STORY AT-A-GLANCE

- The United Nations Sustainable Development Goals are not about sustainability. They're tools to facilitate the implementation of a One World Government
- The term the global alliance uses to describe its network is a "global public-private partnership," or GSP. The GSP is composed of most of the world's governments, intergovernmental organizations, global corporations, major philanthropic foundations, non-governmental organizations (NGOs) and civil society groups. Collectively, they are the "stakeholders" that are implementing the SDGs
- While SDG16 claims to advance "peaceful and inclusive societies" and "justice for all," this goal is really about consolidating authority, exploiting threats to advance regime hegemony, and implementing a centrally controlled global system of digital identity (digital ID)
- A digital identity is not merely a form of identification. Your "identity" is who you are, and a digital identity will keep a permanent record of your choices and behaviors, 24/7. Universal adoption of digital identity will enable the GSP global governance regime to establish a behavioral-based system of reward and punishment
- The COVID pandemic was used to redefine human rights and to get people used to the idea that the rights of individuals are conditional and can be ignored or suspended "for the greater good." The United Nations' Charter establishes a global governance regime that stands against freedom, justice and peace, and all of the UN's SDGs need to be understood within this context

At this point in time, it's crucial to realize that the United Nations' Sustainable Development Goals (SDGs) are part of the plan to implement a One World Government, where the entire world will be run by unelected bureaucrats beholden to technocratic ideals.

In a two-part Unlimited Hangout investigative series,[1] independent journalists Iain Davis and Whitney Webb expose how Sustainable Development Goal No. 16 (SDG16), which claims to advance "peaceful and inclusive societies" and "justice for all," is really about consolidating authority, exploiting threats to advance regime hegemony, and forcing a "centrally controlled global system of digital identity" (digital ID) upon humanity.[2]

As explained in Part 1,[3] the term the global alliance of technocrats use to describe its network is a "global public-private partnership," or GSP:

> "The GSP is toiling tirelessly to create the conditions necessary to justify the imposition of both global governance 'with teeth' and its prerequisite digital ID system. In doing so, the GSP is inverting the nature of our rights. It manufactures and exploits crises in order to claim legitimacy for its offered 'solutions.'
> The GSP comprises virtually all of the world's intergovernmental organizations, governments, global corporations, major philanthropic foundations, non-governmental organizations (NGOs) and civil society groups. Collectively these form the 'stakeholders' implementing sustainable development, including SDG16."

The following chart, sourced from IanDavis.com,[4] illustrates how the GSP operates.

What SDG16 Is Really About

The central objective of SDG16 is to strengthen the UN-led regime, and of all the subgoals included in this SDG, the establishment of "a legal identity for all" (SDG16.9), is the most crucial, as other goals rely on the use of digital identity. As noted by Davis and Webb:[5]

> "Universal adoption of SDG16.9 digital ID will enable the GSP global governance regime's to establish a worldwide system of reward and punishment. If we accept the planned model of digital ID, it will ultimately enslave us in the name of sustainable development ...
> SDG16.9 'sustainable development' means we must use digital ID ... Otherwise we will not be protected in law, service access will be denied, our right to transact in the modern economy will be removed, we will be banned from participating as 'citizens' and excluded from so-called 'democracy.'"

Understanding Digital Identity

The World Economic Forum (WEF), founded by Schwab, has for years promoted the implementation of digital identity. The problem with calling it "digital ID" is that people misunderstand it to be something it's not. There's a huge difference between identity and identification.[6]

Identification refers to documents that prove you are who you say you are. A digital identity is NOT merely a form of identification. Your "identity" is who you actually are, and a digital identity will keep a permanent record of your choices and behaviors, 24/7.

Your identity encompasses everything that makes you unique, and that's what the globalist cabal is really after. Step out of line, and every social media interaction, every purchase, every dollar you spend and every move you've ever made can be used against you.

Indeed, having access to everyone's digital identity is the key to successful manipulation and control of the global population. The graphic below, from the WEF, illustrates their idea of how your digital identity will interact with the world.

Everything you can think of is to be connected to your digital identity, and your behavior, beliefs and opinions will dictate what you can and cannot do within society. It will unlock doors where someone like you is welcome, and lock the ones where you're not.

If you think the idea of vaccine passports is insane, wait until your access to critical infrastructure and services is dependent not just on your vaccination status, but also what books you've bought, what ideas you've shared, and who you've given money or emotional support to.

Interoperability Will Link Disparate Systems Together

As people are coming to understand the threat of a One World Government, resistance against digital ID and the social credit score that comes with it has started to mount. The GSP's answer to that dilemma is the construction of an interoperable system that can link disparate digital ID systems together. As explained by Davis and Webb:[7]

> "This 'modular platform' approach is designed to avoid the political problems that the official issuance of a national digital ID card would otherwise elicit.
> Establishing SDG16.9 global digital ID is crucial for 8 of the 17 UN SDGs. It is the linchpin at the center of a global digital panoptican that is being devised under the auspices of the UN's global public-private partnership 'regime.'"

You Have No Rights, Only Permits, Under the New World Order

You may be wondering where human rights enter into all of this. If your digital ID records every move you make, which can then be used against you, won't that violate some of your basic rights as a free human being? Well, that depends on how human rights are defined — and who defines them. Davis and Webb explain:[8]

> "... the Universal Declaration of Human Rights ... was first accepted by all members of the United Nations on December 10, 1948. The preamble of the Declaration recognizes that the 'equal and inalienable rights' of all human beings are the 'foundation of freedom, justice and peace in the world.'
> After that, 'inalienable rights' are never again mentioned in the entire Declaration. 'Human rights' are nothing like 'inalienable rights.'
> Inalienable rights, unlike human rights, are not bestowed upon us by any governing authority. Rather, they are innate to each of us. They are immutable. They are ours in equal measure. The only source of inalienable rights is Natural Law, or God's Law.
> No one — no government, no intergovernmental organization, no human institution or human rulor — can ever legitimately claim the rights to grant or deny our inalienable rights. Humanity can claim no collective authority to grant or deny the inalienable rights of any individual human being.
> Beyond the preamble, the UN's Universal Declaration of Human Rights (UDHR) concerns itself exclusively with 'human rights.' But asserting, as it does, that human rights are some sort of expression of inalienable rights is a fabrication — a lie.
> Human rights, according to the UDHR, are created by certain human beings and are bestowed by those human beings upon other human beings. They are not inalienable rights or anything close to inalienable rights.
> Article 4 of the UDHR and Article 16 of the UN's 1966 International Covenant on Civil and Political Rights ... both decree: 'Everyone has the [human] right to recognition everywhere as a person before the law.'
> Note: We put 'Human' in brackets ... to alert readers that these documents are NOT referring to inalienable rights. While the respective Articles 6 and 16 sound appealing, the underlying implications are not.
> Both articles mean that 'without legal existence those rights may not be asserted by a person within the domestic legal order.' As we shall see, the ability to prove one's identity will become a prerequisite for 'legal existence.' Thus, in a post-SDG16 world, persons without UN-approved identification will be unable to assert their 'human rights' ...
> Article 29.3 of the UDHR states: 'These [human] rights and freedoms may in no case be exercised contrary to the purposes and principles of the United Nations.'
> In plain English: We are only allowed to exercise our alleged human 'rights' subject to the dictats of governments, intergovernmental organizations and other UN stakeholders.' The bottom line, then, is that what the UN calls 'human rights' are ... government and intergovernmental permits by which our behavior is controlled."

