

COVID-19 Injection Campaign Violates Bioethics Laws

Analysis by Dr. Joseph Mercola

✓ Fact Checked

STORY AT-A-GLANCE

- › Safety data analysis and reporting in clinical trials of the COVID jabs appear to have been manipulated in at least some cases. One method for manipulating randomized clinical trial safety data is to only analyze the “per protocol” treatment group (those who completed all doses and were fully compliant with the study design) as opposed to “intent to treat” which would include all patients that have signed informed consent
- › For example, if a participant only accepted one dose and trial protocol called for two, under a “per protocol” analysis, adverse events they experienced would be dismissed and not included in the safety analysis. This is a classic way to manipulate safety data in clinical research, and it's usually forbidden
- › Since the COVID shots only have emergency use authorization, they are experimental products and, as such, they are not authorized for marketing
- › Bioethics are written into federal law. As an experimental trial participant, you have the right to receive full disclosure of any adverse event risks. Full disclosure of risks is not being done, and in fact is being suppressed
- › Adverse event risks must also be communicated in a way that you can comprehend what the risks are, and the acceptance of an experimental product must be fully voluntary and uncoerced. Enticement is strictly forbidden

As the inventor of the messenger RNA (mRNA) vaccine platform, Dr. Robert Malone is one of the most qualified individuals to opine on the benefits and potential risks of this technology.

His background includes a medical degree from Northwestern University, a master's degree from Salk Institute, a bachelor's degree in biochemistry from UC Davis, a Giannini fellowship in pathology and a post-graduate fellowship in global clinical research at Harvard.

He taught pathology to medical students for about a decade at the University of Maryland and the University of California Davis, and then became an associate professor of surgery at Uniformed Services, University of the Health Sciences, where he launched a major research institute focused on breast cancer and high-throughput screening in genomics for breast cancer.

After that, he helped found a company called Inovio, which has brought forth a number of gene therapy discoveries, including vaccines, and the use of pulsed electrical fields as a delivery method. After 9/11, a colleague at the University of Maryland's department of business and economic development connected him with Dynport Vaccine Company, a startup that had received a DoD contract to manage its biodefense products.

"That's when I transitioned from being more of an academic to the advanced development world of clinical research, regulatory affairs, project management, compliance, quality assurance – all of that stuff that goes into actually making a product," Malone explains.

"It was a huge epiphany that the world really didn't need more academic thought leaders and [that] I was wasting my time focusing on that. What the world really needed was that people understood the underlying technology and the discovery research world, but also understood advanced development, which is that drug development is a highly-regulated world. And there aren't very many of those.

So, I set out to become really expert in that latter part and worked with the government, particularly in biodefense and vaccine development, for a couple of decades. And that brings me to the present.

I've captured a couple of billion dollars in grants and contracts for companies that I've worked with, and clients from the government, from BARDA [Biomedical Advanced Research and Development Authority], from the Department of Defense and others."

COVID-19 'Vaccines' Are Gene Therapy

I've been accused of falsely stating that these COVID shots are not vaccines but gene modifying interventions. However, even Malone agrees with this statement, and as the inventor of the technology, he should know. He points out that in Germany, by law you cannot refer to this technology as a genetic vaccine or gene therapy vaccine. "The German government has specifically outlawed the use of gene therapy-based vaccine as a term," he says.

With his background, and having received the COVID shot himself, he can hardly be called an "anti-vaxxer" and/or someone who doesn't believe in gene therapies. Yet, he recently went public with concerns about the safety of rolling out this kind of technology on a mass scale, and the unethical ways in which they're being promoted.

As has become the trend, he was immediately censored. Wikileaks even went so far as to erase him from the historical section of the mRNA vaccine page and his own personal Wikipedia page was removed. All references to Malone inventing the mRNA technology were removed and attributed to a variety of institutions instead.

Blowing the Whistle

Malone's public involvement with the COVID jab issue began with a short essay¹ reflecting on the bioethics of the current campaign to get a needle in every arm. This essay grew out of a conversation he'd had with a Canadian physician. Malone's essay catalyzed an interview with Bret Weinstein in June 2021 on the DarkHorse Podcast.

This isn't the first time Malone has spoken out against unethical behavior in science. He was also a whistleblower in the Jesse Gelsinger death case,² back in 1999. Gelsinger was a young man who had a rare metabolic disorder called ornithine transcarbamylase deficiency syndrome (OTCD), where dangerous amounts of ammonia build up in your blood.

He'd been diagnosed at the age of 2, and was managing his condition with a regimen of nearly 50 drugs a day. At 17, Gelsinger signed up for an investigational gene therapy. Like the COVID shots, the therapy involved injecting a gene attached to an adenovirus, which would be integrated into his DNA to permanently produce an enzyme that prevents ammonia buildup.

Gelsinger was the 18th person to receive the gene therapy, and while the others had only experienced mild side effects, Gelsinger had a severe response after scientists at the University of Pennsylvania administered adenovirus doses that were far above what had been approved by the corresponding safety committee.

Gelsinger became disoriented and developed jaundice and acute inflammation, followed by a rare blood clotting disorder and multi-organ failure. He was dead within days. Even a decade later, Gelsinger's death is still considered the biggest setback for gene therapy.³

"When the Jesse Gelsinger events happened, I also had long been a deep insider in the gene therapy space, so I had specific knowledge of what had happened at Penn – the ethical transgressions, shall we say, that occurred – and had awareness, again, just like now, of the technology," Malone says. "So, I was able to make sense of things that otherwise were obscure for journalists and even other scientists."

After speaking out about the ethical transgressions that contributed to Gelsinger's death (dosing which exceeded approved levels), Malone became a "persona non-grata" in the gene therapy community. In other words, he was blacklisted by his peers and prevented from participating in gene therapy research.

"That's part of why I went in a different direction with my career and focused on government work and biodefense, supporting the Department of Defense," Malone says. "The lesson learned for me is that I'm able to be resilient, together with my wife's support."

Another key lesson was that your friends will support you through times of crisis if you behave with integrity and maintain your friendships and treat people with respect. I also had a lot of support for having spoken out and taken an ethical high road on that and not compromised myself ...

It's part of why I'm comfortable [speaking out now]. People tell me that I come across as balanced and calm. But yes, this is a little bit frightening and once again, [I'm] putting my career on the line. But once again many of my colleagues in the government are grateful that I'm speaking this way. They are not able to have a voice because of their jobs and government policies about speaking out."

Public Responses to Censorship Make a Difference

As explained by Malone, he's been heavily censored since his three-hour interview with Brett Weinstein. LinkedIn even deleted his account. However, LinkedIn users all around the world canceled their accounts in protest and wrote the company, explaining their cancellations were in protest of Malone being censored.

The social media uproar culminated in a major news article in a mainstream Italian paper, which appears to have pushed LinkedIn over the edge. LinkedIn eventually reinstated Malone's account and even sent him a letter of apology.

"I don't think I've ever heard of a company writing a letter of apology after delisting and deleting somebody," he says. "My sins were 'profound,'" he says sarcastically, "They were that I outed the chairman of the board of directors of Reuters who is also sitting on the board of Pfizer, for cross-posting the Wall Street Journal article on vaccine toxicity risks, and well, basically for complaining about censorship.

So, they sent me my list of sins with six different posts that were to pretty much anybody's eye innocuous, which I then took and cross-posted onto Twitter. So, that revealed the absurdity of that ... The note [of apology] that I received basically said, 'Look, we don't have the expertise to censor you, but if you cross the line, we have the right to summarily delete you again and so mind your manners.'"

The Repurposing of Drugs to Combat Pandemics

In recent years, Malone has been involved in yet another startup company (Atheric Pharmaceuticals), in collaboration with the DoD, that focused on repurposing drugs to combat Zika infection. That company went bankrupt for lack of investor interest in repurposing drugs for treating infectious diseases.

When the COVID-19 outbreak began, he got a call from a colleague who works in the intelligence community in Wuhan, China, who urged him to put together a team to investigate the possibility of repurposing old drugs against COVID.

