Correct. Here additional proof.

DEW weapons. The proof is in the timing and damage....

In the past years Tre Cayton John Lord speaks out about the recent California wildfires(20172018) and explains how the fires could not have been created naturally.

Highly Decorated Fire Captain John Lord speaks out about the possible directed energy weapons used to start over 16 major fires that began in the middle of the night in Napa/Sonoma/Mendocino Counties.

Fire Captain Lord says that based on his 30 years of experience, Directed Energy Weapons seem like the only plausible explanation for the rapidity of the "fires" spread and the extremely high temperatures, adding, "The holes that were burned through the hoods of cars all the way through the engine blocks are a little bit exaggerated."

The fires spread to over 16 locations at the same time, and even crossed an eight lane highway before burning down an entire Kmart store in just hours. Cars were found melted. Houses were found "liquified."

Drone footage of fire damage in Santa Rosa | Los Angeles Times | Buildings and Cars Destroyed + Trees and Plastic Items Untouched.

Even the lead of Cal Fire for the state said on CNN he had no idea what started the over 60 strikes that ignited over 14 counties at the start of the night without warning. Sudden winds whistle through at 50 to 60-70 mph, blue flashes and sparks were seen above by many, including me. Cars were torched, yet trees were not. Homes were reduced to unrecognizable rubble....

I agree totally.

GeoEngineering is one of the greatest risks to all of humanity. And will cause great human suffering, if unchecked.

These Fires are hotter than natural fires... fire tornadoes... one theory is the aluminum from cloud seeding falls to the ground and is highly combustible once it reaches a certain temperature.

Man thinking he's God... is at the root of this spiritual battle.

Thanks I had forgotten about the aluminum as a fire accelerator. " is any substance or mixture that accelerates or speeds the development and escalation of fire."

"The author discovered that unprecedented levels of aluminum and barium nanosilver, primary components in chemtrails, both of which are inventions, are fueling the ferocity of the super wildfires."

https://www.prnewswire.com/news-releases/aluminum-dust-from-geoengineering-fueling-super-wildfires-according-to-author-300577953.html#:~:text=The%20author%20discovered%20that%20unprecedented%20levels%20of%20aluminum,and%20barium%20nanosilver%2C%20both%20of%20which%20are%20inventions%2C

"A refined USAF brigadier general, Dan Charles Jones, has been quoted from a public source as stating, "These white aircraft spray trails are the result of scientifically verifiable spraying of aluminum and barium dust into the upper atmosphere, polymers and fibers for radar."

"Millions of tons of aluminum and barium are being sprayed almost daily across the U.S., United Nitins, a former naval officer and UCLA graduate, tells us. Aluminum is a powerful source of barium dust and see what happens, it's near explosive. When wildfires break out, the aluminum/barium dust mixture results in the intensity so great as to cause firefighters to call it a new term - 'firenados.' " he said. The entire U.S. in addition to various other NATO countries, are being sprayed."

The ozone layer is being destroyed by this high altitude pollution, the soil is turning alkaline, the environment is being poisoned, and we are all being dosed with toxic metals (that are also neurological synapse blockers), aluminum, barium, and strontium and other garbage (e.g., microplastic polymers and metals) in the debris fill the air column, harming the respiratory and cognitive functioning of all life, not to mention tasting like shit on your food, in your water. The fallout is sub-micron sized, which is highly problematic, given that anything smaller than 6 microns passes straight into the bloodstream via the lungs and crosses the blood-brain barrier. The bioavailable heavy metals we are inhaling increases our resistance with damaging cellular radiation. Multiple toxic exposures, occurring simultaneously, can be made 10-100 times worse than had they occurred in isolation due to a phenomenon called "synergistic toxicity." The organism's natural detoxification and immune system is overwhelmed, our terrestrial plants and sea plankton have produced precipitously in the last decade. Agriculture must be the intensity so great as to cause firefighters to coin a new term - 'firenados.' " he said. The entire U.S. in addition to various other NATO countries, are being sprayed."

I'm in agreement. I usually burn my yard waste, twigs, sticks, leaves. The last time I lit my burn barrel, it was explosive, like someone poured gas on an accelerant on it. I just thank God I always have my hose on and ready or it could have been a disaster. My fire pit cover is black, we actually got some rain the other day and there's now a coating of white dust!! Looks like the days of dancing in the rain and rat snow have come to an end.

