

More Surveillance State Moves: Americans Will Lose All Liberty Before (And If) It's Restored

by Tyler Durden

Wed, 12/05/2018 - 21:10

Authored by Jeremiah Johnson (nom de plume of a retired Green Beret of the United States Army Special Forces) via SHTFplan.com,

In previous articles, I outlined the three methods the globalists are most likely to use (in order of preference) to finish off the U.S. and usher in their Globalist-Corporatist-Oligarchic world government. They are as such:

1. A lethal bio-engineered virus
2. An Electromagnetic Pulse (EMP) "Event" - defined as either an attack by a foreign entity (such as North Korea, China, or Russia), or a "domestic self-infliction" subsequently blamed on one or more of the listed former.
3. A nuclear war

For skeptics and rabid naysayers who attacked previous articles regarding the threat posed by North Korea outlined over the past several years, information from the U.S. Air Force was posted the other day that may make you want to "reanalyze" your stance. As I mentioned before, I'm just the messenger: the information has been gathered over the years by men such as Pry and Graham who headed the former Committee to brief Congress on the EMP Threat against the United States.

That same Committee was de-funded (in this administration), and rendered defunct. According to the Air Force 2018 report, the mothballing of the Committee was premature. The Washington Examiner's Paul Bedard wrote an article released 11/30/2018 entitled, "Military warns EMP attack could wipe out America, democracy, world order." Here's an excerpt:

"In an extraordinary and sobering report meant to educate the nation on a growing threat, a new military study warns that an electromagnetic pulse weapon attack such as those developed by North Korea, Russia, and Iran could essentially challenge the United States and displace millions.

"Based on the totality of available data," said the report from the Air Force's Air University and provided to Secrets, "an electromagnetic spectrum attack may be a threat to the United States, democracy, and the world order."

The report, titled, "Electromagnetic Defense Task

Force,” and the product of a mostly classified summit of officials from 40 agencies just outside of Washington earlier this year, is a forceful call for a new focus on preparing for either an enemy EMP attack or a natural hit such as a solar storm.”

Notice how Mr. Bedard cites the study’s conclusion of an EMP weapon is phrased “such as those developed by North Korea, Russia, and Iran” in the excerpt? “Developed” is past-tense, alluding to the fact that these weapons are in existence now in these countries. It also mentions the EMP is capable of being delivered by satellite...as pointed out numerous times in the past.

Once again (par for the course) the report is described as the “product of a mostly classified summit of officials.” Yes, during this busy shopping season, no need to panic the Muppets and detract from their idiot largess or lack of frugality during that holy, sacred time of the year: the last business quarter of the calendar year.

Of course it’s classified. As has been reported after the “Victory over North Korea’s Disarmament” mantra back in May of this year, the sanctions are still in place, and North Korea has not “de-nuclearized” in the least. “Mission accomplished” is best rendered “nothing accomplished.

Or maybe the mission was accomplished.

By keeping North Korea in the game, they can be blamed any time the controllers decide to make it “lights out” with the EMP...it can be blamed on them. Notice the report is also big on the “solar storm” warning: another fallback position, for after a worldwide blackout with EMP(s), how would anyone be able to dispute that it was the sun? Simple matter to “persuade” any scientists who could argue the point to fall in lock step.

The point is that North Korea is not “back” in the game: they were never out of it, and whether prompted by another nation or of their own accord, they do possess the capability of rendering an EMP strike against the United States.

I do not avoid writing about it because the threat does not exist. I stand by my position that a nuclear war will begin with an attack by an EMP device, followed by an exchange of nukes. In the meantime, there are other things occurring that are destroying the country incrementally.

My point of focus has been the development of the Surveillance State in the U.S. The (eventual) complete loss of liberty will be the result of the “Technocratic Society” being fully-formed that Brzezinski hungered for: with cameras in every home, tracking devices [cell phones, if you prefer] on every person, surveillance in every aspect of life, and a virtual-electronic police state completed.

I’ve written several pieces on the biometrics. Biometrics in everything: in the bank, for the grocery store, for the travel...your travel...for your safety and the safety of the community...the communist collective that is being built. The cage will be constructed for your own good, by the “good guys,” for your benefit.

USA Today released an article on 11/29/18 entitled “Delta says USA’s ‘first biometric terminal’ is ready to go at the Atlanta airport.” Isn’t that wonderful news? Delta is so excited! Another excited “personality” is Chad Newton, CEO of the Wayne County Airport Authority in charge of Detroit airport, where another Biometric Terminal is being set up to rock and roll. Here’s what Chad had to say in that USA Today article:

"It is a great honor for Detroit Metropolitan Airport to become one of the nation's first biometric terminals. We look forward to partnering with Delta, CBP[,] and TSA to provide passengers with the option to utilize facial recognition throughout their entire travel process."