His team is currently about to enter clinical trials for a number of licensed off-patent drugs. That said, his biggest contribution so far is probably his commentary on the bioethics of what is going on.

"Both my wife and I are deeply ethical people," he says. "We're high school sweethearts. We try really hard to live ethical lives and to help our fellow man as well as the animals in our lives. So that's just the place we come from. It's bedrock. We're not rich people.

I recall a long telephone call with the Canadian physician that poured his heart out about the situation in Canada that he's encountering, both with vaccine administration in primary practice, and also in administering alternative therapies to outpatients, which generally have no therapies available.

I mean, the position is a bit shocking – in the emergency rooms all across the world. Basically, you go to the ER and if your O2 sets are down, pushing towards 80, they say, 'Well, go [home] and come back when your lips are blue.' And that's the essence of it. They don't really offer anything.

So many physicians, including this gentleman in Canada, have been seeking alternative strategies and they've tested and administered these various agents. We've heard of fluvoxamine, ivermectin, hydroxychloroquine. There are many, many others now, including those that we're working with (famotidine and celecoxib) that seem to have therapeutic benefit when administered early to shut down this hyperinflammatory response.

So, he shared this and the stories of multiple reports of vaccine adverse events that in his clinical judgment were clearly vaccine related, some of them quite serious, and that the Canadian government would summarily dispose of those as non-related even though in his clinical judgment, they clearly were related.

He spoke about the enticement of children in Canada with ice cream and the willingness of the Canadian government to administer vaccine to children without their parents or guardians consent after enticing them with ice cream cones, and some of the other things that I just found shocking ...

It mirrors what we're seeing across the world, where governments are taking liberties with people's health and their rights without real legislative authorization to do so in most cases."

Core Bioethical Principles Are Being Violated

Malone and his wife Jill are both trained in bioethics, so after listening to this Canadian colleague, he decided he could help by writing a lay press opinion piece about the bioethics of experimental vaccines under emergency use authorization.

"I have intimate knowledge of not only the emergency use authorization legislation, the FDA policies behind it, I even know the people that wrote it," Malone says.

"So, we dove in, refreshed our memories on the whole history of the modern bioethics construct that briefly runs from Nuremberg Trials to the Nuremberg Code, to Helsinki Accord, to the Belmont Report in the United States, and to the common rule that exists in the code of federal regulations."

In summary, since the COVID shots only have emergency use authorization status, they are experimental products, and as such, they are not authorized for marketing. The core bioethical principles that apply therefore involve three key components:

1. Bioethics are written into federal law — As an experimental trial participant, which is what everyone is at the moment who accepts a COVID shot, you have the right to receive full disclosure of any adverse event risks. Based on that disclosure, you then have the right to decide whether you want to participate.

Adverse event risk disclosure should be provided at the level of detail disclosed in any drug package insert. However, the COVID shots have no such insert or detailed disclosure, and adverse event reports are even being suppressed and censored from the public.

Instead, as explained by the FDA,⁴ since the COVID shots are not yet licensed,⁵ rather than providing a package insert, the FDA directs health care providers to access a lengthy, online "fact sheet" that lists both clinical trial adverse events and ongoing updates of adverse events reported after EUA administration to the public.

A shorter, separate, online fact sheet with far less information in it is available for patients — but, provider or patient, you still have to know where to look up each of the three EUA vaccines separately on the FDA website to access those fact sheets.⁶

2. Adverse event risks must be communicated in a way that you can comprehend what the risks are – This means the disclosure must be written in eighth grade language. In clinical trials, researchers must actually verify participants' comprehension of the risks.

3. The acceptance of an experimental product must be fully voluntary and uncoerced – enticement is forbidden. "I argue that all of this public messaging that we've all been bombarded with ... constitutes coercion," Malone says.

"The most egregious example of this that I've ever seen, is the federal government identifying 12 people ... and labeling them as the dirty dozen, [saying] that they are responsible for causing death because they are disseminating what the government has determined to be misleading information about vaccines. This is mind boggling to me and to most of my colleagues."

How Falsehoods Are Getting Top Billing

As you probably know, I am on that "disinformation dozen" list. The irony of this situation is that government officials are really the ones contributing to the deaths by not adhering to bioethical principles that are enshrined in law. It's a classic case of 1984 Orwellian doublespeak.

As I mention in the interview, the "misinformation dozen" list is the creation of the Center for Countering Digital Hate (CCDH), a shady organization funded by dark money that sprung up less than two years ago.

"Yeah, you don't even have to go to dark money. It's out in the open. There's this Trusted News Initiative led by the BBC. They announced ... last fall that they have integrated Big Tech, Big Media and new media, Facebook, Google, Microsoft, et cetera, into an organization that was intended to control false narratives relating to elections, but they decided to turn it on what they perceived as false narratives for vaccines," Malone says.

"As if that wasn't enough, the Wellcome Trust and the Bill & Melinda Gates Foundation have announced initiatives where they're making block grants to Facebook, which is then funding these new pop-up fact-checker organizations ... [that] are employing methods to smear people and to ban information ...

What happens is these fact-checker organizations will make their pseudo fact check, like what I experienced with Reuters – which was transparently false, their fact check – and then the media will recycle the fact check. So that moves up in the Google ranking and they're citing themselves. That's what's going on. And it's sponsored by the likes of Wellcome Trust and Bill & Melinda Gates Foundation and they're quite proud of it."

Why Target Children and Pregnant Women?

Considering the unknown risks involved, why are governments and vaccine makers pushing so hard for children and pregnant women to participate in this experiment? Both have an extremely low risk for complications from COVID-19, which makes adverse effects of the vaccine all the more unacceptable, if not all together intolerable.

“ There's the appearance that there was manipulation of safety data analysis and reporting in the Phase 1, 2, 3 clinical trials ... by focusing on patients who had completed the study per protocol, as opposed to those that entered the study as intended to treat. [If] you've only accepted one dose of vaccine under those clinical trial protocols and you have an adverse event ... that information about the adverse event ... is lost. It's not included in the safety analysis. This is a classic way to manipulate safety data in clinical research, and it's strictly forbidden. ~ Dr. Robert Malone”

Making matters worse, there's no process in place to capture all side effects. Somehow, this was left out, and there's evidence to suggest this was done intentionally.

"I think it's important for the listenership to recognize that what we have is still an emerging understanding of what the adverse events are," Malone says. "I could tell you the story of how the cardiotoxicity adverse event was recognized, and it was not through official channels. There is [also] the appearance that the CDC is deliberately under-reporting adverse events to the public.

And there's the appearance that there was manipulation of safety data analysis and reporting in the Phase 1, 2, 3 clinical trials for some of these products by focusing on patients who had completed the study per protocol, as opposed to those that entered the study as intended to treat.

That's a subtle distinction, but what it means is that if you've only accepted one dose of vaccine under those clinical trial protocols and you have an adverse event, and you decide to drop it out, or they gently suggest that you shouldn't take the second dose, that information about the adverse events that you received – which would have made you at even higher risk for the second dose – is lost. It's not included in the safety analysis.

This is a classic way to manipulate safety data in clinical research, and it's strictly forbidden. So, the FDA is onto that trick. Normally, if I was to do that, I would get slapped down immediately. Why they allow these large drug companies to do this (if, in fact they did) – and you can't claim that Pfizer didn't know what they were doing – is beyond me.

Now that we know about the adverse events associated with the cardiotoxicity in adolescents and the damage to the heart and the deaths associated with that, people can start to do calculations based on official CDC data, [but] those data are flawed.

They probably under-report the true adverse event rate by about a 100-fold if you're relying on the various historic analysis information. But you can look at those data. And if you're a data scientist, you can do the calculations that the CDC is not doing and not disclosing to us about risk benefit.

The ones that I've seen done by well-trained and highly experienced specialists, people that work for the insurance industry that do this for a living ... come out literally upside down."

If the clinical trials did not include patients dropped after Dose 1 in the safety analysis, this would indicate a "per protocol" safety analysis was performed, and therefore that the safety data analyses leading to the emergency use authorizations were not based on rigorous safety assessments.

