I submit to you a real-life "experiment" that has been unfolding before the eyes of the world for the past 40 years.

The nation of South Africa.

Once the far and away wealthiest, most successful country on the African continent, it is descending toward the mean of poverty, crime, and chaos found in other African countries (Zimbabwe).

What happened there? The "world" (i.e., the MSM, UN, IMF, WEF) ganged up on and shamed the minority white government into handing over the keys to the kingdom to the majority black (communist ANC led) population. The transfer of power became official in 1994.

Today, maintenance of roads and railways there has been sorely neglected for years. Poverty is rampant. What is the black government's solution? They hold rallies before tens of thousands of enthusiastic citizens and lead them in chanting "Kill the Boer! Kill the Boer!"

Gangs of armed thugs invade white farms where Sunday mornings are preferred when most of the elderly and infirm are the only ones at home (while the rest of the family is in church). They just murder the homeowners. They torture them to death. And the government proceeds to confiscate the farmland which is then parcelled out and donated to so-called veterans as "reparations".

At that point, the farmland stops producing. Maintenance is neglected. Tractors sit idle and rot away.

This ethnic cleansing has been going on for decades. Few are aware of it because the same entities that facilitated the 1994 transfer of power choose to look the other way.

When white Americans (currently comprising low-60's percentage of Americans) become a minority in the U.S., we will suffer the same fate. White South Africa's fate was sealed from the get-go because they were a minority to begin with.

"A republic, if you can keep it" replied Ben Franklin.

It has been suggested that it is not possible to maintain a democracy (in the case of the U.S. a constitutional republic) based on democratic principles when the average IQ of its citizenry is below 90. The average IQ of American blacks is 85. Since the genes of American blacks are approximately average only ~75% African, the average IQ of a sub-Saharan black African is 75.

How did the IQ of Africans become so low relative to the rest of the world? My theory is based on might-makes-right. When the strong man eliminates the more intelligent weaker man, the weaker man's genes are deleted from the gene pool. In the resulting Thugocracy, the average IQ is bound to drop over time. We can see the same pressures at play in American black communities where those who "act white" (i.e., are of higher intelligence) are preyed upon, sometimes even murdered. Comedian Ron White hit the nail on the head. You can't fix stupid.

I've written here extensively about what has happened in Rhodesia and South Africa. See my old columns.

Defining deviancy down is what we are living through.

We are a collapsing society. Unfortunately that is by intent.

pjb535i - I know that the low IQ African stats have been widely shared. I think Somali at 70, which can explain some of the behavior (and challenges) we see in Minnesota time. And I have seen memes and videos of before and after pictures taken of South infrastructure after a decade or two of ANC rule. The home of nuclear power and the becoming a sub-Saharan shithole. But I do have a wondering and a hope. If the West some of these low IQ people into its countries, and if we keep the numbers small, and for attributes that we find beneficial for the maintenance of Western civilization, is it that these smaller and less impactful cohorts can be better assimilated; and, possibly IQs (and general productivity) can slowly rise, over generations? My hope is that the indeed a nature/nurture story to genetic transference, and that with proper schooling and financial incentives, that the space between their ears will become sharper and capable through successive generations?
