

Coronavirus Spreading Among the Vaccinated in Highly Vaccinated Countries

Analysis by The Vaccine Reaction

A recent study published by King's College in London, which operates the ZOE COVID Study app to monitor COVID infection and vaccination rates, found that, as of July 15, 2021, there was an average of 15,537 new daily symptomatic cases COVID-19 among partly or fully vaccinated people in the United Kingdom—an increase of 40 percent from the previous week's total of 11,084 new cases.^{1,2}

Infections in Vaccinated People in U.K. Are Outpacing Infections in the Unvaccinated

The Zoe COVID Study, led by epidemiologist Tim Spector, MD, of Kings College in London, estimated that there were 17,581 new daily symptomatic cases of COVID-19 in unvaccinated people, or 22 percent less than the previous week's total of 22,638 new cases.

According to a press release issued by the study's authors, "With cases in the vaccinated group continuing to rise, the number of new cases in the vaccinated population is set to overtake the unvaccinated in the coming days."^{3,4}

On July 17, the U.K.'s Health Secretary, Sajid Javid, announced he had tested positive for the SARS-CoV-2 virus despite having received two doses of the

AstraZeneca/Oxford University's experimental AZD1222 COVID vaccine on Mar. 17 and May 16.⁵ In a message posted on Twitter, Javid wrote:

*"This morning I tested positive for COVID. I'm waiting for my PCR result, but thankfully I have had my jabs and symptoms are mild."*⁶

With a population of more than 66 million people, two-thirds of adults in the U.K. have received COVID-19 vaccine, representing a total of 82,592,996 vaccinations as of July 20. Some 46,349,709 Britons have received the first dose and 36,243,287 have gotten the second dose. The country is not vaccinating children.⁷

The U.K. is among the most highly vaccinated countries in the world, but it is experiencing a third wave of coronavirus infections reportedly largely due to the spread of the Delta variant of the virus.^{8,9} Other highly vaccinated countries like Israel are also experiencing a new wave of coronavirus infections due to the Delta variant.

Most Infections in Israel Are Among Vaccinated People

In Israel, about 60 percent of the country's population of 9.3 million has received at least one dose of a COVID vaccine. About 85 percent of adults in Israel have been vaccinated. Yet most of the new coronavirus infections are occurring in vaccinated people.¹⁰

In early-July, former Health Minister Chezy Levy, MD confirmed that "55 percent of the newly infected [people in Israel] had been vaccinated."¹¹

There has also been a concerning rise in the number of vaccinated people in Israel being hospitalized. An article in The Jerusalem Post last week noted that the Israeli Health Ministry reported 124 people had been hospitalized for COVID-19 on July 20 and that 65 percent of them were fully vaccinated. Of the 124 people, 62 were in serious condition and 70% of those patients were fully vaccinated.¹²

Earlier this month, the Health Ministry estimated that the Pfizer/BioNTech's BNT162b2 COVID biologic was only 64 percent effective in preventing symptomatic infections of COVID-19, specifically those caused by the Delta variant. But the effectiveness rate for Pfizer's experimental COVID vaccine in preventing infection (and transmission) could be lower.¹³

"We do not know exactly to what degree the vaccine helps, but it is significantly less," said Israel's Prime Minister Naftali Bennett.¹⁴

Infections in Chile, Seychelles and Mongolia Mostly in Vaccinated People

Another example of a highly vaccinated country which has been experiencing a new outbreak of coronavirus infections mostly among its vaccinated population is Chile. Of the thousands of new coronavirus cases being reported daily in that country, 80 percent of them are in vaccinated people. Chile has fully vaccinated 55 percent of its population.¹⁵

The examples of the U.K., Israel and Chile, as well as other highly vaccinated countries like the Seychelles and Mongolia experiencing coronavirus infections mostly within the vaccinated segments of their populations pose a dilemma.¹⁶ The governments of these countries have to decide if the problem is that not enough of their people have been vaccinated, or that the vaccines are simply not as effective as initially assumed they would be.

Could Vaccinations Be Causing Rise in Infections?

There is also a third possible problem which was raised by French virologist and Nobel laureate Luc Montagnier, MD in May 2021. In an interview with Pierre Barnérias of Hold-Up Media, Dr. Montagnier said he believed that the mass vaccination programs for COVID may actually be causing SARS-CoV-2 mutations like the Delta variant and, thus, prolonging the pandemic.¹⁷

Dr. Montagnier explained that in each country that undertakes a mass vaccination campaign, "the curve of vaccinations is followed by the curve of deaths." He said that the COVID vaccines create antibodies that force the virus to "find another solution" or "die," adding that it is the variants that "are a production and result from the vaccination."¹⁸

Dr. Montagnier's views are admittedly controversial. The thought that vaccinations may actually be exacerbating the COVID pandemic is perhaps too difficult a concept for government officials to consider. But this possibility should not be dismissed outright.

One of the best explanations of this dynamic was given by Barbara Loe Fisher, co-founder and president of the National Vaccine Information Center (NVIC) in a 2011 interview when she described the evolution of pertussis bacteria to evade the vaccines:

"[E]very life form wants to live, wants to survive. Universal principle. And viruses and bacteria are no exception. And when you put a pressure on a virus or bacteria that's circulating, with the use of a vaccine that contains a lab-altered form of that virus or bacteria, it doesn't seem that it would be illogical to understand that that organism is going to fight to survive, it's going to find a way to adapt in order to survive."¹⁹

One possible takeaway is that these people don't know what they're doing; that's a scary thought. On the other hand, they may know exactly what they are doing; that's a scarier thought. Either way, billions of people are putting their faith in them; that's the scariest thought.

Tal vez no haga falta esperar una vacuna, así como los antibióticos pareciera que han agotado su utilidad. Es como si la sal ya no salara... Emergerá un reemplazo para ellos, o es que ya está -tal vez desde siempre- entre nosotros? Seguimos aprendiendo por ensayo y error; levantando el velo de lo inasible, porque el cambio es lo único que permanece constante en nuestro devenir. Santos y tiranos. Niños sabios y ancianos devaluados. Quienes han querido ser como dioses han hallado sus límites, y aún no saben que deben agradecerlo a un poder infinitamente superior a su escasa estatura que es quien, además, les sostiene con vida. Pobres seres ciegos, aterrorizados ante una muerte que pudiera serles un consuelo, y se han vuelto contra sus semejantes enarbolando su ego como un arma, intentando, lastimosamente, que solo su pobre carne sobreviva.

Tal vez no haga falta esperar una vacuna, o ya ninguna, ¡quién sabe! La inmunidad natural no solo es posible, sino que es la mas deseable. Tal vez los antibióticos no puedan ya dar más de sí. ¿Habrán envejecido, como las buenas mozas añosas? Mil mundos luminosos están a la puerta: en las monedas del tiempo incomprometido, en los caprichos del ego escarmentado, en los socavones escondidos de las playas arrasadas. Todo está por aprenderse otra vez, y la riada se llevará la escoria inútil dejando el humus necesario para seguir...Como siempre lo fue. Ojalá la velocidad del aceptar lo nuevo supere la inercia de la costumbre. Entonces, los bastones ya no serán necesarios para andar. El evangelio mercoliano habrá cumplido su cometido: articulaciones sanas, alegría de vivir, integridad ineludible.

I just had another scary thought: If graphene oxide is a major component in the shot and is not good for us, then what exposure might people have who are using reverse osmosis water filters with graphene oxide membranes?

builditback - I've written a couple pieces on graphene oxide. I admit I didn't know it was in reverse osmosis machines - don't have one, never trusted them. My guess is that the GO in the machines is in intact sheets, although that's not to say that pieces aren't breaking off and getting into the water. The GO in the jabs is in microscopic particles that circulate throughout the body until they become lodged - typically at your weakest link - and begin to wreak havoc with their clotting and moisture absorbing propensity. Not surprisingly, the Gates Foundation funded the research on hydrogel - made with graphene oxide (one of the primary transhumanist material candidates) but the stuff is actually made in China by Sinopeg. There's a link in this piece to the page on their site that shows the molecular structure of the 15 different varieties of PEGylated nano particles they make for the covid jabs. I cant make this stuff up.

Absolutely, Darzoum! Well said. And let's fully assume that Fauci (he is not my doctor) he knows exactly what he is doing. I am continually horrified, having read books about the immune system and having some understanding about how it works, or better said how its various parts work together. It requires no medical degree once one understands a bit about immunity to figure this out. I repeat, they know just exactly what they are doing in directly causing autoimmune attack with these genetic modification shots, and this is NOT an experiment as advertised. Shame, shame and more public shame on Fauci and all others at the top of this ring!

Yes, Darzoum "that's a scarier thought". Based on Dr. Mercola's excellent information, a terrifying future, as also reported in research published last week in Scientific Reports, vaccinated people can play a key role in helping SARS-CoV-2 variants evolve towards those that evade existing COVID vaccines. Three specific risk factors that favor the emergence and establishment of a vaccine resistant strain. They are: a high probability of initial appearance of the resistant strain; high number of infected people; and low vaccination rate. The research highlighted that the greatest risk of establishing a resistant strain occurs when a large fraction of the population has already been vaccinated but transmission is not controlled. When a virus escapes the immune defenses induced by vaccines or diseases; they are called "escape mutants". It is known as selective pressure, the force that drives any organism to evolve.

"So the more infectious Delta is, the more cause for concern," Kondrashov said. "By having a situation where everyone is vaccinated, a vaccine-resistant mutant actually gets a selective advantage." childrenshealthdefense.org/defender/vaccinated-people-key-role-evoluti.. (02/08/21) And as Dr. Mercola has reported, what is happening with children is also very scary. In a study published on July 30, the Centers for Disease Control and Prevention (CDC) recognized nearly 400 reports of children ages 12 to 17 experiencing heart inflammation after receiving the Pfizer / BioNTech vaccine. The CDC study also included 14 reports of deaths after vaccination in adolescents. Among those who died, four were between 12 and 15 years old, and 10 occurred in 16-17 year olds. childrenshealthdefense.org/defender/cdc-397-reports-heart-inflammation..

Dr. McCullough states: "Here in the United States, we have 100 million people vaccinated (with COVID-19 bioweapons injections so far). This is by far the most deadly and toxic biological agent ever injected into a human body in American history." To Health Impact News readers who have been following the topic of vaccines for years, and following holistic physicians who have been warning about the dangers of vaccines in general, and the eugenic plans of globalists in deploying the COVID-19 biological weapons in particular, there is probably no new information in this interview with Dr. McCullough.

