I always ask the sheep what the official death rate is. I even show them the "official" CDC figure of 0.26%, which is almost certainly too high. They just look at me as if I'm a hari krishna nutjob. There is no reasoning with these people. They are lost forever. The best hope is that the 20-30% of people who are still reasonably sane stay strong and don't let themselves get bullied into taking the jab.

The variant narrative is a hoax. In animal experiments the vaccine did not kill the animals. But when they were exposed to the wild corona virus they all died. This is the plan to depopulate. They will say see, we told you the variant would be deadly. All propaganda to cover up the largest mass killing in history.

I've heard this theory many times and do not discount. Haven't enough people been vaccinated to see this result yet? Or are folks thinking they will roll this out when they think the time is right for massive AME responses? Such as in the fall and back into lock-down we go?

If that goes down, people will need to resist. Mostly peaceful resistance of course.

No. Nobody could have a clue about real mortality rates before testing the virus live. Nor they gave half a batshit about it.

All they knew is that, whatever the actual rates, they could create a media-driven hysteria leading to a slow-motion collapse of the economy and to a global campaign of sterilizing "vaccines."

Not going to lie, when it all "went down" in March last year I was absolutely freaked out. I naively thought that if they were literally locking us down (and I was made to work totally at home) then this thing MUST be bad news...otherwise, why go SO FAR? I knew shutting down economies the world over was clearly not a "reasonable" measure unless this virus was indeed a real and absolute and imminent threat...And it was easy to stay in that state for far too long...I would drive to the grocery store or the woods, taking the freeway at rush hour and there would be maybe SIX cars, including my own. I would walk my dog outside without a mask (thinking, come on, I'm in the forest) and be the ONLY one with a bare face. I had no interest in returning to my silly non-conformist punk youth but they looked at me like they did in the days when I put wood glue in my hair to make "liberty spikes." I constantly, constantly, constantly checked and refreshed the infection numbers...it truly got to me for a bit. And then...things just were not adding up. Why didn't a single person I know test positive, let alone get sick, let alone go to the hospital, let alone die? Why was it that after years of watching epidemic horror films (and even reading a few books like David Quamen's Spillover) this had all the hallmarks of a "pandemic" but no one was getting sick! Eventually, around June or so there were massive riots that magically didn't spread covid and any mention of the lab leak theory was deemed utterly prohibited. That's basically when I was able to THINK again and capture some semblance of reality. But damn...they almost had me!

It was only one or maybe two days after the announcement of a vast raising of the USA national debt level (from some hundreds of billions to a few trillions (seemed like an impossible amount at the time!)) that they announced the closure of all businesses and that we should take whatever we need to work from home with us, because of... a synthetic virus, already reported as a bioweapon, patented by Americans who had rushed to China about it, and passed it off as natural. All that was in the news, all that information was available to us all. It was just two plus two.

The decision to close everything down after the raising of the debt limit to such a vast height was a tell to me, and i KNEW it was a fake, I KNEW they were lying about the pandemic, just didnt understand why yet.. I refused from day one to wear a mask, because I have been waterboarded before, not gonna live like a GD slave, and I could feel the energy was the same. I knew the idiots were being herded, and the people in charge expected me to go along with the fake process. Seen that movie before, not interested, not impressed, not going to buy the lie. Then i learned about Anal Schwab and his little great reset.

I have watched in disgust as people have sucked up to the lies. Now i hold humanity in contempt and think most people are stupid slaves who might earn my love but not my respect. It is sad - life seemed better and more something to respect before all this. Now I am contemptuous of people's stupidity and conformity - this is not a heart-warming sensation, unfortunately.

The world felt more impressive when I was able to presume that most people are not very stupid. We all have our strengths, but apparently understanding the realities of social conditions is not something that most people are wired for. I feel like that wierd rabbit in Watership Down.

They never fooled me. From the beginning I had lots of "bells" ringing. My logic could not make sense of what the MSM was spewing with mortality of 4%, which is a fraction where nobody knew the denominator. There were not even enough tests available at the beginning but all the media CEO allowed the bogus numbers published as if there were "science". These are people very good at math when they calculate rate of return, statistics, etc. If so good at money, why do they publish a fraction where nobody knows the denominator???!.....From then on, all the additional information just confirmed the suspicion I had from the beginning - that it is a scandemic created by bankers. Bankers were given the megaphone in MSM to advocate for more lockdowns while thousands of doctors were censored. Pastors and moms were thrown in jail while criminals were released. For me that was enough to see the picture very clear for what it was - pure evil.

