

Gender Transition Surgery: Dreams Turned to Nightmares

STORY AT-A-GLANCE

- › Children are increasingly lured into “gender-affirming” hormone therapy and sex reassignment surgeries, are never given appropriate informed consent, and they have no idea what they’re getting themselves into. Many adults even underestimate how difficult and painful it will be
- › All it takes for a young girl to start the gender transition process to become a boy is a letter of support from a therapist. Typically, the therapist will write a letter of support after just one or two visits. Next, she’ll be sent to an endocrinologist who, after a single visit, will prescribe her testosterone
- › Some gender transition centers don’t even require any kind of mental health assessment, and several Planned Parenthood clinics are apparently handing out hormone replacement therapy (HRT) prescriptions on the first visit
- › While some pro-trans advocates insist HRT is harmless and reversible once you quit taking the hormones, this simply isn’t true. The effects of testosterone on a girl can be both profound and permanent, and can be seen within a matter of months
- › The transgender movement is a stepping stone in the transhumanist agenda. Ultimately, the goal is to get rid of flesh and blood bodies altogether and have our existence either within a synthetic body or as disembodied avatar in cyberspace, or both. Turning humanity into misgendered people incapable of natural reproduction is merely a first step in that direction

In the video above, WhatsHerFace Entertainment dives into the “unspoken reality of transgender sexual reassignment surgery and all of the pain, regret and horrors it entails.”

Most clear-headed adults would realize that surgically and chemically altering your anatomy from male to female, or female to male, is a complex and painful process. The problem is that it’s typically not level-headed adults making the decision to undergo gender reassignment. It’s primarily children who are being pushed into it, and they have no idea what they’re getting themselves into. Many adults don’t even realize how difficult and painful it will be.

As reported by WhatsHerFace, all it takes for a young girl to start the gender transition process to become a boy is a letter of support from a therapist. Typically, the therapist will write a letter of support after just one or two visits. Next, she’ll be sent to an endocrinologist who, after a single visit, will prescribe her testosterone.

While that’s alarmingly lax enough, some gender transition centers have cut through even that tiny bit of red tape. Some don’t require any kind of mental health assessment, and a number of Planned Parenthood clinics are apparently handing out hormone replacement therapy (HRT) prescriptions on the first visit.

Hormone Replacement Therapy (HRT) Is Not Harmless

While some pro-trans advocates insist that HRT is harmless and completely reversible once you quit taking the hormones, this simply isn’t true.¹ As reported by WhatsHerFace, the effects of testosterone on a girl can be both profound and permanent and can be seen within a matter of months. Effects of high-dose testosterone treatment include:

Voice deepening

Facial hair growth

Hair loss, receding hairline, balding

Increased libido

Sexual dysfunction

Increased aggression and unpredictable moods

Sterility

Enlargement of clitoris

Vaginal atrophy

As noted by Cleveland Clinic,² many of these changes persist even if you completely stop taking testosterone. Can a child or teenager fully comprehend what sterility might mean to them later in life? I don't think so. I also don't think they can comprehend how other physical and emotional changes might affect them, such as going bald.

Other types of hormone therapy include puberty blockers, which are given to children who have not yet entered puberty. These drugs delay the onset of sex characteristics associated with the gender you were at birth.

What's particularly shocking is that the adults steering them toward gender reassignment don't make it a point to thoroughly inform them about the difficulties they might face. Overall, I don't think children and teens are capable of making the decision to transition, and encouraging or facilitating it really ought to be illegal.

Double-Mastectomies Performed at 15

While you're considered too immature to get a full, unrestricted driver's license until you're 18, and can't drink alcohol until you're 21, "gender-affirming" sex hormone therapy can begin as early as 14,³ girls who think they're boys can get a double-mastectomy at the age of 15, and full sex reassignment surgery is available at age 17 or 18, depending on the procedure, although the World Professional Association for Transgender Health is advocating for surgeries as early as 15.⁴

The Boston Children's Hospital requires you to be 17 to undergo vaginoplasty, where a boy's penis, testicles and scrotum are removed and a vagina is created, and 18 to undergo phalloplasty, the surgical construction of a penis, or metoidioplasty, where testosterone is used to enlarge the clitoris, from which a small penis is then constructed. Prosthetic testicles are also added in both of those cases.

Understanding Female-to-Male Reassignment Surgery

When a biological woman decides to surgically become a man, she'll undergo phalloplasty, which involves taking large sections of skin from her forearms and/or thigh to fashion a penis. As you can see from the images included in WhatsHerFace's video, this will leave a very large unsightly scar on one or both forearms, and while the donation site heals, there's always a risk of infection.

Since the donation site needs to be hairless, electrolysis must first be performed. If electrolysis fails and hair grows back in the donated skin, the trans male may struggle with painful hair growth inside his urethra for the rest of his life.

Trans men who are on testosterone also face gynecological challenges, especially vaginal dryness, and vaginal atrophy, which can be very painful. Pelvic pain and bacterial vaginosis are other commonly reported issues.^{5,6}

Understanding Male-to-Female Reassignment Surgery

During vaginoplasty, which is where a biological male surgically transitions to female, the surgeon will use skin from the patient's scrotum to create a vaginal canal. If additional skin grafts are needed, they'll use skin from the sides of their abdomen.

Before the skin grafts are taken, he must undergo electrolysis on the chosen donor sites. However, electrolysis does not always permanently eliminate hair growth, especially not male hair growth, which tends to be more profuse, and if the hair grows back, the trans male can end up with hair growing in his vaginal canal.

Vaginoplasties aren't always successful, and if they must be redone, a part of the patient's colon will typically be used instead. A downside of this procedure, called colovaginoplasty, is an offensive discharge odor.

After vaginoplasty, the patient must then dilate the vagina on a daily basis. This basically entails stretching (dilating) the vagina using a lubricated dildo to prevent it from sealing shut. Your body basically views this new opening as a wound and will do what it can to heal it. Trans women must do this several times a day for the rest of their lives.

Dreams That Nightmares Are Made Of

Dilation is one of the challenges of male-to-female sex reassignment surgery (SRS) that most people underestimate. Here's one testimony included in WhatsHerFace's video.

"Three months ago, I started this 'dream' (nightmarish hell) that is SRS ... Dilating is Hell, everything is sensitive or sore, my ... leg movements are, while better than before, still pretty limited. I feel constant stinging and burning sensations pretty much around the clock in my crotch area.

This is probably the most suicidal I've ever been since before I actually transitioned. This 'vaginal canal' (which is actually a fing open wound) has given me nothing but grievances and Jesus f am I tired of it.

