GeoengineeringWatch.org is pleased to announce the release of our groundbreaking documentary that conclusively exposes the existence of global climate engineering operations.

Global climate engineering operations are a reality. Atmospheric particle testing conducted by GeoengineeringWatch.org has now proven that the lingering, spreading jet aircraft trails, so commonly visible in our skies, are not just condensation as we have officially been told. Over 75 years ago global powers committed the planet and populations to a climate engineering experiment from which there is no return. The intentional dimming of direct sunlight by aircraft dispersed particles, a form of global warming mitigation known as “Solar Radiation Management”, has and is causing catastrophic damage to the planet's life support systems. The highly toxic fallout from the ongoing geoengineering operations is also inflicting unquantifiable damage to human health. Why aren't scientists or official sources disclosing the ongoing climate engineering operations? Who is responsible for carrying out these programs? What will the consequences be if geoengineering / solar radiation management operations are allowed to continue? The Dimming documentary will provide answers to these questions and many more. Thank you for viewing and for notifying others of The Dimming film release.

No wonder populations are vulnerable to the Covid with so much obscuring the sun light folks vit D is depleted even more than normal during the summer season. As for Billy Goat Gates also wanting to also get on the Sun dimming plot he just wants to extend the winter season throughout the year to ensure his vaccs will be needed for 12 months instead of just winter seasons. Greed 100%

Been a while since I've been on this message board. Dane. Great job. I've been waiting for this documentary. This is my line in the sand with my coworkers, family, friends and just general people I interact with. This information is critical to pushing us out of cognitive dissonance. We must press now. There is little time to recover. Since the start of the new year. Days on days of milky white skys. Missed forecasts. Wrongly reported temps in TN. We one day were supposed to be 32 and snow. It turned into 50 and rain. A lot of rain. Then drizzle for the next week. These toxins are making people sick and they blame it on anything but the real source. I'm sending this video to gamers I play with. Local sports family's and officials. I'm going to the pub this week to chit chat and spread the word there. I'm determine to get this out and start the end game. Let's do this all. Tennessee is with you Dane. Even if it is just me.

This was a very profound, thought-provoking documentary and it makes you realize that there could be no positive justification for geoengineering. All we have to ask ourselves is how has geoengineering improved life on earth? It was most interesting to hear the science about how aluminum interacts and interferes with the proteins in our bodies. I would think people would be interested in knowing we possibly have billions of aluminum and other nanoparticles in the cells of our bodies causing damage. The air samples taken on the plane in this video were very telling. It was sad to see the brown trees in the footage which were once homes to birds and other animals but are now lifeless shells. The beautiful footage at the end may be final images of what once was but will never be again. I agree with the statement: "you can't not care as that is not human." The people spraying are assassins in the sky.

I have one friend who does see the trails and sort of gets it, but just the other day after she watched the spraying and then the "clouds" forming, she actually said she "still has a healthy skepticism" about this happening. I didn't bother to respond, and I am about done trying with her. If I thought she would actually watch this film I would send it, but I no longer hold out any hope most of what I send gets even a glance. "Healthy skepticism" keeps running over and over in my mind, and I really want to say to her it isn't "healthy" AT ALL! This is a person who does see the total corruption of our government in many ways, and has actually told me in the past that I need to "shout it from the rooftops" when I go off on a rant. Pray tell, which rooftop would that be, and it would it matter if no one is willing to listen? If I cannot even get a friend who I may have some credibility with to see this, then just how is shouting it from a proverbial rooftop going to help when most won't even look up at the damned sky to see it for themselves?

I have been watching and reading this site for about 4 years now after discovering it on a blog through a link that had a picture of the planes. I'd been seeing those planes for a while and always naively assumed they were just military exercises. Which they are in a way, but not the way I thought. What military plane leaves a visible and lingering trail behind it when training for war? What kind of logical sense would that make? It wouldn't, of course.

With my "healthy skepticism" friend I did manage to ask her, OK, if they aren't spraying chemicals then just what IS it they are spraying? No answer to that, and I did not really expect one. I would love to think that may make her stop and think but again, I hold out little hope that really happens. Most would rather stick their head in that phone and play a game or go down the rathole of party outrage politics that in the end matters not one bit except as the grand distraction that it is meant to be.