The reason for the increase in inoculated victims is this; the "gene therapy" was never intended to actually endow the inoculated with immunity against Covid=19 or more appropriately "whatever they call it". It was meant to infect the recipient with the rogue spike protein incubator cells or instructions for the purpose of interfering with the human immune system. With this in place in tens of millions of human bodies they will now be extremely susceptible to ordinary illnesses that their immune system would have been able to fight off. The purpose behind this is all part of Bill Gates' Population Control Project that has been in the works for a long time. They just had to wait for the proper political atmosphere and opportune moment to release it. Can they stop it? Even they don't know. They were not thinking that far ahead.

This is posted way late, may be an important tidbit?

Reports from the UK are showing high number of vaxxed in hospital, whereas word of mouth in So California are mostly unvaxxed in hospital. In Texas, Dr McCullough reported approx 50:50 in hospital.

My take is a delay from East Coast conditions to West Coast conditions, so let's assume by mid-September, we may be seeing more of the UK conditions on the East Coast, midWest may be early October and later into fall, on the West. This "thing" is seasonal, even if it is now being vacn induced...seasonal variations leads to confusing reporting unless checking different climates.

I got this from a friend..ME: CDC, should I get poked if I already had Covid? CDC: "Yes, you should be poked regardless of whether you already had COVID-19. That's because experts do not yet know how long you are protected from getting sick again after recovering from COVID-19." ME: Oh, okay, we don't know how long natural immunity lasts. Got it. So, how long does poke-induced immunity last? CDC: "There is still a lot we are learning about COVID-19 pokes and CDC is constantly reviewing evidence and updating guidance. We don't know how long protection lasts for those who are poked." ME: Okay ... but wait a second. I thought you said the reason I need the poke was because we don't know how long my natural immunity lasts, but it seems like you're saying we ALSO don't know how long poke immunity lasts either. So, how exactly is the poke immunity better than my natural immunity? CDC: ... ME: Uh ... alright. But, haven't there been a bunch of studies suggesting that natural immunity could last for years or decades? CDC: Yes. NEWYORKTIMES: "Years, maybe even decades, according to a new study." ME: Ah. So natural immunity might last longer than poke immunity? CDC: Possibly. You never know. ME: Okay. If I get the poke, does that mean I won't get sick? BRITAIN: Nope. We are just now entering a seasonal spike and about half of our infections and hospital admissions are poked people. ME: CDC, is this true? Are there a lot of people in the U.S. catching Covid after getting the poke? CDC: We stopped tracking breakthrough cases. We accept voluntary reports of breakthroughs but aren't out there looking for them. ME: Does that mean that if someone comes in the hospital with Covid, you don't track them because they've been poked? You only track the UN-poked Covid cases? CDC: That's right. ME: Oh, okay. Hmm. Well, if I can still get sick after I get the poke, how is it helping me? CDC: We never said you wouldn't get sick. We said it would reduce your chances of serious illness or death.

ME: Oh, sorry. Alright, exactly how much does it reduce my chance of serious illness or death. CDC: We don't know "exactly." ME: Oh. Then what's your best estimate for how much risk reduction there is? CDC: We don't know, okay? Next question. ME: Um, if I'm healthy and don't want the poke, is there any reason I should get it? CDC: Yes, for the collective. ME: How does the collective benefit from me getting poked? CDC: Because you could spread the virus to someone else who might get sick and die. ME: Can a poked person spread the virus to someone else? CDC: Yes. ME: So if I get poked, I could still spread the virus to someone else? CDC: Yes. ME: But I thought you just said, the REASON I should get poked was to prevent me spreading the virus? How does that make sense if I can still catch Covid and spread it after getting the poke? CDC: Never mind that. The other thing is, if you stay unpoked, there's a chance the virus could possibly mutate into a strain that escapes the pokes protection, putting all poked people at risk. ME: So the poke stops the virus from mutating? CDC: No. ME: So it can still mutate in poked people? CDC: Yes. ME: This seems confusing. If the poke doesn't stop mutations, and it doesn't stop infections, then how does me getting poked help prevent a more deadly strain from evolving to escape the poke? CDC: You aren't listening, okay? The bottom line is: as long as you are unpoked, you pose a threat to poked people. ME: But what KIND of threat?? CDC: The threat that they could get a serious case of Covid and possibly die. ME: My brain hurts. Didn't you JUST say that the poke doesn't keep people from catching Covid, but prevents a serious case or dying? Now it seems like you're saying poked people can still die from Covid even after they got the poke just by running into an unpoked person! Which is it?? CDC: That's it, we're hanging up now. ME: Wait! I just want to make sure I understand all this. So, even if I ALREADY had Covid...

One logical reason I see for The lower infection rate of unvaccinated is that they are a sector of society that tends to trust their immune system more, as they have cared for it more through the years. Conversely, besides being sheep, and more affected by MSM discourse, vaccinated people are ones who have paid less attention to their health, especially fortifying their immune system. So, while you have those trusting ONLY the vaccine showing more signs of infection, you have those who have built an immune system that can be trusted showing that they have already garnered T-cells and antibodies and at least remain asymptomatic with less chance of showing symptoms. And how did the unvaccinated people gain more antibodies? They probably wore masks less, and circulated among other people more bravely because they trust their innate immunity. From this circulation in air that is contaminated with a low viral load, the unvaccinated gain immunity little by little. It has been proven that taking into the lungs or the intestines non-inflammatory amounts of the virus still cause an increase in both T cells and antibodies. The immune system reacts and Self-fortifies even when there are no symptoms of the viral effect. I would love to see antibody tests done now on the two cohorts. The unvaccinated probably have more antibodies and T-cells than those having received the jab. We must remember that it has been shown that antibodies that were developed from the original strain are still like 98% effective at combating the Delta variant.

Yeah, why is superior broad-spectrum natural cellular immunity no longer recognized? Because PCR tests that are really good at one thing, i.e., producing false positive tests, have found such false positives in many people who had COVID and recovered. Which they probably did by detecting fragments of COVID or similar viruses the immune system was in the process of destroying. It's an illusion worthy of Houdini.

JGB you made that point most strongly and very briefly. Yes the hospital Personnel seem to prove that immunity comes from exposure. People trying to avoid all exposure are not helping themselves become immune. In fact healthcare workers probably had better immunity than the average citizen before covid ever entered the picture, just because of their continual exposure to diseases.

Stoneharbor, you are correct, but antibodies do fall in time due to cellular immunity, which is why antibody testing is also worthless during this scam! Now that the cdc is discontinuing PCR, they may push for antibody testing, KNOWING our antibodies drop due to CELLULAR immunity! Beware!

moony, yes, there's a fall off in antibody positivity. So for one individual, there may be no confirmation of antibodies after a number of months. However, across a set of peop tested, a large percent of those showing antibodies initially continue to show antibodies for many months. And remember, T-cells are now acknowledged to be the main method for defeating a virus if they are available in sufficient amounts. Here's a study from Italy that shows 85% of those testing with antibodies initially still tested positive 5 months later: pubmed.ncbi.nlm.nih.gov/34205134

Absolutely! And All Dogs great Post! At Publix the bagger who I've known, she has taken the shot but had a face diaper on! I asked why and she said she was traveling soon, and has to be careful, and the non-faced diapered cashier, says that her brother in law almost died from Covid. I just looked at them smiling, while talking about our innate immune systems...all while pulling out bags of Kale, Apples, carrots, parsley, kombucha... they were both very overweight. When will people understand that we are what we eat and what we think all day long.

This should make it easier to push back against mandatory vaccination, since the vaccine does not stop transmission and may promote it. If all the vaccine can do is lower your risk of severe infection, I don't see how they can force that on anyone. Children are at little to no risk of severe infection and do not need the shots. I know how to take care of myself should I get sick, so I don't need the shot. And, considering these shots are not vaccines, they never should have been given EUA.

I completely agree 'mnpearl' !!! The thing is, what are we-the-people going to do about it. Are we going to continue to obey all these orders that continue to work against us, or are we going to be like 'sheep going to the slaughter' for ever after?

Surely there has to be an end to all this controversy and blatantly given orders, or are we going to finally tell them that we own our own bodies, therefore WE say what invasion of it we'll allow and what we won't allow. After all, how many shots does all this amount to? Do we keep taking as many as "needed" or do we finally get some sense and start following our internal sense of logic that tells us, enough is enough and so they can take the shots and shove 'em.

keepingfit, I don't have all the answers, but I've been in touch with my legislators and there are bills pending now to stop vaccine mandates and passports. I've let my Senators in DC know how I feel and asked for the same, but they are both Democrats and I don't expect much from them. Our legislature ended our governor's emergency powers, so that would be a good place for others to start. If all this fails, we will have to fight back whatever way we can. There is no choice here. We can't let this be the end of our Republic.

For those who believe what may be fake news, the exact opposite is the truth. It was alleged in an article that I recently read on WaPo that 83% of patients in a COVID-19 hospital ward were unvaccinated. I was skeptical and it appears that I had good reason to be. Apparently, there are some "news" publications which don't mind publishing shameless LIES (e.g. NYT). And they know that even if they get called out on it and issue a retraction the damage is done. Psychologically a retraction doesn't appear to erase the original effect. Any author who recklessly publishes a falsehood should be banned from the news industry or at least from any job which is indirectly related to publishing news. They could be relegated to a janitorial position.

Esto que ud. señala es empezando por las instituciones globales que detentan el "privilegio" de monopolizar el derecho a desinformar, verdad? Porque de ese modo - si ud. no me aclara el punto - las personas de a pie no podrían publicar sus opiniones de buena fe, y en la medida que van reflexionando - porque para estar a salvo de represalias debieran contratar un equipo de abogados experto...y pagarles. Entiendo y estoy de acuerdo con su planteo, pero esta salvedad me hace saltar las alarmas. El monopolio de la libertad de expresión parece cada vez mas estar en posesión de especialistas y / o profesionales. Esta condición sirve en bandeja la posibilidad exclusiva de control a las universidades, gobiernos, etc. Estos, cuando hablan de la ciudadanía utilizan la expresión "la gente" sin distinguir la capacidad de juicio y determinación de cada individuo, y dando por sentado que son los funcionarios los que pueden ser asertivos, e incluso hablar en primera persona refiriéndose a la validez de sus decisiones avaladas por su...opinión!! . En fin...hemos alimentado esa conducta con nuestra inercia también, pero ya basta.

