 That isn't a virus issue. It's just a virus. The virus doesn't report cases and deaths.
 The World outside 'our' world shrugged the virus off with a half-day's normal deaths We get to submit to our overlords whims for maximum punishment to ensure we're ready for whatever is next... vaccines at the very least And yes... it's just the numbers they publish every day. Do the math. And wake up.

So whereas the World has got by with barely 0.4 of a day, and Eur.Other is likewise invisible, EU core countries approach ten days, while we're at seventeen.

Overall, the US is at around 5: our societies shut down to avoid 5 days deaths (and that UK lockdown saving not a single case or life)... but see my other videos for that.

I say media burden, because while the virus is real and some people will have died, it is extremely unlikely that they represented