I watched the entire film last night and will probably watch it again today. And maybe I will attempt to send it along even knowing it probably will not be watched. Thank you for all you do. I hear the anger in your voice and it gives me comfort now to know I am not the only one with a white hot burning anger at the willful stupidity we all live with every day.

I can really relate to what you wrote. I just sent this out to most of my English-speaking Whatsapp contacts. I will send it to my Spanish-speaking contacts when it is dubbed, since most people are too lazy to read subtitles anymore. I just finished watching the entire docu. I don't have the stomach for it really. I KNOW it is true, and I also know that people will say things like, "Here he goes again.." when they get the link. But I sent it anyway in the hopes that maybe 2% of the friends that get the link will view the docu. And I know that the 2% that do watch it will be as repulsed and saddened as I am now.

I took the red pill many years ago. Taking the blue pill and living in happy DenialLand is not an option. Catherine Austin Fitts is right when she says that transparency will make all the difference.

And Dear Dane, your descriptions of your encounters with that natural world are moving and inspiring. We are both around the same age, and both from Southern California. Listening to you feels like home. Thank you so much for your courage, passion and commitment.

What a great collection of facts, brilliantly produced and presented throughout this great documentary. This the greatest tool to date of all of the toolbox that has been shared through this website and the great work of Dane Wiggington and all contributors.

So many times have I heard, "Where is the science to back this up?" to which I reply, "Please visit this website!" though many apparently are fended off by various "Debunking" and "Fact Checking" elements. The visual learning capacity to reach the masses is definitely contained within this compilation. Here is the science! Undeniably so! Thank you Dane and partners for making this tool available for me. Another frequent response to my attempts to bring awareness to this tragedy is "Wow, I never noticed that before". Which describes a populous that have their vision trained downward at their handheld computers. Observations of what Facebook or Twitter contains consumes their time. Perhaps it would help if they had to look up to view their "Smartphones". That is a very sad state of affairs especially given the current circumstance.

The husband of a friend of mine long ago read a book titled, Journeys on Mind Mountain. If interested you can go to the contact information on the website, dailyzen.com to request ordering information. This may be the only place you can get the book at this time. The book is more of a journal of numerous hikes this man made up into the mountains of Colorado I believe it was the San Juan mountains. Each chapter is like a short lesson on how to look at life without being overly emotionally attached to it. It's a sort of calm detachment they may have some of you.

Nevertheless, however you choose, everyone must learn how to detach emotionally from things and especially people who come if they had their way, would hurt our feelings and humiliate us and make us question our sanity. I just had to leave an old friend behind this weekend, someone with whom I was very close at one time. This is one of the reasons... indifference to the truth. So knock your hands together like you're knocking dust off your hands, and walk on. Keep moving on! Keep On Keepin On! Leave them in the dust! Look the storm in the eye! Detach emotionally.

That may sound harsh, yet we must be able to emotionally detach from such people, or we will get deeply upset on the inside, which can destroy the immune system for one thing, and render us emotionally and physically incapable of continuing on in this fight. Every able-bodied person to do everything they can within their particular sphere of influence. The covid-19 is already starting to break wide open thanks to many people, not the least of whom is dr. Sherri Tenpenny, and dr. Simone Gold, and Dr Lee Merritt, and many others, countless others across the world, who are standing up and speaking the truth. Be strong and be firm.

What hospital was getting ready to start making us take those vaccines. I formally invoked my constitutional and legal rights I got an attorney and threatened them with a federal lawsuit if they dared to violate the sanctity of my body and the free expression of my religious Faith. They backed down completely and stopped emailing the entire hospital about getting vaccines. One person can make a difference my friends. The pen is mightier than the sword.

It just makes common sense that psychopaths like Bill WaterGates, David "No More Blue Skies" Keith and Ken "Cowardly Carnegie" Caldeira all have minions of Dystopian worshipers. Who peruse through websites like this and report back to the Three Stooges, any time they find comments that reference their name, or their crimes against humanity which they are given blanket immunity for by the Controllers.

So, having said that. I would now like to say exactly what I think about the Three Unwise Men and their plans to conquer Earth. Bring humanity to their knees and build their own greedy little empire that pales to the Lord of the Flies.

Stop treating this planet and all of us like it is The Island of Doctor Moreau!

Earth is the only home to humanity in this great big universe and a miracle of life, floating in the hostile void of space and endless dark matter. All three of you suffer from the illusion that you are Gods and flaunt your affliction of entitlement insanity.