Heh, I went back to the mohawk because I could and because... well, fuck them.

By the time I had it well grown out it actually served to make people smile in grocery stores and the due to the absurdity of it. I won't be changing back to a normal hairstyle for quite some time.

That said I never understood this but then I don't watch TV or do social media. I knew there was a media panic about Italy because I saw the headlines but I basically ignored that because it made no sense. A real, serious problem with something of real contagion is something like Athens had in 429. Bodies stacked in the streets type shit. No place on Earth ever produced credible evidence of such things happening and if it did happen we'd have known.

So the University shuts down on a Tuesday and that Friday my wife asks me to go to the store for a quart of milk. It's like 11pm when I get into town and there's a guy walking out of the store in a respirator, goggles and exam gloves. WTF? Then there's a family of four with a train of three grocery carts stacked with random stuff well above the rim of the cart for all three. ???

Inside it's like Fallout 3 or 4. The store has nothing on the shelves. So I ask the stock kids about it and they're just happy to go home early because there's literally nothing to stock. A rush started around 1600 and stopped when the store ran out of things to sell.

I go home and look at the news online. Italy! In just two weeks we'll be Italy!!!!

So I pull the demos on Italy... this is what people are freaking about? The world's 16th oldest population with the third highest population of lifetime smokers... dying of a respiratory virus in a country with a sub-par medical system during the best of times... and the stats the media is using are, at best, junk. Even with that the actual numbers of people getting sick and dying aren't that large they're just overwhelming the medical system of a country where the government has worried about this happening for two decades because the socialized system runs very lean on beds and has very little real ability to expand in a serious situation. [Edit] And this is also a country where multigenerational households are quite common... hrmmm...[/edit]

So I watched the data roll in and the only part of any of this that surprised me was the irresponsible way the governments acted. The data gets better and better but they act like it's worse and worse.

OK, well, that's mass hysteria for you. It will wear off eventually. And given the actual policies being enacted, there's going to be a nasty backlash for this.

Let someone that studied a lot about Italy, my country (I was fooled for a couple of months, while researching and studying, too) correct a little. Our health system WAS a very good one, surely not sub-par. It is born in the seventies, when a very well working system of private insurance ("società di mutuo soccorso" or "mutue") was socialized (to benefit "not covered people", i.e. wo was unable to apply, contribute or simply avoid to enlist in a mutual assistance group) and a full coverage system for everybody was created.

For many years after socialization performances resembled the system before socialization, and it WAS quite good (good care, efficient, very good coverage).

Then Maastricht Treaty arrived. German imposed their "Austerity" and first government balance post was Health System. It was destroyed, just for example beds in ICU were more than 30000 before Austerity, when average age was 15 years less, and around 10000 just before scamdemic starts.

Overwhelming of hospitals (if true) was planned, or at least a forecastable consequence of a fool decision of a bunch of fool (and likely corrupt) governments. In 2017 25,000 people died for flu in Italy, while no beds was available on ICU, on acute and on First Aid. They knew. MSM reported all in local pages (for every single local hospital unit, but never as a systemic happening) but not on national pages. People was aware of their local situation but not of sistemic occurence.

▲ 3 ▼ Reply ↩

that's why they sent people home with absolutely NO TREATMENT. What? no inhaled steroids, no blood thinners for the clotting, nothing? No z-pac no hydroxychloroquine? NO. can't have people just getting better... we have to manufacture the maximum collapse of the health system. IIRC, the Maastricht Treaty was in the early 1990's, correct?

Again, IIRC, "austerity" was a concern involved in this. I seem to remember reading things about people warning what would necessarily happen at least as early as 2000.

So... if I'm right about that, then it would be about 20 years but the whole thing was a prediction at that time and was based on the obvious outcome of said treaty? Is that about right?

They never fooled me. So many discrepancies in reporting cases and deaths from state to state and country to country that I knew none of the CDC stats could be trusted. Then in May the CDC published its review of global literature on how to prevent spread of infectious diseases and lo and behold said masks did no good at all. And then a month later the NYT did its article saying if test ct's were held to a reasonable level that 90% of positive cases would be thrown out. Then within months the CDC itself said COVID-only accounted for only 6% of deaths.