Wonderful, Chad! I wonder exactly what he means by "partnering?" Especially "partnering" with CBP (that's Customs and Border Patrol) and TSA (that's the Transportation Security Authority). How does one "partner" with them? The answer: the corporations fawningly accept their role in the construction of the cage-system, on their backs with plainly-evident submissive behavior exhibited (metaphorically speaking, we hope). A "great honor," eh? Also: does that "entire travel process" include when we hit the latrine on board the airliner, as well?

I hope (metaphorically speaking) that you guys are taking up Rosie Greer's hobby of "knitting," and gals too...but both guys and gals with the intentions of Madame Defarge. Knit accurately, and knit well. Remember these individuals, these "Choked-up Chads," swelling with the desire to serve their masters. Remember them for posterity.

But wait, there's more.

MassPrivatel released a piece on 11/27/18 entitled "Surveillance cameras equipped with thermal imaging allow police to identify people by their gender, body size and color of their skin." The central company here, BriefCam, calls their actions "Transforming Video into Actionable Intelligence." Yeah, isn't that beautiful? Let me give you some more, from this excerpt:

*“...allows law enforcement and retailers to secretly identify people by their gender, body size, color, direction, speed[,] and more.
BriefCam’s Video Synopsis version V allows police and retail stores to use surveillance cameras to identify individuals and cars in real time. What is really disturbing about the video is no one knows where it is being used and by whom.
BriefCam’s limited disclosures, claim it is being used by top law enforcement agencies and governments but that’s it.”*

I really love that last sentence. “Top” law enforcement agencies. That’s good. BriefCam is using FLIR (forward-looking infrared). They’re not alone. The article mentions NeoFace Watch Software produced by NEC. Check this out:

“NEC and NPS will showcase a vast range of safety solutions to overcome challenges facing cities; including facial recognition system, automated fingerprint identification system (AFIS), CONNECT police platform, and video analytics solution. The solutions will form part of Safer Cities that NEC and NPS aim to build, to contribute to realize a safe and secure society for all citizens."

Let's embolden and enlarge that last part: A safe and secure society for all citizens.

I like the term "showcase" in that part: akin to The Price is Right. Can you believe it? Can you believe this is happening? The cage is being constructed at Warp Factor 7, Ladies and Gentlemen. This is not a joke! The article goes on to show how police smartphones can access the information on the surveillance cameras! That's right! "Passive" surveillance (with the cameras existing in a public place...untouchable, unstoppable, and not legally allowed to be "jammed" or interfered with).

The active surveillance is where the police (under agreement with the businesses) take the information they need from the "free public forum" of the emplaced cameras. Bye bye 4th Amendment!

The businesses: taxpaying entities that support the system, and (as illustrated with "Choked-up Chad's" statement) the businesses are totally and wholly engaged in supporting the State over the citizens. Same premise of where John Citizen goes against a company/business entity. He will lose, because after it's tied up in the courts for years, the court recognizes the supremacy of the corporations over Mr. Citizen...by criteria of who pumps more tax dollars into the system...the same system the courts feed off of, and law enforcement (top to bottom) graze out of: "Billy Mack the detective down in Texas...he makes his living off other people's taxes," as the song runs.

Oh, they're really nailing us. I highly recommend reading the article I just referenced, and also read some of the excellent and knowledgeable comments below it pertaining to more examples of the growing Surveillance State. The point is that the cage is truly almost complete. By using the “Tyranny of the Majority” and the accompanying tyranny of the pseudo-safety needs of the community, the controllers issue in a police state that cannot be contested in the de facto court system with innumerable laws and armies of lawyers paid by your taxes to defend the State.

See to the “knitting” and preparations for the eventuality that will occur: the complete removal of your Constitutional rights and the planned incremental demise or sudden destruction of the country. The first step is to be aware. The second: take the necessary steps to survive and carry on. Let Quintus Fabius Maximus’ methods be your guide, and resolve yourself that it is a long-term engagement. Success will require nothing less.

Hey I am a Q-tard, where are the mass arrests Q predicted for December 5? Guantamo was supposed to be holding all of the Clinton and Podesta and Comey types by now. Oh, was it all theater to distract us

I support 25 or so voices like Stefan Molyneux, Dev on Stack (BlackPilled), David Seaman, Alex Jones, Dane Wigington, Joe Mercola, PragerU, etc., hoping that with excellent critical voices energized and supported, SOMETHING will shift. I understand the quotes about how power doesn't concede anything without violence or the threat of violence. But there is so much confusion and ignorance out there, people don't know who to blame or what practical steps to take. A good start would be 1000 people in each state marching on their state capitols and chaining themselves to the capitol building until their Governor says he will look into and stop the spraying of the skies overhead. There needs to be mass civil disobedience with everyone willing to risk going to jail and being fined, which means there needs to be a community of people (a million or more) willing to support financially those putting their necks on the line. That is just a start. We are being slow killed and our window of effective response is narrowing. 5G's completion may be the closure of that window. Just sayin'.