I just want you to know: It's not nice to mess with Mother Nature and if you continue to back the human civilization into a corner. The flee or fight instinct will eventually kick in, when desperation reaches it's climax. And whether there are billions or just a few million of us left standing. The odds are still not in your favor!

God Bless all and keep up the Good Fight.

Dane and everyone involved in making this documentary...fantastic. How can anyone deny the truth after watching!?! Only the brain dead that don't look UP to see the truth happening right over their brain dead heads. This needs to be shown EVERYWHERE. I wonder if The Epoch Times would be interested in talking about this? They have been demonitized by Utube for telling truthful news. Update on NH. Weather is up and down. High winds last week and this week. Temps up to almost 70, after windchills of -15 or lower. Back up to 50's, now windy again, Arctic cold front coming in (shit it should be 100 then) with windchills below zero again. They're surely trying their best to make everyone think there is no global meltdown coming. Put on your long johns because we're having Arctic cold. Too bad the Arctic wasn't cold anymore. We collected sap the last two weeks but it was slow with the below zero temps. We'll finish cooking it into syrup in the back yard tomorrow. Maybe we'll get a gallon to share with the neighbors that let us tap their trees. Time will tell when its done cooking down. Dane – thank you so very much for making this important documentary!! Too bad all those "retired" contributors didn't do something when they were actively involved. Maybe just maybe we could have stopped the insanity long before we reached the point of no return.

Blessings and praises to You, Your Family and All who helped to produce a very special film that I hope will circulate quickly and people will sit up, look up, and take notice. Interesting how March 12 week here in central North Carolina has seen an increase in Climate engineering spraying activity. All the local news focus is on the ridiculous continuing Covid vaccination push with no one even paying attention to the strange hot sun and particulate cold! I'm sending "The Dimming" out via text messages. Hoping for strong, positive feedback.

– hi Jeff, agree and same. Rather than post above will put here, because in a way sorting people ties to what I was going to comment about bacteria. I think our abilities have been misdirected to things that don't matter. Been trained away from our gut, when sorting is how we came to be, bacterias sorting from or to each other, based on what's necessary instead of what's superficial. Part of situation I wonder is as people turned away from natural life don't remember what's missing, it affects ability. Memory is part of ability, and comparing, so when we forget, we lose our base on everything.

Was reminded in Dane's mention of not smelling trees, and few recent experiences, for instance was heating some vegetables and had hot water to drain, and instead of put down sink went outside to pour on ground, when I did there was a good earth smell, hadn't smelled in so long. You wouldn't think smelling dirt would be a thing but it was, because it's been missing, hot/warm water was the difference. Another, was a store that had flower/plants in a cabinet, opened the door and smell was all at once, flowers and moist plants. Now am thinking to get a few large plants, put in small room for smell, and to compare to outside, to see outside should smell more, not less. It's been said smell is the strongest memory, and again I think part of ability, and comparing, things, people, whatever. And goes to your comment Jeff, agree sorting can be natural, right. If earth life is first priority, other decisions are natural. Where I used to focus on the few large animals or whales left, now I think of the base we need to live, because no one can pretend spraying or chemicals aren't killing mass bacteria. Dane said something similar to – no bacteria no us, and can see now is core truth. Or maybe it was microbes, either way. Appreciate your work and sacrifice Dane, and others who pitched in on film. Sharing –

Mac

My heart is broken.

Andy, Wow, that's fricken harsh. Interesting how your brothers reply is an example of the programmed response the sheeple have been inflicted with. I know, I've had the same response from my own 'younger' brother that is involved with the computer engineering world. My family has literally disowned me. I miss my sister that died from a military induced brain tumor. She worked in a "communications shack" for almost 6 years in Korea. My father died this last November and didn't even leave me so much as a good bye note. He knew he was dying. He 'was' a millionaire. I'm not even on the radar.

Those of us that do and are willing to speak truths are now being scorned and degraded beyond comprehension. Those of us that are willing to stand up for what we know to be right will suffer grave consequences. Religious people would call it biblical as long as they are not the scorned ones. Just sayin. Hang in there Andy and ALL

Andy, I am sorry to hear your brother whom you looked up to so much said that horrible thing to you... no wonder your heart is broken. I was saddened by that because I too have experienced being shunned by my family for not only the geoengineering, but also the truth about Covid.