But crickets from the medical industrial complex and its media.

And now, slowly we are learning how dangerous the vaxx is. 42 pages if you have the patience to read it.

That helped put it all together: Germ theory is a hoax. The biology they teach is false.

“Last week, Canada’s Conservatives were successful in ordering the Trudeau government to turn over documents regarding the transfer of dangerous viruses from the Winnipeg National Microbiology Laboratory to the Wuhan Institute of Virology and the subsequent firing of two government scientists. Today, they refused that order and made it clear that they would continue the cover-up of a possible national security breach.

Might our Elites Overlords turn the power grid off for some days/weeks in next November/December?

If the mRNA "vaccines" are only a part of a larger depopulation toolbox, they will potentially create new, much more deadly strains in the next winter? Add to this a total disruption of both the supply chain/ power grid for days/weeks. Optimal patterns for a human depopulation event on a larger scale.

Next winter, the dark one.

You or a member of your family became sick, no land line or cell phone will work due to "cyberattacks", no first responders nowhere to be found. No one but yourself and your siblings. Water filter/pump downs and ATM downs, oil station downs (due to "cyber attacks"), mass hysteria, riots, looting, civil unrest. Next comes starvation, cannibalism, diseases due to dead bodies lying outside absolutely everywhere.

After some times when the dust has settled and a huge part of the population is decimated, one way or another. Here comes our saviors, who ironically made all of this happen in the first place. Our Elites Overlords switch the power grid back on, gives ration food and shelter to the few survivors and their new "vaccines". The survivors through all of this insanity will accept anything just to get some food.

This is nothing but a theory, but it will be a very effective one in order to instaure their Great Reset. Once it is all done it will be pretty easy to rewrote/erase history about the previous Covidian era since there will be few witnesses of it still alive.

I see it as a winners take all strategy.

It amazes me how many confuse equal rights (equal under the law) with equality (a globalist agenda to remove individuality) and worries me how many globalists use confusion (in this case gender confusion) to advance their Technocratic agenda (the Great Reset) which is exactly what they're doing with the elimination of pro-nouns, the promotion of transgenderism, the feminisation of men and boys and the empowerment of women. Kids no longer know if they're boys or girls.

Another interesting observation that has somehow slipped under the radar...

let me set up a little thought experiment for you...

somebody you are with has a cold/flu/corona-virus/bad breath and they sneeze in your face.

would you be more comfortable if they were wearing a mask or be much happier if they had no mask and the full force of their disease laden sputum flooded your face?

sheesh - some of you are soooo short on critical thinking.

I've been alive for 47 years and have never had someone sneeze in my face, nor have I sneezed in someone's face the way your thought experiment describes. I'm not attempting to speak for anyone other than myself, but I believe your experiment is far-fetched at best. As children we have been raised to cover our mouths when coughing, sneezing, etc. If you are truly worried about the scenario you describe you should do whatever you feel protects yourself, but you have no right to mandate others to do anything.

When they said they found the dead squirrel in Colorado that died of Covid when this first started I knew it was the biggest scam ever perpetrated on humanity from that point on. Notice how you never heard another word about squirrels and rodents as they had moved on to much bigger lies by then.

The only thing from that point on that surprised me was just how many people have been left utterly incapable of thinking for themselves. That number looks to be around 70% have succumbed to the Total Sheep Syndrome. I am amazed at that.

Does the climate change over time due to sunspots, EMR, etc.?

Of course.

Glaciers used to cover much of the US Northeast--down to Long Island/NYC. The glaciers receded (melted) about 10-12,000 years ago, leaving all of the kettle ponds on Cape Cod, all of the massive boulders that you see here and there.

The internal combustion engine was not the cause then, and it is not the cause now.

In the UK we have the two party system of one in power and the other in 'opposition'

When the government imposed lockdown, it was the job of the opposition to tease out the details, make sure it was justified and to hold the government to account.

The Labour opposition did none of this and the only thing they could say is that lockdown should have happened sooner and been even more draconian.

What a joke. This is why I gave up voting years ago. It's a rigged one party (elite) system pretending to be a two party democracy.

The whole thing only turned into a Pandemic because the Media did not ask any questions, and the Public did not question the Media. Even though the Public do not Trust Government or Corporations they still trust them regarding their own well being.

As Hilter said once: The bigger the Lie, the more people will believe it.