COVID Was an Opportunity to Reset the Playing Field

Our behavior is also controlled through censorship and control of information. In its "COVID-19 and Human Rights" document,[9] published in April 2020, the UN presents human rights as policy tools and openly admits that "securing compliance" with health measures that severely restrict (or outright eliminate) human rights will depend on "building trust," and that includes censoring that which might undermine trust in authorities.

Censorship of "misinformation" and "disinformation" is also required under the proposed International Treaty on Pandemic Prevention, Preparedness and Response, which places the World Health Organization at the center of all pandemic-related agendas, and in the proposed amendments to the International Health Regulations (IHRs). Importantly, both of these treatments will be binding. As noted by Davis and Webb:[10]

> "The current proposed amendments[11] to the IHR illustrate how 'crises' provide unique opportunities for the UN and its partners to control populations — through purported 'human rights' — by exploiting those 'rights' as 'a powerful set of tools.'
> Here is one example of the proposals being put forth: The WHO wishes to remove the following language from IHR Article 3.1: 'The implementation of these Regulations shall be with full respect for the dignity, human rights and fundamental freedoms of persons.'
> It intends to replace that regulatory principle with: 'The implementation of these Regulations shall be based on the principles of equity, inclusivity, coherence and in accordance with the common but differentiated responsibilities of their States Parties, taking into consideration their social and economic development.'
> This proposed amendment signifies that the UN and its partners wish to completely ignore the UN's own Universal Declaration of Human Rights whenever any of these agencies declares a new 'crisis' or identifies a new 'international threat.' This exemplifies the 'course correction' the UN envisioned would arise from the 'unique opportunity' presented by the COVID-19 crisis."

The UN Has Already Assumed Authority; No One Granted It

Right now, the WHO appears to be set up to become the de facto global government, but the UN is also a contender, and it has openly assumed this authority.

For example, in its "UN System Task Team on the Post-2015 UN Development Agenda" document,[12] published in 2013, it states that "a global governance regime, under the auspices of the UN, will have to ensure that the global commons will be preserved for future generations":

> "The United Nation's Charter establishes a global governance regime that stands against freedom, justice and peace, and all of the UN's SDGs need to be understood within this context."

As noted by Davis and Webb:[13]

> "The UN calls itself a 'global governance regime.' It is arbitrarily assuming the authority to seize control of everything ("the global commons"), including humans, both by enforcing its Charter — citing its mismanaged 'Human Rights' declaration — and by fulfilling its 'Sustainable Development' agenda.
> Note that the 'global governance regime' will ultimately 'translate into better national and regional governance.' This means that the role of each national government is merely to 'translate' global governance into national policy. Electing one political party or another to undertake the translation makes no material difference. The policy is not set by the governments we elect.
> As nation-states one by one implement SDG-based policies, the regime further consolidates its global governance. And since the 'global governance regime will be critical to achieve sustainable development,' the two mechanisms — global governance and sustainable development — are symbiotic.
> Again, by the UN's own admission, inalienable rights are the 'foundation of freedom, justice and peace in the world.' Yet the UN's entire Charter-based human rights framework comprehensively rejects the principle of inalienable and immutable rights.
> The UN Charter is, therefore, an international treaty that establishes a global governance regime which stands firmly against 'freedom, justice and peace in the world.' All of the UN's 'sustainable development' projects should be understood in this context.
> You may wonder what Sustainable Development Goal 16 ... has to do with protecting the planet and its inhabitants from the predicted 'climate disaster.' The answer is: nothing at all. But then, 'climate change' is merely the proffered rationale that purportedly legitimizes and lends urgency to sustainable development.
> Establishing firm global governance — in effect, a world dictatorship — through the implementation of SDG16 is the United Nations' real objective. 'Climate change' is just the excuse."

'One Health' — The Global Takeover of Everything

The pandemic treaty and IHR amendments, once enacted, will form the foundation for the WHO's legal authority to act as a global governing body. Both are broadly focused on pandemic preparedness, planning and response, but there are built in loopholes that can easily be invoked by the WHO to turn it into a de facto global dictatorship.

The central instrument that will allow for the vast expansion of the WHO's power is something called the One Health Joint Plan of Action, officially launched in October 2022 by the WHO, the Food and Agriculture Organization of the United Nations (FAO), the United Nations Environment Program (UNEP) and the World Organization for Animal Health (WOAH).

This initiative amounts to multiple globalist organizations synchronizing their plans, while at the same time combining their resources and power.

The "One Health"[14] agenda recognizes that a broad range of human and environmental aspects can impact health and therefore fall under the "potential" to cause harm. For example, this is how the WHO will be able to declare climate change as a health emergency and subsequently require climate lockdowns.

The graphic[15] below illustrates how the WHO's scope of control is expanded under the One Health agenda to cover vast aspects of everyday life.

set the scene for the next act, which was to normalize all things abnormal. The trans movement, which considered the mutilation of healthy non-sexual consciousness in a single year, is a continuation and expansion of that "normalization of the abnormal" phase.

It's also a major component of the agenda to dehumanize and sterilize the population. After all, trans youth — who are also among the most brainwashed individuals in society right now — are the future of humanity. A brand-new report by legal experts backed by the United Nations is also seeking to normalize pedophilia,[7] which would further dehumanize and de-spirit our youth for generations to come.

Adding insult to injury, the report was published March 8, 2023, "in recognition" of International Women's Day. Never mind the fact that young girls and women are the primary victims of this sick mindset.

The "manmade climate change" hysteria and subsequent war on carbon is another fabricated "emergency" that is unhinged from science and reality. And the UN's SDGs are perfectly tailored to enable the endgame. Under these goals, human freedom, human health and quality of life are sacrificed to "protect the environment and save the planet."

As Rose notes, if the WHO pandemic treaty goes through, we can expect to be locked down indefinitely under the guise of "some climate catastrophe, likely linked to some 'deadly pathogen' passed to humans via some insect vector like mosquitoes."

By then, central bank digital currencies (CBDCs) will also be in place, which will enable the unelected totalitarian regime to enforce whatever restrictions the WHO and its funders dream up, be it related to the food you're allowed to eat based on your carbon footprint, the drugs you're forced to take, what causes you're allowed to fund, what businesses you're allowed to buy from, when and how far you're allowed to travel or anything else.