I've actually been considering asking my surgeon whether or not it's possible to just close this pseudo-vaginal canal or just get rid of it all together. I wish somebody had told me even just a third of what a hellride this was going to be. But nobody did. And now I'm stuck with this nightmare.

I'm pretty much considering just stopping dilation. 'The canal will shrink,' so what? Maintaining it is pretty much keeping my whole ... life prisoner of this thing. While I didn't like what I had before, at all, it still allowed me freedom ... For comparison, this shit is like going from parole straight into solitary confinement."

Sure, you might think, but that's just recovery. Eventually, all will be well. Maybe, maybe not. Here are the words of a trans female who is still struggling three years after her vaginoplasty.

"Suicidal thoughts. Three years post-op SRS and still having discharge and pain ... I had SRS in 2016, August ... and I'm experiencing discharge and pain again from my neovagina after it had gone away for two years. Orgasming is very difficult these days and when I do I feel less than half of what I used to feel down there.

I am normally a very strong person who doesn't easily give up but over the last couple of weeks I find myself crying myself asleep almost every night. Wondering why I had to get this surgery.

Since the surgery I haven't dated anyone and everyone I have been on a date with turned me down diplomatically when I came out and discussed that I have a neovagina. I'm not saying no one should get this surgery and I'm sure there are people who have amazing results but far too often I hear that people experience complications from SRS.

I find life very draining these days. I have to clean my vagina with isobetadine to keep smell away and to keep the discharge at bay. I have to dilate once a day still. I should have thought things more carefully through. I thought SRS was a wonderful end point to a difficult journey. It opened up a whole other can of worms.

I could have just had anal sex and left my genitals alone and maybe have the testicles removed. Doing something so taxing as having the tissues inverted turned out to be such a bad idea. I wish I could just have the vagina closed up at this point. I don't see myself ever having sex again either way. I know I should be grateful for having had a surgery of 22,000 CAD paid for by the government. But I feel lied to. I feel so stupid."

Parents Are Removed From the Equation

Consider those words, and then consider that pro-trans ideology is now being openly taught in kindergarten through high school across the U.S. Children are being brainwashed into thinking they can choose their own gender and that it's as easy to switch genders as it is to switch clothes. It's not.

Yet, the horrors of SRS are being so well hidden that neither parents nor their trans children understand what's in store, both in the short and long term. While there are cases where everything goes right and the boy or girl finally feels "complete" after SRS,⁷ there seem to be far more cases where they end up even more miserable.

What's worse, some states, like Washington, are considering laws that severely infringe on parent's rights to be involved in their child's decision to transition. For example, as reported by ZeroHedge:⁸

"April 12 [2023], House lawmakers debated Senate Bill 5599,⁹ which creates an exemption for the state that grants it the right to not be required to notify parents of minors who have left their homes because their parents wouldn't let them pursue gender transition medical procedures ...

Republican state Rep. Chris Corry said the bill 'erodes parental rights in the state of Washington.' 'Essentially what the bill would do would be if a child left a parents' home for certain medical care and went to a shelter or host family, that shelter or host family would not be required to notify the parents of their child's whereabouts,' Corry said.

'This is obviously a fundamental violation of parental rights and something that's deeply concerning for parents across Washington state.' State Rep. Peter Abbarno, a Republican, said the crux of the debate over the bill was whether the state be permitted to 'essentially hide where the child is.'

Most parents, Corry said, would 'go to the ends of the earth to find their child' if they disappeared after an argument. 'And the fact that we have a bill that may become law that would say, 'we're not going to tell you,' was really just a bridge too far for us,' Corry said.

Corry told The Epoch Times that, under the bill, a disagreement between a child and parents over the child's desire for a medical transition constitutes 'abuse and neglect,' only because the parent hasn't 'properly affirmed what the child wants.'

Corry said there are already laws that protect children from abuse and neglect in the state that require 'solid and compelling reasons' why children would need to be removed from their homes. 'What's frustrating is even in those cases, the parents still have a right to know where their kids are after they've been removed,' Corry said. 'In this case, parents would have no idea.'"

Rapid-Onset Gender Dysphoria: A Social Contagion

According to the World Professional Association for Transgender Health, data from Western countries suggest gender dysphoria is now at 8% among children,¹⁰ compared to just a fraction of a percent among older adults.¹¹

Kids who question their gender but aren't good candidates for permanent transitioning may be as high as 1 in 5!¹² In the U.S., research suggests 5% of 18- to 29-year-olds identify as trans, compared to 1.6% of 30- to 49-year-olds and only 0.3%

of those 50 and older.¹³

How is this even possible? How is it that so many young people are suddenly gender confused? Social pressure appears to have a lot to do with it, and that includes pressure from adults, such as school teachers. But widespread trauma may also play a role.

According to a 2018 transgender identity study¹⁴ described in Psychology Today,¹⁵ “rapid-onset gender dysphoria” (ROGD) “appears to be a novel condition that emerges from cohort and contagion effects and novel social pressures.”

As such, its etiology and epidemiology is distinct from conventional gender dysphoria described in the Diagnostic and Statistical Manual of Mental Disorders (DSM). Remarkably, 80% of the teens identifying as transgender were girls identifying as boys.

Not surprisingly for those of us who understand how the internet is being used to manipulate impressionable minds, 63.5% of parents reported that shortly before their child announced they were trans, they’d noticed a marked increase in social media consumption. In particular, parents had noticed their child was following popular YouTubers who discussed their transition.

Signs of Indoctrination

Among the many surprises discovered in that study, the investigator, Dr. Lisa Littman, a behavioral scientist at Brown University, found that one of the many beliefs espoused by these trans teens was that anyone who isn’t specifically transgendered is “evil,” including gays and lesbians. As reported by Psychology Today:¹⁶

“Parents further reported being derogatorily called ‘breeders’ by their children, or being routinely harassed by children who played ‘pronoun-police.’ The observation that they no longer recognized their child’s voice came up time and again in parental reports.

In turn, the eerie similarity between the youth's discourse and trans-positive online content was repeatedly emphasized. Youth were described as 'sounding scripted,' 'reading from a script,' 'wooden,' 'like a form letter,' 'verbatim,' 'word for word,' or 'practically copy and paste.'"

To me, the fact that trans teens sound like carbon-copies of each other is a sign of indoctrination. A script has been unleashed, and trans activists are repeating that script with the aim of indoctrinating its audience. We saw the same thing happen during COVID. Mainstream media repeated the script of the official COVID narrative, word for word, day in and day out. Repetition — that's how you indoctrinate people.

Now, we also have the added pressures of corporations that view the trans agenda as a cash cow (although most who have gone that route are finding out the hard way that trans is still a tiny minority of their customer base, and the rest are not willing to encourage the fomentation of a mental health problem).