Never a truer word said, but this is not just a Big Lie, it is off the scale. It is helped along by people in positions of power that also don't ask questions and treat it as Fact without checking the Facts.

The Media at the White House pressers could have shot down Poochie in the first few months, if they just asked one question. Mr Fauci, Did you have ANY involvement with the Wuhan Lab. Sars cov 2 was never a real threat to 99.4+% of the population

The pcr test was and still is being used to find cases where there are none and in the "vaccinated" to hide cases.

Ivermectin is THE therapy to use for covid and probably many other diseases.

This has never been about public health.

This piece could easily be inferred to relegate the last year to some brand of incompetence. At the very best this last year has been Fauxi phlogiston on sale (look it up). That those in authority tried their best to manage a group of unknowns measured by a war of the worlds population response. That might fly IF HCQ and Ivermectin had been allowed into the therapy options but that was crushed in full Pontius Pilot methodology. Fauxi knew that those therapies would help but he said NO. No, there is a deeper and far more sinister application of force. When viewed from 30000 feet and knowing what we know today, that Fauxi was funding, in true Mengele methods, research that is banned in the USA then as the emergency response team of the USA suggesting options other than HCQ and Ivermectin some of which he was invested in. NO this wood pile is full of rats and Fauxi is at least a player if not the bag man for some powerful entity. You do not demand a world wide (so called) vax for something with a 99.972% recovery rate. DO nothing and the recovery rate is 99.972%, inject a placebo and the recovery rate is 99.972%. I want Fauxi's science and MATH to explain to me how a so called vax can actually improve 99.972%. OK if there are immune issues or age issues maybe these are worth the risk. These are not vaccines they are at best experimental genetic modification on a population willing to trust medicine. Medicine that has historically been the 3rd biggest killer in America with medical mistakes. With much of medicine if a treatment is having adverse effects you can stop the treatment and try something else. That is NOT the case with this. Once injected this is forever. Millions of people are being driven to experimental genetic modification without their INFORMED consent. NO to me this looks like some kind of modern day buffalo jump. Now that same experiment is being carried out on kids. Pilots are having issues and what does that mean for our military pilots. All of the rats are in on this and it is not about science.

that must be a made up paper or not reviewed.

In vulnerable groups the NNTV is less than 5, not the number in hundreds they quote. This is so wrong the paper must be a scam.

If you take the most vulnerable group, the NNTV is about a bit greater than 1 but a lot less than 2. A person in that group has a greater than 50% chance of dying if they catch the virus whilst the vaccine gives >70% efficacy against dying, even at one-shot.

So you see the conclusion is orders of magnitude wrong and the vaccinations are very very helpful

Please note an important distinction: the number of serious side effects that we see is not the same as the number of serious side effects that happen.

This is a standard kind of deception: set up the VAERS database to record serious adverse reactions, but at the same time discourage its use. i.e. by putting strident warnings and threats against lying on every page, and by making the reporting process difficult. Substantial unpaid time for doctors, etc.

You end up with a database that counts ten percent or less of the actual adverse reactions.

Yet people will generally assume that the VAERS numbers are a complete accounting of what they purport to measure.

Standard semantic mistake -- assuming that the map is the territory.

With healthy teens and younger adults having a higher prevalence of issues, there seems to be a component targeting male and female reproductive related hormones. Males 12-30 are having myocarditis reactions where they would not normally appear in the population. It's always reported as rare, expected, or normal, but this a lie. It may be due to higher testosterone levels in the younger males. It is known that females are having menstruation and miscarriage issues.

Negative reactions to the injection can't be hidden when it is seen in the healthiest segment of the population. When it was the old, it could be blamed on poor health, preexisting conditions, comorbidity. That is why it had to be rolled out for everyone else first, and it needed to be implemented very quickly—warp speed. The narrative changed where young folks could be carriers and kill grandma. Colleges and schools began to mandate injection for participation. This was all to generate necessary fear, and the acceptance of the injection program, with the ultimate goal of targeting the younger population.

this site is now a "go to" site for wisdom and truth. great articles every other day or so. its contributors are expert practitioners in their field with no hint of virtue signalling, "karenness" or gaslighting.

check this out

<https://principia-scientific.com/most-mask-wearers-will-be-dead-or-demented-in-ten-years/>

it's not just the medical consequences (dead or demented in ten years) but this little snippet that triggered my "cui bono" antennae.

