

What's Up

ANOTHER (YAWN) EPIC

An extended spell of unseasonably cool and windy has ended. This week, expect HOT – with the breezes going mostly straight UP. Remember that epic Friday a couple weeks ago? Well this Saturday may surpass that. No, really. Moderate southwesterlies and Dr. Jack’s prediction of thermals above 20,000 feet in Utah and northern Arizona must have the [...]

Soaring is Learning

USING WEATHER (FROM JOHN ALDRICH)

In the 1970s, SOARING Magazine featured an especially informative monthly column titled USING WEATHER, by meteorologist John Aldrich. (Dust off a stack of old issues from our library here at SCSA and you’ll be amazed how entertaining and educational SOARING was back then.) One of Dr. Aldrich’s articles gave a way of predicting the best thermal [...]