Multiple patients claiming to have been included in COVID-19 clinical trials have also reported on social media that their reports were excluded from final safety analyses, although this cannot be verified.

Risks Significantly Outweigh Benefits

A study⁷ posted July 7, 2021, which looked at deaths occurring in children in the U.K. during the first 12 months of the pandemic, found 99.995% of children diagnosed with COVID-19 survived.

By July 19, 2021, in the United States, a total of 335 children under 18 had died with a COVID-19 diagnosis on their death certificate.⁸ An analysis by Marty Makary and colleagues at Johns Hopkins, together with FAIR Health, showed none of the children under 18 who died and were diagnosed with COVID-19 between April and August 2020 were free of preexisting medical conditions such as cancer.⁹

Now, while the average healthy child has a minuscule chance of dying from COVID-19, and their risk of developing heart inflammation from the COVID jab is also quite low, the risk associated with the injection is still significantly greater than any risk associated with the natural infection. As explained by Malone:

"That ratio comes out suggesting that there will be more lives lost to receipt of the 'vaccine' in a universal vaccine campaign than there would be if all those kids were infected by SARS-CoV-2. This upside-down ratio appears to extend or very close to equivalent at least up to the age of 30.

So, we're in a position where the data that we have are admittedly flawed. Is that by intent or what? From my standpoint, the data are the data, so I can't smoke out what somebody within health and human services intended to do, but I can look at the data, and others can.

And the data absolutely do not support a positive risk-benefit ratio for vaccination of infants through young adults, based on any normal criteria. So then why are they doing this crazy stuff? It seems to all be wrapped around the axle of the need to justify universal vaccination.

I argue that this is actually a mid-century policy that goes back to the '50s and the '60s polio vaccine campaign, when the government and world health authorities established a position that it was OK to lie, to withhold information about risk for vaccines, because to have the full spectrum of information about the risks of vaccines would cause people to not accept the vaccine.

So, 'Shut up, we know it's best for you and don't question us' is a firmly authoritarian position. It is intrinsically authoritarian and paternalistic. It's exactly the kind of stuff that George Orwell wrote about in his book '1984.' It was a warning ... of how governments and authoritarian structures will behave and do behave."

Denial of Vaccine Dangers Has Been Federal Policy Since 1984

Ironically, Malone points out that in the 1984 Federal Register,¹⁰ it's stated that posting information into the federal register about vaccine risks that jeopardizes vaccine uptake shall be suppressed.

"So, it's a clear federal policy going back to 1984," Malone says. "This is the way they're going to handle things. And they're going to handle it with the noble lie of saying, 'No, there are no risks and what we're doing is fully justified' ...

I don't think we have to go to imagining some grand conspiracy at Davos between certain individuals. I think this is an emergent phenomena of the intersection of old-school thinking about information management and new-school capabilities and technologies.

I think the CDC, HHS, WHO, and Wellcome Trust or Bill & Melinda Gates foundation, etcetera, have just grossly misread the population, certainly in the United States. And so now we're in a position where before, according to Del Bigtree, there was about 1% to 2% of people that self-identified as anti-vaxxers, and we're now [above] 40%. Clearly, about 40 to 50% of the population are just dug in. They're not going to accept these vaccines.

The White House now finds it necessary to have a special group to identify and target 12 American citizens for what they believe to be vaccine disinformation, and to make a big public press announcement about it. Don't they have anything else to do? It seems like the world has got bigger problems than Dr. Mercola, but what do I know?

The whole thing is mind-bending. And a lot of people, including many Europeans, are really lit up over this. They remember. European intellectuals are very aware of the dynamics that happened in Germany in the 1930s ... I think this could be a turning point in a lot of things."

The Powers That Be Have Been Given Free Reign

While Malone is not interested in speculating about the intentions behind all this malfeasance, he's intimately familiar with the power of Big Pharma to manipulate governments. As detailed in other articles, several of the COVID injection makers have a rich history of illegal activity and unethical behavior, and now they have been given free reign to do as they please.

They're been completely absolved from liability if and when something goes wrong with these injections, and governments are enticing and bullying citizens to participate in Big Pharma's experiment.

"If you give that kind of liberty and power to a global multinational and absolve them of any accountability, they will serve their stockholders," Malone says. "They are not geared to serving the rest of us, whatever they may say in their press releases.

That's just how big pharma behaves, and we've chosen this model. Messaging having to do with alternative treatments and the importance of wellness, those are not consistent with the 'Take this pill, pay your price and shut up' kind of business model.

Personally, I think that Mr. Gates and his foundation have done enormous irreparable harm to world health community through his actions and his own personal biases. He has really distorted global public health. At some point, there will be books written about this, and I'm sure an enormous number of Ph.D. theses will be granted. But meanwhile, we all have to live with it."

The bioethics of this situation couldn't be simpler. For the "vaccine" manufacturers, honest trials, full disclosure and reinstate legal liability. For foundations (e.g. the Gates Foundation) materially supporting the development of said "vaccines," the same legal liability. For the government, no meddling in suppression of viable alternatives, no revolving door with pharma, no predetermined winners of vaccine contracts and no coercion of the public. For the media, do your damn job. For social/online media, be prosecuted with First Amendment violations as agents of the government. For BSL gain-of-function labs, be reclassified as illegal by international treaty. For the rest of us, freedom of choice, aka informed consent (or dissent).

Better still ban all bio weapon work!!! But yes NO ONE should be able to hide from the law ...kill a single person from their drugs and they should suffer the same as integrative medicine etc?

They are. Or did you miss the fact that globalist bankers own every major transnational corporation in the planet. "For the media, do your damn job." Well, since... "I outed the chairman of the board of directors of Reuters who is also sitting on the board of Pfizer," They ARE doing their job, for globalism.

Spot on! Also consider this, 'All the Serious People' have been crying for decades about how Social Security along with Medicare can not be funded. A numbers trick as we the 99% can not afford those systems & continue to pay for Bill Gates, Warren Buffet's, Musk, Bezo's Taxes. We the 100% can not afford such systems as it exist under Big Ag, Big Pharma, Big Med's current model. When sites like this are the answer to find health, prevent disease & bring back better health when necessary are under such attack it is not a stretch to realize the Seniors are being eliminated so as to push what little is left of every day peoples blood, sweat, tears and treasury into the 1% dream machine. The seniors and those deemed unworthy, beware, check your papers, excuse me, chip.

Darzoum, eh? Vaxxn maufacturers are known to be the GREEDIEST corporation on the planet! They use the vaccine system to reduce quality oversight requirements, to increase profits by requiring little to no marketing, and avoid putting aside millions if not billions of dollars to the legal fights and possibly pay out for injury. Everything is geared towards increasing their bottom line at the expense of humanity! - Borrowing from Clinton, "Its the system, stupid!"

So now we have unsafe-at-any-speed drugs being re-packaged as vaccines, loaded with "clean toxins" that were supposed to remain in the arm muscles but noooo instead only 25% remains, the rest is traveling around human bodies causing chaos. On top of that, ADE is probably well underway, causing those vaxxed to land in hospital and more will die. Ethics is a polite field of inquiry; however, this goes way beyond ethics, sliding into slow genocide by syringe.

Just look at the lack of response. Crickets, panic plus silence. We have a brewing health crises caused by this "new, unproven technology" that may far outweigh the initial crises. You may want to look much deeper into topic of covert and overt Greed!! Only way out I can see is to spin off into non-profits, remove the profit incentive entirely from this current group of body snatching thieves, parasitic corporations now working under the guise of "helping humanity". (Similar to what happened recently to Perdue Pharma, falling onto its own sword of opioid addiction.)

The systemic failure is quickly described somewhere below, near the bottom of the page, I am certain few can see these issues where govt structures were initially set so Americans are supposed to benefit from their outcomes; yet these structures, incentives, investment kickbacks and more are sorely outdated. Now products produced instead of helping, cause far more harm. Just look at what happened with Remdesivir, the only FDA-approved drug (so far) for covid-19. What a high priced failure!