" Remember that it is estimated that 129 billion face masks and 65 billion gloves are used and disposed of globally each month. A lot of this waste is ending up in landfills, waterways and oceans, which is having a harmful effect on wildlife – particularly sea life. Non-reusable masks, which are made out of plastics such as polypropylene, take around 450 years to biodegrade, making them just as environmentally unfriendly as plastic carrier bags. "

a month? holy crap. 1.55 trillion useless face masks a year!!!! each costing an average of what.. 3 bucks? that's a 4.6 trillion a year rip-off for the equivalent of a pet rock. now add gloves at 0.78 trillion a year at what ..5 bucks a pair? that's another 3.9 trillion for a total of 8.5 trillion bucks a year just for these two items of PPE - FOR PET ROCKS!!!

then you add the number of stabs masquerading as vaccines.

<https://ourworldindata.org/covid-vaccinations>

2.8 billion globally, so far. at what 15 bucks a pop on average? "only" 42 billion, so far

<https://ourworldindata.org/covid-vaccinations>

(side note, efficacy in reducing symptoms AZN = 70%, Pfizer and Moderna 95%, these "injections" are NOT vaccines and neither prevent or cure the "virus" - the efficacy rates are LOWER than treatments used in France, Germany, Italy and Spain which CURE 99% of cases)

so aside from the climate disaster happening right before our eyes as trillions of non-biodegradable masks find their way into oceans, landfills and waterways, the BIG CON is face masks - more than TEN PER CENT OF GLOBAL GDP OF 80 odd TRILLION for pet rocks that kill or dement you.

We tried that here and we've now got 400-some political prisoners, many in solitary confinement and with no trial dates set after six months. Other than a handful of hooligans they're at worst trespassers -- though many claim they were admitted by the Capitol Police.

We have a bill of rights that forbids this but it's happening anyhow and nobody in our government is objecting.

I have family members to this day who still believe the sauce.

They've been to funerals of 2 young men in their 30s and they tell me they died of C=ovid.

It's more likely the two guys took the jab OR died of something else and took the payout from FEMA to label their deaths Con-vid. There's no evidence I could show them that could sway them.

Just like people cannot die of HIV/AIDS, you cannot die of Covid, which is a souped up common cold. When I have mentioned these things in the past, I get a blank stare. They likely think I'm the one who is crazy.

These are not trashy people. The true believer in my family is in the medical industry.

These people in my family are the ones we must be concerned with moving forward.

These people will be the ones who will destroy everyone and everything because they honestly believe the government and they believe a common cold is killing everyone.

The moment of clarity that sealed the deal for me was when the entire medical, financial, and political establishments made it authoritatively clear Covid-1984 can not be spread by Social Justice Warriors cancelling traditional culture and tearing down statues in a haze of peaceful fire and brimstone.

I already felt slow to the punch not figuring this out until late May 2020. Only the truly dim still bought into the lockdown fear schemes by US election season. Then after all of the absentee vote counts abruptly stopped so those poor sleepy ballot counters could get some rest while hundreds of thousands of additional pristine partially filled ballots could be wheeled in all over the place before the sun comes up (sun must be very damaging to ballots), there was no mystery remaining as to what was happening.

Add in the deafening censorship, disregard for an honest conversation or real facts about any topic of importance, and it becomes apparent we were and still are living through an attempted Global Communist Revolution of sorts.

The Revolution rode in on a cavalry composed of selectively cherry picked and history revisionist SJW hypocrites, boundless fiscal and monetary consolidation of the money monopoly powers nearing Absolute Power terms, and crushing all political dissent throughout the media and medical fields.

Now there is a Counter Revolution somewhat taking hold that is starting to feel perhaps slightly too much confidence given the bag of tricks at the disposal of the Globalists ready to further terrorize the world until their agenda is achieved by what I presume is any means necessary.

The wild card is those who are finally starting to suspect an agenda but just can't yet bring themselves to saying so out loud to others. The Network Effect of communication is powerful, which is why lockdowns are such a useful tool for the Globalists to crush dissent and why they will probably go full assault for more lockdowns one way or another.

God help us all if the gullible sheep continue believing every methodical assault thrown at them is a matter of random nature and we need to turn to the so very smart globalists to fix it and give us all security to “go back to normal.” There will be no such normal, only occasional periods of “feeling normal” in a normalcy bias kind of way before the next round of globalist assaults on freedoms. As we all know, we simply do not deserve security or freedom if even one more inch (or centimeter if you will) of freedom is ceded at this point when it is so painfully obvious what is occurring.