> "A practical way I can think of to stop the endgame from being realized is to stop the CBDC," Rose writes. "Use cash. Insist upon it. Do not give business to stores that only use cashless systems. Supply equals demand, so demand the use of CASH."

Other Strategies to Reclaim Our Freedoms

Other ways to prevent the WHO's power grab, include the following:

- Call your congressman or congresswoman and urge them to sponsor H.R.79 — The WHO Withdrawal Act,[8] introduced by Rep. Andy Biggs, which calls for defunding and exiting the WHO. The Sovereignty Coalition's Help the House Defund the WHO page will allow you to contact all of your elected representatives with just a few clicks.
  Simply fill out the required field, click submit, and your contact information will be used to match you with your elected representatives.
- Also urge your congressman or congresswoman to sponsor H.R.1425,[9] which would require the pandemic treaty to be approved by the Senate.
- Call your senators and urge them to sponsor the Senate version of H.R.1425, which is S.444, the No WHO Pandemic Preparedness Treaty Without Senate Approval Act.[10]
- Share Door To Freedom's educational poster,[11] which explains how the IHR amendments will destroy national sovereignty, and increase surveillance and censorship. See doortofreedom.org for more information.

I'm still amazed at how willing everyone was to accept the dystopian nightmare under Covid19. My guess is that the dark jewel, dividing masses aren't seen onto the baddies take over. They take freedom and responsibility away and hand friendship. All things normal and human. They'll love the Hell-on-earth awaiting. This whole thing has turned me into a misanthrope.

I'm baffled by the stupidity! It blows my mind that we still have people wearing masks. Anyone with half a brain should understand that a surgical mask doesn't filter viruses. These masks were designed to filter particles 0.5 microns and larger that are water soluble (BACTERIA). All viruses are smaller than this and they are Lipid (OIL) soluble. The Sars-Cov-2 virus is 0.06 microns in size. To put that in perspective you have to divide 0.5 microns by 0.06 microns. When you do, you get 8.333. So, the gaps in the filter media is 8.333 times larger than the virus.

That's the equivalent of using a chain-link fence around your back porch to keep the flies out! Most of these people have degrees. They are nurses, doctors, teachers, etc... Did they not pass 4th grade math class? Are they just virtue signaling? Do they think I'm that stupid? Or, are they that stupid? Here's a link to an MSN (believe it or not) article that says there is no evidence that masks do anything to mitigate the spread of viruses.

At least the majority of the population becomes anti-vaccine as the covid booster program is rejected. The AP reports that the push comes as the latest statistics show that more than 80 percent of the U.S. population has received at least one vaccine dose, while just 15 percent of those eligible have received the latest boosters authorized in August. As vaccines cause more health problems in the population, these new medical problems can always be attributed to a new variant of covid or a new strain of flu, spread by the "anti-vaxxers" and the "purveyors of the unvaccinated". Autoimmune patterns are poisoned and depleted by the harmful science of vaccines, as medical fraud and false advertising become the new normal, the population will be forced into a desperate situation where they must come to reject.

with coverage and link: www.breitbart.com/health/2023/01/24/u-s-health-officials-renew-call-fo... (2023)------------------Globalists only care about domination and control, and are willing to do anything and tell any lies to achieve those goals. People around the world should be fed up with the incessant lies, manufactured crises, arrogance and intolerance of dissident views that come from globalists and their elitist institutions.

We do not want the so-called "sustainable development" that is the globalism marked by the 2030 agenda. Freedom is in the fight, let's not fight a losing battle as long as the people remain silent. Only it takes awareness and a lot of courage to emerge victorious against the tyranny of the Great Reset, the WHO, the WEF and the UN that seek to implement their own agenda, which does not allow discussion, any argument or challenge to its predetermined purpose as an instrument to implement their program for an absolutist global dictatorship.

BRAINWASHING TECHNIQUES USED TO INCREASE COVID-19 VACCINE UPTAKE In the link the brainwashing technique to accept the "vaccines" against C-19, However: "WHY SOME PEOPLE ARE HESITANT TO RECEIVE COVID-19 BOOSTERS: A SYSTEMATIC REVIEW" 1) COVID-19 booster vaccination hesitancy rate: --North America is the highest at 41% --Europe 33% --Asia 28% --South America 28% --younger people are more reluctant to receive reinforcements --single or never-married adults were more likely to be hesitant about reinforcement Compared to other occupations, healthcare workers, allied health professions, housekeeper, administrative staff, and service workers were more likely to be hesitant about boosting.

- Vaccine adverse events were the most frequently reported predictor of hesitancy - Reduced hesitancy about boosters: government mandates, booster recommendations from community or healthcare workers and family members 2) Greater hesitancy to reinforcement: when social networks or social media served as a source of important information, or other factors: - political messages that discourage promoters - belief in natural immunity - reinforcements are unnecessary 3) Personal health is in the hands of God; 4) COVID-19 is similar to the seasonal flu 5) "Interventions that can harness normative social influence should be powerful."

For example, information campaigns that rely on recommendations from celebrities, political figures, or groups trusted by the target audience should be more effective in reducing hesitancy" 6) "In addition, campaigns can explain how to overcome hesitancy about booster doses among family and friends by providing information and strategies for effective normative influence on people close to them who are hesitating about booster doses." www.mdpi.com/...1759 (2023).---

Actually, according to a possibility, people who have taken the lowdeuxpoint shot may no longer be human. Because the shots contained nanotechnology and probably DNA from another species they may no longer be human beings but another species and therefore do not have human rights or natural inalienable rights.

Actually in the US, the number of people taking the latest fall boosters is less than 2% of the US population and Pfizer's stock price is again falling (like a rock). Or if last year may be another round of threats, doubt they will try the vital-thing again, but it worked so well the first time, they might consider it - - - - - - - - - - - - - - - This is a cross-post to an article tracking autoimmunity after mcdiffick shots. COVID-19 vaccine crosstalk: onset "Autoimmune Disease adverse events in VAERS - Non-random patterns and enrichment patterns" - nemalosmed.substack.com/.../13883077 -- appears only tracking 32 out of over 100 autoimmune conditions, may have chosen the worst offenders? My note: Already autoimmunity effects 2 times as many people as cancer, nearly 3x higher than heart conditions...

You're correct. I'm in liberal CA and They'd take $50/gallon gas over Trump any day. They'd take high interest rates and 23 million in debt any day. They'd take Communism over a free market system any day. They'd take cold shots for a life time. Even though they all affect their lifestyles horribly.