The bioethics for all of these institutions can be neatly summarized by a phrase attributed to Socrates and translated as "The way to gain a good reputation is to endeavor to be what you desire to appear." Of course there is systemic corruption, hidden agendas and unimaginable theft going on (Great Reset; Going Direct Reset). At least some of it is being sold and facilitated by the fronts presented by these institutions. As long as they are playing these roles, maintaining the pretense of dutifully serving their respective functions, then we still have the right to state what the real and ethical standards are for those roles, and to hold them to account, even if it appears naive. Better that than to cynically accept it all, at which point they can drop the final vestiges of their pretense. The fact that they don't means there's still some straggling bare threads of standards left, and we still matter, if only in sheer numbers. What happens when they no longer even have to resort to propaganda and censorship?

"No meddling in suppression of viable alternatives" period. But this reminds me of meeting with the endocrinologist about me having hyperthyroidism and pregnant at the same time. Radioactive iodine after I give birth? Some thirteen letter prescription that will be too weak to help me, but low enough not to harm the baby? No. A neighbor brought me to a purple Victorian in Michigan and a lady in there showed me what the body is lacking to get those results and so I was started vitamins and herbs. Long story short, I looked like a heroin addict through my next two pregnancies because the OB, my PCP, and the endo all told me - "you don't just get rid of it".

My youngest just graduated high school and I am still on zero meds, perfect thyroid and no interest in flu shots or any other "injectables" because the guys in white coats aren't allowed to know about nutrition and herbs. And antivirals/ antibacterials/anti fungals.... Wait, what? I really think it's a shame we are now living behind the iron curtain, people voted on it indirectly by signing up for the shot, by continuing on censored sites that infringe on our freedom of speech. Seriously. What a shame we don't have access to repurposed antivirals that work against this.

Fauci had lost THIRTY FIVE MILLIONS AIDS VICTIMS. If we lost 500,000 people a year for the next 35 years, we'd be at SEVENTEEN MILLION FIVE HUNDRED THOUSAND DEAD FROM THIS. Let that sink in. Ugh. The Fauci part then the stats. So big pharma has had the task at hand to get people on all kinds of drugs, holistic from A-Z has hardly changed in the years I've studied it. The human body knows what to do with detox, with wholesome nutrition, etc. Case in point. My incurable autoimmune disorder I no longer have. Lovely, right? It shows me the medical industry won't ever buck up to safety over profit. Why should it? The scary thing here is the force they're trying to use. They know other things work. Now it's about FORCE.

lovestosing6- If you are not allergic to bee products have you tried Royal Jelly for the hyperthyroid?

It does not take much. Too much could put you into hypothyroid range quickly. My TSH levels were all over place probably due to a abdominal CT scan with iodine which put my iodine way level over normal. Doctor wanted me to go on Synthroid and only tried for 10 days. I know that I should have known better but after a few months my TSH level went to normal when my iodine level was normal again without meds. Could have been on an artificial hormone. If I am correct in my assumption how many people have altered TSH levels due to CT scans with iodine contrast which should correct itself when iodine returns to normal. Just a guess.

'It was a curious dream, dear, certainly', said her sister, now run along in to your tea; it's getting late.' So Alice ran off, thinking... what a wonderful dream it had been. Thanks Hercster, Randyfast, juststeve and rrealrose for injecting a dose of reality into the discussion. I suppose if there were no evil conspirators in the world and the rule of law were enforced by those we elected to enforce it, if all business corporations paid their dues in taxes, if governments, medics and drug cartels had our health and not their profits in mind, if there were no psychopaths, megalomaniacs and their puppets in positions of power, if there were no propaganda, arrogance, bribery and corruption, or even if there just was a cure for stupidity and naivete amongst the population at large, what a more just and kinder world we might inhabit.

This seems to be a hard concept for some people to grasp, but the ethics of a situation are what they are whether anyone is practicing them or not. There are criminal cultures where theft or murder are accepted practices, but that doesn't change morality. Not expecting good & rightful behavior from the mafia doesn't make you insightful. And expecting rightful behavior from pharma or gates foundation would make you naive. But the ethics in those circumstances still are what they are, regardless. Being able to state what those ethics are is, in fact, aided by the contrary examples we now have. That's neither naive, nor a "curious dream." There is the reality of that obvious criminality... it's no great accomplishment or insight to see that; but there is also the reality of moral law. If we only focus, on the former, and only accept that as "real," because we're smart and clever, and hardcore realists, and "no one's gonna fool me"... well, then, congratulations... we've already lost.

The fact the governments and power brokers of the planet are so counter to these universal principles is precisely why we need to keep brave and firm in our convictions, inform the unaware while being respectful and sympathetic to their concerns, using humor when possible, and call out said governments and power brokers whenever we have the opportunity. As has been said, eternal vigilance is the price of liberty, and that price is at a bubble. But bubbles tend to eventually burst. But the price is well worth paying, even when it feels like playing, as to the power of humor. Got some non-toxic soap and a ring on a stick?

If the doctor's statistic that we now have 40% anti-vaxxers is correct, and they are truly dug-in, which I can believe, then this is fantastic news. It means we have a true, lasting, fighting force on our side. Only the strategy needs to be developed and if just persisting in resisting the jab is a great deterrent to further attempts at inoculating everyone then we will be halfway back to Freedom possibly. Let's not assume that we have to have fighting in the streets to pull off this revolution. Sometimes complete changes of control result from strong, determined resistance.

Let's hope this resistance against the jab is rooted in strong beliefs, truths, and facts, and not strictly fear. More people are now getting the shot because they assume it's safe, as they are constantly being told by everyone including the politicians and news media. Seeing as the DHS is training people as we speak 'how to remove the unvaccinated and relocate them' I'd say we all need to find a way to join forces. They own billions and can pay for whatever they want: they buy people. Our strength is in our numbers. We have to find some way to connect.

Yes - we all know the powers that be infiltrate and there is also the threat of controlled opposition. At no other time is discernment so greatly needed. Scripture states: Hebrews 5:14 "But strong meat belongeth to them that are of full age, even those who by reason of use have their senses exercised to discern both good and evil." Exercise discernment and it will grow stronger. Pray for wisdom. Then please join a patriot group or find a way to collaborate. We're up against a well-funded machine who own most governments and have moved their people into top positions. There are many many dissatisfied people who are angry at what has been thrust on them. We have to find a way to harness that energy and dispense of it in the right way instead of on comments.

Expect false flag gun events and a push to disarm before the final curtain call. The elite will send their militarized police and military to do their work for them to remove the unvaccinated and relocate them. Unfortunately there are those who will "just follow orders..." This is what they did to the Jews in the Holocaust. Unless Christ appears expect a fight. I have been waiting for a Revolution for 20 years as I've watched this country turn into something unrecognizable and watched sick things forced onto us. Before his passing my father said that his brothers and him fought for this country and what it became made him sick. We have more power than we think...

Those numbers will dwindle. When your best friend calls, practically in tears, because the news said this pandemic won't end until everybody is vaxxed and those unvaxxed or more likely to die. And those news people convince your friend she has to talk to her loved ones and try to convince them you need the jab. Some of those unvaxxed will succumb. I'm stronger than that, but many aren't. Hi Stoneharbor, Last night, one of the doctors in an interview (Mike Adams, Brighteon, which interview?) is now claiming only 30% of Americans took the vaxxn, which is why we are seeing these mandates come on like thunder. Really bad timing if ADE is in fact, starting to occur in large numbers of the vaccd, like what happened in Provincetown, MA recently...Here's one report (Forbes for dummies?): www.forbes.com/sites/brucelee/2021/07/31/barnstable-covid-19-outbreak-.. - A lot more articles on this are online.

Ditto DebbyW's concerns. It's a worry that percentage will dwindle, especially given the hardball tactics being taken in some countries. Yesterday I read Pakistan's government announced it will deactivate SIM cards if citizens are not vaccinated. In response there were long lines of people queuing up to get vaccinated. As well, while vaccine news chaos swirls and we're distracted, nefarious moves are underway. For instance, Dr. Eddy Bettermann is reporting Senator  Durbin wants to eliminate our access dietary supplements via a bill in the upcoming appropriations bill. The thinking is this would make prescriptions available by prescription only and usher in Codex. This also dovetails with Amazon's decision to stop selling NAC. Here's the link to Bettermann's report (with added spaces) dreddynd .