[Engl Translation] What you point out is starting with global institutions that hold the "privilege" of monopolizing the right to misinform, right? Because that way - if you don't clarify the point - ordinary people would not be able to publish their opinions in good faith, and as they reflect - because to be safe from retaliation they would have to hire a team of expert lawyers... and pay them. I understand and agree with your point, but this caveat makes me sound the alarm bells. The monopoly of free speech seems increasingly to be in the possession of specialists and/or professionals. This condition serves on a plate the exclusive possibility of control to universities, governments, etc. These, when talking about citizenship use the expression "the people" without distinguishing the capacity for judgment and determination of each individual, and assuming that it is the officials who can be assertive, and even speak in the first person referring to the validity of their decisions endorsed by their... opinion!?. Anyway... we have fed that behavior with our inertia as well, but enough is enough.

Well said! I believe that too. In fact the vaccinated may be prone to extreme inflammation and autoimmune attack exactly exacerbating symptoms, according to every single one of the doctors worldwide who have the courage to speak out. But let's play devil's advocate. If the vaccines really do as they say without lying to us, and are causing more mild symptoms, then you want to talk about asymptomatic carriers!!!??? And who is more dangerous then? The unvaccinated who actually experience their symptoms and hence seek bedrest and self-quarantine quite naturally, or those without symptoms or so mild that they just brazenly and arrogantly think they can just carry right on with normal activities, and no bed rest, no quarantining? The "Duh" here is so obvious it blares like a trumpet.

IMO, there's something, possibly sinister, underneath all the deception and word salad rhetoric of the just get the Jab "experts". There are two control groups left which remain to challenge the, 1) The effectiveness of the jab, and, 2) The future side effects of the jab, and 3) The future side effects of having Covid19 without receiving the jab. The unvaccinated, and the recovered that never took the jab, are the two control groups that can possibly prove that the jab is becoming ineffective and possibly causing future medical complications or death. What's sinister about is that if these control groups can be forced to take the jab, they just disappear from any future study of the danger of the jabbed, compared to the unvaccinated, and the strength of natural immunity from previously having Covid19.

This gives the already proven to be deceptive "experts" a way to blame (project) the potential side effects of the jab onto another cause. For example, we think the virus is causing these complications, and you must of had it without symptoms. A ramped up Covid19 test could prove this. So, the bottom line is that future complications of having everyone take the jab is that we have no control group of the unvaccinated, and the infected without the jab. The reasons for any resulting complications of taking the jab can be attributed to any convenient cause. For example, a person is suffering from complications. The "expert" can say you must of had the virus without symptoms. A ramped up test can confirm this. Then, the cause of the complications can be attributed to a conjured previous infection, not the jab. Thus, a new narrative can be established, which is pushing the notion that if a person had the virus, it has long term effects that we are just learning. Another conspiracy theory??? But we do know of the deception by the "experts" so far and there is proof of something sinister taking place.

To put it in a nutshell, the powers behind this scenario have no intention of stopping the onslaught. The Australian Prime Minister recently outlined the "plan" for our way back and it all revolves around the injections. No injection, no way back, no travel and most likely restrictions for the unclean. Considering that the injections don't confer immunity, don't stop severe symptoms or hospitalisation or death and don't stop transmission, there is no way back. He is effectively coercing Australians to accept the injections, despite this being a breach of the law and is blatantly lying to the people, by offering false hope. My most recent bleating received a generic response and failed to address even one of my issues. Surprise! I am now trying to mount a petition to have the government removed for blatant misconduct. Covid Unmasked... Right at the beginning the author discusses inalienable vs. human rights: " Unlike inalienable rights, which every human being is born with and no human being can legitimately deny, human rights are a political construct." And there goes your 'inalienable rights'. In the law if one takes a DNA modifier, they are no longer "human". There goes your 'human rights'. You are then the equivalent of the chickens in your back yard as your dogs, cats and snail darters have more rights than you do!

Not the Government. As regards your DNA being changed via the vax - I cannot comment.

Quoting the article: "Dr. Montagnier's views are admittedly controversial." WHY? A) Given the pure fact, well known, that it was antibiotics that caused bug mutation, why wouldn't vaccines do exactly the same thing? When bugs are under attack, they mutate...known fact. Wake up, People! B) If this is controversial, it sounds to me like propaganda is afoot. More about this, below. " The thought that vaccinations may actually be exacerbating the COVID pandemic is perhaps too difficult a concept for government officials to consider. But this possibility should not be dismissed outright." That's because, in my humble opinion, people so much believe in their chemicals, their vaccines. This is the effect of advertizing, propaganda and ignorance, all combined. And they do not believe in natural medicine.

They think "it's not strong enough". They don't have the understanding or education about how the natural remedies work with actual physiology. I think given such an education, then people might start to think differently.

People also need education about how the body works and the immune system. With that understanding, BigPharma will no longer be able to snowball us. Of course, that is just what they don't want. And this is why they have been very organized, infiltrating medical schools and directing medical thought. Well maybe it's high time (past time!) that natural medicine was just as organized! Want change? Start to educate our children, right at home. "Then I will just do it myself" said the Little Red Hen. And she did. I suggest get books about immunity. Get books about physiology. Learn about natural supplements and their pharmacology from highly trustworthy sources. Contrary to popular belief, the pharmacology in natural medicine is clinically studied. Search Pubmed, but note the structure of the studies, before believing every one of them. Yet, with good education, we can turn this around. Think globally, act locally. My two cents.

NewlandsWanderer - Did you see the comment on the CHD article from Dr Wodarg? Here's a quick cut and paste: Wolfgang Wodarg • 19 hours ago • Sorry, but I am rather dissapointed about this "Escape Narrative". It presumes, that viruses are eager to be dangerous for our (their hosts) health or life. But this would be a blind way for their evolution. A virus is much more successfull, if its host almost doesn't feel, that it is present, and when its host travels along with it and spreads it. So if there is a successfull escape, we almost can be shure, that those variants will be the ones, that do not harm us seriously. This means on the other hand, that asymptomatic spreaders will only be reasonable for those viruses, that normally don't do us any harm. Waiting for falsification: Wolfgang Wodarg

PS. Did you recognize, that authors like David N. Fisman,et al. (doi: <https://doi.org/10.1101/20210803> ... or Ong, Sean Wei Xiang et al. (<http://dx.doi.org/10.2139/ssn.137111> ... and more, who a trying to fearmonger new vacc. updates against delta, eta ..etc. .scanned their populations for lots of confounders, but did not mention whether the victims of the "new variant" were vaccinated or not? I think it's not the new variants but the jabs, that make the difference in mortality and fatality.

The spike protein& synthetic genetic material interacting w/ innate& natural dna in the body to create & shed unnatural spike proteins are the issue. They also shed, skin to skin, sweat& sexual transmission, as the vax study protocols noted in printrather as what happened w/ natural crops cross-pollinating w/ gmo's. An example of the technology at work would be how Australia handled their rat/mouse problem w/ transferring/shedding infertility causing 'vaccines'.

Any virus or challenge can push those who've had the operating system injected into an overreactive & potentially fatal immune response, while some are already primed w/ some chronic inflammatory condition whether natural in cause, or vaccine& purposeful release triggers affecting the 'terrain'& predisposing it to overresponse, basically weaponizing peoples' own immune response. Indonesian studies found that injected material affects 1st the ovaries, lymph nodes, etc. There is also an issue w/ the magnetism, creating neural networks, potentially the same nanobiotechnology that was researched& published in Japan where the behavior of rats was affected remotely.

It's about disarming resistance to the planned reset& economy, & control. But God is not mocked. Men & devils will do what men & devils do, wrest the scriptures & make many devices rather than humbling self to repentance&salvation...& the suffering & corrupt world will suffer the consequences & coming judgment, including the falling 'stars' & open warfare in the heavens, evil men& seducers waxing worse & worse, deceiving & being deceived. I used to think this, as well. Hola, pues es muy sencillo explicartelo : escribo en español porque no hablo inglés. Cuando entro a esta página traduzco a español con el traductor online. Puedes hacer lo mismo con mis posteos. Casualmente rrealrose en este mismo espacio-hoy- tradujo a inglés mi último posteo. Lo puedes buscar mas arriba. Ojalá hubiera un idioma universal que entendiéramos todos! Pero mira, he entrado aquí, en principio pidiendo a ustedes los comentaristas de habla inglesa, que entren a Mercola en español a comentar, pues hay menos comentaristas allí y sería bueno que uds. pudieran incentivar ese espacio ingresando sus valiosos aportes y opiniones. Pueden hacerlo en inglés, o bien traducir antes de publicarlo, si es que tienen un buen traductor que no desvirtúe su escrito. Gracias y saludos!

Google translate! ... Hello, it is very easy to explain it to you: I write in Spanish because I don't speak English. When I enter this page I translate into Spanish with the online translator. You can do the same with my posts. Coincidentally rrealrose in this same space -today- translated my last post into English. You can search for it above. I wish there was a universal language that we all understood! But look, I came in here, initially asking you English-speaking commentators to enter Mercola in Spanish to comment, as there are fewer commentators there and it would be good for you. could encourage this space by entering their valuable contributions and opinions. They can do it in English, or translate before publishing it, if they have a good translator who does not distort their writing. Thanks and regards!

The antigen-antibody response only accounts for about 10% of the functioning of the human immune system yet that is the total focus of vaccine promoters. The energetic/electromagnetic components are totally ignored. You rarely or never hear about the protection afforded by natural immunity from the "authorities".