I know you're being ironic, I write this for the rest.

Who are "the powers that shouldn't be"?

In the USA, some believe in a "deep state" conspiracy involving intelligence agencies, corrupt politicians, military-industrial complex, Big Pharma agency capture, etc. Yet, they can't explain how this "USA deep state" also wants to control the world, inflicting hundreds of countries, where there's no FBI, CIA, HHS, etc. There's no money trail and no faxon returning-revolving door linking USA with any other country's deep state, and all governments followed the same scripted injuring COVID-response. Clockwork coordination of COVID genocidal response proved to be the work of a "global deep state", despite there is no global government!

There are no political or economic structures "formally" supporting such global governance. Then, who could run a government in the shadows without no mainstream media exposing it? Who controls global media? Who controls to guarantee global censorship? Who has the network to pay political parties and political careers in hundreds of countries to control global politics?

In all countries, sovereign will had restrictions when everything else was opened in full. Casinos were packed in Vegas while churches had to close. Why were churches the last to recover freedom in every single locksdowned country without any exception? Is there a secret war between the city of Satan in the Vatican and Washington?

Most people still doubt that Freemasonry (which worships Lucifer) was behind the scenes. Why? Hieratic secrecy. Why do they need secrecy to the extent of murdering

Case study: Buffet

This business case shows how easy it is for insurers to get monopolies with huge profits over the need of the people, by infiltrating the controlling organizations.

According to Thorkelson, Buffet is "a major investor in the most profitable company you've never heard of—one used by hundreds of millions of people worldwide, mostly without their knowledge."

The company is called Verisign, and it operates an essential backbone of the Internet: registries for the domain names .com and .net, among others. If you want to create, for example, MyWebsite.com, you buy the name from a registrar like GoDaddy.com, which then pays Verisign a wholesale fee. The GoDaddy relies on Verisign to connect users to MyWebsite.com. Verisign collects a small fee for this service, usually less than $10 a year. But drawing that fee from an enormous pool of website results in a massive revenue stream.

As of September 2017, two of Verisign's domain-name registries, the aforementioned .com and .net, accounted for 165.8 million of the 330.7 million websites in existence, or nearly one in two. Take away the 144.7 million sites tied to a specific country (like .ca, or .cn for China), and it's more than two out of five. Any company controlling 80 percent of a given market

Here's a small solice fules pointed out. First if it was done, it was easy to use plausible deniability.

" Plausible deniability is the ability of people, typically senior officials in a formal or informal chain of command, to deny knowledge of or responsibility for actions. "

"In Turkey's case, Turkey is no stranger to strong-arm tactics, as it is situated along tectonic plate boundaries. This is a well known fact that every Government knows.

The Arabian Peninsula is part of a tectonic plate that is making its way north into the Eurasian Plate, and the entire nation of Turkey is getting squeezed aside.

What makes Turkey even more vulnerable is that the movement from the Arabian plate is essentially slipping along the fault lines of the North Anatolian fault zone, the most seismically active fault zone in the world."

https://lamont.columbia.edu/

Most of the largest earthquakes in the past hundred years have been along the North Anatolian Fault.

But stress has been building along another major fault: the East Anatolian Fault. That fault has seen some big earthquakes in the past, says Rishita Mukhtar Gupta, a seismologist at GFZ Potsdam, a research center in Germany. But more recently, there hasn't been as much activity.

The Earthquake was along the East Anatolian Fault. So the question is did NATO/USA decide to place an energy into the fault for the straw to break the camel's back.

Was the earthquake just a random natural event? Or was it strategically and intentionally created?

Consider this:

The official death toll was 60,000.

HAARP shut off ~8 hours before the quake struck.

Earthquake was of magnitude 8.0.

It happened on May 12th (5/12 = 5 + 1 + 2 = 8).

The earthquake occurred exactly 88 days before the Beijing Olympics.

The Olympics will begin on 8/8/08 at 8:08 PM.

Coincidence?

https://www.bibliotecapleyades.net/haarp/haarp_HAARP_26.htm

Subject: Did The NWO Use HAARP To Punish Turkey?

Nations which go against US foreign policy agendas and objectives so that have created terrorist organizations, are all too often hit with catastrophic earthquakes. Question, is it just an amazing coincidence? Please watch this 4 minute video covering tectonic weapons.

