyberattack, they tried to eliminate even this limited reach
- Our website will temporarily operate through Substack, which will host our content for the first 48 hours free of charge. It is imperative that you sign up for a free subscription to my Substack to receive our daily newsletter
- If you are a newsletter subscriber and you receive our newsletter through Gmail please use this as an opportunity to catalyze switching your primary email to ProtonMail.
- Our online marketplace, MercolaMarket.com, was restored after being offline for four days and is operational again

Many of you are aware the Mercola website disappeared early Friday morning, September 23, 2022. This outage wasn't scheduled, but we have been planning and preparing for the possibility that hackers might succeed in their attempts to take us down for some time now.

The past few years have brought many challenges. Attacks have been ongoing for the past six years, but have really concentrated over the last two. Media, U.S. senators, attorneys general, federal agencies and Big Tech have all been used by the global cabal to illegally shut down our right to free speech.

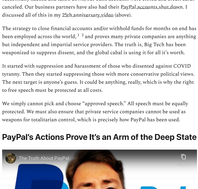
In April 2021, two state attorneys general threatened social media companies with legal ramifications if they didn't censor me, and in July that year President Biden himself demanded I be banned from all social media.

By early August 2021, the free speech attacks had intensified to the point where the best choice available was to make articles viewable for free for only 48 hours. After that, they were transferred to a subscription platform (Substack) which provides legal protection of a private membership association.

As demanded by the White House, my reach on social media has since been throttled back to next to nothing. Still, that wasn't enough. In February 2022, former National Institutes of Health director Dr. Francis Collins blamed me personally for the government's inability to bring the COVID pandemic to a close. This despite the fact that I was by then heavily censored just about everywhere.

The only people, really, who saw my information were those who subscribed to my newsletter and received it by email. In this latest attack on my website, they tried to eliminate even that ability to share information.

The Global Cabal Plays Dirty



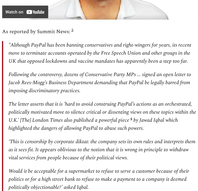
The global cabal also have other ways to shut down opposition. A key strategy is to destroy you financially and prevent you from making a living. Before our website was successfully hacked and taken down, our bank accounts were closed and credit cards canceled. Our business partners have also had their PayPal accounts shut down. I discussed all of this in my 25th anniversary video (above).

The strategy to close financial accounts and/or withhold funds for months on end has been employed across the world,[1] and proves many private companies are anything but independent and impartial service providers. The truth is, Big Tech has been weaponized to suppress dissent, and the global cabal is using it for all it's worth.

It started with suppression and harassment of those who dissented against COVID tyranny. Then they started suppressing those with more conservative political views. The next target is anyone's guess. It could be anything, really, which is why the right to free speech must be protected at all costs.

We simply cannot pick and choose "approved speech." All speech must be equally protected. We must also ensure that private service companies cannot be used as weapons for totalitarian control, which is precisely how PayPal has been used.

PayPal's Actions Prove It's an Arm of the Deep State



As reported by Summit News:[2]

> "Although PayPal has been banning conservatives and right-wingers for years, its recent move to terminate accounts operated by the Free Speech Union and other groups in the UK that opposed lockdowns and vaccine mandates has apparently been a step too far.
> Following the controversy, dozens of Conservative Party MPs ... signed an open letter to Jacob Rees-Mogg's Business Department demanding that PayPal be legally barred from imposing discriminatory practices.
> The letter asserts that it is 'hard to avoid construing PayPal's actions as an orchestrated, politically motivated move to silence critical or dissenting views on these topics within the U.K. [The] London Times also published a powerful piece[3] by Jonal Iqbal which highlighted the dangers of allowing PayPal to abuse such powers.
> This is censorship by corporate diktat: the company sets its own rules and interprets them as it sees fit. It appears oblivious to the notion that it is wrong in principle to withdraw vital services from people because of their political views.
> Would it be acceptable for a supermarket to refuse to serve a customer because of their politics or for a high-street bank to refuse to make a payment to a company it deemed politically objectionable?' asked Iqbal.
> After questions were asked in Parliament about the issue, a new law could be on the cards that would put an end to PayPal's crusade against dissident viewpoints. Conservative backbenchers are considering launching an amendment to upcoming financial legislation in the House of Commons that would ban companies from forcing campaigners' accounts,' reports the Telegraph."