Interesting From CDC website, you can draw your own conclusions: COVID-19 Testing - Level: Laboratory Alert - After December 31, 2021, CDC will withdraw the request to the U.S. Food and Drug Administration (FDA) for Emergency Use Authorization (EUA) of the CDC 2019-Novel Coronavirus (2019-nCoV) Real-Time RT-PCR Diagnostic Panel, the assay first introduced in February 2020 for detection of SARS-CoV-2 only. CDC is providing this advance notice for clinical laboratories to have adequate time to select and implement one of the many FDA-authorized alternatives. In preparation for this change, CDC recommends clinical laboratories and testing sites that have been using the CDC

2019-nCoV RT-PCR assay select and begin their transition to another FDA-authorized COVID-19 test. CDC encourages laboratories to consider adoption of a multiplexed method that can facilitate detection and differentiation of SARS-CoV-2 and influenza viruses." CABAL has everyone believing covid is a new virus (just the flu) and dreading the (phantom?) spike protein. What if the attack is graphene oxide? COVID-19 attack is GRAPHENE OXIDE, introduced into the body by SWAB, MASK and VACCINE! the more you SWAB, MASK and JAB the worse it gets, which is why they want to SWAB, MASK and JAB you constantly!

this Nobel laureate will quickly be silenced , cancelled and be sent to oblivion as there is no place for logic in the big roll-out. I have long held the belief that the way in which the jabs were forced out in 3rd world countries with little or no systems in place could only end up with making a super bug. Now in Thailand I see that mixing the jabs is something to be done if you want to live. Some have had 6 jabs from 3 different makers. Truly scary stuff. This whole situation doesn't make any sense (not your article, I mean what the people behind "the science" are saying). Day after day, they keep on hammering that "the unvaccinated are at most risk and are the only ones being admitted to the hospitals", when meanwhile, they're creating unwitting vectors in the form of "vaccinated" people, who then bring the disease with them everywhere they go, including home, where there may be unvaccinated people, under the belief that they'll be fine, because of their new bragging right. But now, they're saying "Oh btw, YOU'LL be fine, but the unpurified (unvaccinated) will be the ones that are SOL. So go ahead, be as free as you want, and if you infect others, F-them; they chose not to conform. You are now our Bio-Organic Weapons against them, whether you want to be or not." This "vaccine" sounds less like a two-way shield against infection, and more like some sort of viral equivalent of a painkiller; something that dulls symptoms, rather than attacks the root cause.

DWC7749, They really have only marketing (BS) tactics at their disposal. As soon as fit science appears there are no credible arguments. But they hold an unbelievably ignorant belief that they can control what we can post online. Even more incredible is the labelling of proper studies, that anyone can read, as 'misinformation'. In many states the hospitals are not counting the breakthrough cases of the vaccinated anymore. It's skewing the numbers in favor of the narrative. The Methodist hospital system in Texas and the advent health hospitals in Florida are the two biggest culprits right now. Amazing since the two big states with the most infections are now those two in particular. UVA and sentera are also not counting breakthrough cases and only capturing the unvaccinated cases in the Northeast. Let's face it the "delta variant" started with the jabs not in India. There are 23 covid variants already in the world. The other puzzling piece is that they have identified the variants yet none of the medical systems in place have a test to identify which variant someone has when tested????? Maybe if they really want to scare people into jabs they should start labeling the so called deadly variants with scarier names like "zombie variant" or "death dealer variant"? Such madness now it's almost comical.

If they've stopped counting 'breakthrough' cases in hospitals, but are still counting the 'unvaccinated' sick, doesn't that mean you can subtract the 'unvaccinated' sick from the total number of covid cases in the hospital, and get the number of vaxxed sick? Or are they not even counted in a total? Are they the hidden sick?

It's also possible that the reason cases are slowing in unvaccinated is because most of the unvaccinated are under 30 and could be developing herd immunity, a lot more have also taken up the vaccine offer fearing being unable to attend large events and clubs from the end of September. So if vaccinated they are possibly not even picking up enough viral load to be positive. Friend age 20 got covid, unvaccinated, was with lots of friends all vaccinated but only 2 tested positive, didn't have symptoms so only tested because they had been with her.

I keep hearing that this is population control from Bill Gates and I think.... but there needs to be lots of people for them to make lots of money, so that doesn't make sense. But Forbes said just a day ago that 40 new billionaires have been created out of the vaccine, so maybe if there is this new group of elites, then they don't care that their selling power will be gone? They tell us the vaccine is free, so where is the money coming from? I searched that and of course we do pay for it, they get paid from our insurance and taxes (the CARES Act). Forbes also said that Biden was paid 8 million for promoting the vaccine.

There is significant evidence that those who take the jab are, in fact, "shedding" the Covid and giving it to those around them wherever they may go. Not only that, there is also evidence that all of the variants which have appeared are, in fact, being created by the "vaccines" inside the bodies of those who have taken the jab and are now being spread by those people among the general population.

Finally, it is an outright lie being pushed by the media and the politicians that nearly all the new cases of Covid are among the "unvaccinated"; from what I have read, the overwhelming majority of new cases are among those who have been "vaccinated." And it would appear that 99% of the medical establishment, even though they know and understand the truth, have bought into and are helping to spread all the lies for fear of being "cancelled" or having their licenses taken away by the powers-that-be. They have sold out their patients, their profession, their nation, and humanity as a whole. Disgraceful. We are in so much trouble...

I may not have any medical training, but I have a science background and I can read, and I read a lot, from every possible source, and my comprehension is really good. We have been lied to from Day One about Covid and everything having to do with it. Regardless of whether you believe it was a bioweapon released intentionally for a variety of nefarious purposes (as I do), or just the accidental escape of a research project, doesn't matter. We are being lied to big time for solely political purposes. If what is being done had anything to do with our collective health, then it would all have been done much differently. Regarding the "vaccines" which are not vaccines, well, they are perhaps an even bigger lie than all the lies about Covid itself. As far as I can tell, there is not the slightest shred of evidence (antibody nonsense notwithstanding) that these drugs do anything at all to protect anyone from anything. I remember reading many times that even the makers of the drugs stated very clearly that these drugs will not keep you from catching or spreading Covid, but at best (and there is no proof of even this), you would get a slightly lesser case of Covid if you did contract it. And at the same time, by subjecting yourself to the jab, you have become part of a worldwide medical experiment, a walking guinea pig, who is far more likely than not, based on current information, to be subject to catastrophic health consequences at some point in the future. And this for an illness with a better than 99.9% recovery rate (per the CDC itself) for anyone not in a nursing home and without any other serious health issues.

The pcr tests proved nothing & were improperly used to begin with. There is no test that can identify or determine so-called covid 'variants'....or even covid for that matter Those who work in labs know this. Dr. Mercola should presumably know this. You can't get a covid sample to test against, let alone a 'variant', to do real, objective, verifiable & repeatable science with. Koch's postulate & all position- & certification- protective philosophical labeling aside: is that not the long and the short of it? Doesn't that make this a rather nonsensical article? That, or something akin to a test buoy to see which way the current of propagandistic conditioning is moving, & which bait the fish are biting on? If not: why not?

Viruses are bits of genetic code in a non-living case ...mechanistic things, parasitical things, which must hijack the material & system of a higher level living thing. They multiply through corrupting& co-opting what's already there....rather like a thief 'betters' himself, or a rapist spreads his genes. They multiply by recombining their bits of genetic code with other, more complete & independent genetic material, or dna. For the Christian, or truth -seeker, it's quite instructive to study this idea of information, words, and seed throughout the King James Bible, & then to look at these discussions & 'dialogues' again, proving all things by spiritual & typological shadows of heavenly things in the visible. Talk about an idol and a major league, globally influencing cult! Looking more & more to be nothing but a spell & spellcasting scheme by Balaamite sorcerers taking in themselves & the world. Evil men and seducers waxing worse & worse, deceiving & being deceived....and refusing to repent of their murders, their sorceries & their fornications! Wow. Just, wow.

This is exactly what I thought would happen, and the dangerous part is that the MRNA vaccines are synthetic, so what the h will that virus figure out to survive, its like a sci fi movie gone bad, God help us. Of course just blame the unvaccinated when in reality it is the vaccinated that are causing the rise. Who ever made this genetically modified virus, and vaccine knows exactly what they are doing. One day we will have the truth and it will be the worst global genocide attempt in history

Actually it isn't really a case of "fighting to survive", it's more of a case that the virus entities that are killed by a person's immune system before they can reproduce don't pass on their genes. The entities that reproduced before they died did pass on their gene coding. It's called natural selection. Being inefficient in exact replication is an advantage for viruses, so that is naturally selected.

How can they say that there is a delta variant when the PCR test does not distinguish the difference? And the Covid-19 virus was never isolated. So if the original was never isolated then the delta can't be isolated.

Thanks Dr. Mercola for shedding light on new infections in the vaccinated in countries like the UK, Chile, Seychelles, Mongolia & Israel. It will probably be impossible to get the data in the US due to how the CDC changed the rules for tracking COVID cases in hospitals. What a pity. The Delta variant (supposedly) came from India, where 8% of the population has had 1 dose of vaccine & 27% 2 doses. Those numbers don't seem high but I still think a mutant virus was formed to evade the vaccine. Now the mutant is the main cause of infection among vaccinated & unvaccinated. I won't do it but am thinking about telling my haughty vaccinated friends to double or triple mask around me to keep me from getting the virus. I watched a podcast by Shawn Stephenson, though, who found a 2015 study in the UK that proved that cloth masks had a 97% penetration rate by virus particles. The trial proved the participants were better off avoiding influenza virus by washing their hands. Thus, I won't be suggesting anyone mask up. Isn't it ironic that with the rise in cases among the unvaccinated that it's getting harder to make the case for getting the jab? Will the next mutant virus be named after one of the states in the US? Because I read Dr. Mercola, I am prepared for getting COVID, similar to what to do if you catch fire: Stop, Drop & Roll. At the first symptoms of COVID:

1. Plug in your desktop nebulizer ($70)
2. Add the prepared H₂O₂ ($22 for 12% food grade H₂O₂) + ($10 purified/distilled water). Most of us have Himalayan salt or similar to make the saline water, so 0 cost for salt. Dr. Brownstein adds iodine. I haven't bought any yet. Still considering. (Total cost $102)
3. Nebulize every hour or so until symptoms subside ... I would say that spending $100 to be prepared for the plague is pretty wise. No need to throw your immune system into fire fighting mode battling the synthetic spike protein produced from the gene altering serum. Ta da.

Remember that those meeting the most likely to get and die statistics are the ones most likely to have gotten the shots out of fear. So the weakest, most likely, got the shots in larger numbers. Those of us that are in good health regardless of age feel we are doing good just as we are so why confuse our natural healing system with something strange. Actually being old should be an advantage since our system has overcome so many things in the past and we are a tough bird for anything bad to overcome. We have our own immunity that covid is scared of instead of us being scared of it! Like animals, the weak in body or mind are the first attacked and eaten. Follow the science - Of Let The Buyer Beware! It's all the unvaccinated fault the vaccinated still get Breakthrough Cases, and it's the unvaccinated fault the vaccinated can be asymptomatic, the cardinal sin of the unvaccinated before the multiple jabs arrived, the jabs we somehow misunderstood when we being told 60 to 70% compliance was going to afford Herd Immunity, somehow we got confused when we were told the multiple jabs were to give us protection, yet we are to ignore the exceptional protection we get when the healthy pass the virus through their systems naturally. It's been one Pretzel Tongued Fog of contradicting Bull Spit after another.