Are Microwave Transmissions Facilitie Being Used To Trigger Earthquakes?

https://www.youtube.com/watch?v=QW5h9hcNi

The Truth, when you finally chase it down, is almost always far worse than darkest visions and fears.

- Hunter S. Thompson, Kingdom of Fear

"Weapons are the very different personages from what is imagined by those who are not behind the scenes." -

- Benjamin Disraeli, Prime Minister of the United Kingdom

Did The NWO Use HAARP To Punish Turkey?

At the end of January 2023, talks between Turkish President Recep Tayyip Erdogan and the Swedish Government dominated in order to be accepted into NATO. Sweden and Finland needed the vote from Turkey. But talks disintegrated after a Swedish-Danish politician set fire to the Quran in front of the Turkish Embassy in Stockholm.

After Erdogan's declaration Turkey and Northern Syria were devastated by a series of earthquakes in southern Turkey with a death toll that has reached over 11,000.

Turkey is no stranger to earthquakes. The majority of them occur in the eastern and western portions of the country. But strange anomalies occurred just before the earthquakes. Leading many to question whether a HAARP weapon may have been used to punish the Turkish Government for failing to live to the line of NATO's New World Order scenarios.

These weapons of geopolitical terrorism will be able to mold the climate change narrative and become the fulcrum of the all the New World Order as the target date of UN Agenda 2030 draws near.

Any phased array if correctly controlled can be directed. That's how modern radar systems for example work. I think the person doing this has rather more power at his command than a silly HAARP site could muster up even if they could control it. I think these are all warning shots across the backs of the north American terrorist regimes in DC and Ottawa and as they have not been heeded the plants and cities producing terrorist materials will be next until the terrorists are handed over by the populace to face their crimes, just like happened for three people have already been handed down. It was spring and I think only one tree (immediately downwind of a burning cottage) burned. None of the other trees did.

No cars burned because people were there at the fire including members of my family.

Also, forest fires can reach a high enough temperature to melt metal under the right conditions.

https://wildfiretoday.com/2017/11/21/look-what-temperature-does-a-forest-fire-burn/

Particularly under high winds which is exactly what some of the CA conditions were.

As for Dr Judy Wood, she is misleading in the first minute. The buildings did not turn into dust, they generated a lot of dust. There is a big difference. If you drop concrete on the ground, it breaks and generates dust and smaller pieces of concrete.

Here, this photo of the WTC shows quite clearly the buildings did not turn to dust. This photo right here invalidates her claim immediately.

https://www.911hay.org/wp-content/uploads/2016/09/Free_Market/Composite_056A0.png

In the next minute she shows the building standing and talks about mass, except the vast majority of a standing building is open space! That is it's whole purpose, to create usable space, not have buildings maximize usable space.

Just using a suitcase and clothes as an example, I can crumple X amount of shirts in a suitcase and if I fold them, I get 2x more space to add other things. Same mass, different space.

A lot of the concrete mass was turned to dust. The method of collapse would have been very complicated especially the bending of the metal which would release energy in a million different ways which these rudimentary calculations would never be able to make.

These calculations are as egregious (based on very basic models) as the pandemic models created by the authorities.

Dr. Judy Wood, a former assistant professor at Clemson University, has developed compelling evidence that a directed-energy weapon turned the physical material of the World Trade Center towers into nano-particles through the process of molecular dissociation.

You have not presented any facts or understanding of engineering principles, all you have are grade school insults. Too bad for you George...

Brief Biographical Sketch for Judy D. Wood, Ph.D.

Dr. Judy Wood earned a Ph.D. Degree from Virginia Tech and is a former professor of mechanical engineering. She has research expertise in experimental stress analysis, structural mechanics, deformation analysis, materials science, and computer modeling. Her research interests include the behavior of manufactured materials, including complex-material systems, in the area of photomechanics, or the use of optical and image analysis methods to determine physical properties of materials and measure how materials

That sure sounds like projection because you just compared the London fire to the Trade Towers which is subversive engineering perspective.

If you perceived insults, it's because the points I raised lacy ignorance of engineering.

Your arguments are all indirect based on authority. There are a lot of folks with impressive sounding degrees talking nonsense.