'Iron Sharpens Iron'

We're not giving up though. We see right through this coordinated agenda. A game of chess is being played out and our lives and future liberty are at stake. We simply cannot give up our rights and freedoms — for any reason — because they won't stop there. They intend to take literally everything from us, all of us.

> "Always remember that challenges are opportunities to become stronger as individuals and as a society. Standing up for a good cause — and there's no better cause than freedom — actually makes you more powerful as it strengthens your resiliency."

We have won many battles and are stronger and more enlightened by each one. Importantly, we've broken through the blinding fog of the COVID war together, which is why they're upping the ante.

Always remember that challenges are opportunities to become stronger as individuals and as a society. Standing up for a good cause — and there's no better cause than freedom — actually makes you more powerful.

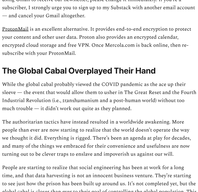
Facing adversity head-on makes you more resilient as it forces you to think outside the box and come up with new and better solutions. And believe me, we have bigger and better solutions in the works to prevent these kinds of interruptions from happening in the future!

Temporary Solutions

While we work on restoring everything, our website will temporarily operate through Substack, which will host our content for the first 48 hours free of charge. It is imperative that you sign up for a free subscription to my Substack to receive our daily newsletter. Please also bookmark the website should you not receive our emails.

You can find my Substack website at: TakeControlSubstack.com. More updates will be coming, so please be sure to subscribe to my Substack website or bookmark the page and visit daily. Our online marketplace was restored over the weekend and can be reached at MercolaMarket.com.

Still Using Gmail? Time to Switch!



If you've still using Gmail, I urge you to reconsider, as Google is not only harvesting every word from every email you send and receive, they're also censoring your inbox.

While about 50% of our subscribers are using Gmail accounts to receive our daily newsletter, the delivery rate for Gmail is HALF of other email providers, such as ProtonMail. I am certain that at some point in the not too distant future they will stop delivering ANY of our emails to Gmail accounts.

So, please understand if you are one of the 50% who are receiving our newsletter by email the time is NOW to opt out of Gmail as your primary email client. You can keep it for things that don't matter or are irrelevant, but with anything that counts, like the vital information you receive in our newsletter, the time has come to opt out of Gmail.

It is just another clever censoring strategy they have at their disposal. So, if you're using Gmail to receive our newsletter, please change it immediately. If you're a subscriber, I strongly urge you to sign up to my Substack with another email account — and cancel your Gmail altogether.

ProtonMail is an excellent alternative. It provides end-to-end encryption to protect your content and other user data. Proton also provides an encrypted calendar, encrypted cloud storage and free VPN. Once Mercola.com is back online, then re-subscribe with your ProtonMail.

The Global Cabal Overplayed Their Hand

While the global cabal probably viewed the COVID pandemic as the ace up their sleeve — the event that would allow them to usher in The Great Reset and the Fourth Industrial Revolution (i.e., transhumanism and a post-human world) without too much trouble — it didn't work out quite as they planned.

The authoritarian tactics have instead resulted in a worldwide awakening. More people than ever are now starting to realize that the world doesn't operate the way we thought it did. Everything is rigged. There's been an agenda at play for decades, and many of the things we embraced for their convenience and usefulness are now turning out to be clever traps to enslave and impoverish us against our will.

People are starting to realize that social engineering has been at work for a long time, and that data harvesting is not an innocent business venture. They're starting to see just how the prison has been built up around us. It's not completed yet, but the global cabal is closer than ever to their goal of controlling the global population. This is why we cannot give up or give in, no matter how many times they try to knock us down.