If the multiple Jabs worked as advertised, (whichever version one is supposed to believe,) Word of Mouth would have millions lined up to bare their arms without bribes, bullying, or mandates. People would be paying scalper ticket prices to be first in line. Remember Kennedy's words; "Success has many Fathers, Failure is an orphan." As geographical entities (I hesitate to say "dictatorships") inflict this biochemical cocktail upon their citizenry and "the vaxeenated" exceed 50% we would naturally expect that the freshly infected rate for those poor souls would also exceed 50%. The vaxeen (admittedly) does nothing to provide immunity so "the vaxeenated" getting the disease is in no way surprising. What I do find that is surprising is that the (P)UK(E) isn't requiring children to be vaxed (yet).

There is a fourth explanation which I am surprised the author has omitted because he has mentioned it so many times before. It is this: the side-effects of the vaccine (in particular the synthetically created Spike protein) are indistinguishable from the symptoms of the disease itself. This allows the regimes around the world to continue their authoritarian repression of the population in the name of safety and health.

Seeing as how some of the most jabbed populations have some of the highest rates of new cases, it's very clear the jabs do not prevent transmission. So why should anyone care one bit if anyone else gets them? As Reiner Fuellmich explained in his speech to a rally for liberty at Trafalgar Square, the whole thing started as a "Public Health Emergency of International Concern," i.e., PHEIC, pronounced "FAKE".

Not only are billions getting scammed, but also getting trolled.

Posted On 08/03/2021

My comment is about the obvious ineffectiveness of the jabs in preventing transmission. The only protection they can be said to have to any significant degree is short-term minimization of COVID symptoms for those who make it through the first few weeks after the jab. Data from Israel indicate the protective effect of the Pfizer jabs is waning just about 6 months on for those who survived the initial rollout. The death rate increases attributed to COVID following the jabs, which are even minimized by different testing practices, indicate they actually make people more vulnerable for a few weeks after getting them, in addition to the adverse reactions, which could occur any time from immediately following the jab on. For all we know multitudes more people could die from the effects of these shots within week, months, or years.

Given the above, how can we prove the jabs have even been effective, seeing as how people can't very well die twice? And if one prefers to assume the risk of COVID rather than these jabs that have caused massive casualties, and for all we know could give everyone who gets them cardiovascular issues within a few years, what personal reason does anybody have to dictate what anybody else does if the jab won't even effectively prevent them from spreading it? Furthermore, since it just masks symptoms, those who get the jab may be MORE likely to spread it, because they won't be staying at home recovering while they are carrying the virus.

And what about people who got it and recovered, with a truly reliable diagnosis, rather than a fake PCR result that could just as well mistake dead fragments for the disease? Dr. McCullough only knows of one who had a fairly reliable diagnosis and got it again, so recovery seems to offer very robust protection against new strains. It's all bassackwards and upside-down, and even if I knew nothing of the medical concerns, the patterns of behavior would raise a HUGE red flag, with screaming sirens

I have been watching Dr. Campbell's videos about the virus since the pandemic began. A new presentation is produced almost daily. They are informative, interesting, and without an agenda. He often has health professionals from other parts of the world discuss what is happening in their own countries. Dr. Campbell promotes Vitamin D and Ivermectin, but he also thinks vaccinations are protecting us. He is not selling any products, and does his work out of concern for humanity rather than making money or being an advocate an ideology.

I'm scared and don't know where to go. I live in France. Have a couple of immune problems so I'm especially targeted even though I don't cause any health problems to anyone. I have a stent due to previous heart inflammation. This problem has been settled with use of Vitamin K2, Krill oil and other products suggested by Dr. Mercola and the result is outstanding. My problem is that not only is it likely vaccination will be mandatory in France for all (it is already for most, including school-age children and very reluctant healthcare workers) but all people with some sort of medical weakness such as old age or a particular pathology are targeted to get extra doses. I'm not sure I'd survive one dose as it is, even though I'm currently in good health. But here we're talking 3 or 4 doses right from the start. This is deliberate elimination of the less than perfectly healthy, a reminder of sinister practices of the 1940s. We are being made clear we cost too much to society. And the large majority seems to either not get it, or be okay with it.

Fearmongering is often unrelenting. Met briefly with an allergist/immunologist in the US last week who confirmed my suspicions: I had the exceptions list (pgs. 40 - 44) from the Pfizer trial protocols in my hand that seems to show no data was collected on the autoimmune, much less the immuno-suppressed, and was told it would have skewed the results of Phase 1 and Phase 2 vaccine trials. Yet medical authorities are giving shots ostensibly to protect these people. If you can figure this logic out, please let me know! as these would normally be the very last people you would want to shoot-up, so to speak. No safety data, let's do it anyway? Not thinking clearly? Too much mask time? Who knows?

Did you watch this interview w Prof Luc Montagnier?

Is no one in France paying attention to him, even though he is a Nobel Laureate and a national treasure? You have my deepest sympathy - as one who is vaccine damaged from years ago leaving me auto-immune, I feel so twitchy now! Also I got 'spike proteined' earlier in the year and now have Parkinsons which I am struggling to control. As far as I know, Dr M has suggested that the thing to do is to treat the jab as if you've got the C vus, and take large doses of quercetin, Vit D3 and K2, B vit complex, large doses of Vit C; also (according to Dr Christiane Northrup) you can make up your own solution of homemade 'quinine' from grapefruit peels and lemon peels boiled for three hours in a pot with a closed lid. (I experimented and tried it - the scent of the essential oils coming off is wonderful - and the very bitter liquid that is left in the pan is most definitely an acquired taste!). This recipe is all over the net. You may also need additional magnesium and zinc, and perhaps some resveratrol... and melatonin helps fight viruses too

I know I would take the time to stock up on whatever I decide to buy in advance if at all possible... your health is your most important asset (if only I could get mine back!!!). I've just looked up in my old notes and found this written to my sister (the one who died from the blasted jab) - may need to continue ... "I knew that viruses multiply more at night (10 times more - a study at Cambridge proves - you see the body tends to fight infections during the day and detoxes at night - leaving the viruses to replicate unhindered). I also knew that if one wants to detox it is a good idea to take activated charcoal at night - HOWEVER, what I didn't know was we should take activated charcoal at night if we have a viral infection - and that is sooo worth learning! This info is from Dr Thomas Janossy (based in Canada) in the Immune Defense Summit - he spent a year in Africa trying to combat malaria which STILL claims 500,000 lives a year, every year there!!! (I didn't know that

Jennycat24

Cont notes written to my sister..."Dr Janossy found that in a study where patients taking a drug to combat malaria were divided in half, and one half took quite a lot of charcoal at night, the ones without the charcoal died and the ones with the charcoal lived - which is astonishing (though awful for the ones not with the charcoal). "He then goes on to say that the patient knows when they are getting more ill and their temperature goes up that they should take a gram of charcoal every hour (this puzzles me as he then goes on to say we should take Vit C, Zinc, Selenium, melatonin etc every hour too - won't they get absorbed by the charcoal? I think I would separate supplements by a couple of hours from the charcoal - and it can have quite a strong reaction....). "

I don't know if this will help you, though I hope so, please do your own research and apply it to your own life (we are all different)... and the best of luck to us all! BTW in the UK I've had a couple of phone calls asking me to have jabs, but I pointed out that my Consultant Chest Physician had forbidden me to have any more v's as I had anaphylactic shock and severe viral pneumonia from the last one.

JeaBea - I forgot one thing - a nebuliser with a saline solution in it and some drops of hydrogen peroxide - details on this website and others... because of the spike proteined Parkinsons I use this daily and if I forget I get a lot worse....

Hi Jeabea, I assume you're taking D3 with the K2, (also take magnesium and VitC) and you know that K2 will mess with your clotting (INR) time. But if anyone comes near me with a syringe I intend to grab it and stick in in the fecker's own arm, regardless. If you can't avoid the jab take Trimethylglycine (TMG) and at very least double dose NAC as recommended by Judy Mikovits.

Invest in a big doberman pincher or some other dog. Seriously, those with medical compromise are the ones really getting bullied in this whole saga. By vaccine mandates, which considers nada about individual medical vulnerabilities. And by being shut out of society and friendly circles. "Eat, drink and be merry, unless you are unvaccinated! If so, stay home!" Well I don't go for this. Only if a vaccinator was to show up, tell them the situation and call them a murderer if medical vulnerability really is that high. Make it clear what the vulnerabilities are and the extent. Threaten to sue them, individually. They will probably back down. There must be a legal defense. Is there a good lawyer who can and will help? And there must be medical documentation available from a good hearted doctor with some spine, who will write a letter of exemption. And if that doesn't fly ,sue like hell. Money talks! I did not say sue BigPharma. How about the mandating officials instead ? How about those actually plunging the needle in? What about the "Doctors" who cooperate at the expense of harm and even death to others? It's time for class action lawsuits! Groups have a power!

Sad to hear your news. Archive a copy and who knows the day may come when it can be re-uploaded. I wanted to expand upon the article above. The fact that the death wave follows the vaccination wave is to some degree expected. And the likelihood that vaccination creates variants, which in turn will create a second wave of infection is growing in acceptance. But I also want to point out that in most countries they are still using the PCR test (because it gives them control). I fail to see how a PCR test, which is not diagnostic to begin with, is able to differentiate between spike proteins due to a covid infection, and spike proteins due to vaccination. Thus, the more you vaccinate it seems the more positive PCR tests will be found - - should you go looking for them. Perhaps I am missing something but how is the PCR test in any way indicative of infection if your body is manufacturing spike proteins throughout your blood supply? We know that vaccinated people shed so surely these proteins will be easily found in nasal mucus also. It seems to me that once a 'scare' starts it is self-fueling until someone gives the order to test less, or test at lower cycles. Exactly what we see happening.

Geert Vanden Bosch said exactly the same thing about 4 months ago. Although he has been accused of scare-mongering and having some (financial) interest in his suggested use of a different kind of vaccine (NK cell type), instead of those that do not confer immunity i.e. the ones currently being used on the population, his basic theory on why the current non-vaccines would drive the virus to mutate and create more variants seems logical. Time will tell.