Oh, don't you fear, Grullo. Pfizer has absolutely covered their ass @32ds by "creating" pharmaceuticals that "treat" all of the adverse events from the jabs. Yo gotta little heart cause? Yes (Pfizer) have the flu for that! Got some inflammatory disease? We (Pfizer) have the flu for that! And on and on and on, etc. Oh yes. They might be losing stocks and capital in the jabs, but they will absolutely make up for it in the "cures" for the resulting health issues. They say so themselves...Just look! Furthermore, Pfizer (and Moderna) were only the proxy "creators" of the shots. Thank the good ol' US Pub for the actual ingredients and patents.

That's right, folks! Our own good does not give a crap about our wellbeing! In fact, they are right in lockstep with the globalists' plans to eradicate a large percentage of the population. However, won't THEY (the DoD stooges) be surprised when, in the end, they realize that THEY were only part of the puppet show and they are no longer needed!! Bah Ha! And this is coming from someone (me) who used to be a governmental robot/puppet/cunt, ok, stooge. Yes Sir/Ma'am. No Sir/Ma'am. No Sir/Ma'am. Whatever you say Sir/Ma'am! But, alas, I have now awakened! It took a long time, and some painful realizations, but, yes, now I see what I have blindly taken as the truth for YEARS, to be crap.

Absolutely and other crap. And for that, I am ashamed. You just need to wake up and do a little (or a lot) of research. Connect the dots. Do some critical thinking. You need to be more discerning about where you receive your information. Even some of the alternative media folks are in the dark (or do not wish to see the reality about some things), so it is up to YOU to do your own research. It might take you to places you do not want to be, or to things you do not wish to know, but it is better than living with your heads in the sand like ostriches.

Hi Shannon, A nice rant you gave grullo, unfortunately out of date by a few weeks. There was a bait and switch, which means no shots given to the general populace were ever clinically tested as these were produced with a different process than the actual trials used; then the DNA contamination; then Pfizer's shot has an undisclosed to the FDA, SV 40 promoter. I could go on, it is a 3-1/2 hr roundtable here: WORLD COUNCIL FOR HEALTH October 9th 2023 Urgent Expert Hearing on Reports - - - www.bitchute.com/.../2m8hc9ufrf/ -- producing an untested product then shooting up a few billion people with it, may amount to fraud. Too soon to tell.

I was amazed at the time, but thinking back now it is not surprising. They slowly made everyone dependent on the white coats by making us sick and sick. Other than they can't blame the vaccine for a high # of testosterone levels in the last 20 years? For this latest one: Evacuated men is a world wide epidemic. My father's generation would have never put up with the Fakedemic BS. It is all part of the process. Heck they made more about it. Freedom is not free and I think we are lost.

Can't fathom why your post is not the first to be read on today's comments, wallaga, as it is undoubtedly the most important, giving details of how our governments are about to sell us down the Swanee to unelected corporations in order to transform all member countries of the World Trading Organisation into North American type totalitarian states. There are three options: (1) our government cancels its WHO membership which includes the 2005 conditions of membership which should never have been agreed to in the first place without the knowledge of the electorate; (2) we write to our MP with the details explained in this video, that a stealth agreement to transfer governance to an unelected organisation is against the 1945 UN charter.

(As the prime minister, our business fellows to already a WEF partner; no use informing him.) (3) each one of us informs as many in our social sphere as possible that the C-19 plandemic was faked - as it seems everything subsequent to that rests on that one convoluted and criminal lie. Having just received the ultimate insult from my own MP in the form of a letter on official House of Commons notepaper (postage paid for by the taxpayer) inviting me to consult organisations about food parcels, school uniform funding, energy bills and benefits and how to reduce my energy bills, I will write to suggest that such letters would be unnecessary if the government told the truth e.g.

about the fake war in the Ukraine, the obscene profits of energy companies, the resulting 25p increase in the State pension for 80 year olds, Food parcels, heating or eating dilemmas, fracking given driven by taxes-to-the-hilt motorists through arbitrary city zones, creating unused cycle routes, etc etc would also be unnecessary were our elected politicians to serve the electorate rather than the dictates of the WEF and the WHO.

Thanks for the link, Wallaga. I will try to pass it on to as many as possible. There is talk of a new political party called Reform UK, not sure if it is constitutional opposition or not but maybe wishful thinking would be better than voting for the Lib/Lab/Con. We used to have one called the Monster Raving Loony Party - we could do with that option in next year's general election just to indicate our rejection of the political state of broken Britain. What a choice - the WEF, the Tribefeel Commission or the WHO! Who'd do they think they are kidding? www.technocracy.news/kissinger-migration-and-the-multi-cultural-destru...

Just spotted it, thanks mealrose. Also noticed just now there is a transcript - even better and 500k views - that is encouraging. Matthias Desmet and WEF Christine Anderson have a good following too. I did post the link to her talk to the EU parliament on memoria.com recently but not sure if it was read. I agree - hard to read as many links as possible, as time permits, and not just the ones posted at the top. Assumed everyone would read your links as they are always the best!

Hi Cabochon, apparently or my guess is Dr Campbell posted this interview 2x, 4 days apart, using different handles, roughly two views between both postings...yes, Pete said he preferred youtube because he could translate the transcript. Now I look for it.

My opinion is there are three directions we are facing...1. They win...2. There will be a global good against evil war that may last lifetimes...3.God finally washes it all clean and creates his Heaven on Earth...personally, I'm looking forward to the last one.

Dear Luana, is also the greatest wish of people of good will, of people who suffer, of those who want to and poverty, inequalities, and the wars created that are increased by global governance. More than 15,000 people, including children, died in the Israeli Palestine conflict because of embargoes. Many people, perhaps most, believe that there is a moral arc to reality that really leans toward goodness over evil, love over hate, truth over lies, and justice over of iniquity, noting that history shows that while evil may triumph for a time, truth is eventually rectified and goodness wins in the end, always.

Some call this the law of karma. There is much truth in that belief, not only because history seems to confirm it, but because, when God made the universe, he made a universe oriented toward love, and thus God wrote the Sermon on the Mount not only in the human heart but also in the true DNA of the universe itself. The physical creation knows how to heal itself, and so does the moral creation. In this way good must always triumph over evil, but, but... given human freedom, there are no guarantees, unless we believe in the triumph of good over evil.

Hi Gui Yes, we have seen good prevail over evil throughout history..but these days, the evil is consuming, so overwhelming, treaty demonic, that in my one only spiritual intervention will be able to overcome it...of course that final battle of good v evil is prophesied in the final book of the Bible, and ultimately, good DOES win, and that we will last forever...!!

The thing that keeps us from Heaven at it's deepest core,is THE CREATOR !!!-HARP claim there is none.The humans who are filled with THE HOLY GHOST, will always choose truth and expose the lie."That which many can not rehabilitate,Justice will EVENTUALLY ANNIHILATE"...What WHO and all other evil controllers' push on we the people ,Will be killed ,like they go for killing people...those without the grace of God,will sacrifice,will be controlled,But they will never do it to spiritually connected people.Those with no spiritual connection will never be beyond their body, and they'll die pennilessness,with out eternal light...