Even if corporate CEOs aren't gung-ho about the trans agenda, many are lured in that direction because they want to optimize their corporate equality index (CEI).

Is Transgenderism a Maladapted Collective Stress Response?

That said, Littman hypothesized that ROGD may be a maladaptive coping mechanism for other underlying mental health issues or trauma. In essence, it may be a form of maladapted collective stress response. Psychology Today wrote:¹⁷

"It is clear from Littman's study that the rise of rapid-onset gender dysphoria, which seems to predominantly involve natal females, points to a complex web of social pressures, changing cultural norms, and new modes of distress and coping that warrant further investigation. For parents, educators, and clinicians alike, caution is warranted in dealing with this growing

Cui Bono?

So, who benefits from this maladaptive groupthink? Primarily, that would be hospitals, doctors and surgeons conducting gender reassignment surgeries, and, of course, Big Pharma. The cost for a complete sex change costs, on average, $132,000, but can run as high as $200,000 to $300,000 by the time everything is said and done.

Dr. Robert Malone¹⁸ recently calculated it would cost $102 billion to transition the current cohort of young adults (a total of 2.58 million kids, teens, and young adults between the ages of 10 and 24) who believe they're trans. Right now, that's an untapped market, and it's quite clear the health care industry is chomping at the bit to get it going.

At present, insurance companies do not have to cover the cost of sex reassignment surgery, but that could soon change, as the Affordable Care Act website is actively encouraging trans people to sue for unlawful sex discrimination.¹⁹

What's Behind the Trans Agenda?

In closing, it's worth noting that many of the same people who attacked circumcision and fought against body shaming are now promoting transgenderism, which seems to be dehumanizing to the point of self-mutilation.

In the video above, self-proclaimed feminist and investigative journalist Jennifer Bilek discusses the forces behind the trans movement and “gender-affirming medical care” for children.

In short, it's a stepping stone in the transhumanist agenda. Ultimately, the goal is to get rid of flesh and blood bodies altogether and have our existence either within a synthetic body or as disembodied avatar in cyberspace, or both.

Turning humanity into misgendered people incapable of natural reproduction is merely a first step in that direction. Next comes the melding of man with machine and artificial intelligence. Over time, the flesh and blood part of humans will be reduced while the synthetic parts will increase.

“ They want the younger generations to get comfortable with the transhumanist idea that gender is fluid and based on how you feel, rather than what you are, as well as the idea that you shouldn’t want to reproduce, because human reproduction will be outsourced to the tech industry.”

As explained by Bilek, the trans ideology promotes the idea that you can choose your gender, even though that is a biological impossibility, because that’s a steppingstone to the grander ideology that you can exist without a body altogether, in cyberspace, where you can be whomever you want.

They want the younger generations to get comfortable with the idea that gender is fluid and based on how you feel, rather than what you are, as well as the idea that you shouldn’t want to reproduce, because human reproduction will be outsourced to the tech industry.

Over the past decade, Bilek notes, the trans argument has gone from “some people are born in the wrong body,” to simply advocating for the right to augment yourself in whatever way you see fit, to add or strip yourself of whatever appendages you don’t want. According to Bilek, it’s a fetish-based cult, and seemingly rational people are buying into it, not understanding what it’s all about.

I believe the transgender movement poses a severe threat to mental, emotional and physical health, and must be counteracted by level-headed discourse. How can anyone say they're concerned about children's health and welfare while simultaneously promoting irreversible surgeries that will pose lifelong risks to their health and render many of them sterile?

It's one thing to change a child's pronouns. It's another to cut off their breasts and penises just because they say they feel at odds with their – for now – elected gender. The very idea that a child should be allowed to decide with such lifelong implications as mutilating their sex organs is incomprehensibly negligent.

And when you consider the hidden motive behind this movement, it reinforces the anti-human, anti-humane nature of it, because children, who are our future, are being physically and psychologically sacrificed to further an ideology that seeks to destroy the human species and turn it into something it's not.

What is this idiotic "the gender you were assigned at birth."? You are NOT "assigned" a gender, you ARE a gender! And gender, or sex, is in the chromosomes of every single one of your trillions of complete cells. It is IMPOSSIBLE TO CHANGE GENDER, and to believe otherwise is pure delusion! All someone can do is mutilate their body and PRETEND it is different. And, by the way, when a man cuts off his balls, he is NOT a woman, he is a EUNUCH. All those people have been lied to, they are profoundly confused, and they need mental health treatment, not delusional surgeries!

Not all births show distinct male or female genitalia, so this proves not all humans ARE a particular gender. These children don't necessarily have chromosomes specific to what's normal for a female or male either. In the past, these children were operated on, according to doctors' decisions, probably with parental consent, and assigned a sex in the physical sense. Nowadays this surgery is not performed so the child in adulthood can make their own decisions, if any, on surgery or treatment.

What doctors went to years of medical school so they could be paid to permanently mutilate children? These doctors can't be human and they belong in hell with the perverted drag queens who shove their sexuality in children's faces. My youngest are in high school, but if they were younger I would never allow them to be exposed to such perversion masquerading as "diversity." Parenting is the cure for this madness.

If large corporate farms are still using a gazillion petroleum-based chemicals, several of these known to cause gender changes in frogs, what the heck does their toxic residue do to gestating humans? NO ONE Knows. Never tested, the EPA is totally bought by oil and gas conglomerates. Then add directly more toxins from shots. "They" are clearly after the kids.

I absolutely agree with you! I believe that each individual should be able to live their life as they please, as long as they do not harm anyone else. However, if one wishes to live their life as the opposite gender that they actually are, I do not believe that it is OK to bully or force me to partake in their personal fantasy.

This is beyond sick. I would wager that very few children who are lovingly supported in Nature and community connected families feel so disturbed as to want to mutilate themselves. Kids are vulnerable to suggestion, they are like sponges, they rely on the adults around them to model what is normal. In my view children should not be going unaccompanied online to be exposed to this evil. What is going on is the worst child abuse imaginable.

Most definitely it is ABUSE. If we just let them be KIDS who grow up like you say, we would have very few people who want to change their sex. Social media has RUINED this planet. It is the next to the last nail in our coffin.

Yes the chemical offenders are bad enough but then add on Marketing Messaging similar to the Tobacco Messaging directed at children and young people to convince them they need to mutilate themselves in order to deal with the angst of maturation. Kids are sponges to be filled with nearly everything coming from artificial families, artificial manipulated information, much of it in what are known as captured audiences micromanaging things once macro-managed, and that was bad enough. Joe Camel? Would he/She/either or, both, be promoted as ??????