Njlady, so true! There's people like us who know it will take at least two years to see the fallout, and people on the fence who are like, "it's been two months land he didn't die, so I'll take it." Oh my word, what ever is going to happen come winter? I hate to say it, but I've been given a preview. My elderly aunt and uncle saw their granddaughter who was catching a simple cold. It landed them both impossibly sick and him in the hospital with chest pains and Afib. To our loved ones who got the jab - stay safe this fall and winter.

I appreciate all of these replies on my half baked approach to winning the battle. Yes I know there will be some more that give in and take the jab, especially before some really bad repercussions start showing their ugly head. But I still think our numbers will be strong enough 2 make it impossible just to come out and hunt us down. Sai-73, it's definitely surprising that the Department of Homeland Security has plans to pick up the unvaxed and relocate them. On the surface this seems something to worry about, but if you consider that even 30% of the population remaining unvaxed is something like 100 million people, it doesn't make sense that they have a plan to relocate that number, does it?

sai73491, I want to add that I agree with the rest that you said including your ending that we are stronger than we think. The importance of lawsuits is not just to get a verdict in your favor. It, also, should be purposed to stay the decision of the business pending the outcome of the suit, including any appeals (Appellate and Supreme Courts). As one court put it, some things cannot be undone, and merely that some can does mean they should be done. For such suits, the first thing after service of the complaint should be a motion to stay the order. It should be presented with an eye to an appeal [a record on which an appeal could be had should be built].

It's Bible prophecy! All of this is a diabolical scheme that's been put in place a long time ago. I suggest everyone get familiar with the book of Revelation. For all of you Sunday church goers out there who have swallowed the lie of a pre-trip rapture hook line and sinker, you can thank your closet Jesuits. We will all get to be tried by fire. This is a battle for your soul, and if you perceive what's going on as just a battle for human rights, you are missing the bigger picture. What does the Bible say is going to happen? Can you see steps taken that are moving us towards Bible Prophecy? They want Global governance and the Bible predicts they will have one BEFORE CHRIST RETURNS! So the answer to our problems is the return of Jesus, nothing else. Either you go along with their agenda, or they are going to remove your head from your shoulders. Being afraid of losing your career or not being able to provide for your family is indeed a scary thing, but it's not scarier than spending an eternity in hell fire because you chose to damn your soul in order to save your life.

Every single person reading this comment needs to get to the place where they are willing to die before accepting what's coming, because everyone else will cave when the pressure is applied, and it will be! You will either accept a mark bearing that you are a citizen of the new global governance, OR you will NOT be able to buy/sell, and more than likely be hunted down and slaughtered like an animal. The Bible says ALL will be forced to receive this Mark, rich or poor, free or slave. Everybody needs to figure out what's more important, their lives or their souls!!! Time to get right with God!!! The end times are indeed upon us.

@MarcusSpeer, I'm sorry to disagree, but the people we need to oppose are the sheeple that believe in the lies being fed and go along with whatever they are told to do. If they are asked to call the police on the dirty jews in their neighborhood, then they do that. Some might be violent, and beat them some before putting them on a train, but it is the brainwashed belief in your being right and calling on "authorities" that is the real danger. In my mind, pulling a loaded gun on someone or calling 9-1-1 to get the cops is about equivalent in degree of threat to the person. Too many people are being killed for things like selling loose cigarettes for calling 9-1-1 to be seen as an innocent action. I also think violence can have it's place. I'm wondering what the true count of partially vaccinated hospitalizations is at currently...

I believe that even the two jab recipients are counted as unvaccinated, if less than thirty days have elapsed since their last jab. It is totally the fault of somebody, if you know, that they were negligent in not rushing out to get the vaccine when it was first available. You, meyer.home, are miss placing your concern, you should really be wondering why so many people are so stubborn as to have not already rushed to be jabbed. Don't concern yourself that adverse reactions are in fact being attributed to the completely unvaccinated. The current terminology for such, would be "variants" www.washingtonpost.com/health/interactive/2021/unvaccinated-case-rate-..

@meyer.home, From the Washington Post article on the rise in Delta Variant in the Unvaxxed population, it seems the numbers are just being based on the efficacy value given by the pharma companies regarding how well the vaccine works. So they take the number of people in the hospital, multiply it by the given efficacy (no actual numbers and facts) and assume it must be the unvaxxed that are the cause then. They do have a small addition of the "breakthrough" cases that they add in since "no vaccine is 100% effective". Down at the bottom of the article they spell out in small print how they calculate the numbers and that is how the explained it.

I also found the creation of a larger peak during the current rise to be suspect. They take the number of cases in the new rise. But instead of dividing by the total population, like they did earlier (mid-January in their example) they now subtract the vaccinated people from the total population. So the current rise is only due to unvaxxed and is only among the unvaxxed population, which leads to a much larger "case rate". It seems like a magic trick where you just keep moving things around and distracting people with the data so they can't see what it actually says.

Posted On 08/02/2021

The evidence is overwhelming and insurmountable but the mechanism of war keeps proceeding. This is do or die, in more ways than one. Here, in Australia, the Prime Minister has proven himself to be an absolute disgrace and recently outlined the plan for the future. In this plan he is coercing people to get the injections, even though it is against the law to do so. He is blaming the "unvaccinated" for spreading the virus and stated that we are a "danger to everyone else and ourselves". They make these completely fallacious statements and face no rebuttal. I am about to write yet again to him, knowing that he won't read the message and that it will end up in the bin. I will keep writing because it is all I can do for now. The CDC are now admitting the vaccinated are just as capable of spreading the virus as the unvaccinated! Also, have admitted they didn't separate stats of covid and flu! So since the shot does not prevent transmission, all the push is based on a false foundation that the whole world is teetering on!

To use the words "bioethics" or honesty or integrity within our framed narrative of corrupt crony capitalism is not only oxymoronic but totally absurd. You can not be in a crooked game without being a crooked swine, some being more equal than others. They can smell a non-player a mile away, become defensive with language, sanction and then violence....Why Oh High Order of Authority do you fear the truth? If the truth is not feared, a defense would be illogical. Therefore all debate as in Olympic challenge gets a "yellow card"...discussion over...shut up! Self-credentialed academia is then free to rule our lives and reality..but free men are never ruled, they retain personal sovereignty and rule themselves. This is not semantics but the result of primitive man accepting the externalized authority of religions and kings, when he should have sought reality, divinity and primacy within his own "being."

Thanks for those links, rrealrose. The Spanish study revealed graphene oxide as a nanoparticle of the Pfizer injection which contributes to clotting of the small blood vessels and it may act as a semi-conductor of electro magnetic fields to worsen outcomes. As a potential inflammation trigger, GO does not sound good news but was developed as a drug delivery medium - hence attempts to ban the glutathione precursor NAC by the FDA in June? Take nothing at face value - there is a planned agenda and everything is done to further that goal.

Dr. Judy Mikovits claims that all lots of vaccines are different as this is a trial. Apart from underlying conditions, this is why people have different reactions to the vaccines. You do not get THE vaccine, you get some version of it. It makes logical sense that more vaccines will be coming our way.

Dear rrealrose, Thank you so much for posting the conversation with Dr. Ricardo DelGado Martin from Seville. Absolutely mind opening despite the many details we have already learned from so many sources. I am so grateful to each and every one of you for sharing your insights and discoveries with the rest of us. Clearly we are in the grips of sociopaths with money, technology and determination for extinction of all that we hold to be beautiful and true and necessary. Cabochon, Yes, one earlier La Quinta Columna videos Ricardo DelGado asks the same question about why the FDA came out threatening to ban NAC. Esp if that's one of the few antidotes...in Spain they were apparently told not to eat fish! Go figure.

Vladimira, there is a distribution curve that was obtained from the Japanese, showing the organs in the body where the nanoparticles are most likely to collect. ovaries, testes, spleen, adrenals, thyroid, heart and brain...as everyone is different, presents quite a few variables to contend with, and weakest links for some people.

