The Truckers vs The Government; We need to get out ahead of all this

You can support the truckers at TruckerLawyer.ca.

As of this writing, I'm told the police are making arrests in Ottawa. I assume this means they're arresting truckers.

The Ottawa city government has declared a state of emergency. It's now a crime for anyone on the scene to give food, fuel, or aid of any kind to the truckers.

The truckers and people all over Canada want freedom and peace. The government wants peace without freedom.

The government wants vaccine mandates and passports, and the ability to declare lockdowns and other fascist measures at any time.

No debate on "the science," no need to justify the COVID measures, no legal cases taking up Constitutional limits on government power. Just: OBEY.

So that's what the government is. That's who they are. That's who Trudeau is.

We might feel shock at what the government is doing to the truckers, but we shouldn't be surprised. No one should have expected the government of "obey us" to just sit back and let this convoy happen and proceed, with so many Canadians supporting it.

No one should be surprised that rebellion against "obey us" governments is breaking out across the world.

Let's get out ahead of what could happen in the coming days and weeks—

No one with a conscience should back away if governments and their media front men throw around words like "insurrection" and "incitement" and "sedition," "THESE ARE COSTLY WORDS.

They're meant to paralyze people. They're crude smears. The implication would be, anyone who is "a trucker" or a "supporter" wants to overthrow the entire government—rather than replace the fascists.

"Overthrow" was the official characterization of the January 6 Capitol break-in, in the US. "Well, let by a guy wearing a helmet and horns, a mob was going to take over the Congress."

I see. Sure. And Trump, wearing a military uniform, having gained control over the PENTAGON, was going to swagger into the Capitol, declare martial law, and run the US with his junta.

Thereafter, The Rebels, commanded by a cigar-smoking fatigues-wearing Tony Fauci, encamped in the Catskills, would valiantly try to win back The Republic and the Constitution.

The truckers want freedom and peace, and their own right to earn a living. The Canadian government wants peace without freedom for everyone, and they're ready to use force to force the peace.

If serious violence breaks out in Ottawa, the government will be behind it.

Violence shouldn't make people back away from supporting the truckers.

Perhaps you noticed that the George Floyd protests and riots and the looting and burning and violence in many US cities didn't make anyone on the political Left back away from supporting the rioters.

Did the government call those supporters insurrectionists or terrorists?

You might hear this from people "who are really in the know": "You see, the whole convoy was a PLAN to cause violence, and then anyone who's against the mandates and supports the truckers would be labeled a terrorist…"

Without real evidence, that formulation could be used to reject ANY form of mass protest on ANY issue. You as well say ALL OF LIFE IS A FALSE FLAG, and therefore, we should do nothing and support nothing.

If serious violence does break out in Ottawa, a typical shaming operation will launch: "You people who supported the truckers—you're responsible for this. You thought the truckers were honorable, but they were always breaking the law. They were stirred up by a mob mentality, by you who won't accept the reality of the pandemic and what we all have to do to return to normal life…"

Guilt by association, except it turns out the people we're associated with—the truckers—did nothing wrong.

Again, if anyone has actual evidence to the contrary, evidence that shows there was a plan to launch a convoy that would deal out death in violence, and cause the world to shake its head and say, "THIS is all those that protesters and the anti-vaxxers were about all along, they're all crazy…", then present that evidence.

I say this, because in the coming days, we could see and hear more of such talk.

What I see in this convoy is honor, justice, the struggle for freedom.

Remember: The convoy is a hell of a lot more than the truckers.

It's all the Canadians who are supporting it. So if a trucker is there simply because he wants to make a living, but he can't cross the border unless he shows a vaccine passport, and he doesn't want to take the vaccine, and that's the sum of his protest; fine.

And if some trucker turns out to be bad actor, so what?

GET OUT AHEAD OF ALL THIS.

Get all these things straight in your mind, because if the presence of many people and trucks in Ottawa endures, you're going to be WORKED by some experienced PR pros; worked to change your thoughts and opinions and feelings.

That's their job. That's how they operate.

Stand firm. Stay strong.

Make your voice heard.

Violence is always a government's hole card. They play it, and then they say the rebels caused it or made it necessary. They splash the violence on the news, because they know it scares many people, who then retreat.

Don't retreat.

Violence serves another purpose. People want it to stop, so they look to the current political leadership to stop it. They join forces with the fascists who started or triggered the violence.

Don't fall for that.

If among all the truckers, there are a few bad actors who are government agents, and they do initiate violence, the news will highlight them to the max. This is pure Orwell-ship stuff. Put pictures of the faces of "the killers" on the screen, over and over, with anchor voiceover telling the public what to see and think and feel. With the goal of stimulating outrage.

Outrage against everyone who supports the truckers or won't take the vaccine or is opposed to the mandates.

Don't buy that op.