Print as many articles as you about this whole bloody mess. I say we distribute them to the masses, so many people have never read the articles, the science, the interviews, the doctors and scientists. This is just unbelievable. We need to get the truth out there, this is pure CURRUPTION! And your everyday citizen is not even interested in learning the real facts. So we need to make it crystal clear for them! And worldwide. This whole plandemic is being played out like a well-rehearsed bank robbery and they are stealing our most valuable possessions. Now either we are smarter than they are and we use the benefit of our numbers or we lay down and let them take it all. How do we proceed people?

Some of us do not value the things DeBlasio is withholding from us. I did not have any intention of visiting NYC to start with. It seems to me he should be more concerned with alienating the strongest part of the tax base that is leaving NYC leaving behind many more who are dependent on govt.

Children are promised a cookie after they get vaccinated. This is the adult version of the “cookie”. => DeBlasio says you can eat at a restaurant. There is another option, you can eat at nice restaurants outside NYC. For the cost of an over-priced meal, you can prob also have it catered. I pity the restauranteurs who are in the midst of this political charade. However, with inflation, costs have gone up and quality has fallen, so we no longer eat in restaurants. So many good restaurants with “home-cooked food”—formerly owned by minorities (!)—that we used to patronize, have closed. No incentive to go out to eat anymore. I have not yet seen all the old movies on line, either. I have enough activity just in my own backyard to keep me busy for a long time without looking for more entertainments.

N.Y.C. to Require Vaccine Proof Indoors at Restaurants, Gyms and More – Republican Daily - New York City will become the first U.S. city to require proof of vaccination for a variety of activities for workers and customers – indoor dining, gyms and performances – to put pressure on people to get vaccinated, Mayor Bill de Blasio announced Tuesday morning. The program, similar to mandates issued in France and Italy last month, will start later this month, and after a transition period, enforcement will begin in mid-September, when schools are expected to reopen and more workers could return to offices in Manhattan. “It’s time for people to see vaccination as literally necessary to living a good and full and healthy life,” Mr. de Blasio said at a news conference. “If you want to participate in our society fully, you’ve got to get vaccinated,” he said Tuesday. “It’s time.”

DeBlasio may discover that the large minority of unvaccinated people have no desire to reengage with society--or spend money to contribute to the economy. They are learning to become more and more self-reliant and realize how little they need from govt. Many have already withdrawn from public life due to the immorality and significantly more are also home-schooling their children, too.

Today, hubby got a letter from the DVA asking him to come in for a "free" vaccination. Friends tell me they go to a doctor for help with a particular physical ailment, but the doctor has no time to discuss it--all he talks about is getting vaxed. More and more people are now living without MDs, too. We had food long before we had supermarkets and restaurants. There is no place on the face of the earth where people have not been able to entertain themselves without spending money. I hope all these restrictions will make people think about their real priorities and realize keeping DeBlasio and others in office is not one of them.

I loved reading this - we can be a control group - of course we'd be too healthy so that might not fly very well! As several people have pointed out, the unvaccinated are a control group in this vast COVID vaccine experiment. If a year from now, millions and millions of us who didn't take the shot are obviously still healthy, that's not going to sit well with the vaccinators-in-charge or the pro-vaccine crowd. They don't want a vibrant control group. They want compliant robots. Then there is this, from Stat News, July 21: "Millions of unused Covid-19 vaccines are set to go to waste as demand dwindles across the United States and doses likely expire this summer, according to public health officials..." "Currently, states have administered 52.36 million fewer doses than have been distributed to them, according to federal data."

"A significant tranche of Pfizer doses is expected to expire in August... Given waning domestic vaccine demand, those doses are unlikely to be fully used before they must be tossed." And then the infection rates - 70% of the hospitalized in Israel are the fully vaxxed population. Of course all we hear in the US is - the unvaccinated are filling up the hospitals. Jeeze. Seriously, my girlfriend got covid and the three of us exposed to her didn't get it. So ... here's a question, if we had been vaccinated, is that how they would determine the vaccine worked? 100% proof the vaccine works! Wait - but weren't vaccinated and we didn't get it. So who wants to report that stat? Since the 3 of us aren't vaccinated and we didn't catch it, does that mean covid isn't as rapidly caught as we'd think? Conditions: We were at a small table for a couple of hours sharing conversation, food and drinks. Hugs goodbye, etc. Her husband didn't catch it either, he had way more contact with her than we did, but still - you'd think we would have all 'caught' it. hmmm Just some interesting thoughts :

Its simply that vaccinated people assume they are protected and meet more people and let their guard down - it doesn't have to be any more complicated than that. Virus does not have a brain that is trying to figure out how to survive, a percentage of variants will always occur by mutation and natural selection. The more people that have the virus the more variants that arise.

They don't struggle, they co opt the host's cells machinery and replicate. They mutate to trick and evade the immune system, there is no consciousness that decides that. Sheriff Richard Mack advocates the same strategies in that we should ask for and receive indication from our local law enforcement officials they are acting under their oath to uphold the Constitution of the United States of America. I don't know if our system has the same concept of "malfeasance" that Dr. Cahill speaks of, but I believe there must be civil penalties for those who take an oath but do not uphold that oath of office. There is currently a nation wide tour of the CSPOA in order to gain visibility and educate local law enforcement of their true power. ariseusa.com/tour-schedule

"The governments of these countries have to decide if the problem is that not enough of their people have been vaccinated, or that the vaccines are simply not as effective as initially assumed they would be." - If more of their 'vaccinated' people are getting the new variant, how can this even be a question? It's NOT that not enough people have been 'vaccinated'. The 'vaccinated' are driving this variant and making other 'vaccinated' sick because of their incomplete, fake immunity.

Posted On 08/03/2021

This is depressing news from the Chicago Tribune. Sorry to bring this horrific statement to you. When will this country wake up and realize that the vaccines are meant to kill people? Spike proteins in the vaccines are TOXIC to the human body. COVID vaccines produce spike proteins. Yesterday the U.S. finally reached President Biden's goal for 70% of American adults to have received at least one dose of a COVID-19 vaccine. The milestone was hit a month late, and amid the surge of delta variant. In Illinois, nearly 73% of people age 12 and up have received at least one shot.

Posted On 08/03/2021

Grogers

I may be missing a key point, but with 60% of Israelis vaccinated and 55% of new cases being among the vaccinated, it sounds like the infection rate is about the same whether vaccinated or not. Not significantly better or worse. What's of more concern is the quoted figures in the articles saying that vaccination doesn't reduce chances of hospitalization, given that the main pitch for vaccines against variants is milder symptoms. Of course we don't know how ill vaccinated vs unvaccinated people are in hospital. One key figure not known above is mortality rates. People who are vaccinated may be less cautious, thinking they're safe. There's just not enough info yet to draw any hard conclusions.

Posted On 08/03/2021

A fourth explanation is one that appeared in an article by Mike Whitney over at Global Research: the side-effects of the vaccine (especially the damage done by the spike protein) are indistinguishable from the symptoms of the disease itself.

I can think of a number of reasons why infection rates are rising amongst vaccinated individuals: 1. They are becoming less careful because they think they are fully protected; 2. The first individuals to be vaccinated were elderly and their immune systems may be currently more susceptible to the Delta virus; and 3. Linked to the last point, the protection afforded by the vaccine is diminishing to the point where "breakthrough" is occurring.

So, what are these governments going to do, then, assuming they have complete autonomy over their decisions - withdraw the shots if these figures prove conclusively that they haven't and aren't working? Given that they have stored all their eggs in one basket - predicated them all in their official narrative and have mandated some policies, it seems a tall climbdown to me.

I have learned so much from you, you have changed people's lives. I will keep you in my prayers asking God to bless you even more with everything you do. He is using you to expose the lies that are hurting the whole world. The judgement day will for all of those who are lovers of money slanders and have their hands stain with blood. Typical demoKKKrat "klintonicide" handling of potentially inconvenient witnesses. The first an officer who dies after "being beaten with a fire extinguisher by insurrectionistas..." OH NO, wait a moment, he died the next day of an unrelated stroke. Not a bruise anywhere. Fine one day... then mysteriously strokes out the next. Very interesting. Then three suicidal officers, the latest "a good father and family man with a wife and three children"...- not so good if you ask me. He abandoned his family. NOT GOOD. All four deaths of officers directly involved with the Jan 6th "insurrectionistas." Clearly PTSD caused by TDS. Then we have four "unnamed" officers who give powerful testimony as to their "fear for their very lives" in the face of the unarmed and mostly peaceful (apart from the FBI instigators and antifa professionals seeded among them) invaders on Jan 6th. The only actual interpersonal violence involved a Capitol Police LIEUTENANT!!!- a high ranking officer- shooting an unarmed demonstrator on the other side of a door, Michael Byrd by name. One wonders how these "capitol police" would fare in Portland, Seattle, Milwaukee, Chicago, New York and any of the other cities dealing with far worse on a daily basis. They're barely police at all- pinos in fact. Best capable of giving tourists directions to the nearest restroom, "there are no public restrooms, ma'am, you'll have to use a portable on the mall...." ...BANG!! Some of my thoughts....

The more interesting fact about the statistics from Israel is that people who are unvaccinated but had Covid and recovered are only 1% of the positives and none of the hospitalized. The natural immunity seems to be much more robust than the vaccine.

Dr. Mercola, Is your staff working on an article to address the UK Public Health Technical Bulletin #19? Latest UK Data: Vaccinated People 3-times More Likely To Die From Delta Variant Than Unvaccinated - A report published Friday by the UK government agency Public Health England reveals individuals who received a COVID-19 vaccine are more than three times more likely to die from the Delta variant than unvaccinated people. newsrescue.com/latest-uk-data-vaccinated-people-3-times-more-likely-to..

OK, now let's go to Technical Bulletin 19 to be certain this is really what has been reported. And indeed, on page 19 of the report, we read about the Delta cases. "Received 2 doses" 28,773 cases. "Unvaccinated" 121,402. Scrolling to the end of the table, "Deaths within 28 days of the positive specimen date". "Received 2 doses" 224 deaths. "Unvaccinated" 165 deaths. What the U.K. government did not do was the statistics. What are the chances of dying with the vaccine vs. unvaccinated? Received 2 doses: $224/28,773$, 0.779%. Unvaccinated: $165/121,402$, 0.136%. In other words, you are 5.7 times less likely to die from the Delta variant if you DON'T get vaccinated. 7,785 per million vaccinated, 5.7 x's more. 1,359 per million unvaccinated, 83% less.