That was a powerful interview with Dr. Robert Malone and Dr. mercola! Thank you so much! I was left with one question, leading to further questions, that I waited to hear an answer for: WHY did Dr. Malone decide get the injection? What were his reasons for that? Which one did he receive? How is he feeling? Did he experience any adverse side effects from the injection? These questions being answered would be of great interest to me, and a lot of others, I'm sure. Thank you so very much Dr. mercola for fighting! We need strong people like you now, more than ever! I would LOVE to see more in-depth interviews with Dr. Robert Malone and others. The more information we can get out into the open, the better chance we will have to properly fight and DEFEAT this tyranny the government is forcing on us!

He had the Moderna on top of already having covid. Safety issues came from seeing so many injured on top of so many injured studied on VAERS. The spike is completely consistent to the vaccine. Like the stock market, you can chart the spikes - and they're not pretty. We are not talking some guy who eats hamburgers ... the spike in deaths and severe reactions is horrifying. Now that I have a few extended family members who got the vax, I've got two with A-fib now and one landed in the hospital after visiting his granddaughter who was coming down with a cold. This winter will be very telling!! Unfortunately.

This article appears to beat around the proverbial bush about "intent", which became very clear to me after interviewing Dr. David A. Martin from the University of Virginia on my radio show. He has since documented all of the patent chains that are making Big Pharma and certain key government officials rich off of these EUA style drugs, which are designed to do nothing more than overload the human system with spike proteins while tearing down T2 immune response, which makes it 10X more difficult for the body to build up any kind of fighting response to them. In short, this is eugenics. Anyone in the government who is promoting taking the jab is either ignorant of the lethal end result or are "in on it".

I really had missed our conversations about transhumanism and the elite, etc. Then he said that he had gotten the jab... and I just put my head in my hands and couldn't look up. He kept saying "Cat are you ok?" I finally just looked up and asked him why. He said his Mom told him to get it and that his aunt works for Moderna and she made the shot. I swear to you guys on here, I had noticed that he wasn't as bright and I had to explain sentences more than once just about music stuff. It is affecting people's brains. Great information. The biggest disappointment here is that Dr. Malone got the shot himself, despite full awareness of the dangers of the experimental therapy. I recall from the Dark Horse podcast that he got the shot because he needs to be able to travel. I wonder what Dr. Malone is now doing to combat the after effects of the shot? As so many of us are now being forced to take the shot via our employers or other company with influence on our day to day lives, how can we deal with the highly concerning effects? What does Dr. Malone do? Any supplements or off label drugs we should know about?

Converted scientist? I personally had a great privilege to meet one back in the seventies while working in the computer department of St. Bartholomew Hospital Medical School in London, department of Nuclear medicine. He hired me as I changed career from the merchant navy to life on dry land. His name was Professor Joseph Rothblat.

(Sir Joseph Rotblat KCMG CBE FRS (4 November 1908 – 31 August 2005) was a Polish physicist, a self-described "Pole with a British passport".[2] Rotblat worked on Tube Alloys and the Manhattan Project during World War II, but left the Los Alamos Laboratory after the war with Germany ended. His work on nuclear fallout was a major contribution toward the ratification of the 1963 Partial Nuclear Test Ban Treaty. A signatory of the 1955 Russell–Einstein Manifesto, he was secretary-general of the Pugwash Conferences on Science and World Affairs from their founding until 1973 and shared, with the Pugwash Conferences, the 1995 Nobel PEACE Prize "for efforts to diminish the part played by nuclear arms in international affairs and, in the longer run, to eliminate such arms." This was his "what have I done" moment and it looks to me this is what happens now to Dr. Robert Malone. Dr. Malone, my deepest gratitude.

July 21, 2021 (LifeSiteNews) – A Canadian doctor claims he has seen blood clotting in the majority of his patients who have had COVID-19 jabs and has issued a “grim” outlook that the worst is “yet to come” due to potential “permanent” damage caused by the injections. “And so, I'm still trying to accumulate more information. But on the ones I have so far, 62 percent of them have evidence of clotting, which means that these blood clots are not rare. It means that the majority of people are getting blood clots that they have no idea that they're even having,” said Dr. Charles Hoffe of Lytton, British Columbia, in an interview with Vancouver-based Christian broadcaster Laura-Lynn Tyler Thompson last week. “So, Laura-Lynn, the most alarming thing about this is that there are some parts of your body, like your heart and your brain and spinal cord and lungs, which cannot regenerate. When those tissues are damaged by blood vessels, they are permanently damaged.”

Hoffe's remarks are not his first concerning COVID-19 injections. In April, he was punished by his local health authority because he raised concerns about the side effects he observed in some of those who had received the Moderna COVID-19 jab within his community. Hoffe told Tyler Thompson that in a single dose of one COVID-19 jab (Moderna) there are "40 trillion messenger RNA molecules" and that only 25 percent of the jab stays at the injection site. The rest of the COVID-19 injection, said Hoffe, goes on to "circulate through the bloodstream, and end up in the tiny capillary vessels," whereby one's body "then gets to work reading these genes and manufacturing trillions and trillions of COVID spike proteins."

I understood it was not through the bloodstream, but through the lymphatic system - either way, they end up around all the capillaries of the body, creating micro clots.

Yes, micro-clots may not be apparent on most test equipment. Not high enough resolution to detect these? Or you can never find what you are not looking for! Finally, someone in the UK took a bone sample to a facility with a high power microscope, and they reported finding brittle bone with micro-fractures!)

Many of those who have suffered from the adverse effects are calling out for help. If the makers of these gene therapies were the beneficent geniuses we are told they are, theyd be working on a way to reverse what theyve done. Are they? I doubt it, and that telks us a lot.

Disagree with the end of this interview. With our corporatocracy in full force, if you leave out latest business news, the picture is missing details, like watching an old black & white tv instead of color streaming. Would be nice to have a running commentary column outlining the dates and conclusions of Big Pharma's attempts and achievements to profit (in some cases hugely) from this faked pandemic. Case in point, here's the latest news from Merck:

www.fool.com/investing/2021/06/09/merck-cuts-a-billion-dollar-covid-19..

No doubt the other pharma products already in development has caused this delay or suppression of re-purposed drugs, as the FDA, as a captive agency, could care less about the average American. They know who is paying admission costs for drug approvals, Congress has set up a fast-track system to increase their corporate income stream! Here's a list of the most promising (7) in the works:

www.genengnews.com/.../seven-up-and-coming-covid-19-drugs

Instead of wondering where this virus came from (now know the variants come from the vaxxed) US Congress should be taking a long, hard look at why so many Americans needed to die, while the FDA fiddled, waiting for new drugs to go through their trials. This tyranny is stemming from the Federal Budget Congress approves each year, where the FDA only receives about 30% from Congress, therefore is motivated to rake in substantial income from their complex drug approval process, and suppress all off-patent, cheap, safe solutions which threatens their benefactors. Not rocket science, instead misguided, misdirected Agency management; combined with massive touches of Pharma Mafia supporting our congresspeople into office.

The constitution and laws already exist to provide remedy to this blatant campaign of terror. Its the principle that no man or woman can serve two masters well. Since most elected representatives are now in the services of special interest and bow to their every whim, we the people, the constituents, are placed at the back of the line and only get what the true masters agendas project. Gorge Carlin said it well..."It's a club and we ain't in it!" Nothing will change until the sleeping giant of the populace awakens, with a rage. Even then I'm personally beginning to believe that it may have gone too far and unless there is divine intervention, there'll be no going back to any resemblance of truth, liberty and justice for all. Never has been actually.