I'm visualizing a mass-awake-ring in the wake of "World War Jew" where every despicable politician and network idiot is screaming their bloodthirsty chant to genocide more Arabs. Racism taken to the limit! Their absurdity should drive this awakening when a prison revolt is labeled "prorpocrat(...) when babies are thrown from incubators, are beheaded...with 9/11 style "intelligence failures"...with "terrorist" labeled and animals...with grinning Mar-Pips portrayed as defenders of democracy. Seems a significant percentage of the world's population, a critical mass, are wise to the repetitive body-blows of 9/11, covid, Ukraine and now the long-running long-ignored insanely-sick drama in Palestine as it reaches a climax.

It's not a football game been kings, soon to be forgotten. Who are the terrorists? DC, Jerusalem, Tehran, Moscow, Damascus?...The five/hate promoters on the consolidated networks? Though I'm dreaming of Peace for Christmas and peoples putting their foot down on these deadly control-gambits, I'll always hold affectionate respect cheerleaders in the despair contempt. Mar-Pip's pigpens are not being bombed, they squeal for money and outshout or cancel voices for morality and peace...Even Compression had inside intel and shocked up a Christmas miracle,share...Psychopathic ego-locked entities have invented their way to power over naive humans simply wanting to live in peace. We are not frogs in a boiling pot!

Yes, send/think/transmit peace to various parts of the world. Ukr predicted there were would break out as tempers and illness over the past few years are boiling over, creating a year or so of outright chaos. (not the climate temperatures boiling as one Brit projected) = = = = = = = = Whoa, just found this bitch, 2ND min. summary of an Dr V Jordan Peterson interview, pointed at the WEF/UN Agenda 2030 (new Agenda 2023). Jordan delves into various aspects of this HUMAN CONTROL PLAN. "Did they really think we wouldn't find this?" = = = pouta.be/WbaFOOqJQ8 = = = THIS NEEDS A LOT MORE VIEWS as creating dependency is the theme.

Seems there is no Return on Investment in many of the massive programs to combat climate change or their Net Zero nightmare. It's all about first destroying, then shifting all major economies to be carbon-credit based, away from the past 100 years of oil-based world economy. Apparently little interest in controlling ocean pollution or even organizing corporate pollutions at this time. Now if bankers can wage war on national economies, why wonder entire militant groups can act out on long frustrated wishes and desires as well? Appears the entire globe is at war with some concept or other. Doses of Peace may have flown the coop for a time.

Howdy Randall, not seen your posts in a while. Good to have you chime in. This global uncertainty offers little change. But trying to be optimistic that the tide has changed and some sort of Divine intervention is surely possible to an awakening. This summer flew by like a Falcon swooping in on the prey. Whoosh.

We have inalienable Rights existing just because they do. Not as a gift, or reward from Predators!. They simply exist. However, they can be attacked, sidetracked, purposely muddied up, temporarily lost usually due to those who have become too Powerful through various means. If nothing else works at some point the Predator(s) are left with extreme violence to attempt to extinguish them. If not pushed back before the 1% resort to the violence they have repeatedly used throughout history they will turn without hesitation to violence, yet in the end after much carnage, damage, those in Hopelessness fall out of them. Inalienable Rights become return, renewed.

Technocracy Digital, Computers, Jack Booted Thugs be damned as they are doomed before they start. Digital Etc are the latest greatest head fakes as the Parasitic Predator(s) attempt to extinguish Nature, Humanity. Inalienable Rights permanently on the cheap. The violent methods can hard to resuscitate the 1% prefer to use to Party On with. As the article points out our identity is our identity, not a list of Mother/Father may 1s. Local, Local, Local are Gods as well as cashless interactions, (barter) as much as possible. Those who understand, know and are stuck with those who have not lost the life experiences and are stuck in old paradigms, and most likely will have to take enough courses in the School of Hard Knocks to understand what is actually what.

It's a tough school, it's what brought me here. And, in the best of conditions, the best of times, it seems one never graduates. We just complete one course and then get another teacher with another course to learn, but that is evolution. We live in a universe of Perpetual Change and we, especially the 1% try to control to repeat what once may well have been a positive experience. The change brought us joy and by trying to cling and hang onto that unique experience, we can tell the ability to experience never ever.

Yes, Just the defense of freedom is the defense of our fundamental rights. The WHO is the globalists' conduit for control over humanity. They drain our resources, serve our enemies, and continue to work to establish a global dictatorship over everyone and everything. The WHO has many ambitious, but imposing our health and supporting our rights are not among them. The governance of the WHO constitutes unprecedented fascism. 194 selected puppets from all our countries, pretending to represent us, continue to prepare to erase our rights. The personal well-being and freedoms represented by a WHO that will be able to translate to new unchecked and unaccountable authority into the opportunity to dictate the personal health care of Americans and all of humanity demands immediate action by Congress.

The people must elect their rulers willing to enforce freedom. The future must be built by people of good will and their democratically elected representatives, constituted by a powerful community that loves freedom. We have the means to improve the state of the world, but two conditions are necessary.

The first is that we all act as stakeholders in larger communities, that we not only serve our own interest, but we serve the community. We need stakeholder accountability. And second, that we collaborate on highly action- and impact-oriented initiatives to move forward like "Door to Freedom," a one-stop shop where everyone can know what the plan is and what we can do to stop it with the necessary help from freedom of movement organizations. everyone is act in concert and raise the voice of freedom and respect for human rights.

The WHO aims to implement changes to the IHR through confidential negotiations by the largely anonymous "Working Group on Amendments to the International Health Regulations." The IHR changes would give Gheberyesus the authority to control what countermeasures the world would be allowed to use during a pandemic. Yes Gui the upcoming Chem Circus of elections in the States is about Liberty, Independence and Freedom. The focus against the Rot of Corruption is of upmost importance, not to be distracted by those well-worn Four Pers, Scream Memes, Personal Attacks and those should be exposed for what they are, tools of a Global Elite using Global Monopoly Corporations, NGOs as shields for Predator Par(ed)s to hide behind.

Yes, we humans must stop them before we, along with our descendants and future generations, experience horrors far beyond even crimes against humanity. The most popular response (processing governments, participating in elections or forming new political parties, legal challenges and protests by stakeholders are rarely successful. And what we must do, if we want to defeat this coup. The fourth industrial revolution - It is characterized by a variety of new technologies that merge the physical, digital and biological worlds...and even challenges ideas about what it means to be human.' and his equally delusional advisor Yuval Noah Harari The story began when humans invented gods, and it will end when humans become gods. have outlined some key details of what they are doing to us.