The best defense of all is shining a flood light as strong as the moon on each and every convenient coincidence coming down the pike intended to further consolidate centralized power and reduce individual freedom. I'll believe the merits of the next “crisis” the minute it diminishes power for globalist elites and reverses the trend toward global communism. Anything else is just another attack from the usual suspects laid upon the usual recipients of said attacks. Elites don't become exponentially richer and more powerful in unison in a real crisis.

don't forget that no other mammals can get covid and pets get everywhere without masks, social distancing and are not locked up.

last mammal report i saw was siberian tigers.. no follow up to the story.

and this from the UK government for England (but not Scotland, Wales or Northern Ireland?)

There is limited evidence available at present, however it suggests that COVID-19:

- may pass from infected humans to certain pets such as dogs, cats and ferrets following close contact
- does not easily pass between cats or most other pets, but this cannot be ruled out
- may pass between ferrets and to humans based on the evidence from mink infections

Pets

In line with public health guidance, you should:

- wash your hands before and after any contact with your pet, its food or bedding
- not share food with your pet

You don't think another possibility is COVID-19 may not actually exist as tested and sold to us? The symptoms people were experiencing may have just been flu, cold, and any other respiratory issues going around. With the PCR cycle thresholds dialed up as they were in the days of the out of control "cases", we were guaranteed to have countless false positives.

I believe it was Tanzania's president that tricked them and had a goat, a Papaya, and some tropical bird secretly tested and got positive results. He then kicked Gates' vaccine empire and the WHO out of the country until suffering a mysterious heart attack and being replaced with a more cooperative President.

IN a more abstract sense, this is humanity facing up to the dregs of its own consciousness, it's own nature, for 'assholeness' must be part of our nature for us to display it. We are faced with our own 'assholeness' and must find a way to beat it. If we do not, we are not worthy of freedom of thought/speech e.t.c.

Our current predicament i.e. allowing people jurisdiction and authority over our sovereign selves, is the problem we (individually and collectively) must overcome. This is equivalent to a teenager having to grow up, just on a species level.

    Let the NUREMBERG TRIALS for 'CRIMES AGAINST HUMANITY' begin & the EZ ERKEW SIONS happen.

  The Nuremberg Code 1947 Permissible Medical Experiments

The great weight of the evidence before us to effect that certain types of medical experiments on human beings, when kept within reasonably well-defined bounds, conform to the ethics of the medical profession generally. The protagonists of the practice of human experimentation justify their views on the basis that such experiments yield results for the good of society that are unprocurable by other methods or means of study. All agree, however, that certain basic principles must be observed in order to satisfy moral, ethical and legal concepts:

1. The voluntary consent of the human subject is absolutely essential. This means that the person involved should have legal capacity to give consent; should be so situated as to be able to exercise free power of choice, without the intervention of any element of force, fraud, deceit, duress, overreaching, or other ulterior form of constraint or coercion; and should have sufficient knowledge and comprehension of the elements of the subject matter involved as to enable him to make an understanding and enlightened decision. This latter element requires that before the acceptance of an affirmative decision by the experimental subject there should be made known to him the nature, duration, and purpose of the experiment; the method and means by which it is to be conducted; all inconveniences and hazards reasonably to be expected; and the effects upon his health or person which may possibly come from his participation in the experiment.
2. The duty and responsibility for ascertaining the quality of the consent rests upon each individual who initiates, directs, or engages in the experiment. It is a personal duty and responsibility which may not be delegated to another with impunity.
3. The experiment should be such as to yield fruitful results for the good of society, unprocurable by other methods or means of study, and not random and unnecessary in nature.