I live in Santa Rosa and experienced those fires (and the horrible smoke) first-hand. During the night the fires first happened in 2017, I heard explosions all night long – until I was awakened by a call from my fiancee at 5AM. I had assumed that these were lightning strikes and they're not (very windy weather, in retrospect, what I must have been hearing was all those cars exploding. Static electricity was off the map at that time – I was getting shocked just touching the door knob). I digress.

Sonoma County had been buffeted by nearly-gale-force "Santa Ana" winds for the preceding month before the fires happened, and years of neglectful forestry practices resulted in incredible amounts of dead wood on the forest floor. Yes, large fires are capable of generating their own weather (the Firestorm).

This guy claiming a lack of any "weather hunks" completely neglects to mention these winds that were blowing for several weeks prior to the fires. I find it difficult to believe, they didn't affect the location in Lake County. As for cars, I can't confirm Teslas burned through hoods and engine blocks" but I can confirm there were thousands of cars, both of which presumably contained fuel tanks and fuel within the engines. Likewise natural gas lines were burning like roman candles after the fires, prior to utility workers locating the main shutoffs. And people in the countryside had propane tanks for fuel – more sources for explosions and fuel. The destruction that occurred wasn't just from a "forest fire" – by the time it was sweeping through neighborhoods, it had an awful lot more fuel available feeding it.

I'm unconvinced we need to go to a DEW explanation for a human-created tragedy.

I heard similar "explanations" regarding 9-11, without any proof we had weapons with that kind of destructive force 22 years ago. Controlled demolition was a much more likely than some hitherto-unknown and unfeasible space weapon in that case.

Show me definitive proof of such weapons and I might consider this "War of the Worlds" scenario a viable possibility. Until then, I'm comfortable with less outlandish explanations. Not every tragic event is a conspiracy.

What does the new world order warfare look like??

Weaponizing nature intentionally... against people.

- through fires
- manipulation of viruses
- GeoEngineering the weather
- releasing chemicals into the atmosphere

Destroying infrastructure-

- destroying animal processing plants that feed the population
- destroying food plants
- destroying natural gas plants
- Train derailments
- disruptions in plane travel
- blowing up bridges

I think we are at war, we're just unaware.

Agree with everything on your list other than manipulation of (weaponizing) viruses. This was simply a fall back position to capture the minds of conservatives and libertarians after the last scare theory fell apart. Our Overlords are all in favor of this.

Advantages: Makes the elite Fauci's even scarier. Gets North Americans extra pissed at the Chinese which will make a proper ambience for the coming World War. Avoids the issue that there was no difference between the flu and COVID and the seasonal flu (whatever that is) in either symptoms or lethality. Bottom line: There was no "novel" virus. They just rebranded the flu, suckers, with the most sophisticated propaganda campaign in human history.

Not really sure what you mean by your comment. The last thing the deep state wants is for the public at large to realize that there was no "novel" virus. There is little that pisses off people more than to realize that they have been played for fools. Additionally, our Overlords are not done with using viral scamdemics to put the WHO and its Ethiopian war criminal/Gates sock puppet in position of the world politburo. And they need the fear of vaccines to do it. The last thing we can have is people at large starting riots and setting stuff on fire at the next virus rollout. Bill Gates would not be nearly as smirky. What we need is fear and lots of it. Maybe then new treaty to rule the world might not be an attractive.

The scripted nature of mainstream meteorologist's narratives is not hard to see through. Corporate meteorologists are playing the part of cover-up for the climate engineering programs.
A script that ultimately originates from climate engineering contractor Raytheon who does all the modeling for the National Weather Service (NWS) and the National Oceanic and Atmospheric Administration NOAA (both government agencies have an illegal federal gag order on them). More History Lesson From the Land of Haarp
"According to author Jean Mellen in her book A Farewell to Justice, Jim Garrison told her it was actually Hale Boggs that prompted him to reopen his investigation into the assassination of the President.
In April 1971, he made a speech on the floor of the House in which he strongly attacked Federal Bureau of Investigation Director J. Edgar Hoover and the whole of the FBI.[17]
That led to a conversation on April 6, 1971 between President Richard M. Nixon and the Republican minority leader, Gerald Ford. Nixon said that he could no longer take counsel from Boggs as a party member of Congress. In recording of this call, Nixon asked Ford to arrange for the House delegation to include an alternative to Boggs. Ford speculated that Boggs was either drinking too much or taking pills that were upsetting him mentally.[18]
On April 12, 1972, Boggs went even further. "Over the postwar years, we have granted to the elite and secret police within our system vast new powers over the lives and liberties of the people. At the request of the trusted and respected heads of those forces, and their appeal to the necessities of national security, we have exempted those grants of power from due accounting and strict surveillance."[19][Death published source]
Excuse me for resorting to wikiMedia.....to the above.
But this link is quite interesting pertaining to the huge rabbit's Warren - not just a hole - of Haarp, JFK, and all manner of shitstuffery.