Unfortunately, these people are brainwashed from government and media. One of these days they will find out the truth...by then you won't even want to accept an apology. I too sent this documentary to family members who deny this is going on. I can't understand how they can deny it after watching this telling documentary. Try not to let it bother you...evil has taken a strong hold of our planet and won't let the truth be told! Keep striving for the truth!

Andy, welcome to the "shunned, disowned and exiled" club.

All of my cousins and half sister (only surviving members of my family "13 cousins in all") treat me like I have the plague or have stolen their life savings!

They tell me that I need to get professional help, for my onset of insanity and an egocentric belief that geoengineering weather warfare operations, vaccine's sterilization of humanity and the 911 False Flag Event Cover-up... are all true and need to be exposed, for the entire world to see... how all governments have secret agendas.

The last time that any of them even spoke to me, or bothered to respond to my emails. Was only to tell me that I need to stop spreading lies and end my delusional story telling.

Everyone here in this community where I live, also treats me like some kind of war vet that had my brain scrambled by combat fatigue or PTSD. I am the equivalent of the town drunk or a rambling homeless hermit... in their minds.

Simply because they all refuse to open their minds and explore any unanswered questions and anomalous facts, or serious discrepancies in the official narratives that the media and government agencies push on them 24/7. It has become second nature to them in regarding everything they see, hear and read as the God's Honest Truth. Unless it contradicts with the fake news propaganda machine. Then it is mentally discarded as pure unadulterated lies, into the conspiracy theory trash bin.

Their minds have been so warped over time that anything absurd, or based on the Matrix of Insanity, is the new sane and rational thought process of the human collective. They are like army ant soldiers, all marching to the same beat and anyone who misses a step, or listens to a different beat. Is instantly swarmed, beaten down and trampled over... without even an ounce of remorse or regret.

Freedom of speech and thinking for one's self as an individual who embraces their free spirited rights of independence, equality and a life of happiness. Is no longer acceptable or tolerated by a perverse and technology addicted society that worships corrupt leaders, insane elite billionaires, big pharma drug induced euphoria and super cool 5G toys that have now fused with their brains.

They can't see the engineering of our skies, climate patterns, societal meltdowns and our entire planet as a whole. Because their attention to details has been refocused on the mundane, daily grind of living from paycheck to paycheck. With venues of mind numbing entertainment and social media platforms that are designed to keep them glued to TV, computer and phone screens. Rather than engaging in stimulating face to face interactions with each other and exploring the wonders of nature.

There's no money to be made in the last two and Nature is the equivalent of antimatter, in comparison to technology as the form of matter... in the universe of humanity's blindness towards enlightenment.

Very few people believe that humanity, nature and the planet needs saving. Because the official narrative matrix keeps everyone trapped within a bubble of false reality. They see everyday life taking place all around them, as it has been doing every single waking day since they were born.

But if we could place them in a ring side seat, to observe how Earth is slowly losing the fight to stay on it's feet. Like watching a massive explosion of methane, blast a giant hole in the Siberian Tundra. Or watch as a school of fish swims into a dead zone and slowly dies an agonizing death, as their gills have no oxygen to pull from the water. Maybe even place them in a drought parched million acre forest and watch as a single strike of dry lightning, sets the trees ablaze and that entire forest burns to the ground all around them.

If we could just remove them from their comfortable environment of sitting at their computer and binging through a complete season of The Walking Dead... and place them in an African Savannah, where geoengineering has created a ravaging drought that has dried up all the water holes. Leaving vast herds of elephants to become the (real life Walking Dead) and let them watch as each one can't go on searching for water any more, and lays down to die from the excruciating and painful effects of dehydration.

For people who deny the inevitable extinction of the human race, by depleted crop food production as a result of sterile soils around the world. Bring them from their dining room table and a glutenous five coarse meal and place them in a third world country farmer's shack. Where small children are nothing but skin and bones and simply waiting to die, from the agonizing effects of starvation and mal nutrition. Not just once, but every single time they take a bite of food!

Force them to hold their eyes open and watch all of these things and more. Bring them out of their surreal comfort zone and expose them to the harsh realities of Geoengineering crimes against humanity.

The Dimming documentary should be required viewing by every person in the world. But what do I know? I'm just a town drunk hermit, who suffers from mental instability and PTSD. According to my sheeple family and apathetic neighbors.