My 15yo observes that social media is 100% responsible for this epidemic. Kids are lured into organized groups where their insecurities are soothed while gender mutilation is openly encouraged and accepted.

When I was a kid I wanted to be a boy instead of a girl. This was not because I didn't want to be a girl, but because I didn't like standing still while my mother curled my hair, and I didn't like wearing dresses and having to act "lady-like" I am ever so grateful that I wasn't "transitioned". Can you imagine every "Tom-Boy" being sexually transitioned?

How about they let kids be kids. Climb trees. play in the dirt, have tea parties, read books, play with dolls, play with trucks ALL WITH NO REGARD for the type of genitals found between your legs. I was a big time tomboy who wanted to be a boy so that I could play in the dirt and not wear dresses. But now I love being a woman. Still climb trees and play in the dirt (tomboys never die) but watch out world when I wear a dress and heels! (The dresses no longer have that itchy lace around the neckline and that has made all the difference!). Feel INCREDIBLY sad for all these misled kids who have had their innocence stolen and their bodies mutilated. IT COULD HAVE BEEN ME if all this nonsense was around in the 70's. How painful it must be to have hair growing in your urethra. How awful to dilate your surgically created vagina several times a day FOREVER. This is TORTURE. But they hide the truth and they hide those who regret it and want to transition back.

My sister sounds exactly like you! She told me she wished she was a boy, like Bomba The Jungle Boy. She was a tomboy and asked for samurai swords and star knives (plastic of course) for presents. She did ride a motorbike, and used to stir me up for being too girly.. in her opinion. She grew up normally, 100% heterosexual, and is a wife and mother. She told me she eventually liked being a woman.

GoldCoaster, your sister sounds like me. I grew up with two older brothers and no sisters. It would make sense that I might like what society labels as typically boy stuff. I rarely wear dresses and despise makeup and heels. My parents counseled me and said that if I were gay, they'd love me. We didn't really think in terms of gender but more sexual orientation back in the 70s. I am very proud to be a woman. I love men, most particularly the one I've been married to for nearly 25 years. I'm still very much a tomboy but believe me, I'm all woman.

Posted On 05/20/2023

Could of been me too, if it was happening in the 60's. I was climbing trees, catching frogs, pretending I was an Indian, shooting apples off a tree with my bow and arrow, while riding my pony! I hated dresses, Barbie dolls, make-up, and all things girlie. If you'd have asked me at nine or ten, I would of said that I was going to grow up to be a man, not a woman. Men did all the cool stuff. Men ran the world. You would think by 2023 we wouldn't be living with such severe sexual stereotypes, Gender apartheid, really, but if anything it is worse now.

Go to a toy store and try to find a gender-neutral toy to buy a child...even the Lego comes in pink and purple specially for girls. And children's clothing is hopelessly sexualized, both by colour and style, with the girl's clothing being so tight and skimpy as to inhibit free play. No wonder young girls are deciding they would rather be boys....it's the only rational choice the media gives them. Women like me, who dig in the dirt, grow and build things, wear wool shirts and jeans....we aren't exactly celebrated by media culture.

Same here. When I was 4, I used to affix a wash cloth with safety pins to the front and back of my underwear, get my bow, sucker arrows and feather head dress with my chest painted all over with my mother's lipstick. I was Tonto. Next day, out came the lone ranger costume. I wore boys jeans, boys underwear, had my mother cut my hair off, went shirtless and 'shaved' with my father every morning. I mean, I was hard core. My parents rolled their eyes and said the the hospital must have made a mistake! Fast forward 5 years and I had fought [and won] every fight with any boy that would dare push me around.

I tolerated the girls because one of them had Barbie's pink corvette and a Ken doll. While they were arguing over Barbie's high heels I was driving Ken at illegal speeds in the corvette down the sidewalk. A year earlier, at 8 years of age. I had already reached my maximum height of 5'2" and 100 pounds. At 10, puberty hit and I doubt if there was any human being that was suffering like I was. The hatred of my body was so excruciating, I actually asked my mother if I could cut off my breasts - seriously contemplating suicide when she said NO- and I meant it.

Well, one day, a cute boy looked at me in eyes and the switch flipped. That was in the 60's. Looking at what is happening now just boggles the mind. This is just so extreme, it should be obvious to everyone that there are other dimensions at work here that are intent on pushing humanity off the cliff. When you add the toxic soup that our poor brains are cooking in daily, hormone disrupters, autism et al, I feel we have gone too far to be retrieved. I really do.

Sexual stereotypes are imposed mainly by the role models children see around them. Mum usually slaves in the kitchen after a long day in her full time job, then sees to the laundry and the baby care, plus any prep for next day at work, etc etc etc. Hubbie doesn't appear to have inherited the housework gene and prefers on line gaming while the house fairy waves her magic wand to ensure the bins are emptied, the bedlinen changed and the dishwasher refilled. Women's lib was the biggest con since women's suffrage when we thought we were being allowed to vote with real political choices. Our kids always had a wide choice of toys and play opportunities both indoor and outdoor.

There were tomboys even in my day but this didn't seem to last beyond teenage years. Play was mainly outdoors. Epigenetics may have a lot to do with it. My son's first word was "car" and today he is a mechanic. My two year old granddaughter loves to climb and play football but won't go anywhere without her tutu. We didn't have a car and her parents don't wear tutus so must have been more subtle forms of conditioning going on. First time at the local swimming pool she jumped in without fear and was surprised to come floating up again. Sexualised, clothes obsession symbols such as barbie dolls were and are not on the menu. There is enough of them reading the TV news.

Today the great pastime is indoor soft play centres with gymnastics for kids of all ages where mums and dads can supervise. Social interaction at playgroups and kindergarten are important and a welcome development is dad and baby play groups. The most important thing is to let children be children - such a precious, innocent time all too soon goes by. There is no need to taint their minds with carnal knowledge. Only the perverted would think of imposing their aberrations on those too young to judge for themselves. Seems all civilisations nearing imminent collapse engage in moral corruption and rejecting nature.

This is all from the pit of hell,literally. Satan attacks whatever God says and loves. This is what happens when God is removed from everything. People do not know they are made in His image, male and female. Different roles, same value. These doctors who do these surgeries are no different than dr Mengle- they are all Mengels.they should be in jail. And, any adult, whether it's a teacher, therapist whoever lying to these kids are just as bad. Yes, there is always been a few who had gender dysphoria, 90% would grow out of. You can't even rent a car until you are 25 because that is when the brain is fully developed- yet, you can have these life altering drugs and surgeries? Lord have mercy on the children

I call it brainwashing by the $29 billion rich Pritzker family, and Big Pharma and Tech Giants. They are All-In for Transgender push for Big profits $$$$$. There doesn't seem to be a sphere of influence that is untouched by Pritzker money, from early childhood education and universities to law, medical institutions, the LGBT lobby and organizations, politics, and the military. If they were the only ones funding the institutionalization of transgender ideology they would still be fantastically influential, but they are joined by other exceedingly wealthy, influential white men, who also have ties to the pharmaceutical and medical industries.