'The Greater Good' Hides a Great Evil

The fact that this cabal doesn't have the safety and well-being of mankind as their primary motivation is now clearly self-evident. In recent months, more and more evidence has emerged allowing us to put the puzzle pieces of the COVID pandemic and its ultimate purpose together, and it's not a pretty picture.

Between the SARS-CoV-2 bioweapon, the COVID shot bioweapon, the intentional lack of early treatment and the mistreatment in hospitals, the lockdowns, mask mandates and isolation requirements, and the subsequent mental health problems, loss of work and education, lack of medical care, suicides and drug overdoses, the decision makers in this COVID "war game" have injured and killed more people than any previous genocide in human history.

We're literally living through the greatest crime against humanity the world has ever seen, and bioweapons research is an important factor that allowed for all of this to happen.

Evidence points to SARS-CoV-2 being the result of a lab leak, and that Dr. Anthony Fauci, Harvard researchers, China, the mainstream media, the World Health Organization and tech companies all worked together to cover it up. U.S. Right to Know recently published a detailed timeline of this cover-up.[3]

The Soul and Freedom of Humanity Is at Stake

I've repeatedly discussed the end goal of the global cabal, from various angles. While their strategies are manifold and complex, the end goal is rather simple. They intend to create a two-tiered society of have's and have not's. The top-tier will be augmented transhumanists who will control the world's resources — and that includes the rest of us.

To them, you and I are not only ignorant and contemptible but a resource to be used and disposed of at will, and they don't want a disposable resource to use up more valuable resources such as land, property, food, water and energy. The Great Agenda is all about restricting our ability to access resources and live free.

They intend to seize complete control over the world and implement tyrannical global slavery, and to do that, they have to silence any and all opposition. I'm just one of many. So far, they've not succeeded in silencing me, and many others are also not giving up but, rather, adapting and inventing new ways to communicate truth and share information.

No matter what they throw at us, we simply must stay the course and refuse to give up or resign ourselves to their slave system. Information is power, and no matter how small your reach, never stop sharing information, and never give in to their intimidation tactics. The future of humanity is at stake.

I am committed to continue to empower you with the truth about health and the global cabal's threats to your health and liberty. But the only way I can do that is if you continue to receive our daily emails, so please be sure the email client you are using is not Gmail as there is a high likelihood you will not receive them in the future due to their censorship strategies.

It's terrible, it's hateful... I have no words to describe how freedom of expression is being attacked and with it the main rights that must support the foundations of a democratic society governed by the constitution. My admiration for Dr. Mercola and all the people who are defending the truth of science, health and freedom of expression.

"No matter what they throw at us, we simply must stay the course and refuse to give up or resign ourselves to their slave system. Never stop sharing information, and never give in to their intimidation tactics. The future of humanity is at stake. Standing up for a good cause — and there's no better cause than freedom — actually makes you more powerful as it strengthens your resilience."

Humanity is being subjected to global governance where people are used to power being centralized in public–corporate partnerships that represent tyranny and fascism. The deep state now primarily serve the interests of multinational corporations, while the people are manipulated by the marketing imposed by tech servers and all other media. It's not about serving people, it's about increasing your power and wealth. Surveillance and state authority, digital technology facilitates intimidation, disinformation and other mechanisms by reducing individual freedom, suppressing minority opinion and enforcing authoritarian control

The Biden administration is subjected to a global globalist regime that is running the US government, according to investigative journalist and podcaster Mel K Ultra. "The American people don't understand that they, the people we think are the government, they have been completely usurped and handed over their authority to a higher level: a world globalist regime, the captured government of Washington DC was put in place by the same people who are involved in the Great Reset," said Mel K. The globalist group has managed to compartmentalize the American people into different groups and take away their ability to think critically.

We cannot help but hope that governments and citizens are waking up to the powerful anti-democratic forces that are encoded in our technology and the culture that informs and empowers it. The purpose must be that people recognize that submitting to manipulation is the end of the self-sufficient and informed citizen with access. to the writings of experts with a deep commitment to the scientific method and and ethical principles, as has been exercised by Dr. Mercola and other scientific defenders of the truth of science.