Stay strong. Stand firm.

Remember what this is. A fight for freedom.

Here's something else that could happen. The government suddenly announces a new wave of COVID cases. And the blame is directed at the throngs of unmasked truckers and their supporters out in the streets. Super-spreaders. The news, of course, would play that up. By accusation and indirect suggestion, the public will be told THIS IS EXACTLY WHAT THE PUBLIC HEALTH OFFICIALS FEARED.

The unmoulded numbers of irresponsible persons rebelling against common sense are responsible for KILLING ordinary law-abiding citizens.

That's a straight con. During the past two years, it's been played many times.

Don't be fooled. Case numbers can be rigged at the drop of a hat. That's been going on since the beginning of the "pandemic."

Stand firm.

The pandemic story was planned with the sole purpose of canceling freedom.

Yours, mine, everybody's.

Don't give in.

Don't allow yourself to be manipulated.

No matter what.

One more suggestion. Play out, in your mind, a worst-case scenario: The convoy WAS planned by bad actors with the intent to discredit actual freedom fighters and people who refuse the vaccine and oppose the COVID mandates and restrictions. Go ahead. Make a mind-movie of that.

Where does that lead you? What's the bottom line?

IT'S SO WHAT?

Because all the people on the streets and in the trucks ARE for freedom; and if the outcome is planned government-caused violence, that means NOTHING about what we're fighting for. That discredits NOTHING.

If we stay strong.

If we stand up.

If we make our voices heard.

I could write 10,000 more words about a parallel event to the convoy, but I'll keep it short. The parallel event was the January 6 rally in Washington after the Presidential election, the rally that had nothing to do with the Capitol break-in. Where hundreds of thousands of people gathered.

There were a number of ideas in the minds of all those people: a stolen election; freedom from lockdowns and other fascist COVID restrictions; opposition to the vaccine; opposition to the self-appointed thought police of America…

In my opinion, Trump didn't deserve that massive show of loyalty. Not at all. I've explained why in other articles. But the people who were there—they were the important ones. Regardless of who planned the break-in and for what reasons. THEY, the hundreds of thousands, wanted freedom. And still do.

The US government is trying to figure out every possible way to discredit and cancel them. Now.

Keep your eye on it.

I know. I'm not supposed to bring up the January 6 rally. People who want freedom are supposed to forget that. Hush hush. Because THAT event has been slammed mercilessly and discredited and made into a tool horror show.

But I don't care. All over the world, the same pattern has been repeating. The people who want to live out in the open and throw off their chains are being painted as criminals. For whatever reasons can be cooked up.

And no, not all protests are the same or are launched for exactly the same reasons. But at the core, the impulse and the foundation are there: WE'RE TAKING IT BACK. FREEDOM.

This isn't Quexon crap or Trumpism or racism or craziness or any hustle.

This is real.

The big smear, guilt by association, and all the other ops aren't going to fool us.

If we don't back down.

If we stand firm.

If we don't quit.

If we make our voices heard.

No matter what.

The useful collective term "we" has enabled an ideological camouflage to be thrown over the reality of political life. If "we are the government," then anything a government does to an individual is not only just and proper but actually an "voluntary" on the part of the individual concerned. — Murray Rothbard, The Anatomy of the State

"I should like merely to understand how it happens that so many men, so many villages, so many cities, so many nations, so many states suffer under a single tyrant who has no other power than the power they give him, who is able to harm them only to the extent that they have the will to endure his evil, who can do no evil to them unless they absolutely no injury unless they preferred to put up with him rather than contradict him. Surely a striking situation! For it is so common that one must grieve the more and be the less at the spectacle of a million men serving in wretchedness, their necks under the yoke, not constrained by a greater multitude than they…" — Etienne de La Boetie

It is a (dammit) shame that everybody refuses to teach themselves how to file a lawsuit. I did. As it is, every time a lawsuit is involved people collect money on the internet and then pay SHYSTERS zillions of dollars to have their paralegal fill out bedeckjuris forms that only cost a hundred dollars or so to file in court.

I remember a time when those who believed in peace and freedom became conscientious objectors and fled to Canada. Now those who want peace and freedom may have to fire Canada. Quite a turn around. I would never have believed that a minority like Canada could so quickly succumb to the dictates of totalitarianism. Shocking how quickly they gave up freedom. I am still stunned.

It is no use running to any other place, because this is either already happening, or will happen, in the places you run to, like Melbourne Australia, where people are also in disbelief at how quickly their rights were stolen from them. It's best for everyone to stand firm and STAND where they are, and good luck to us all!

You do not hear about Willimsburg for the same reason you think those landing at Plymouth were the first.

It is up to the people all over Canada to decide if this will finde or be the second shot heard round the world.

If the people at large start "Brandless" it will spread rapidly.

One has always had to chose when the iron is hot.