Let me please offer my condolences to you and E. Most of my family will not talk to me and many of my friends went on either at this point. Most of them have written me off as being a conspiracy theorist. Some actually said it.

At this point, and it may sound hard, we really don't have time to waste on people who willingly do not have eyes to see ears to hear. Knock the dust of those places off your sandals and keep moving! Focus on the big picture as much as possible, and look the storm in the eye!

It's interesting to read the comments that come from people who are so lovingly concerned in getting the truth out to friends and family, only to be shunned and rejected by them. Do they not know your intentions are only for their health and safety and the love of family?

To the deniers, if it weren't so expensive, send them a bucket of sand to sink their heads in. You all should be proud of yourselves, you tried, you did your best, you showed your love for them, now it's time to get back to the task of waking up others. It's their loss, not yours.

I also had a pop up from Bill Gates on my tablet about a book club and questions and answers for him. I wasn't able to respond as I don't tweet, Instagram ect. ect. but I bet a few of you here do. Let him have it friends, both barrels as the saying goes.

Thank you Dane and Company for your tireless effort to expose these criminals. You are a champion and an example to us all of true human courage. You inspire me.

I have email correspondence, and have FWD'd to Dane, with Drs. Keith and Caldeira in which BOTH of them DENIED ever having said the things Dane has them on record as having said, e.g. spraying 10-20M tons of aluminum annually and targeting populations by spraying pathogens in the clouds.

BTW, my hospital just shared this information:

"On Tuesday, March 16 at 7 am the dedicated Covid care team will disband due to a decline in Covid positive patient admissions. The Covid pager will also be inactivated at this time."

It was excellent, and I want to thank all involved for their bravery and courage to tell the truth and expose the lies. Your due diligence, integrity, and solid mental focus on a subject that has been the most difficult in ALL the challenges we ALL face. Thank you, thank you, and thank you to your sweet, beautiful, supportive family (behind the scenes) day after day, week after week, month after month and year after year, you never give up, such a solid rock for us to emulate.

Dane, when you questioned David Keith about the toxic human health risks of aluminum particulates being sprayed into the atmosphere. I was appalled and shocked at his response of basically saying "Who Cares?"!

He stated that the research had been done in that field, but nothing had been published. Of which he made that statement TWICE, as he very nervously and reluctantly tried desperately to answer your question.

Revealing exactly what kind of monster he is and how the word Morality, has no meaning in his vocabulary.

But the statement that he makes at the 21:00 minute mark. Pretty much sums up exactly what kind of people we are dealing with, in the Geoengineering community of Climate Warfare Psychopaths. As he fully admits that morality has no place in the math equations of geoengineering science.

David Kieth says: "And by the way. It's not really a moral hazard. It's more like free-riding on our grandkids." ... in regards to geoengineering.

Plus... if they honestly did do the research into the human health risks, of pumping hundreds of millions of tons, of aluminum particulates into the atmosphere. Yet couldn't even answer your question Dane. Then I can fully understand why nothing was published. Because, his confession at the 20:45 mark that only one million tons of sprayed aluminum, could possibly kill tens of thousands of people. Tells me that if they had published their findings. The number of people being killed annually, would likely be in the MILLIONS!

Is it no wonder that the government and academia refuse to admit that geoengineering has actually been going on in our skies for Generations.

It's the biggest kept secret in all of humanity, because no one wants to take responsibility for those millions of deaths! AND Millions more to come in the years ahead, from worldwide atmospheric aerosol spraying operations that are actually exasperating global warming, not slowing it down to give us more time.

They don't acknowledge the elephant in the sky, because it would be the same thing as confessing to murder!

First thank you for the Dimming, and thank you so much for your dedication to this equivalent to banning your head against a concrete wall subject!

Your very much appreciated! 😊

Today was awesome, my sister came over, and we sat outside on my front steps! Within minutes they started chem-spraying over top of us, and toward the hills! One after the other, and different directions! I got to actually show her the details, how they fall, and spread out, how the chem-trails get weaker, then stop, or? run out? of chemicals, then the silver clouds move in! And there goes the blue sky, that's not so blue to begin with! She got to see why they were not CON-trails! It was great, because she really got to see for herself, as I pointed out, what didn't make sense about it, and, what I had been complaining of! They do it right over my home, front and back, daily, of course they do it everywhere else too! Most people are too busy looking down at their phones, to notice what's being done by govt's from above! Vancouver Island BC Canada

Another Engineered Rain Event passing through southern CA past two days. What evidence?