I don't get it... Why would the surveillance state go through the trouble of setting up all those cameras and wipe them all out with an EMP? Wouldn't that mean they lose all control once the riots break out? Edit feature seems to be broken.

I share the same confusion re the stated points, but if an "EMP could wipe out America, democracy, world order" I'm all in. I would point out however that an EMP would not wipe out America. It would succeed in eliminating the disease in America... the surveillance state as mentioned in the article, democracy (mob rule) and those that advocate it, and world order (one control system for the world), as well as the corrupt US corporation and all the tools that it uses to enslave. So yeah, EMP the fuck out of this dysfunctional shit and let's get it on. Would be the simplest way to clean up this shit hole.

With this and military applications of the ubiquitous SmartMeters, and I imagine that any home or community can be targeted, with help from a little Directed Energy from above. WWII is ongoing and it is weather warfare. Everything else is a distraction. 90% drop in insect biomass worldwide. The fantastic news is that if there was an EMP, 90% of the population would die from either a lack of clean water, a lack of food, disease or ultra violence within 1-2 months. Then the rest of us survivors could hunt down these government slugs. We can burn them out, or starve them out of their bunkers. Its their choice. And the Deep State would be no more. No more surveillance, no more tracking, no more government bullshit period. At least not for a very, very long time.

Hmmm... Wouldn't EMP attack fry the security cameras as well?

I'm relatively sure the retired General was referring to Quintus Fabius Maximus Verrucosus. This man was the man whose tactical strategy became what we call today, "guerilla warfare". The General's assessments are frighteningly plausible.

If the Federal Government doesn't do an immediate about-face on the vast majority of, (not necessarily all), the unconstitutional electronics projects that have kept me on pins & needles for the last 20 years (I swear, I can feel it when I'm on a camera), the concept of it being illegal to destroy the illegal surveillance hardware that was illegally installed in violation of the Constitution, will essentially be moot, right out of the starting gate. So, go ahead! Whether it's a BB gun, a 12 gage or a balloon full of paint, if you see something, smash something. Doing so has only a local police response as of now. Down the road, US military personnel will be unwilling to fire at fellow American citizens, because none of them want to be the soldier who shot the mother of someone. The same way they don't want their mothers to catch American bullets in a catch American bullets in a similar fashion.

We will know which way it's going to go by observing what President Trump does after his well earned vacation for draining the swamp.

Tribunals are supposed to begin on Jan.1st, 2019. If it comes right down to it, feel free to smoke the lefties on general principle. The liberal Democrats were the willing and eager showing the entrance and tunnels through which our government has been slowly infiltrated ideologically.

In a sentence, "socialists", "communists", and all of the politically left of center pussy hat wearing, converse lacing, goat humping, inbred over-entitled cowards who are under the age of 30, should be given a single opportunity to grow up and join the adults. Any hesitation to answer means their loyalties are split, and they can't be trusted ever again. Execute them day & night until they figure out that they aren't going to be safe, ever.

That's what a Patriot does!

The ultra active surveillance police state. This is why they need the caravan border crisis and illegal immigration crisis to spill over so they have an excuse to usher all things into public life "to protect you".

These things are all engineered with a purpose.

Consider a backup plan in Panama or somewhere else you can get a reasonable second citizenship or permanent residency.

A lethal bio-engineered virus

This will likely be what is blamed from a mass die offs due to 5G. They will have a killer vaccine waiting for you to; and by you I mean not me. Young and old are already dying at an alarming rate (at least for those of us who are watching) from their smart phones and exposure to cell towers and smart meters.

Young people (and a lot of oldsters too) , generally speaking, are pretty smug about those devices (the vices?). Shame you can't tell them anything. I'm pretty sure if back in the 70's, my friends were dying off from smoking weed I would have taken a step back and asked questions. These kids don't notice when their friends are dropping like flies?

While all of the above is true, the article leaves out measures used around the country. I can give examples of their use here in Arizona, as I've done previously at Zero Hedge. The first and most distasteful is their use of what I call extra-judicial assets. These could, in theory, be anybody, but one genre is convicted criminals owing their lying belly-crawler tactics to those who have previously busted them, in order to stay out of jail or prison. Another measure is the surreptitious residential break-in, previously explained here at ZH. Another is the threading of these and other Government crimes into their collusively-produced films (this collusion stretches well beyond Hollywood to Netflix, Indie, and even some foreign films). With the measures mentioned in the article, such as thermal imaging, you are now living under a blatant criminal under a blatant criminal regime. This is not subject to discussion or threat. But there are people out there who still think of fighting them on their terms - i.e., when they have everyone all lined up for slaughter.

I get paid over $90 per hour working from home with 2 kids at home. I never thought I'd be able to do it but my best friend earns over 10k a month doing this and she convinced me to try. The potential with this is endless. Heres what I've been doing,

"the three methods..."

Most disappointing is that you neglected the fourth and most important...

an ignorant and apparently willing 'masses.'

"survive and carry on"

Who and what does that serve, exactly...