The majority of the human population has meekly accepted their fate by burying their heads deep in the sand and, credulously believing the Elite Virus thread narrative. Unfortunately, awareness of what is really happening remains extraordinarily low, even among those who resist the continued destruction of our rights and freedoms, as well as the rapidly increasing number of "vaccine" deaths. Virtually all human beings fear the freedom to think for themselves, decide what to believe, and choose how to behave. Therefore, they think, believe, and behave according to norms determined by Elites and promulgated through Elite-controlled channels, including educational systems, entertainment media, and mass media. That is Rockefeller's legacy that now has continuity with the globalist elite.

Gui, what can I say. Long time natives of the North Country have many influences in our local, regional accent. There are more than one European influence along with our neighboring French Canadian, as well as Native Americans. This makes for many of our dialectics and sometimes pronunciations. Anyhow, Bless Bless the Beasts and the Children and Lord years of those by some reason came from the Southern States so add this into the mix.) Phonics is out the window, so we had a lot of memorizations involved. I grabbed inadvertide flights directly from the article as the best I can do is down and dirty to express as best I know how. It's one of the factors involved when I express "in my own clumsy way." I stand on the knowledge I Do Not Know It All, many here are far smarter than I am, others are readers of the Kings English - I can usually follow somewhat but am aware most people don't care, or outright can't.) I feel it is important for the people here to be the best they can with what they have.

From my point of view people should do the best they can and hopefully, usually most will take all in stride if the intent, the message is understood for what is trying to be expressed. Whether flights from God, Nature or expressed and recognized in the American Constitution they are all Rights, not given but should be recognized as ours.

I think I've seen this world they are creating once before, it was Dubai . All the different nationalities were living there, all separated - the Sri Lankans were housekeepers, the Pakistanis were drivers, the Phillipinos gardeners, Indians were waiters.... etc., and they all lived in ethnic separate housing - all condo style. No chance of a strike to get higher wages or anything at all... All this talk about how we should assimilate, live together, ... balooey.

I suggest always taking action to combat the control agenda. Every time I am at a bank, I speak up against any CBDC happening and engage people in conversation. Anytime there's discussion about the next boosters, I engage people in conversation about what the shots have done to everyone who's done them. Inform people of everything Mercola is discussing in this article. The more of us who actively engage with the public is what's happening, the better. We can make slips about the agenda and stick them up on bulletin boards everywhere. Be open to all the ways we can get the public to understand what's really happening so they can start to say no.

I agree, there are many more people out there who share our views, than we think. Strike up a casual conversation, and you may be surprised to find actual allies. If the person is not yet aware, see it as an option to plant a few seeds in their mind. Spreading info via sickening is an option.

I read once that witnesses for Jehovah living in countries that had banned their (God given directive to continue until the end) preaching of the good news of Gods kingdom/government, would ask strangers in queues etc what they thought about various current situations and then adding maybe "did you know that bible prophesied so and so" or what do you think about this or that? followed up by what is actually being preached world wide as a message of hope and a warning for all earthly inhabitants. Although I am not associated with any political or religious organisation I do like to link the exponential increase of power being invested in the UN nowadays to what the witnesses for Jehovah have pointed out for decades about the UN: namely that it is the scarlet coloured beast in the book of Revelation. Where there is a will there is a way especially if it is Gods will.www.jw.org/en/bible-teachings/questions/scarlet-beast-of-revelation-17-/

Do you think the public really want to listen? Anything that disturbs day to day life (which to be fair isn't easy at the moment) is unwelcome, lethargy is the name of the game. Take away television or the PC then they might listen.

I didn't get the new smart water meter... then I got a letter from the city saying they would turn off my water unless I did. So I did. Now I am noticing that the evergreen trees in town (on the water system) are all turning brown and lots of needles are falling off. I've lived here 50 years, this started 3 years ago, didn't happen last year, but this year it's much worse than 3 years ago. I live at 8,000 feet, so I should have the best water anywhere, the trees that only get water from the sky, or the rivers are doing great.

That is terrifying! But we have to think of what is in municipal water especially at homeopathic doses: drugs, vaccines, the pill, illegal drugs, etc. All the by products of our metabolism that are water soluble will be present at some level. There will be nothing sacred soon.

I don't believe contacting our elected officials will do much good. This article says to call your senators and tell them to support the No WHO Pandemic Preparedness Treaty Without Senate Approval Act. Why ? Our senators will ratify it. Our elected officials do not vote their conscience anymore nor do they represent We The People. They are all just following the party line which is controlled by God only knows who. Did we all not see the way they gerrufficated to Zelensky when he was here begging for more money? Our elected officials are inept. I see the congressional hearing where Walensky lied to the committee and said that if you got the vaccine and you then went out and got hit by a car , that death would be recorded on VAERS as a death attributed to covid.

That was just an outright lie. And yet none of our elected officials picked up on that? Isn't it their job to learn as much as they can on the subject they are investigating? All one would have to do is look at the guidelines for reporting on VAERS on the CDC website for about 10 minutes to know that that was a lie. Klaus has said that many people will become very angry. Yes Klaus and I hope at least one of them finds his way to you.

Yesterday I bought some handkerchiefs at a second hat store, thought I had cash but didn't so I apologized to the merchant. He said that his bank now charges a fee for depositing cash!!! Bank Scam!! Indeed!

I'm thinking he should look for another bank - a credit union if it's available. In rural areas I live I am seeing signs that warn you will be responsible for the transaction fee if you use your credit card. We use cash at these places. I'm thinking we will be damned if we do, and damned if we don't eventually.

Speaking of global (corporate) fascism, aka corporatism, Rockwell has a speculative article this morning that Pfizer might have to go bankrupt. www.lewrockwell.com/2023/10/no_author/pfizer-may-go-bankrupt-financial...

Grufu, it is the wish of all the unvaccinated. The current reality is that Pfizer on Tuesday reported first-quarter revenue and adjusted earnings that beat Wall Street expectations, despite a drop in sales driven by lower demand for the company's COVID vaccine. Shares of the pharmaceutical giant fell on Tuesday. Shares are down more than 23% year to date through Monday's close, putting the company's market value at around $221.3 billion. The company reported first-quarter sales of $18.28 billion, down 29% from the same period a year earlier. COVID-related sales contributed $7.1 billion to that figure. Pfizer raked in $3 million in revenue from the COVID vaccine and $4 million in sales from its COVID antiviral pill Paxlovid.

grufu, don't know if you saw it but Rite Aid has declared bankruptcy this week to restructure, Walgreens workers are complaining they are primarily going shifts because they make far more money, hardly time to pay attention to filing prescriptions. My guess is CVS and Walgreens, with fairly widespread closeouts, with because shed headquarters, and Amazon filling scripts online with meds sourced from China and India. Only a hunch at an overarching 'death and disability by vacation' plan. One way to fulfill intentions of Georgia Guide Stones down to 500 million on earth.