Good point mentioning the Pritzkers, Pete. I live in Illinois. Governor, JB Pritzker, is disappointing. So is his trans relative who strongly supports this sick movement by sponsoring the building of hospital wings for trans children recovering from their mutilating surgeries. Mankind is stooping to new lows.

Funny how the US, UK and Australia are becoming a carbon copy of each other in this regard. We now have drag queens reading stories to young children in libraries. Why not the librarian? A stink was kicked up in some municipalities so our premier had one come in and read childrens stories in parliament. I call it grooming.

I think it was to educate children in diversity and acceptance, actually. Not to groom them into wanting to be drag queens. It would be confronting and confusing for the kids though, and not necessary. But kids see these people all the time on TV, especially around the annual Gay Mardi Gras festival time.

Currently, human beings dump tons of gender-bending chemicals into the environment, and these chemicals expose children to toxic substances, particularly xenoestrogens, from the moment of conception. Norm Rosenthal in his book EMOTIONAL INTELLIGENCE states that female fetuses, when exposed to fake estrogens, ironically develop masculine brains perhaps because the fake estrogens block the real hormone. That's why DES daughters developed masculine characteristics. Is it any wonder that so many kids don't feel comfortable with their own gender, after they've been "bent" by the toxins in the environment? I have a number of trans friends, and their decision was not based on being influenced by social media.

They knew in their hearts that they didn't feel inside like a female, although it was impossible for them to explain it to me, since what does that mean? No amount of outside influence is going to make me feel differently inside, just as none of my gay friends are going to feel straight, no matter how much their parents push them to change. Recent research also points to stress hormones during pregnancy affecting the sexuality of the developing baby. After the older generation has poisoned the earth, is it any wonder that their children are paying the price?

YES, Thank you for bringing this up. A little known fact: Lyme disease is a bioweapon from the Cold War era from genetic experimentation on bacteria carried by ticks. One of the symptoms is gender dysphoria. The Lyme literate population knows that this infection is now endemic -- going to the brain, causing personality changes and if the victim is young ,all critical periods are influenced by the compromised environment in the body. They have been at this a long time

I'm glad you posted this. Every time I have mentioned the possibility of gender bender chemicals contributing to this gender madness, I get rolled eyes from people on both sides of this craziness. I saw a documentary about male birds in the Great Lakes region becoming homosexual after being exposed to certain chemical pollutants in the Great Lakes. Makes sense to me.

Obviously, sex change therapies and surgeries are in the class of Nazi Germany medical experiments. Main difference is the person wanting a sex change asks for the experiments be done on them and is willing or ignores the consequences or assumes the medical industry can fix any problem. Seems many or most teenagers nowadays assume they have eternal life on earth and that once they get what they want, life will be perfect. I guess the willingness of taking the government's experimental vaccines without evidence of repeatable clinical trials done by trusted groups all over the world is now becoming accepted practice.

It is surprising that 2/3 of the population of the US submitted to the governmental experimental vaccines based on White House medical opinions by a tiny minority of medical professionals who invested lots of their money in the faith people will take the vaccines without much question. If you can get adults submitting to unproven medical experiments out of fabricated exaggerated fear, you can do so much easier to teenagers.

The article suggests gender dysphoria may be as high as 8% in young children. I previously read somewhere in the past that amount was actually a fraction of this, especially the number of actual indeterminate physical genitalia. And of those in particular I am curious as to what their gender chromosomes present as. And is the seemingly increased numbers of gender dysphoria cases due to social media influencing or is something else going on here such as (bear with me) multiple vaccines given at birth and beyond that are incubated in fetal tissue which could be of different gender than the baby/infant injected?

I have seen firsthand how the schools are pushing this crap not just teachers but the worst is coming from the students. When a child doesn't feel they fit in or are accepted they seem to rotate to where you can be whatever you want group which is usually the gay group. There is a very small percentage of children who grow up naturally to understand that they are really the other sex. I am so glad I grew up in the 60's we had peace and love and a few problems that came with that but Not this mess.

Dr. Leonard Sax's book on the "Collapse of Parenting" points out an important cause of the trans contagion...the unsupervised use of internet phones by children. (I refuse to call them "smart phones" b/c the child-user has no judgment on how to use them, so the child becomes the victim.

It is quite one thing to get plastic surgery or corrective surgery if some part of your body is injured or "broken". It simply does not make sense to have major surgery for gender assignment. At any rate, it is such an important life-altering decision that it should be postponed until adulthood when the individual has a better chance of giving informed consent. I imagine there are also issue with this type of surgery before a person has quit growing, which I understand can be well into their 20s. Gender roles are already so widely encompassing that I do not see a need for gender reassignment surgery. Wouldn't it be better if people just accepted themselves the way they are and lived their lives according to their preferences?

I think part of this is a preoccupation with image rather than the substance of the individual. None of these surgeries are easy. They are even difficult for cancer patients who consider them to be a necessary option for survival. No one has to conform to a gender identity role in society. In many cultures, those on the fringe of the bell-shaped curve for sexual identity were widely respected. However, nowadays, the problem is that there are too many people on the ends of the bell-shaped curve who do not belong there.

This sudden increase is a serious statistical aberration in nature. -continued- I had an elderly friend who used to advise people to try to stay healthy and avoid hospitals. She would tell them, "If you go into a hospital with all your parts, you are going to come out missing something. because that is what they do in hospitals--cut parts out." Perhaps it is not just about gender reassignment surgery. How often do doctors cut other parts out when they do not have better solutions? As with many things in life, people lack the good sense to think through and realize that some choices might be extremely painful and life-defeating.

Almond

-continued- I could have been considered for gender reassignment surgery when I was young. I had no interest in playing with dolls. I found climbing trees, building forts in the woods and watching airplanes land at the local airport to be much more interesting than learning to sew and apply makeup. Normal healthy children should be active and curious. I did not want the Nurse Nancy toy medical bag. I could see that the doctor's bag had a whole lot more interesting stuff in it. I could easily recognize that men had many opportunities that women did not. (Fortunately, that is changing, but it was not always that way.) That was simply an objective observation.