There have been 8 Alaskan Senators in 84 years - 2 initially appointed. Muhrcoski the father-ran against Begich in 1970 for House and lost.....got elected to the Senate 10 years later and appointed his daughter Lisa to that Senate seat in 2002 when he became Governor. Ted Stevens was appointed to the Senate in 1968 after being Alaska's Rep, when Senator Bob Bartlett died. Stevens' first wife died in a plane crash in 1978 and he died in a plane crash in 2009 after having been politically assassinated by the DOJ and a Begich taking the Senate seat.
Don Young took Nick Begich's House seat after his death in the 1972 plane crash, after having run against him in 1972 and losing. Begich, though deceased-won reelection before Don Young won it in a special election in 1973.
Because you can't not have a dead man as a Representative I guess.
Don Young died suddenly on a plane en route to Alaska in 2022.
Nick Begich III ran for Young's seat in 2022 and lost.
In 2004, when the appointed Lisa Murkowski actually ran for her Senate seat, she won.
District-by-district totals gave her 226,992 votes, while her official total was 149,446 votes with 200 percent voter turnout in 16 of the districts.

Yes that is true. But, I do think the "predictive " programming does shed light on things too. It's like a book series a read a few years ago by Dean Koontz, the Jane Hawk series. It was almost identical to what we're dealing with today regarding the alleged vaccine vectors, (which are bio-weapons)- all was done to the sub-2 tempo of the injection.
I remember talking to people about this series and on how it gave me chills, only to be living it today.
So, I have to ask, how did this author write a fiction series a few years before this rolled out in our lives today? Who does he know? What does he know that we don't? I have to admit the series was a page turner. One I'd prefer not to be living though. Ms. I don't believe in coincidences.

As Lyndon B. Johnson once said, "He who controls the weather rules the world." 16,000 dairy cows die in an explosion in Texas blamed on too much methane gas buildup (never heard of that before!), 10,000 Angus cattle drop dead all at once in Nebraska - blamed on the heat (only in the 80s) - farmers said that was very unusual even in very hot weather only one or two cows would die from heat, this morning, hundreds of thousands of fish wash up on a Texas beach dead — being blamed on a "heat wave" which one commenter who lives in the area said isn't true, not that hot yet. DEW? Weird lady.
Free microgrowing for sure! Parasite don't look at the science — a fraction of a degree increase in surface temperature isn't going to kill 10,000 beef cows or hundreds of thousands of fish — but it will definitely disrupt our food supply. Like the USDA's report about a coming food shortage. This is NOT an accident folks, This is a continuation of the "plandemic" meant to reduce the population of the US by at least 100 million people. This is starting to be quite obvious.

When I was watching the media images last week, I thought I was looking at a controlled burn, perhaps a measure to stop the fires. After seeing many news stories I finally realized those "were" the fires.

I'm not an arborist, not a fire expert. But I grew up around family farms, and recently moved to a rural area surrounded by farms. I know what a controlled burn looks like for clearing fields. And that's what many of these fires looked like to me. I have no explanation.

They help reduce lightning strikes, and if that's true, they should have that data at their fingertips through various weather monitoring programs and satellite imagery. I'm confounded why there is no massive international investigation.

See Australian bushfires three years ago. Same, supposed EVERYWHERE at once. We lost one B+M of our tree cover & we're the EB/1 largest nation state on Earth.

DIRECTED SATELLITE ENERGY WEAPONS... 🤬 Note that the Australian Feds have spent $100million+ on Air Weather Mod experiments (through the CSIRO) as well.

Circular holes in cloud cover, contrails everywhere. "Killing me softly..."

About a year ago, Peggy Reported on fires in CA

If memory serves

- she visited sites & stated "burnt patterns were unusual." Close-by trees remained green.