Interesting how reporters can't do good math. It is not 3 times more likely to die, it's almost 6 times more likely to die vaccinated. Or 83% less likely if not vaccinated. Now, shouldn't this be headline news? assets.publishing.service.gov.uk/government/uploads/system/uploads/att..

With all due respect, Gaza is not occupied by Israel. They unilaterally withdrew in 2005 and uprooted 10,000 Jews because any Palestinian territory must be Jew Free to please the antisemitic Muslims. The Palestinians elected Hamas in 2007 and right in their charter it calls for genocide of the Jews. Hamas deliberately embeds their rockets among Palestinians and uses civilians as human shields and Israel bends over backwards to avoid civilian casualties. Including text messages to every cell phone and knock knock bombs which go off on a roof to give hours of warning to get out. Israelis on the other hand have 15 or 20 seconds to get to bomb shelters. In the most recent election 4 Arabs were elected to the Knesset and are part of the coalition forming the current government. An Arab sits on the supreme court. There are 2 million Arabs in Israel proper with citizenship and voting rights. Egypt also blockages Gaza along with Israel because Hamas is a bad neighbor and foments terrorism and violence. So please stop with the apartheid nonsense. It really wasn't necessary to include that in a segment about Covid. I know Israel is far from perfect and I certainly don't like all the fascist policies being employed there, but to just gloss over the fact that Palestinians elected a Genocidal organization is poor journalism. The Palestinians in Gaza are victims of their own stupidity.

Ghaza is not occupied by Israel, it is an independent Hamas run place ever since Sharon pulled Israel out of there in 2003, I think it was 2003. Since then Ghaza has become a cesspit of corruption, violence and deceit, and it is mainly hurting the population of Ghaza whilst its charter is dedicated to the destruction of Israel. Israel bombs Ghaza in response to rockets that are fired by the Hamas authority, and other terrorist organisations, at towns in Israel, with the specific aim of killing as many Jewish Israeli civilians as possible. Israel targets the locations from which the rockets are launched, often in heavily populated areas. Hamas uses its population as human targets in order to garner sympathy from the world audience, which is being misled by statements like the ones in this broadcast. The blame for Ghazan casualties lies squarely with Hamas, Islamic Jihad and the other terrorist organisations that operate freely in Ghaza. The Arabs of Ghaza have only their own rulers to blame, who are perpetrating child abuse and massive human rights violations. The money they receive from the EU, Qatar, Iran and others is not used to improve infrastructure, or living standards, or housing, or education and health facilities. No, it is used for building weapons, digging tunnels and underground safe havens for the rulers, and for sequestering into private accounts by the rulers in banks in Switzerland and the Gulf states. But maybe the most egregious use of this funding is for educating children to hate Jews, to hate Israel, and the justify their use of murderous violence against the Jews of Israel. The literature that they produce for schools is horrific. Find it and see for yourself and then decide what's what.

Vladimira

How come Hamas did not fire any rockets under Trump? Hamas is obviously a fake entity funded by the USA to create the problem that requires a solution. Most Islamic terrorist organizations are created and funded by the USA. Of course, under Israel's guidance. Trump refused to fund them during his term and this is why they disappeared. It is a scam for money, as armed conflicts are very profitable. You believe too much in official narratives. Underneath it all Israel is doing it and lying to its own citizens. All for the love of money. It is a business model.

Posted On 08/03/2021

GabriellaK

Vladimira, You appear to have false information. Under Trump there were plenty of rockets, of course not reported by mainstream media. However, the Ghazans mainly used incendiary balloons and kites with fire bombs attached, which caused untold damage to life, homes, farms and farmland, and to nature reserves, where many wild animals were killed by the fires. Not to mention the smoke from the fires which add to global warming. Your statement "all for the love of money" is, in effect, a declaration of anti-semitism. This claim about Jews being in love with money is as old as the hills. It derives from a false narrative started by the Roman Christians all those many years ago. It is diabolical to still be using this old trope. Shame on you. Of course it is very convenient to always blame Israel. God forbid that the Palestinians should ever examine their own motives and actions.

Posted On 08/03/2021

Vladimira

I don't believe most media anyway, mainstream or not. Who knows whether the report is true anyway. It might be the usual lies from the very, very biased and corrupt media. This conflict would not exist unless it was profitable for some parties. Profit, profit, profit, yes this is the motive. So you are telling me that there were so many rocket attacks during the Trump era and somehow miraculously Israel chose not to retaliate? Lies, lies, and more lies. Who could possibly believe in such ridiculous narratives?

Posted On 08/03/2021

GabriellaK

Vladimira, You do not seem to understand what this conflict is about. It has nothing to do with money, although the Arabs of Ghaza do quite nicely out of it, with all the free money they get from the EU, Qatar etc.. It has to do with needing a safe haven for Jewish people in a country of their own. The country was established much like others, e.g. the USA, New Zealand, Australia, were created. Before the British Mandate the land was ruled by the Ottoman (Turkish) empire. Many of the Arabs who live in Israel now migrated from Syria, Jordan and other Arab countries in search of work which the Jewish people provided as the country was being developed. The main problem now, but one which is gradually being resolved, is whether Arabs can accept the existence of a Jewish state and Jewish people living there. The main problem is that Muslims believe that once a land has been "Muslim" it must forever remain "Muslim", that is, occupied by Muslims and only Muslims. Anti Semitism is rife in the Arab world. It is not exclusive to the "Western" world.

By the way, none of what I have written is lies, only you choose to think it is lies because it suits your narrative. I live in Israel and I do not rely on any news media - I rely on personal reports and what my eyes see and my ears hear. Yes, rocket fire from Ghaza is met by our Iron Dome protection system, and like I already wrote, during a period when Hamas had less access to the materials from which to build rockets, they concentrated on incendiary devices and burnt massive tracts of land. Why? Out of sheer hatred.

Trump did not see it fit to provide Hamas with funds that were meant for the benefit of the populace, but were being mis-used for building rockets and firearms. That is not a good use for the US taxpayers' money. Anyway, in this day and age, how can you justify rockets being lobbed at civilians anywhere?

Please read the full articles, not just some cherry-picked quotes taken out of context. The UK and Israel are basically running out of unvaccinated people. Here's the conclusion of the ZOE study: "In the UK, new cases in vaccinated people are still going up and will soon outpace unvaccinated cases. This is probably because we're running out of unvaccinated susceptible people to infect as more and more people get the vaccine. Whilst the figures look worrying, it's important to highlight that vaccines have massively reduced severe infections and post-vaccination COVID is a much milder disease for most people. The main concern is now the risk of Long COVID.”

And source #2 re Israel: “ In protecting against infection, Pfizer vaccines are 95% effective for the alpha variant but only 64% effective for the delta variant. In preventing symptomatic COVID-19 cases, Pfizer vaccines are 97% effective for the alpha variant but only 64% effective for the delta variant. In preventing hospitalization and serious disease, Pfizer vaccines are 97.5% effective for the alpha variant and still 93% effective for the delta variant. [...] The more vaccinated a population, the more we’ll hear of the vaccinated getting infected,” she said. And Israel has one of the most vaccinated populations in the world. About 60% of the nation’s entire population of 9.3 million has received at least one vaccine dose, reported Reuters. Among adults, about 85% have been vaccinated which means that Israel’s vaccinated community is five times larger than its unvaccinated community.” Because Delta is much more infectious than previous variants, it is almost exclusively unvaccinated that go to hospital and die - wherever there are larger populations with low vaccination rates as in many areas in the US. Vaccinated people get sick as well, genally have only mild symptoms, if any, and only very few end up in the hospital or die. Get the whole stories, not just what Dr. Mercola wants you to know.

jileha, Is the Delta (India) variant causing major fatalities? I notice that our UK MSM only quotes infection rates now which makes me highly suspicious. My upstairs neighbour's family (unvaccinated, all healthy, low weight)) appeared to come down with the delta variant - two work in hospitality, and it lasted about 3 days and then they were ok. I didn't know at the time, but similarly came down with headache, very sore throat and running nose, took Quercetin and zinc sulphate asap twice that day (as well as D3 etc) and had just very mild symptoms next day, fading over a couple of days. It would be cool to have been tested but who can trust the tests? TBH since changing to low carb diet for CFS, increasing sat fat intake, and using supplements. I've not had flu since more than ten years. I'm 76. Is it really that simple?

None of that has any bearing on the basics, i.e. that SARS-CoV-2 was not the black death, that there was no 18 month long emergency, that there were treatments that were officially suppressed, and that the virus did not warrant the destruction of the West, including the advent of medical tyranny. Destroying the fruits of the Enlightenment for milder symptoms is insane.

You are the type of cowardly imbecile who thinks risking healthy children's long term overall and immune health to protect those who would have died anyway because of serious underlying conditions is ethical. Where has it ever been claimed that the Delta variant actually causes more severe illness? What are you? A fat weakling with one foot already in the grave or a big pharma schill. You are the one who will go to the hospital and die first because you obviously are incapable of looking after your own health. Absolutely disgusting how many cowardly people like you are incapable of taking any responsibility for their own poor health and at some point we all die of one thing or another. Some sooner than others if they don't look after their overall health. Risking the health of billions to supposedly protect millions of vulnerable/unhealthy is an insane concept and completely illogical. Read up on the Cutter polio vaccine incident, so that you can try to comprehend how dangerous vaccines can be. And from what I have seen the lockdown measures, vaccines, masks, stress, fear, dangerous hospital treatments and forced neglect at nursing homes are designed to eliminate the vulnerable.

@britcarguy As you can see, there is no need to remove my post. The people here are too fare gone to realize that the two main articles Dr M bases his arguments on actually fully contradict his arguments. Dr M knows exactly that they don't bother reading the entire articles, have abandoned any logical thinking which would make it obvious that most of their bizarre theories are simply impossible - e.g. hundreds of thousands of doctors and nurses in every single country of the world colluding and coordinating their actions and statements to falsify numbers or even intentionally killing their patients - and instead resort to name calling. In this group, I carry the name "moron" as a badge of honor. I was probably wrong to think that some might actually read the articles and consider what they are actually saying, not the spin Dr M gives them. But hey, I tried, and maybe there are some that did read the articles, are considering what they and the numbers are actually saying and just don't dare to comment in this echo chamber.