"minute", I've never seen a Rite-Aid here in outlying southern NM and AZ, just Walgreens and CVS, which I assume are similar. Is Rite-Aid connected to Shop-Rite SMs that I remember from back in NJ, who took over A-Mart, Valley Fair, Shopper's Paradise (MV) and many others? Anyway, when I walk into one of those drug store chains, they always remind me of an over-sized dollar store with an attached hearsay.

There is no incontrovertible science that supports man-made climate change. Assuming there is, how do we discount solar flares and volcanic eruptions, while targeting vehicle emissions and cow farts ? 1,000 experts and pundits signed a testimonial that there is no climate change emergency. Show me the similar 1,000 supporting proven man-made climate change. The goal may be laudable, but the science and the efforts are not. The technical term for this man made climate change emergency is B.S.

For the most part, I have lost faith in the people's ability to grasp evil on their own, many individuals need someone else to define the word for them. Thus, when "trusted" authorities frame good individuals as bad and bad as good, the masses need think no further. Let's take sports figures for example. When a high powered athlete cheats or allows underlings to take the fall, as long as the media continues to depict the person as a type of gilted god (there's one quarterback that comes to mind), the individual is revered until news outlets say otherwise. In some ways, it is similar to what has taken place in the recent past. 9/11 went down as depicted, the U.S. is fighting for freedom in the Middle East, current mRNA shots were formulated to save people from a deadly virus that originated in a China wet market but maybe escaped from a lab, and I could go on. In short, our future appears most frightening.

The original Declaration of Independence uses the spelling "unalienable" rights. 'Inalienable' basically has the same meaning. Both intend something that can't be violated or infringed, transferred to someone else, taken away, or denied. "We hold these truths to be self-evident, that all men are created equal, that they are endowed by their Creator with certain unalienable Rights, that among these are Life, Liberty and the pursuit of Happiness." www.unalienable-rights.com

#1. "Inalienable rights" is highly interpretive, same as "human rights". #2 When bad people (i.e., your enemies) are running the show, your "inalienable rights" are ignored, trampled on. YOU have to be the one running things, not "them". That's it, case closed, story over.

Excellent article! Clearly, we all feel the insanity of the globalist agenda. A couple of things are on my mind, about this topic: first, I share the biblical worldview of my fellow Jesus Followers, that we can clearly see the convergence of the final global government, prophesied all through the Bible, but more widely known from the Book of Revelation. Unfortunately, most typical pew-sitters aren't being taught anything about biblical prophecy and don't know God's Word has been 100% accurately prophetically thus far. The largest group of organized religions (Catholic and Reformed) don't teach much, if anything, about biblical prophecy. Anti-semitism is rampant because of the replacement theology they teach.

So, trying to understand the future/end times Bible prophecy from most man-created, religious organizations is futile. Studying biblical prophecy (end times or fulfilled) should be done by studying what the Bible actually says, in context, in its original language. In this way, we can see how the ground work is being deliberately laid out by an enemy other than the earth, that seeks the destruction of humanity, in his war against the Creator of the Universe. Additionally, since the Bible's prophecies are Israel-centric, that doesn't mean the rest of the world is left out—far from it. Central to every God image (human) was the freedom of the individual to choose whom they will ultimately follow. The Living God or Humanity or God's place.

I believe this is why many of us instinctively refuse tyranny. We were given freedom by our Creator. It's more important than ever before, we open our eyes and not only stand for our freedoms BUT also, that we use the ingenuity God had given us, to outsmart both the human enemies and the dark forces of evil. The Bible teaches we are to understand the ways of the serpent, but stay innocent ourselves, like doves. We can and should stay informed both biblically and globally. Follow Jesus and use the wisdom we are given.

HUMANS ARE NOT FREE BUT IN BONDAGE TO SIN. The human heart is wicked and who can know it. Furthermore the bible states that the CHURCH is the Israel of God ... not as much the nation. Descendants of Abraham are not God's chosen but rather those who believe AS Abraham did, in God Jesus Christ as the Savior are God's chosen people, His CHURCH. I am Reformed and my Church does address prophecy and it is no way into Replacement theology. BUT OTHER EVANGELICAL CHURCHES HAVE GONE FAR AWAY FROM THE BIBLE , INTO THEIR OWN INTERPRETATIONS AND TEACH THE BIBLE VERY SUPERFICIALLY. We know from the time of the Reformation the popes are the antichrist and the Roman Catholic Church is the Harlot Church of Revelation. ...plainly spelled out in Rev.17 and 18 for those who want to read it.

"A practical way I can think of to stop the endgame from being realized is to stop the CBDC/ Rose writes. "Use cash. Insist upon it. Do not give business to stores that only use cashless systems. Supply equals demand, so demand the use of CASH." I can't see how this will work if cash is declared illegal and withdrawn from circulation. They only have to declare that it is illegal for shops etc., to accept any other form of payment other than digital. Then where will you be demanding the shopkeeper takes your metal washers or gemstones instead?

Meanwhile, people are becoming increasingly used to using cards, banks are closing, ATMs are few and far between and shops are refusing cash. There are more people using cards than cash so far as I can see - it is now unusual to see anyone pay with cash in the supermarket. I have seen them but they are not many, and if you don't use the shops that don't take cash, there are plenty of people who will. Banks are already placing restrictions on how much cash you can take out, many banks are digital only services with no people in branch, or no branch at all in the 100's miles.

Which is why we keep having to return to the idea of local economies and trade within smaller communities. There is no other way out of the march toward globalisation which we have been witnessing for most of my life - I am nearly 65. But, encouraging such local trade is harder to do than one would think: my husband is disinclined to use cash as are many people because for some reason they think cards are safer, they certainly more convenient! I am trying to establish a small seed swap in our local disused net telephone box which also doubs up as a book exchange. I shall get on with it today! I may not be able to convince others but as a former Morgan analyst I spent years being paid to see the way the wind is blowing! We here who read this site have unique insight and probably unique abilities to help work against the challenges that we face. Let's swap ideas and encourage each other, even if it is a little act of rebellion. Vive la difference!

Many of Mike circumstances are similar to Mike and author. The greatest hurdle will be paying your taxes if CBDCs are the only currency allowed for good services. That is, loss of the roof over your head for nonpayment of taxes. I am also concerned if supplements are made unavailable or by prescription only. Feeling pretty good about basic necessities today. I bought a new pair of work shoes and found an older pair of button suspenders in the back of my closet. I have had a good harvest and only hope to add meat, yet, as am feeling well-provisioned for the next year and beyond. Nature has been bountiful and I need little from the supermarket. I was in the grocery store today to buy 5 lemon. I joked with the cashier about having the correct change down to the last penny... her reply was, "I like cash." I think a lot of merchants do.