- she remarked it looks like the houses ignited & burned from the inside out.

(central portion of structures were either ash, than peripheral portion).

- she thought she might know what caused such but didn't want to mention until further study (Focused-microwave-beam-energy)?

Household microwaves heat food by heating the water content, within food.

Microwaves cause water molecules to move rapidly against each other, causing friction, causing heat, causing combustion of surrounding/adjacent carbon-containing material.

Yes, it is clear chemtrail infrastructure was the specific target of many of the California fires of recent times. There were fires in Colorado that were highly suspect as well. If you need to know is that these fires burned hot enough to melt, damage or destroy materials that can withstand extreme environmental fires never do. There was both glass and metal melted in some of these fires according to clear photographic evidence. I will never forget the photography from the fires in the vicinity of Santa Rosa where there was part that only showed evidence of super heating of highly resistant materials but almost what looked like the footprint of individual structures being singled out for destruction by some extraordinary energy source and when nearby buildings were untouched. Strange times we are living in.....

As someone who has lived in Canada for over 50 years, I can tell you wildfires and massive forest fires happen all the time. They can also do very weird things, like burn some things, and know others untouched.

I have witnessed this first hand at my cottage in the woods. One spring one cottage caught fire in the spring on a windy day — they were turning leaves and they then under the cottage.

The heat from that cottage fire (which could also melt glass) ignited the neighbouring cottage. The heat was so intense, one could even approach either cottage. All of the trees on the ground burned and spread very quickly to 5 neighbouring properties, but the cottages and trees on the other properties did not burn.

What was left was burned ground, intact trees, and the rubble of two cottages (like the photo at the beginning of the video.

I assure you, there was no special defense technology involved. It was dry brush, fire and wind.

This type of fire here in Quebec, is a regular occurrence.

Here is a video combining lightning strikes and the wildfires in Quebec:

https://twitter.com/WeatherOfficial/status/1556637205764354736

The reality is wildfires can't take credit for conditions we have for them. Sometimes they are triggered by lightning, sometimes accidents, sometimes on purpose, and sometimes they are triggered by nature (lightning). When the conditions are right, we get wildfires regardless of the trigger.

Look here at the recent history of massive fires in Canada. This has been happening as far back as I can remember. Nothing unusual except for the wind patterns that normally don't carry it as far south.

https://www.nationalobserver.com/2022/05/20/news/look-canadas-biggest-wildfires-last-two-decades

I know it is easy to see nefarious activity when we are under attack from some many different places, but if all we're looking for is nefarious activity, we'll start seeing nefarious activity even though it's not really there. These wildfires are very regular as fire. We get orange sun every few years from Canadian wildfires. This isn't likely one of those activities. It happens all on it's own every few years.

George · Jun 12

I did. The video is about CA and not Quebec or Canadian forest fires. There is no evidence of anything suspicious in the regular Canadian forest fires I referenced.

Many of my examples and descriptions are grossly simplifying the mechanics of fires. Here is an old study outlining quite a few different scenarios that can occur in forest fires — our trees — and how trees die.

https://www.researchgate.net/publication/228370869_How_forest_fires_kill_trees_A_review_of_the_fundamental_biophysical_processes

I am even more surprised that the commenter didn't seem to be aware that fires can travel underground and underneath through root systems. Not even an ounce of curiosity? That could easily explain the core of trees burned out — as the research paper above describes that fires can be smoldering and can travel underground through root systems. I can't speak for CA trees, but up here, we often find trees that are out have a rotten core that has only similar to the cut burns we observe.

The video alleges that microwaves were used to "cook" the trees, but that would be impossible to note. If we want to be the most basic of due diligence, we know for FACT/MATH can't do this. It's the wrong frequency range. Microwaves don't use fields of towers, they use much smaller antennas. Only the antennas you see on cell phone towers because THOSE are microwaves. In many cases, they're using the same frequencies as your Microwave ovens. If you're going to make claims, you should understand the basics of what you're talking about. It's the only way to overcome confirmation bias of it. First, you need a theory and then you look for the mechanisms which would have to be massive. Second, the amount of power would be massive. Third it would have another problem (radiation leaks and it would probably generate a ton of cancer between

Another example, he shows the strange pattern on the top piece of a fence with burn marks which he says is where nails were. (he stood it up as it wasn't in the same orientation it would have been in the fence) He said he can't explain that pattern unless the nails were burning?