By h. s. adults figured there was something "wrong" with me because I was not very feminine and still am not. I did not conform to their low expectations. They were so concerned about me that they reprimanded me and told me I would never "catch a man" if I continued to say "intelligent things". (I told them, I would only consider a smart man, not an insecure man I had to play dumb for.) I was given a battery of IQ and psychological tests. I scored very low on femininity because they asked dumb biased questions--like "Would you rather be a typist or drive a truck?" (In other words, did I want to sit at a typewriter all day in a secretarial pool, likely at a low wage, or drive a truck and see the country?) They finally figured out that I had high intelligence which made me a free thinker and rather unconventional.

I simply did not see the world in terms of stereotypes. All that was needed was a more stimulating academic environment. Interestingly, I always had a full social life in h.s. and college and never lacked for dates. Perhaps intelligent men were also bored with passive conformist women who could never offer an original thought or show any interest in an active life. I often traveled alone because I met more people and had more "adventures". I have no regrets for breaking the mold, but it was not easy.

Almond

P.S.-- Some people would have said I had gender dysphoria if they had been aware of what goes on nowadays. However, I saw myself as an individual who happened to be a woman. I was stubborn enough to pick and choose what I would and would not accept of stereotypes. As a result, I have found my path in life and am still doing many of the unconventional nonconformist things I love. I landed in the middle of a forest. I love to work with wood and raise fruit trees. I work side-by-side with the men as my time and obligations allow. I hunt and fish. I still get called out of retirement, occasionally, for patients with special needs, so it can be quite a balancing act some days. I cannot recall the last time I wore a dress and often go to town in my work boots. No one who is important to me thinks any less of me because of it. Although I have a lot of stress from juggling too many moving parts in my life, I can say I truly enjoy everything I do, except housework... when it gets backed up.

Agreed. When my daughter graduated in 2017 from a small high school with just over 50 in her class, there were two girls who wanted nothing to do with being female. Both of them had been sexually abused and were in counseling. I can surely understand how a young mind would want to dissociate with that, but they needed counseling and assurance in themselves, not permissiveness in continuing their avoidance.

Yes, Just humanity faces a world of violence, where good customs are marginalized. Today the image of wild and warlike prehistoric humans seems to be just a myth forged in the second half of the 19th century. Archaeological investigations show us that collective violence actually arises with the sedentarization of human communities and the transition from an economy that predators nature to an economy of production. -Marylne Patou-Mathis-. A broader understanding of direct violence includes not only “behavioral” violence, but also structural violence, which is often unconscious.

Structural violence is the result of unfair and unequal social and economic structures and manifests itself, for example, in poverty and deprivation of all kinds. At this point is society. Transgender people are four times more likely than cisgender people to experience violent victimization, including rape, sexual assault, and aggravated or simple assault, according to a new study from the Williams Institute of the UCLA School of Law. Additionally, households with a transgender person had higher rates of property victimization than cisgender households.

Research has shown that victimization experiences are related to low well-being, including suicidal thoughts and attempts," said study author Ilan H. Meyer, Distinguished Senior Scholar of Public Policy at the Williams Institute. "The results underscore the urgent need for effective policies and interventions that consider the high rates of victimization experienced by transgender people".

Good morning, everyone. This topic interests me, because I am trying to understand why the world has gone crazy. Unfortunately, I had to stop watching the first video because the video maker emits a shrill, annoying cry at each sentence beginning. Maybe it is because at 54 years old I am getting too old ? Just kidding ! But I can't stand people who can't express themselves in a calm and understandable way. So I am content to read the article. Of course, being a European, white, and heterosexual man, I feel only pity for these sick people. Unfortunately, this minority has succeeded in imposing their insanity on the whole world. And as usual, all trends start in the U.S. and then invade the world. I miss our long road trips to the U.S., but now I don't know if I will still feel like going back or if, perhaps, it would be better to keep a wonderful memory of your country. Take care.

That is for sure. I am 52 and have always lived in the Northeast in the US. Over the last ten years or so, my husband and I are just appalled and disgusted at the things that have become the norm. Basically, the blue states and cities (democrat run), are falling apart due to their insanity in continuing to elect people to office that should not even be in charge of a goldfish. They continually make stupid laws, cater to deviant minorities, de-fund their police and wonder why violent crime is rampant. Chicago is a perfect example. They just ousted their last mayor and replaced her with one that is just as bad, if not worse.

Additionally, make no mistake that the US government is ALL about money, at any cost. It does not care about its people, is horridly corrupt, is promoting humanity-dividing misinformation, mandated dangerous and untested clot shots, destroyed the health care system and is poisoning the mainstream food supply with genetically modified and bioengineered fake food. All we do is watch and shake our heads while we prepare and get ready for the fallout.

I have known a few people, all adults, who were born one sex and decided to change. This wasn't possible without years of therapy and a deep understanding that despite wanting to be the opposite sex, depression is huge as they adjust. I support this. If someone really feels they're the wrong sex, go for it. What I don't support is parents and schools pushing gender affirmation onto children. If kids' frontal lobes aren't developed enough to know right from wrong, they certainly can't make a decision that will impact everything they do for the rest of their lives. This should be left up to grownups to decide about themselves but not on behalf of their kid. I feel something else. This push for AI and transgenderism en masse is about transhumanism. It ain't good or healthy. It's abuse for parents and schools to push this crap. It's unethical for doctors to get involved, particularly before these people are adults and their primary and secondary hormonal changes have occurred.

Gender Dysphoria is likely caused by the introduction of aborted fetus DNA in vaccines such as Dtap, chickenpox, rubella, hepA, polio, smallpox and shingles. Or possibly it occurs when mercury enters the brain. Take dysphoria, add suggestion, or brainwashing and you have seriously confused people. Don't you think that if these same kids were counseled compassionately to understand that their confusion was due to chemicals or DNA with assurances that with time their natural sexual preferences would emerge, that they would deal with their dysphoria more appropriately?

To Cabochon your comment: "Women's lib was the biggest con since women's suffrage when we thought we were being allowed to vote with real political choices". So agree. I once heard a feminist ranting about the misogamy in the Bible. How a woman was considered 'unclean' when she had her period and how she was 'ostracized'. I was choking with laughter. If you read the pertinent verses, you will discover that our poor victim stayed in her personal tent with maids attending to her every want and couldn't care for screaming sticky toddlers, colicky babies and terminally discontent prepubescents.

Her husband was forbidden to come in contact with her: read - no sex. Since everything you touched was unclean as well, you could bring a lot of utensils with you and drag it out a few more days while the 'clean' folks were awashing! So let's unpack this. Wifey gets 7-10 days a month ALONE, with nothing to do but read, sit in the sun, chat with her friends etc and it's the LAW! You know what? Call me whatever you want. I'll take it

AND I bet what we have translated as "unclean" is in fact a different word all together and does not mean what we think it does. So much gets lost in the translating. What was the original word? Would it have been in Aramaic, Greek, Hebrew? Probably Aramaic.