Increase in spray activity noted last Friday. USAF Tanker fleet crisscrossing the area.

Pink colors noted in clouds past few days. Submicron sized aerosol particles refract red and pink wavelengths producing Enhanced Sunsets.

Hail and thunder various areas. Approx 5/16" hail stones a hallmark lately. Same reported in Daytona Beach FL several days ago show continuity of operations one location to another.

After rain last night, I just wiped vehicle down which was parked outside, Chemical or SURFACTANT/ SOAP sheen noted on windshield. Many rainbows or CHEMBOWS another hallmark feature now.

"Climate experts" like Bill Patzert, Michael Mann, Daniel Swain and many others should hang their heads in shame. Their lack of observational skills, knowledge and insight are reprehensible.

Be the landslide of awakening—! This is my new motto & banner. Thank you Dane and company and crew for this monumental and inspiring work. Anyone who supports renewable energy such as wind, solar, and hydro-electric needs to recognize that geoengineering and weather modification by any other name be it SRM or Climate engineering or whatever—directly undermines those renewable energy enterprises.

It is difficult to be witnessing on the East coast so much of what is shown here. Been going on for years already, in fact Truro Massachusetts (perhaps unwittingly, we don't know) participated in the 2012 kickoff....I sincerely hope this film will help the public to stand up and take back the responsibility for stewardship of the Earth's most essential life supporting air, soil, light, and water—currently being destroyed by the global skies program, in plain sight yet at the same time concealed by the complicit silence of thousands. May they realize it before it's too late!

You have finally, completely Blown Me Away Dane!

Your documentary "The Dimming" is 1,000 times more striking than I had ever anticipated. Watching it was utterly gut wrenching and I found myself tearing up over and over again. I feel like I have just lost a very dear loved one and left with a feeling of emptiness that has virtually broken my heart to the core.

I couldn't help but sigh and become flooded with emotions, as the images of carnage and chemically toxic death and destruction, were steadfastly replacing the once beautiful, lush and healthy ecosystems of Earth that I remember from my childhood.

The segment where you see a blank stare in the eyes of a kangaroo, as it's home in the Australian outback is being engulfed by a massive inferno, categorically drove home the reality of Geoengineering insanity to me personally. The images of all the dead forests and record setting California fires were equally as dreadful and difficult to watch.

Hearing the testimonials of all the experts and retired Generals made me scratch my head and left me entirely dumbfounded. Raising questions in my head like:

"Why in the hell won't the people of this planet... fuking WAKE UP and take what these whistleblowers have to say seriously?

"How can the masses continue to accept the government media machine's assertion that Geoengineering Is "ABSOLUTELY" Not Happening In Our Skies and that the subject itself Is Strictly a Conspiracy Theory Illusion By Fools and Morons?

When those very same experts and retired Generals are most likely the very few "in the know" individuals who have our best interests at heart. Considering how the government, military and academia placed them in such high ranking and responsible positions to begin with!

AND so many documents and patents for geoengineering and climate control operations are readily available to the public, on the very same internet that they have become incessantly addicted to!

Makes absolutely no sense whatsoever. Unless some form of secret subliminal brainwashing and mental programming is taking place around the globe.

Pharmaceutical additives in municipal water supplies, aerosol injection plane trails and GMO foods... like Prozac and Riddelliine maybe? To keep everyone from thinking for themselves?

Split second images that appear in the blink of an eye... imbedded within popular movies, TV shows and commercials?

Children, teenagers and college students being hypnotized without their knowledge, by teachers and professors who use various media instructional technologies? Technology so sophisticated that even the members of academia are being affected as well?

Is the Matrix of an illusionary alternate world actually a reality? So convincing to the majority of people that they can't even see or hear us, when we try to wake them out of the Official Narrative Fog enveloping their brains?

I personally haven't watched any television or cable programming in over 30 years now. Never drink water from municipal sources and avoid GMO foods at all cost. I refuse to watch any movie, show-series, news broadcast or video that has imbedded commercials and I NEVER believe what any government tells me, before checking the facts, references and sources first.

Maybe that's why I'm lucky enough to be a member the 2%, who are unable to be brainwashed or programmed and can easily see through the government's lies of deception.