Did a vaccine really end polio??? I well remember the polio epidemic of the late 1940's and early 1950's before a vaccine was available. I was very young then but remember the rumors regarding the spread of polio. People were speculating that the polio virus was being transmitted by dairy products. We young children were being told not to eat ice cream during the Summer!!! The polio vaccine became widely available in 1954 when I was six years old. Also that year my first grade class was taken on a field trip to Twin Pines Dairy in Detroit. The instructors at the dairy that were managing the field trip were touting a brand new process being used on cow's milk called "Pasteurization" where the milk was heated to, I believe, 108 degrees Fahrenheit for a brief time before undergoing homogenization. Pasteurization was soon universally adopted by the dairy industry. So what really ended the polio epidemic, the vaccine or Pasteurization of dairy products?? Any feedback on this conundrum, please email me at jsshubindc@yahoo.com. All the best, Jack

The Heart: Understanding the vascular system, resilience & repair www.youtube.com/watch

I got a lot more out of this video than this description indicates: "Dr. Zach Bush, Dr. Peter Cummings, Dr. John Gildea, Dr. Peter Langsjoen, and Dr. Ali Langsjoen join together for an exploration into The Heart. This discussion will illuminate the heart's capacity for resilience and repair, reliance on cholesterol, ramifications of statin drugs, and the innate function of the heart as the drumbeat of love and life."

I discover why my parents died young and why nearly everyone I talk to is fatigued mentally and physically.

Worth watching 10 to 15 times.

It was an existential decision from the beginning: Do you want to live in a world like this, even if this was the Black Plague?

By March, 2020, the hoax was clear. However, the multiple forms of poisoning the population produced symptoms (think of 5G, chemtrails, and military-grade radars for which you cannot even buy an instrument to measure the radiation).

When you check SAERS, most of the deceased had "preexisting conditions" by the time of their untimely departure. (Well, lots of entries simply disappear from SAERS, too.) I am wondering how many of these preexisting conditions were due to the general poisoning of the population... Moreover, people die or suffer irreversible damages from the same batches.

If you know what you want and it's greater than mere survival, you cannot be intimidated or confused, because you keep your eyes on the target.

Chances are the injected are going to start dropping like flies in September. The blame will be placed on the uninjected and lockdowns and forced injections will be instituted. You will not be allowed to raise animals or grow your food for "security" reasons. More lockdowns, forced "vaccinations" enforced by foreign mercenaries, probably dressed up as National Guard (why did 1.3 million illegals arrived in this country this year, unless they were promised something?), and even worse are coming up, including unleashing the zombie army on the uninjected or, for that matter, on each other, depending which injections they have received.

By December, expect a three-to-seven-year-long power outage. Food shortages, no potable water, no heat, plus the zombie army remote-controlled by 5G.

The sane will need a lot more than a good immune system against the drones and the robotic army, probably posing as an alien attack and the power turned off, blamed on solar flares, the Chinese, the Russians, or all of them (people have been groomed these ways).

The survivors will be forced into accepting universal basic income in return for full compliance or starve/freeze to death. No matter what, most of them will be eventually eliminated, possibly as "high risk" people in "green zones." Arbeit macht frei.

And no, the Chines and the Russians will not be coming; after all, who would need such a mess?

Everybody is safe from COVID-19, because it exist only in computer models and on TV.

The miracle cures are probably as effective as peeing on a house fire.

We are being microwaved alive. Add the spike proteins shed by the injected, and you get the full picture.

Radiation by 5G and military-grade radars cause insomnia, increased body heat, hardness of breathing, rapid and irregular heartbeat, and coughs. Sounds familiar? These are the so-called "COVID symptoms."

Lung and heart tissues will never regenerate, even if one stops the current inflammation. OCPD, emphysema, and heart failure are not curable.

This is not about money; the monsters can have free money from the private bank that has been issuing USD since 1913. In fact, USD is money that the American taxpayer "borrows" from the Fed at an interest; the second largest scam in the history of the world after Covid.

The jabs and the edicts are all about mass manipulation, control, and ultimately, genocide, in order to "save the planet" from "useless eaters." The only hope I can see is that even the useful idiots will ultimately realize that they will be exterminated as well.

Do NOT use the monsters' terminology; it's easy to find proper substitutes...

The monsters are now using smart propaganda; confusion created by controlled opposition and trolls faking to be with the people.

You can recognize them by noticing that

1. they feign accepting certain premises that are true;
2. they use the monsters' terminology (virus, vaccine, mask etc.);
3. eventually, they spread disinformation (e.g. "I know someone, who died of CV" or "CV is real")

Sadly, in my experience, even independent, smart, and well-meaning people tend to be stuck between the truth and the lies...

I have to be honest and comment that,after reading all of the above,there arose in me a profound sense of disbelief about the absurdity of this on-going drama.In a nutshell ,the above has confirmed my own clear perception that so-called clever experts wielding considerable power and influence through their positions and training need to become more mature and more aware.To put it bluntly,they are not mature,they are childish.A scientific expert is dangerous unless his knowledge and expertise are guided by the wisdom of spiritual presence.People like Bill Gates and the Rothschilds and their ilk are doing what they are doing simply because, in their cleverness ,they fanatically believe they are doing the right thing for the benefit of the planet.That's why they are the most dangerous people. Adolf Hitler had a similar mindset and was even supported by renowned intellectuals such as Hegel and Heidegger.But do we ever learn?It seems not.Or at least that's what history tells us

Hello. What's going on now with the pandemic and criminal activity by scientists and pharma and politicians and so on is prophetically written about in the book of Revelation chapters 9 and 18. The word sorcery in those chapters is from the Greek word pharmakeia. Looks and sounds like pharmaceutical. Right? That's what it is and it's been going on for a long long time. It's part of the one world order. Let's have one purse the Bible calls it. We are living in the end of this current earth age or dispensation. It's nothing to worry about. Both the devil (as antichrist) and Christ Himself will appear on the scene before we transform into the next dispensation called the Millennium or the Day of the Lord. And don't worry about US of A for the Bible says that all its enemies shall attack it 10 to 15 minutes both in Alaska and North of Israel prior to Christ's return and God shall take care of the attackers with hail storms with hails heavy as 150 kg each. But remember the devil will be here first for 2.5 months playing Christ. For more information to be prepared search Are You Lied To About The Bible? And don't forget that we are the ones that shall make His enemies for His foot stool so we need to work on that before He returns. Dr Mercola is one who works hard on it. God Bless.

R., I just watched a recent interview of Richard M. Fleming MD PhD JD by Del Bigtree, leading me to Fleming's site www.flemingmethod.com and his lecture there 'Bases2021 SARS ...'; at ~1hr20min into the video, he states that the 'ultimate bioweapon' is a Prion; that the S1 spike protein segment might be blocked with heparin (or less effectively with enoxaparin) for those who unfortunately take the jab (heparin is also part of the FLCCC protocols, etc.). According to Fleming: SARS-CoV2 and the 'genetic modification treatments' ['vaxxes'] are both bioweapons; the virus, at least, if not controlled such as with therapy, may lead to Prion disease (e.g. spongiform encephalopathy or CJD), a slowly-developing deterioration leading to neurological disease, brain damage, and heart disease in younger ones. The Prion is one of the nefarious artificial additions to the virus genome. The prions enter one's body either from person-to-person viral transmission, or by formation of proteins in cells caused by the 'vaxx' injections. Whether any non-prescription or other anti-Prion treatment exists or can be made, will need further research. Fleming calls for a Nuremberg 2.0-type prosecution of all the perps. Unfortunately heparin is prescription-only, administered via intravenous or subcutaneous injection; an anticoagulant, it could help counteract negative effects of the 'clot shots.' Dr. Peter McCullough also states that the creation/dissemination of SARS-CoV2 was one bioweapon lobbed at us, and the rollout of the 'genetic modification treatments' ('vaxxes') was a second bioweapon. Just imagine how many additional nails into one's coffin will be provided by the proposed 'booster shots' supposedly needed to counteract the never-ending 'variants' produced by those very same injections which narrow our immune system's focus and lead to 'immune escape.' It would seem to be a diabolically clever scheme to ensure a never-ending 'killing' for Pharma profits (until population drops ...)!