4. The experiment should be so designed and based on the results of animal experimentation and a knowledge of the natural history of the disease or other problem under study that the anticipated results justify the performance of the experiment.
5. The experiment should be so conducted as to avoid all unnecessary physical and mental suffering and injury.
6. No experiment should be conducted where there is an a priori reason to believe that death or disabling injury will occur; except, perhaps, in those experiments where the experimental physicians also serve as subjects.
7. The degree of risk to be taken should never exceed that determined by the humanitarian importance of the problem to be solved by the experiment.
8. Proper preparations should be made and adequate facilities provided to protect the experimental subject against even remote possibilities of injury, disability or death.
9. The experiment should be conducted only by scientifically qualified persons. The highest degree of skill and care should be required through all stages of the experiment of those who conduct or engage in the experiment.
10. During the course of the experiment the human subject should be at liberty to bring the experiment to an end if he has reached the physical or mental state where continuation of the experiment seems to him to be impossible.
11. During the course of the experiment the scientist in charge must be prepared to terminate the experiment at any stage, if he has probable cause to believe, in the exercise of the good faith, superior skill and careful judgment required of him, that a continuation of the experiment is likely to result in injury, disability, or death to the experimental subject.

I believe this too, but nevertheless they must have sprayed some "thing" in the hotspots to create this panic. But even this is questionable, as if you stir up enough fear, you have the drama created out of nothing over night.

So I am convinced that there are bioweapons involved. But it is not (or not anymore) the "big killer"...

Just nothing happens, and there were lies like never before in history, everywhere, around the globe. Hospitals who had a golden time with all the Corona money (not used intensive care beds were highly paid, when they were in waiting line for possible Corona patients, they never came, while others urgent treatment was postponed and much damage created)...

We are in war.

And it is with no doubt the biggest crime this planet in known history goes through, as it is global and everywhere.

I just shake my head in disbelieve every day. And I am most annoyed about the stupidity of humanity. You don't have to wait 10 years, as it is said masks (one example of so many) reduce the IQ. When there is nothing, nothing can be reduced. So no harm done.

IMPORTANT NOTICE ABOUT THE 5G ANTENNAS NETWORK.

According to the official narrative and available leaks , the Summer and the elimination of masks will cause an increase in human crowds: beaches, swimming pools, local festivals ...and spread the virus. Not only this, but the same system will promote, via controlled dissent, anti-covid, anti-government and anti-whatever demonstrations. This has a reason for being in the operation of the 5G antenna network.

It is dangerous to be near a 5G antennas because of the radiation power they can emit; But this is not the only danger. The 5G antenna array can work together so that they can create maximum radiation at a predetermined point without the need to reorient the antenna array to that point. This is achieved by controlling the relative phase of the currents feeding the antennas. In other words: agglomeration of people detected → maximum radiation directed to that point. At maximum radiation, the power of the antennas is concentrated in a relatively small area, so that the intensity of the radiation is enormous. It only takes a moment when the radiation is excessive for something in our biology to break irretrievably.

The expected consequence is fear in people for sudden deaths in crowds of people and after fear comes a heavy hand. In anti-covid demonstrations the organization should wear a radiation meter and some radiation protection system. If not, do not go.

Evidence produced of members of these kakistocracies blatantly flouting the rules which they impose is not only indicative of their arrogant attitude "one rule for us, no rules for them" but it also indicates they already know the risks of contracting Covid by flouting the rules are minimal.

Before we jump ahead and wonder how the future will judge this sad period, we need to realize it's not over.

Flu season will return. And along with it the hysteric response of governments and their Vaxxi-mopes.

This is all Big Pharma and their lackies. They have bought the government. And they expect services rendered.

There's a weird disconnect going on here. People who are vaccinated should be the least concerned about getting sick, not the most, and yet the roles are reversed. I guess it speaks to the psychology of people who rush out to get vaccinated at the first hint of a problem. Same people that line up for flu vaccines every year.

Cirdan PREMIUM 6 days ago (Edited)

It's a religious thing. The people lining up for the shots are like Catholics lining up to take Holy Communion. They believe in the State like Christians believe in God. They believe in Science like Christians believe in Jesus. Instead of Saint Francis and Saint Patrick they have Saint Darwin and Saint Pasteur. Instead of Original Sin they have Critical Race Theory and Global Warming. Instead of crosses on necklaces, they have signs in their yard that say "Love is Love, Science is Real..."

Trump Aides Prepared Insurrection Act Order During Debate Over Protests

Trump was talked out of the plan by the three officials. But a separate group of White House staff members wanted to leave open the option for Trump to invoke the Insurrection Act to call in the military to patrol the streets of the capital.

https://news.yahoo.com/trump-aides-prepared-insurrection-act-141012690.html?.tsrc=daily_mail&uh_test=1_02

'Trump to invoke the Insurrection Act to call in the military to patrol the streets'

This has been a plan of the globalists for decades however the article doesn't specify whether the troops would be national guard or the regular military such as Army.