She said she was so upset he might not go through with it. She forced him. It was obscene, disturbing. How can this be allowed. She will mutilate, destroy her little boy. Something must be done to stop this. It is a more perverse form of Munchausen syndrome. I have a close relative who sent me a picture of her baby boy holding a children's book titled "Pink is for Boys". She sent me a palm print in pink. I am very frightened. She has a cousin who is a . She admires that wealthy side of the family. All I can do is pray. She has nearly completely estranged herself from me because of my positions on these and other issue. So I pray for protection for this baby boy. Little boys do not want to be girls. I remember my beautiful baby boy who people sometimes mistook for a girl. He would heatedly say: "I am a boy!" Parents used to grant permission. Does anyone know when that changed? Was it when corporations started advertising directly to children, reducing parents to "payee" 30 or 40 years ago? It seems that parents/adults have already become inconsequential. Now it is "Lord of the Flies" with children being used as political pawns. There is much anger and confusion for all ages but children should not be held responsible. Someone has sent our youth to fight our battles and those who were unaware are losing everything.

What is wrong with the parents of children, who have raised them to even be open to gender manipulation? The children of my generation would have thought all of this was insane. I feel very sure they would never have bought into it. It is repellent! As children, my friends were taught right from wrong. Parents are supposed to guide their children and influence them. My family influenced me. I wonder about the caliber of the parents of the young people who are open to this insanity. Did they fail to provide the guidance and love these children needed to like and accept themselves? This idiocy should not even exist. The sub-human doctors who would do this gender-manipulation need to lose their licenses. One day they will pay dearly, but I would like to see them put out of existence now.

There is a war going on and children are the victims of this war. Who are the closest to God living on this earth? Of course, it is the INNOCENTS. A young girl living in a rural Kansas town "identifies" as a cat. The school has to cater to this identification. I am sure that she is allowed to park her litter box in the girls' restroom. There are no words that can express what social media indoctrination has done to fragile minds.

Preface to my following comment: {Ken Bowers (author of Hiding in Plain Sight and Beneath the Tide) commented: "Anyone who thinks he or she can conquer evil without knowing his or her enemy is doomed to failure on a big scale J. Edgar Hoover said, "In any struggle, it is essential to know both what you are fighting for and what you are fighting against. If knowledge of the former is lacking, the will to win will be absent. If knowledge of the latter is lacking, confusion and uncertainty will result."} Why are they doing this?

Why so many and increased so rapidly? What is really behind all this (and more)? We are gullible in looking to them for reasons for their actions since we mostly don't consider it to be warfare against us. In an actual war, would we ask the enemy to explain their strategies? (Another preface: Listen to Jessie Kelly) They are communists and hate our Nation and us. Their religion is destruction. Some are riled to mass shootings to serve their religion even with their own death, so it is consistent that to espouse their own mutilation for their hidden, yet real cause while they subvert your resistance with a facade purpose while claiming freedom (only to appeal to us as they want to take away freedoms) and you are a bigot and hater (to appeal to our rejection of that they assume from their perspectives of self).

Of course, it's not beneath their ethics to use those with genuinely sincere mental illness or even their own children for their clique or their perverse cause for destruction of our Nation presumably for Luciferian Global governance which is itself transitional.

Such perverse thinking is related to their penchant for their own perverse personal sexual "transition" concepts without regard to realities nor consequences. I back this with the once respected poll which was the election of Obama with voters voting to "fundamentally change the (our) United States of America" and to be "more like the other nations of the world"(Obama quotes).

Children do not fully understand the consequences of this irreversible act. They only see that it is exciting, makes them the center of attention, & is supposed to make them live happily ever after. They are able to suspend reality enough to enjoy reading comic books for crying out loud! They still have one foot in Magical Thinking. Their brains are physically, as well as emotionally, immature (not fully developed! Without full capacity for full function!) & they do not have the experience, knowledge, coping mechanisms & skills to successfully defend themselves from predators. THAT is why they are not legally allowed to drink, smoke, drive, or sign contracts.

It is predatory & unforgivable to allow them to make a permanent decision that destroys any chance that they can achieve a normal & fulfilling life. They are equipped to follow one pathway by millions of years of evolution & we do not have the means to fully change that for them at this time. They need to be older & understand the risks & that they will never be fully functional after the surgeries & may have permanent disabilities as well as risk death. We are all being manipulated by highly sophisticated propaganda 24/7/365 blared at us over enemy propaganda media or we would not stand for this assault on our children for a single minute!

Imagine what your un-propagandized grandparents would say about this. These children need to be allowed to grow up without being manipulated, brain washed, & used by these monsters. It is another monstrous plot by the SAME monsters who brought us the Plandemic, Warming/Climate Scam, Dominion voting, teaching Marxist Critical Race THEORY to children, Open Borders, de-funding LOCAL police so federal troops & martial law will be required to restore the safety (of a police state), etc. Our enemies are attacking us from within just as Sun Tzu & Alinsky suggested.

I have two friends that transitioned from female to male. One, a friend of my daughter's in high school. Lucas, new name, was always different, boyish body , very deep voice. He never fit in , always felt different. My athletic daughters , one played college volleyball, said he was the strongest girls in school . He transitioned as an adult . The other, Mark, transitioned as an adult . Both are very happy . One thing I know is that they're living their life . Who am I or y'all , to attack them . How about loving them not judging. To make this decision must be extremely difficult because they know they will be attacked , mocked and vilified. They must truly felt they needed the change . Do y'all kept attacking them , you've never walked in their shoes , quite pathetic. There is so much in this article that is sickening, I'll keep my comment to this one point . Do y'all need content ,

Why is there always this massive focus on everything sex? Have people become so focused on their phones and "self" that they never look up and realize there's a world out there? As a child sex never registered on my radar ever. I was outside all day playing with my dogs, riding my horse and exploring the countryside. I'm the same now at 63. Outside playing with my dogs, padding a kayak with sea lions playing next to me yesterday. Sex is so far down on my list of what's important about life. Why aren't these kids outside learning skills or just purely playing. When did everything sex become the focus of kids lives? This is sick beyond belief. Parents need to step up and say NO or they're just "pushers" like the teachers, administrators and doctors.

Off topic note. I got an e mail from Dr. Rashid Buttar's family. Dr. Rashid Buttar passed on May 18th. A hero, a fighter is gone! RIP Dr. Buttar. Thank you for all your contribution to humanity. May our creator stay with you forever. You are gone, but your legacy will stay with us. A while ago, I listened Dr. Buttar statements; he got sick after an interview, where he was offered a glass of water, I do not remember if he said that he took a sip or drank the water. After that interview he got extremely sick!