The article mentions several strategies to reclaim our freedoms. One is to call your congressman or woman. That is a lower for sure as most congress critters are bribed, blackmailed, or sadly too incompetent to help. My approach is to just say NO and do not comply. If I end up homeless on the street I will have lots of company. The government will have to forcefully take me in chains. Who said? One me liberty or give me death. That should be everyones mantra.

uriahsheep, and all. If you really want to rack/wrack their brains, instead of using paper currency, use coins. True it is heavier, but it is even heavier for the stores and banks and even the Federal Reserve to have to put up with it all. They want to use plan A - digital currency. Instead use plan B and C - paper and coins. This way we sell them that, they do not load, and they do not follow. This is still a country OF, By, and For the People. Government OF the people - the people are the ones who are governed. Government BY the people - the people are the ones doing the governing. Government FOR the people - the people are the ones for whose benefit the governance process exists.

Pipdiaz, this year I told my husband; let's keep the green beans on the trellises and let them dry over the winter; also I took the soft bell peppers and put them in a paper bag out with my gardening stuff to see if they will dry out and grow next year (in case there won't be an availability of seeds for gardens).

I am sure George Washington would be shocked at how dirty our government has become while many sit back and follow the program. He'd probably think, this is what we fought the Revolutionary War for? They do not teach this type of ideology in schools anymore, as we all well know. If doctors would stop jabbing us patients with kinds of toxins so they "think" they are helping another gender, or become autistic, then perhaps we have a chance. I do not see too much fight in the youth these days. My hope is that the parents are teaching what teachers are not.

I believe that is because our religious leaders have compelled it. When I learned that Frank/Graham told questioners about WW.JD about the job, he replied, "I believe that J would take the job and encourage everyone else to do so." When I found that out, I stopped doing shen boxes for OCC. I have done it for 30 years, many times doing up to 100 boxes a year and spending a lot of money doing so. No more.

One thing that is getting short shrift is that with each passing year, we are losing the institutional memory of life in a free society. The younger generations have no concept of life before the constructs of "hate speech" or other means of shutting down open discourse. It's hard to fault people for being ignorant about experiences they did not have, but it is very easy to fault the adults who failed them - the ones who constantly and repeatedly sought to blame the US and the West first for everything.

It's why we're awash in nonsense about colonizers and oppressors, blissfully ignorant of having luxury beliefs precisely because of living within a society that allows them. When you see people with signs like "Queers for Palestine," where do you even start? That's a level of obtuse thinking that is hard to quantify, let alone respond to. People in the West have the benefit of debating first-world problems but without the knowledge of why such a benefit exists.

Do you suppose many people in authoritarian nations are debating pronouns? Is the Muslim world twisting itself into knots over a patriarch? Stories like this one are gradually gaining traction, but only among people willing to cast aside their blinkers and seek information beyond that which is provided by their preferred media sources. Wars fought for freedom are revading from our collective consciousness under a barrage of idiocy that seeks to frame every person or event the past through the lens of the present.

In Britain, a statue of Churchill can be toppled with absolutely no thought of what England might be like had he not existed. In the US, auto workers are on strike while their union funnels campaign cash to a party working overtime to severely curtail vehicle production by eliminating the gasoline-powered engine. Other examples can be cited, all of which are centered on a bizarre form of self-hatred at having formed a society whose members are among the top one percent who have ever lived.

None of this should surprise people who believe the Judeo-Christian scriptures about the end times, outlined in the books of Daniel and Revelation, and other places. One ring to rule them all is coming. But so is Jesus Christ, to make all things new for anyone who will believe.

Wondering about the environment aspect. I'd say almost all our real pollution comes from corporations and how can we change that if they don't change? How will they be impacted by one health - or are they in the camp of the "rules don't apply to us" as usual.

Thank god the Maxi is getting its collective ass kicked in Ukraine, and, as a direct result, entering a severe and long-term economic depression. Widespread social unrest is baked into the cake at this point, and many and perhaps most Western governments will be thrown out of office. Given this, and the decentralizing trends that are manifesting in healthcare and finance, I am no longer sure that the NEF / theme plans will prevail. The apocalyptic zeitgeist in the West is not universal; I suspect that it is more to do with the decline of the West than the end of the world.

This is the text of THE DECLARATION OF INDEPENDENCE by the action of Second Continental Congress, July 4, 1776. You will note 30 or so grievances. The history of the King of Great Britain is a history of repeated injuries and usurpations, all having in direct object the establishment of an absolute Tyranny over these States. To prove this, let facts be submitted to the world.

Good luck trying to force anything on my family!!! If people didn't learn anything from the last 3 1/2 years, no one can help them. To trust the government, big pharma and the medical community is insane !!! Most Americans will punish if the aholes the fun!!! Only common sense, critical thinking prepared people will survive the oncoming events over the next few years and beyond.

My Zcents is $$$ (short, sweet, simple). Thankfully, we don't depend on any government or non-government agency for our rights.

If your religion helps you connect with the Divine in you and in everyone and teaches you unconditional love and kindness for all, then it is useful. Using a book written thousands of years ago by many different men and then interpreting that whatever way you want is equivalent to fear mongering and propagandizing.

Except that it's all coming true, whether people want to accept it or not. The scriptures are there to deliver us FROM fear, not increase it. What is more loving than letting people know what's going on? And honestly, do you have a better idea?

So you KNOW what is going on? There has always been war and rumors of war since patriarchy anyway. Many times people have thought the world was coming to an end. I see christians trying for a self fulfilling apocalypse so they can feel like the elect (like the 'chosen' people). What.... 144,000 elect out of 8 billion? How nice for you. Yes, I have lots of better ideas like working for peace, diplomacy, equality and fairness. Not exposing all of our wars for profit and power. Not treating others like you would like to be treated, like loving all including your enemies, like living honestly with integrity and caring for the "least of these." ETC....

I do NOT have unconditional love and kindness for those who were after my kids 30 years ago, and those who are after my grandkids presently. And it is 30 times worse now. And I am religious/conservative. God expects me to protect those whom I love from evil/Satan. If I don't provide for my relatives, I am worse than an/unbeliever. And protecting is mostly tied into providing. As for the 144,000, what is the use of speculating on that? Does it really matter? But I have been in bible/studies where the woman dwelt on that ad nauseum. Pre/mib, post/mib, 144,000. It is all a stupid distraction.

IMHO confiding the UN or the WHO is a mistake. Have you read the USHR lately? It may not be perfect- e.g., it doesn't mention anyone's inalienable right to refuse vaccination- but it's light years ahead of where the U.S. is currently. The WHO got 80% of its original funding from the Gates Foundation. Though it appears that the UN may also have been similarly bought out in the mid-2000s...to prevent the US from getting socialized medicine & the rest of the benefits of the USHR, IMHO.