The globalists sent is "the Chosen One" political messiah for the common man to accept tyranny!

As it turned out Trump was more of a do nothing, or very little, president but did help pump up the stock market, cut taxes for the upper level wealthy and push through a questionable and deadly "vaccine" in a hurry for a hyped up pandemic! Nice job!

I guess what Trump meant by making America great again was making it great only for the well off, such as himself!

Orrrr.....maybe Trump was unleashed to turn the Left into a bunch of incoherent, blathering TDS lunatics so obsessed with the "Orange Bad Man" they wouldn't notice they were being destroyed.

▲ 12 ▼ 1 Reply ↩

pmc 6 days ago (Edited)

If you don't understand he was a globalist puppet I guess you'll never understand how they operate.

Here's one of many clues:

Rupert Murdoch, a hardcore Zionist, ran Fox! There was an episode on the Simpsons about Trump being president along with the staged escalator images in the cartoon and real life. Totally scripted!

Trump was sponsored by Zionists! They were/are scripting both sides!

Soros was deified while at the same time Trump's son in law had business dealings with him!

And exactly what period in history did he mean when he said "Again"? Did he mean when the government took land from and destroyed native populations? (I seems to remember a commandment or two prohibiting such actions.) Or when the country had problems with labor?

He never really specified what period in the country's history he was talking about! But it sure made for a catchy phrase like "build back better"!

Con jobs 24/7!

I see by the down arrows the Trump cult is still going strong! Sure I always put total faith in an egotistical lying adulterous individual.... and you wonder why the US is in trouble!

Dafuq are you talking about?

"Is there actually a super bug that kills three out of every ten..." <- You asked this.

No one ever made that claim about CoV-2 that I'm aware of. The panic back in March 2020 was "10% IFR", that is, 1 in 10 because that was the claim out of Italy, that 1 in 10 people who sought treatment died and this was extrapolated to "1 in 10 who get the disease die" by a media hell-bent on selling fear porn.

Since no one ever claimed 3/10 for CoV-2, how the hell would I know what you're referencing?

Are there viruses with such IFRs? Yes. Do they spread very well? No. If they did our species wouldn't have made it this far.

Global organizations have a strategy of "partnering" with governments.

this allows globalists like Gates, Schwab, Soros etc. to steer projects and events and control their outcomes their strategy is simple: disrupt and destroy where they can.

the reason: it is very difficult to design and build productively and safely for the future, and there is, frankly, no profit in it.

However, by destroying and tearing down, one creates CRISIS, and as we all know, crisis benefits those who have money lying around waiting to be invested.

IOW, the wealthiest of the wealthy can profit in any situation, but they make the fattest profits most quickly when cities and nations are destroyed and people are dying.

that's when they buy up real estate and resources for pennies on the dollar.

Eventually they will own the entire free world.

Never in modern times has a health issue been so flagrantly politicized, nor wielded as a club, as the Wuhan virus has been. Outside a few rational locales, almost every nation drank the COVID Kool-Aid, competing to see who could enforce the stupidest rules.

The writers of the Protocols of Zion were right, people are sheep. Makes little difference which time period discussed or the level of education. People inherently are sheep with a small percentage of wolves.

Tonight both tea tree and clary sage aromatherapy oils were wiped onto 10 Heartfelt Energizers, which employ the same principles as Rotating Orgonite.

Tea tree is known for fighting infections. It also fights fungus.

Clary sage has a property that improves IQ and can lower blood pressure. It is also beneficial for depression which could be a common stressor right now.

The hope is that the EMF generating Energizers will promote the essence, or signatures, of the oils and send them far and wide thereby benefitting a lot of people. I hope you find that it helps you.

Here's something a CCP agent pushing maximum fear and unnecessary experimental injections on young population might condone. From the daily vomit...

Daily Mail: 'One month to fully vaccinate. Or else'

This is larger than just virus fear mongering.

The US will ultimately be disarmed. Can't have a NWO with a population retaining the means to disrupt or resist. From a globalist domination perspective...pandemic, war, and starvation will satisfy the objective. Cripple the population through pandemic fear and implement injection program to sterilize or worse. Purge the military, cast blame and foment war with China, etc. to further weaken the homeland. Topics tin-foilers have been chatting about are steadily become reality.