$100.00 for taking the shot? Does mean each shot and a booster also? It will be interesting to see how many go to different places to get more shots and $100.00 bills and die from overdosing. Of course it will be the unvaccinateds fault. How about the already vaccinated, they just missed out by obeying and taking it early. When fired for not taking it, have the employer give you in writing why you were forced and threaten to sue if the shot causes any harm to you. Easiest thing to do is just say NO! The gulf between people's observations and the propaganda is widening too rapidly for the lie to be maintained much longer. Have heart, fellow lovers of freedom, however amplified their voices may be, the true believers in the lunacy are a minority, at least in the US. Most Americans don't support such an attack on truth and liberty, but are simply unaware of it. They're simply going along, trusting the "experts". For now. I was at a protest last weekend, and there were many, many times more people honking in support than expressing disapproval. A very high percentage of those who drove by, and very passionate in their support. Very few middle fingers. But a large percentage also simply continued driving without showing any indications of how they felt one way or the other. But to boil frogs in water without them jumping out, the heat has to be turned up very slowly. Because of the failure of the jabs, they're turning up the heat too fast in a desperate attempt to get a needle in every arm before enough get hip to the scam.

With his background, and having received the COVID shot himself, he can hardly be called an "anti-vaxxer" and/or someone who doesn't believe in gene therapies.

Why have all you commenters overlooked the statement that says Malone has received the COVID vaccine? This alone contradicts any statement that he believes the vaccine is unsafe, as someone with his background he would have done all his research prior to accepting the vaccine, if he felt it was unsafe. It seems to me that the interviewer should have pressed Malone on why he proceeded with the vaccination if did not believe it was safe and effective. The main point of Malone was pointing out the bioethics in the administration of the vaccine, not necessarily speaking to the actual viability of the vaccine itself. If you want people to see the dangers of the vaccine, then having someone like Malone state he has received it but without explanation as to why he did even with his identifying the bioethics violations, you won't succeed in convincing the other 50% that it is unsafe.

It is a matter of record that sodium fluoride has been used for behavior control of populations. In an "Address in reply to the Governor's Speech to Parliament," [Victorian Hansard, August 12, 1987, Nexus, Aug/Sept 1995], Mr. Harley Rivers Dickinson, Liberal Party Member of the Victorian Parliament for South Barwon, Australia, made a statement on the historical use of fluorides for behavior control.

"Mr. Dickinson reveals that, "At the end of the Second World War, the United States Government sent Charles Elliot Perkins, a research worker in chemistry, biochemistry, physiology and pathology, to take charge of the vast Farben chemical plants in Germany. While there, he was told by German chemists of a scheme which had been worked out by them during the war and adopted by the German General Staff. This scheme was to control the population in any given area through mass medication of drinking water. In this scheme, sodium fluoride will in time reduce an individual's power to resist domination by slowly poisoning and narcotising a certain area of the brain, and will thus make him submissive to the will of those who wish to govern him. Both the Germans and the Russians added fluoride to the drinking water of prisoners of war to make them stupid and docile."

And add the decades of being poisoned with Fluorine to the TV Hype and the newspaper hype and 1-4G radiation ..and more.....its no wonder why millions lay down and roll up their sleeves and say "Jab Me a few times" Hahaha.... How f&^king dumb can the world be ?? And I am just and OldMan on MyMountain.....smirking ... www.youtube.com/watch

Moral of the story? No honor among thieves. Fall in with thieves in the worship & pursuit of the gold & the glory, and there will be no end to the sorrows. Proverbs 1 KJB. And, look at that: 33 verses no less.

Straight & to the point, & the state of a man's heart determines whether he applies them with Christ or the spirit & fulfillment as a follower of the antichrist fake as his end, to the glory of God or deceiving his own self.

I have great respect for Dr. Malone and have watched videos of him. To get by without being labeled a troublemaker in today's society requires deception, self-sabotage, and remaining silent in the face of evil. That's why Scripture warns that broad is the way that leads to destruction; narrow is the way that leads to life and few there be that find it. "It is no measure of health to be well adjusted to a profoundly sick society." — J. Krishnamurti

"Here's to the crazy ones, the misfits, the rebels, the troublemakers, the round pegs in the square holes... the ones who see things differently -- they're not fond of rules... You can quote them, disagree with them, glorify or vilify them, but the only thing you can't do is ignore them because they change things... they push the human race forward, and while some may see them as the crazy ones, we see genius, because the ones who are crazy enough to think that they can change the world, are the ones who do." — Steve Jobs, US computer engineer & industrialist. And no spring should offer the pure & corrupt both.... Krishnamurti? Even he admitted he was deceived & used by cultic men & women, chosen & cultivated as a child into being their tool.

Proverbs 25:26 A righteous man falling down before the wicked is as a troubled fountain, and a corrupt spring. And, Jobs 'got ahead', didn't he? He had no hope of heaven, cast all his hopes on the perishing.

Krishnamurti rejected the deception and he returned all the millions of dollars and castles that were gifted to him. He chose to live truth. He chose to rise. He chose the hard way of finding out for himself instead of listening to others. He chose to save himself, instead of waiting for someone to save him (as the idiots are waiting for Jesus). He might not have been perfect, but he did a major effort to live truth.

Also, in the video I watched Dr. Malone is recommending the not-vax for anyone over 35. 35?!! I'm 58 and in better shape than a lot of 35 y/o's thanks to following the advice of doctors like Mercola.

For ANYONE to 'believe' in 'gene therapy', or ANY other 'thing' that messes with the HUMAN body's NATURAL WORKING SYSTEM.....is a PSYCHOPATH. HUMANS do NOT NEED ANY kind of 'vaccine'!! MOTHER NATURE (or, god, if you prefer) has provided HUMANS with NATURAL DEFENSES. Mother Nature has also provided HUMANS with a planet FULL of remedies if a HUMAN should NEED them. All of these 'MAD SCIENTISTS' today?.....they put the NaziGermany PSYCHO'S to SHAME!!!! The NaziGermany PSYCHO MAD SCIENTISTS wouldn't be able to hold a candle to THESE individuals!! So-called 'doctor' Robert Malone?.....LIVE BY THE SWORD.....!!!!!!!!!!!!!! He's unleashed HELL on Earth!!

This is probably the wrong thread to ask this question but I need a rebuttal quickly. Daughter in law a doctor in NYC and is pregnant with her second child (she was one of the first to get the Covid Pfizer jab) and now doesn't want to visit us or to be a part of my grandson's life and her and her unborn baby unless we get the jab .. per her pediatrician. "It is unconscionable that you let your 18 month old son see his grandparents who are not vaccinated " it seems to me that you have inherited a daughter in law with NO emotional feeling towards yourself this is the question of "why this uis so" that you must answer she is a high achiever that has no common sense did her parents drive her too hard to succeed??? and she fell in love with your son where are his balls????

Maybe you should print out some Mercola covid articles and snail mail them to her, ...articles sent by email or text can easily be deleted without ever seeing its contents. Maybe something in the hard copy, actually in her hands, will attract her eye and interest..then ask her why she thinks her sources for covid information are more credible than yours..because we all know they are absolutely not!

Obviously; the most contagious element in this scandemic, is INSANITY/PARANOIA!...not much that those of us not "infected" can do about that!

We, as unvaxxed grandparents, were in the same situation. We were told not to visit because the grandchild's preschool would require him to quarantine for ten days. Not a state requirement, the school's. Then, something changed and it was okay to visit. Not sure what. Your d-in-law is acting out of fear. Fear shuts down logic and reason. Presenting her with facts and data will have no effect. The constant fear mongering from the media, government, her coworkers, etc... very hard to ignore. Fear impacts the immune system and her fear has likely infected your son and grandson. She does her family a disservice. It is becoming more obvious that the vaxes are providing little protection from infection and transmission. So, perhaps try to address the fear, not the virus?

See www.pnas.org/.../5995 . " These data provide support for a model suggesting that prolonged stressors result in GCR, which, in turn, interferes with appropriate regulation of inflammation. Because inflammation plays an important role in the onset and progression of a wide range of diseases, this model may have broad implications for understanding the role of stress in health."
Glucocorticoid receptor resistance (GCR). And: New research uncovers fresh evidence to suggest that frequent exposure to negative emotions may have an important impact on the functioning of the immune system. www.medicalnewstoday.com/.../324090 . If you are asymptomatic and test negative it is only irrational fear preventing your visits. And that fear is undermining the health of your sons family. Good luck.