Can you please pray for the family and friends of Dr. Rashid A. Buttar, DO, who just passed away? He was a doctor in North Carolina who was on the NYTimes "Disinformation Dozen" list.

Marcy...I got the email from "his family" too. HOWEVER, if you go to his website, <https://drbuttar.info/> , there's no announcement of the death. Maybe its a hack done by his enemies who drew up the "disinfo dozen" list... Everyone on that list has ENEMIES.

The LIST was not created by the NYT. It was created by a dark-money funded site against "digital hate" in the UK. Dr Mercola was also on the list.

Well some sources seem convinced that it is true. The website Greenmedinfo today published a moving tribute to him and a statement about the possible cause of his death. Seems incredible considering in a recent appearance he was a robust and healthy looking individual. Mysteriously, Buttar's February newsletter was entitled "Assassination Contract On a Liver Doctor". Cannot comment on this but in the latest video he talks of Bruce Lipton's "Biology of Belief" and the power of weaponised fear. On the other hand, as we have seen from Dr Mercola's inclusion in the celebrated list of misinformation spreaders, the greatest fear of the conspiring cartels is individuals empowered with information.

"For the record, Rashid reached out to me on Feb. 18th, and explained that only a few weeks before, he was in the ICU for 6 days, with a diagnosis of both stroke and myocarditis, with symptoms and biomarkers consistent with adverse effects from the mRNA jabs (which he did not have). As you will see in the video, he believed that he was experiencing the result of shedding (aka, "self-amplifying" properties) from the transgenic mRNA jabs."

Oh no! Watched the video. Hope he was not poisoned with the jab juice. So sad. I limit my time outside my home. When I go grocery shopping or to parties or functions, I feel a little ill afterwards. I believe something is affecting me. Dr. Buttar's theory on shedding and secondary inoculation is beginning to resonate with me because of my odd experience in public exposure.

I didn't read this article, just skimmed it, as I can't get-my-head around it. However, I do see the transgender "movement" killing people right now and will share this parent's true story (she is someone I know). Her 19 yr old daughter had both breasts removed after finding the "healthcare people" during her 18th year. She never shared with her mom that she was doing this or even that she was having feelings about gender orientation. Two months later following the breast removal, she hung herself from an apartment guard railing at 6am on a Saturday morning.

Here is what YOU have the ULTIMATE POWER to do about idiocy: Choose your words. Only you control your word choices. Don't allow the enemy selection of words you speak as that is your acceptance of their false premises and it becomes your culpability. They invent new words to describe what doesn't exist. There is no such thing as "transgender." Use correct words. There is mutilation. Sex is determined by the X and Y chromosomes which remain even after mutilation. There is no such thing as "homosexual marriage" as that is an oxymoron. They stole the word gay and perhaps with you going along with it. We've seen the corruption brought on by acceptance of the oxymoron "Consensus Science" as a good example of how they harmfully pretend to alter reality with false perceptions and lies. Choose your words yourself. Don't allow the enemy to choose your words.

Jeremiah.8, Wow! Accurate! We're losing! Yet, each one of us has the power to win, and it is so simple as I described, so everyone, share that countering method in all of your conversations. One more example: Instead of the newly created word for what doesn't exist, instead of "Trans" call them victims. I particularly like that one because the conversation then goes to placing blame and describing the nature of the war and its purpose.

Yes. They are attempting to control what words we are allowed to use which influences how we are allowed to think. They also conflate ideas & words. Calling someone TRANSGender who still retains their ORIGINAL genitalia, allows them to trick people into thinking it is OK to allow them into women's private areas. That is a cross dresser who may also desire to be treated as though they were a different sex. They have not, however, had the conviction, or opportunity, to actually become trans-gendered. These are the ones who all too frequently assault women & girls in restrooms & lockers. Using these terms incorrectly has allowed men with penises to enter areas where men are not permitted.

The people who allow this are putting those girls & women at risk for these attacks. That is unconscionable & they should be held as accomplices when there is an assault that they enabled. It is important to hold them to their words & to stop them from using labels for people when those labels cannot be proven. They love the idea of Social Justice where a simple accusation is sufficient to gather a lynch type mob to destroy someone with NO PROOF. Proving someone guilty before you lynch them is such a bother & not very emotionally satisfying. Social Justice destroys Western civilization & a peaceful society though.

You cannot have a variety of ethnicities, religions, & other groups supporting a government that does not give each of them equality under the same law agreed upon by all. When any group is not equal, they are forced to fight the others for self protection & that makes unity & peace impossible. Words are important & proof of labels & insinuations are as well. Allowing government to label citizens without due process is suicidal & asking for a dictatorship. Throwing around a label like Insurrection before any investigation of facts to prove it should never have been allowed. Imprisoning citizens with no proof of guilt is a dangerous thing to allow your government to do

Greebo, People have a variety of gifts among us. I'm weak on pack mentality, group think and gregarious communicative language skills in the realm of assumptions and innuendo. Yet I have strengths in pattern recognition. Being a hunter, I'm aware of different animalistic behaviors in predators and prey, hunting alone or in packs or alert in herds, etcetera. As such, I've made many observations of patterns among various categories of people compared to categories of animals. I had a huge Rottweiler charge me from a distance.

All of its life experiences were all feared it, yet it turned and ran from me, ran past the others and hid and that surprised everyone there who never saw that before! As I walked into my new job, they asked: What did I do to provoke that response? I said: nothing - just smiled with sincerity. On another occasion, the same happened with three gang members clanging pipes (plumbers, right?) as our paths were about to meet at about 3 A.M. I smiled, they instantly flash gang signals to each other and ran away.

It's mysterious to me how both animal predators and human criminals have a well-developed sense of prey or danger. I've given it much thought and it is as if they could read my mind. I've seen the same pattern many times in my life. Nature is amazing! I watch a flock of birds so dense they darken the sky as they keep equal spacing and direction even as their seemingly randomly direction is shifting that would make any Olympic Synchronized Swimmers jealous!

Are they playing follow the leader? Apparently not as they also shift direction 180 degrees, making the last bird following the new leader? I've observed the same with schools of tiny fish that certainly haven't been practicing for years to get it perfect. The patterns? Too numerous to list here, but the socialists exhibit recognizable group patterns that similarly have cliquish group behaviors that they can't individually explain yet they are very aware that they are part of their group.

If someone wants to read how they get children there to do that garbage, here is an essay: www.kevinalfredstrom.com/.../real-child-abuse The only question one should ask is does it exist in nature, if no then not. Same like faggots don't exist in nature and the mixing of dogs which started is also not good, just like race mixing. It confuses the offspring because of not having any identity, but of course that is easier to control .