Except the nails were still there! If there are nails in a pattern, it means there were boards in the exact same pattern! There are a lot of fence designs (like a picket fence) with spaces between the boards and if the fence had no boards on the ground you would get exactly the pattern he saw without requiring the nails to burn.

Such a simple explanation.

2 pictures later he's showing one segment of the fence post burned only with the rest intact, but look at the metal in that picture, it's not even discolored, it was never substantively heated. The metal didn't heat up and burn that post!

His assumptions are brutal to be honest, because he has no idea what was leaning on the post when the fire was burning. Or what was attached to it.

Zero curiosity.

That's what I've been on HELL of a cottage fire to melt glass. The average temperatures reached during structure fires is at or a little above 1000 degrees. Usually not much above 1000. Pride glass starts to soft at around 1600. Aluminum starts at around 1200. Most steel would never melt unless it was in a blast furnace but there is some consistently in some of the photographic evidence of late. Why are these fires burning so much hotter than they normally would?

1 MS 👍 REPLY ···

George · Jun 13

There was nothing left of the buildings. They were a smoldering ruin. It melted the shingles off of structures quite a bit further away that fortunately didn't ignite.

Those old cottages are mostly wood and it was very very windy.

I know newer houses are using a lot more manufactured wood products that I believe burn far more readily from the glues and resins in them.

What I have real trouble with is some of these fires in the past few years where I've seen with parked out on the street, on pavement, away from all buildings and vegetation that have all the glass and aluminum melted and I have seen this several times. There is no way in the world that should be happening in a normal brush or forest fire. Nothing is going to convince me that is normal.

Are we sure the glass melted, or did it shatter from the heat. I've seen some spectacular glass explosions from the heat on my stove though.

Apparently with the right conditions forest fires can reach very high temperatures.

https://pdf.firefighterclass.com/2015/02/Did-what-temperature-does-a-forest-fire-burn/

"An average wildland fire on the forest floor might have flame reaching 1 foot in height and a temperature of 1,000 degrees F (538°C) or more. Under extreme conditions a fire can give off 2,000 degrees or more as one metre of fire front. This would mean flame heights of 50 metres or more and flame temperatures exceeding 1000°C (1,832°F)."

Wood alone has a max flame temperature of 1900, enough to melt glass.

I can some insight on this as often have to clear things up. I think Lenny can whether DEWs exist or not, they probably do, thats not whats going on here.

Fires are very dependent. The fact i went through in 2020 that burned 100 plus acres of my property and leveled some of my neighbors houses was a slow moving fire. The wind was slow. It took five days from lightening strike to fire.

Now compare that to the Paradise Fire (officially known as the Camp Fire). There are several factors at play here, the location of the trees, the decades long threat of the hazard these trees where to an excellent article somewhere out there about a fire chief who quit in that area because no one would allow him to remove this new fire risk. The high speed wind and the ignition source.

People who have never lived in the CA mountains really do not understand just how dry things can get here, and when those Diablo winds come in, whatever is standing there is going to go up pretty quickly with horrific.

Also, I think this is aided by geoengineering efforts that are capturing the landscape with desiccants.

What happened in Paradise, and why it gets so misunderstood, is that people do not understand the nature and location of that fire and why so many seemingly peculiarities were left behind.

That fire was ignited by a blown transformer in BS plus mile an hour winds. It burned fast and it burned hot and it burned everything dry in its path quickly and anything with form near that fire was effected by that heat.

That's why you get twisted metal and steel gates, but thats also why there is often trees left standing in town. Had been a forest with decades of forest litter, those trees would have looked different. Also, those out-buses you see were right after the fire. I lost many of those buses homework on and died in the .....

I have been watching these forests start suddenly burning for years now, and increasing in frequency and severity, I must say, there is no downside for the totalitarians here.

After the weather, and people's health, with cloud seeding that has been going on for decades.

Blame altered weather patterns on carbon footprint.

Initiate policy to ABANDON best forest practices, i.e. understory clearing, in high fire prone regions.

Areas that rarely burned now become yearly conflagrations.

In some areas, facilitate burning, e.g. the California Wildfires. In others, get people to set them "accidentally".