@bee70578 Yes, the Delta variant is causing major fatalities when you use this term to describe agonizing deaths after often weeks on a ventilator of younger and younger people. Over 99% of the people still dying from COVID in the US are the unvaccinated, and there are still too many of them. A lot of hospitals are running out of ICU beds again, so people with other kind of emergencies might die due to that. And a lot of dying and very sick unvaccinated people have said that they wished they had taken "the damn vaccine" instead of suffering and leaving their spouses and young children without a husband or wife and parent. They were believing all the lies that COVID was a hoax, that they were young and healthy and their immune system would protect them, etc. Famous last thoughts... This is the most frustrating thing: that these current deaths are - with very few exceptions (<1%) - completely avoidable.

Jileha. Stop spouting nonsense. What exactly is the treatment for COVID in hospital? I can guarantee everything they do (and don't do) will dehydrate the patient and either kill them or put them on a ventilator. I can also guarantee that these people were not healthy to begin with. People are free to make their own choices, but personally I think any supposed COVID fatalities would have stood a much better chance of survival at home. I think it is slightly more alarming when Public health units and the CDC greatly exaggerate COVID as the actual cause of death when these patients had other infections like pneumonia, heart and lung diseases, obesity, etc.

Posted On 08/03/2021

Vladimira

You don't use a ventilator on a respiratory infection. Blows up the lungs and kills the patient. It is a horrifying death. Even the lowest nurse knows that. Medical professionals today are order followers. They are given protocols and as dumb and uncaring most of them are they don't question anything and just mindlessly follow the protocol, even if the protocol will lead to certain death. Yes, most of them are there for the money. If a death happened in a hospital, it is always suspect as murder. It is the same as the cancer scam. Exactly the same. When you hear that a person died three weeks after diagnosis of cancer, you immediately know that they died from the treatment, not the cancer. If they were never diagnosed and nature was left alone, they would have needed much longer to die. Please do vaccinate yourself extensively it is obviously good for you and us.

Posted On 08/03/2021

@Usher12> I think it is slightly more alarming when Public health units and the CDC greatly exaggerate COVID as the actual cause of death when these patients had other infections like pneumonia, heart and lung diseases, obesity, etc. But you don't find it equally alarming that people exclude other causes of death "like pneumonia, heart and lung disease, obesity, etc." when few people (6000 out of 346 million, 0.0017% vs. 1.77% of infected people die) die after receiving the vaccination, with no doctor required to sign off on these deaths as vaccine-related? These numbers of cases, which can be reported by anyone - no medical training or experience necessary, a hunch will do -, officially include all coincidental side effects and deaths to make sure that all even remotely potential vaccine-injuries are followed up upon. In fact, people are encouraged to report everything, even if they doubt a connection to the vaccine: "Please report clinically important adverse events that occur after vaccination of adults and children, even if you are not sure whether the vaccine caused the adverse event." vaers.hhs.gov/reportevent.html

In contrast to that, all officially COVID-related deaths are reported by trained and experienced physicians. The same skewed argument for the percentage of deaths: 1.77% death among all infected people is OK because they have pre-existing conditions that according to you are the actual cause, but 0.0017% is not OK because you conveniently exclude pre-existing conditions and sheer coincidence as cause? And the vaccination is not just about preventing deaths. A lot of people spend agonizing weeks or even months in the hospital without dying, but their health completely ruined, maybe needing organ transplants. There is the growing number of "long haulers", which also include people that were completely asymptomatic. There are lots of people left with staggering hospital and doctor bills.

In regards doctors colluding the globe over doing the wrong thing and murdering patients, yes, absolutely, they have done it for decades. Look at the garbage cancer treatments, statins, arthritis drugs (arthritis can be cheaply and easily cured with boron), the childbirth business is a complete scam and so forth. At one point in the past it was fashionable to remove tonsils and appendixes. Whole generations were butchered. If you ask most older Americans they have no tonsils. Yes, it was all for profit. This is the rule, not the exception. Unfortunately, most of this profession is a scam, including the trauma business. Very few doctors have the integrity and skill to treat trauma properly. Most don't care.

Here some numbers of the actual breakthrough cases in the US : The data reported from these states indicate that breakthrough cases, hospitalizations, and deaths are extremely rare events among those who are fully vaccinated against COVID-19 (see Figure 1). The rate of breakthrough cases reported among those fully vaccinated is well below 1% in all reporting states, ranging from 0.01% in Connecticut to 0.29% in Alaska. The hospitalization rate among fully vaccinated people with COVID-19 ranged from effectively zero (0.00%) in California, Delaware, D.C., Indiana, New Jersey, New Mexico, Vermont, and Virginia to 0.06% in Arkansas. (Note: Hospitalization may or may not have been due to COVID-19.)

The rates of death among fully vaccinated people with COVID-19 were even lower, effectively zero (0.00%) in all but two reporting states, Arkansas and Michigan where they were 0.01%. (Note: Deaths may or may not have been due to COVID-19.) Source: kff.org <https://www.kff.org/covid-19/quick-facts/fully-vaccinated-people-are-less-likely-to-be-hospitalized-or-die-from-covid-19/>

There is also a table with the numbers of vaccinated vs. unvaccinated cases. A lot of people in this forum like to make fun of the "mislead sheep". As someone suffering from chronic Lyme disease with years of misdiagnoses and lack of adequate treatment (and well over $100,000 out of pocket costs), I can assure you that I have a lot of scepticism when it comes to allopathic medicine, and if I were not convinced of the merits of alternative approaches I would never have joined this site. But if you believe everything you read on this site without questioning it, without doing your own research across numerous sources from both sides and not even bothering to read the sources Dr M uses for his rather dubious conclusions (have you not noticed how often he and others here use questions like "Could it not be that ...?", avoiding to make clear statements, planting seeds in people's minds and leaving ample room for more "creative" minds to fill in the blanks?), you are the sheep!

jileha You do realize that according to the CDC that 95-100% of all COVID deaths have co-morbidities, such as pneumonia and influenza, diabetes, hypertension, Alzheimer disease and sepsis. You can be sure that 100% of the people who died were unhealthy and that the hospital did their best to poison them with dangerous drugs, dehydrate and malnourish them. What a load of BS that the reporting system accurately captures all adverse reactions and deaths due to the COVID vaccine.

You know the reason why you have chronic Lyme is all the lovely conventional vaccines you have received. And you want even more autoimmune problems from the mRNA jab? I think the Lyme has damaged your brain cells. I have a dog who had Lyme and I cured him with nutrition, hydration and herbal medicine and it cost me less than $1,000. He never would have been susceptible to Lyme in the first place if he had not received his puppy vaccines (not my choice). Unlike you, I take responsibility for my own health and that of my family. Who said I believe everything on this site? It sure beats the media and medical morons with their COVID fear mongering though. Look at Sweden, they have much much lower vaccination rates and few wear the unhealthy masks:

They are doing much better than other countries in terms of COVID.

Except don't those who are unvaccinated stand a vastly greater chance of being hospitalized with severe symptoms or dying compared to those who have been vaccinated? Personally, I would much rather have had the vaccine rather than expose myself to a much higher risk of severe illness or death. How about you?

mittaj...you just don't get it, do you.

Mitaj actually does get it! And putting aside the issue of severity of illness, the text compares apples with oranges. The number of vaccinated (fully or partially) in the UK is much larger than the number of unvaccinated people, so of course the breakthrough cases would be eventually more among the vaccinated (with symptoms or not) than the unvaccinated, because the pool of the unvaccinated is getting smaller and smaller. This is simple algebra! The ratio of the numbers Dr. M cites is 0.88 (15,537 fully or partially vaccinated people who are symptomatic vs. 17,581 unvaccinated symptomatic as of July 15). However, as of August 1, 88.6% of UK people have received one or two doses (about 46.9 million), and 11.4% have not received any dose (about 6 million people). The ratio of these numbers is about 7.8 !!! Compare this ratio with the above 0.88 - it is about 8.9 larger! That is, unvaccinated people are possibly symptomatic at a rate of close to 9 times greater than the partially or fully vaccinated. In other words, to say that the vaccines don't make a difference, we will have to have 9 times more fully or partially vaccinated people who got the delta variant compared with the unvaccinated who got it. To talk about vaccinated sick "overtaking" the unvaccinated sick, more than 9 times of a difference in numbers has to develop in the coming days. Let's see if this will really happen. And we have not even talked about severity of illness here. So, please, do not cherry pick and throw numbers around without proper statistical context (i.e., simple math).

Also, even with 95% effectiveness of the vaccines (less for Astra Zeneca), 5% of the fully vaccinated might eventually test positive, with symptoms or not. Simple math again - 72.7% are fully vaccinated as of August 1 (about 38.5 million), of which 5% are close to 2 million people (severity still not discussed).

And who did the counting of this? And how do you diagnose Covid?

Look at the vaccinated. OK, so you get jabbed and you THINK you are now bulletproof. However, consider one thing. What about the components of the, say, Pfizer "vaccine". What are you going to praise about the vaccine if you find out it contains 99% graphene oxide????? What if you've given yourself a great chance for a miserable end-of-life sickness? Let's face it. The Deep State scientists are pretty dimwitted if they think other scientists that are honest won't notice what these vaccines are composed of. The DeepStaters main weapon is pure, unadulterated propaganda! Pure garbage! All done with the blessings of our worthless media.

I hate to say it, but Democratic governors are showing their extreme taint, just look at Newsom, Whitmer, Dewine, and Lamont. Totally power drunk, worthy of being recalled. Why do we tolerate these Neanderthals, anyway? Many have wrecked their states' economies. Of course, they are exonerated of their total responsibilities for wrecking their economies. Why do we cut them slack anyway?

Hi mittaj, Well, it's not a vaccine, and it's not licensed as such for covid-19 according to the Moderna disclaimer.

Sorry, Mittaj and Meneva, but you stand a much higher chance of severe illness and death after having the so called vaccine. The only thing is that you can be sure that the cause of death in the vaccinated will conveniently not be counted as either a COVID or vaccine related death by the powers that be. And you can be sure that the deaths of unvaccinated individuals with serious underlying terminal conditions or victims of hospital malpractice will be erroneously attributed to COVID. Stop quoting distorted and manipulated statistics which exaggerate the danger of COVID.

mittaj..... read the real statistics.... Besides only .003% of people died from this covid ever. So, it was easy for the jab givers to take credit for a low instance of death, there never was any awful rate of death. That 500,000 or so wasn't ever people dying from covid, that was people dying of being old, being fat and diabetic and asthma, being in a accident and catching covid in the hospital. All the kids who died "from covid" also had leukemia.