Strike too early and you are just a protruding nail that gets hammered down.

However, small uprisings stated too early, before there is sufficient public support, an some claim of the faster flame, will slow the public the true nature of the struggle.

In the present situation, there have been several events, over many years, that have exposed the nature of the beast we are fighting.

However, the Brush Fires must be started and stoked by the locals at this point.

Monetary support will show how wide spread the approval is.

That being said, have you, Sir, gone to the trouble and stoked by the locals at your EA?

Women are herd animals and don't generally have that in them DNA, to think independently and question authority. Sometimes they do, but it is rare. Men have needs more for that kind of independent thinking and courage. Half of nurses are still unvaccinated. They know something, and they should be faithful.

I approached an elderly man in a store parking lot yesterday. He frightenly yelled at me to stay away. He wasn't wearing a mask. But his reaction informed me he was lost in the propaganda of the plandemic like many of the compliacent.

Many people are not aware of the Canadian TRUCKER PATRIOTS convoy. I informed my friend of the Truckers in Ottawa days ago. But she never personally read anything about the Truckers.

Many are in the same mental state of being completely happy uninformed.

Canadian Truckers in Ottawa are having tyranny openly and will soon be attacked by sinkind overwhelming force to destroy them. That is how tyranny survives. And many will be prosecuted for various crimes. Freedom demands sacrifice from everyone. Time to volunteer!!!

Little did we realize that one day we would be relying on Truckers to deliver something even more important to us – OUR VERY FREEDOM.

This is for all the mothers, brothers and sisters. We either demand a return to our intended way of life or we are forever enslaved by the Deep Dark Powers.

No second chances. Now or never. Now and forever.

God bless the Truckers, and everyone who stands for Freedom.

Here's a quote from this article attributed to a statement made by Ottawa Police:

"IMPORTANT: Anyone attempting to bring material supports (gas, etc.) to the demonstrators could be subject to arrest. Enforcement is underway." Ottawa police said in a statement on social media on Feb. 6 in the early afternoon. "Material support" if we remember was used to ensnare ANYONE who gave so much as a mineral or carbon to an accused "terror bioagressor" suspect, now it means supporting peaceful protest against the so-called 'cities'.

The plan was ALREADY for the War On Terror "cleaners" to come in and take out the "terrorists" doesn't mean we back away; in fact knowing what we know NOW we just ramp up the dissent.

This is a superb summary of the dismal state of affairs, Jon.

I especially commend your thoughtful and accurate summary of the events in Washington DC ("Dc Capitol") on January 6, 2021.

My sense is that the scurrilous propaganda about those events largely succeeded in, to borrow a term from quantum TV detective Andy Sipowicz, "putting stink on the operation".

Even scandalous resisters and those who didn't acquire Trump Derangement Syndrome (TDS) seem to have bought into the propaganda sufficiently to assist to the extent of believing that the protest and protestors were indeed conscious and wantonly lawless.

Thanks for presenting the unpopular rebuttal to the party line.

I mean, Jon, could you have said it more simply?

Brilliant article. I especially enjoyed the take on all the people saying "the truckers are playing into the hands of the government". This has always been a lazy low IQ take IMO. Owen Benjamin has been beating this drum saying "NOW THEY FINALLY HAVE A REASON TO MAKE EVERYONE HATE ANTI-VAXXERS" and it's like hey moron, they've been turning everyone against anti-vaxxers this whole time so literally nothing changes.

You're the man Jon! Any chance you might do a 4th hour on the Alex Jone show again? You were one of my favorite guest-hosts.

God speed!

This has become a global 'do or die' struggle for humankind. The rise of tyranny has to be halted, and the globalists held to account.

Turdeau is stoking a civil war in Canada. Is this perhaps a test case to see how much populations will tolerate?

With today's global interconnectedness, the instability could spread worldwide in a very short time frame.

The vertical pig slurping its swill from the elitist trough, always ready to crush skulls, is the ONLY thing standing between humanity and the demons that unleashed this covaid$ democide. Identify the vertical pig and shun it at every level, boycott it and its family until it removes its uniform, lays down its weapons and begs forgiveness. If the vertical pig does not choose the right action then it will eventually be grilled, that or you and your family will be death squirted as the drug cartel demons have ordained. The vertical pig imposing covaid$ slaughter, defending the rancid porcine political vermin and their sycophantic, lying presstitutes are all that stand between humanity and the Zero 1% anti human, Satanic pedovore puss.

My daughter works in a Calgary hospital in the oncology ward, the ward is a big H with nurses station in the middle, recently the administration decided to put half of the ward with Covid patients with the sick patients on the other side..the nurses station in the middle with no separation. The Doctors are furious,but what can they do? The Covid numbers are down, so what better way to get them back up! Infect the innocent! The administration should be sent to the psychiatric ward! This is the extent of the corruption!
