STORY AT-A-GLANCE

- › A 2023 study published in the Cochrane Database of Systematic Reviews found wearing masks “makes little or no difference” in COVID-19 transmission
- › The New York Times got involved and columnist Zeynep Tufekci published an opinion piece titled, “Here’s Why the Science Is Clear That Masks Work,” in rebuttal – and reached out to Cochrane
- › Cochrane’s editor in chief released a statement about the study, stating the implication “masks don’t work” is an “inaccurate and misleading interpretation,” and they were calling on the authors to change the study’s summary and abstract
- › The study’s authors were blindsided by the statement, and the lead author reiterated, “There is just no evidence that they [masks] make any difference. Full stop”
- › In 2006, the Bill & Melinda Gates Foundation gave a $1.15-million grant to Cochrane, which subsequently published controversial and heavily criticized research in favor of HPV vaccines, which Gates has widely supported

The Cochrane Database of Systematic Reviews (CDSR) has long been considered a gold standard in research, as its reviews take into account all available empirical evidence to reach conclusions about any given topic. A systematic review is essentially a "study of studies," which can generate "authoritative and reliable information."¹

Their reviews are then updated every few years to ensure they reflect the latest research² and are considered valuable decision-making tools for researchers, health care workers and policy makers alike.

Unfortunately, Cochrane's unbiased reputation has been tarnished, and its editor in chief, Karla Soares-Weiser, appears to have sold out to the mainstream narrative, going so far as to throw her own researchers under the bus in the process. It all stems back to a study on masks – one of the most controversial topics of the pandemic.

Cochrane Review Finds Masks Are Worthless

A team of researchers led by Tom Jefferson of the University of Oxford has been studying "interventions for the interruption or reduction of the spread of respiratory viruses" since 2006. Beginning in 2010, they began focusing on "physical interventions," – including screening at entry ports, isolation, quarantine, physical distancing, personal protection, hand hygiene, face masks, glasses and gargling – to prevent respiratory virus transmission.³

The review was updated in 2011, 2020 and again in 2023.⁴ The latest update added 11 new randomized controlled trials (RCTs) and cluster-RCTs, six of which were conducted during the COVID-19 pandemic, for a total number of 78 RCTs reviewed. In terms of medical and surgical masks, the team found "moderate-certainty evidence" that they're useless compared to no masks:⁵

"Wearing masks in the community probably makes little or no difference to the outcome of influenza-like illness (ILI)/COVID-19 like illness compared to not wearing masks ... Wearing masks in the community probably makes little or no difference to the outcome of laboratory-confirmed influenza/SARS-CoV-2 compared to not wearing masks."

Even in the case of N95 and P2 respirators, no clear benefit was found. In the study's plain language summary, it's noted:⁶

"Four studies were in healthcare workers, and one small study was in the community. Compared with wearing medical or surgical masks, wearing N95/P2 respirators probably makes little to no difference in how many people have confirmed flu (5 studies; 8407 people); and may make little to no difference in how many people catch a flu-like illness (5 studies; 8407 people), or respiratory illness (3 studies; 7799 people)."

Cochrane Editor Calls Mask Study 'Inaccurate and Misleading'

During the pandemic, you may remember, magical thinking relating to masks created one of the most polarized debates in U.S. history and led to "anti-maskers" being labeled as "grandma killers."⁷ So you can imagine the uproar when Cochrane released its findings.

True to form, The New York Times got involved and columnist Zeynep Tufekci published an opinion piece titled, "Here's Why the Science Is Clear That Masks Work,"⁸ in rebuttal and a video rebuttal that you can view below.

"Tufekci argued that despite no high-quality data, we could conclude, based on poor evidence, that masks do work," Maryanne Demasi, Ph.D., a former medical scientist with the University of Adelaide and former reporter for ABC News in Australia, reported on Substack. "Tufekci also reached out to Cochrane for comment, and presumably, pressured Cochrane into publishing a statement on its website."⁹

In the statement, Soares-Weiser, Cochrane's editor in chief, stated the finding that "masks don't work" is an "inaccurate and misleading interpretation," and they were "engaging with the review authors with the aim of updating the Plain Language Summary and abstract."¹⁰ "Cochrane's statement was interpreted widely as an 'apology,' and in some cases, tweeters¹¹ believed the review was 'retracted,'" Demasi explained.¹²

Authors: We Don't Change Reviews Based on 'What Media Wants'

Demasi spoke with lead author Jefferson about the unexpected statement. "It was upsetting," Jefferson said. "Cochrane has thrown its own researchers under the bus again. The apology issued by Cochrane is from Soares-Weiser, not from the authors of the review."¹³

Demasi also interviewed Jefferson after the mask study was initially published, and he was clear about its findings, stating, "There is just no evidence that they make any difference. Full stop."¹⁴

Noting that there wasn't much change in the findings from the 2020 review to 2023, Jefferson said the study was ready to be released in early 2020, as the pandemic was starting, "but Cochrane held it up for seven months before it was finally published in November 2020. Those seven months were crucial. During that time, it was when policy about masks was being formed. Our review was important, and it should have been out there."¹⁵

He believes that Cochrane intentionally delayed publication of the mask study until it could massage the results to fit with the narrative that masks work:¹⁶

"For some unknown reason, Cochrane decided it needed an 'extra' peer-review. And then they forced us to insert unnecessary text phrases in the review like 'this review doesn't contain any covid-19 trials,' when it was obvious to anyone reading the study that the cut-off date was January 2020.

... During those 7 months, other researchers at Cochrane produced some unacceptable pieces of work, using unacceptable studies, that gave the 'right answer.'"

This time around, Jefferson and colleagues don't intend to let Cochrane bully them into changing their study results to appease the media. He told Demasi:¹⁷

"We've decided that we are going to write to Cochrane leadership and complain about the way this has been handled ... In this instance, Soares-Weiser has gone outside the normal channels and made decisions without any consultation with the authors of the review. It is unacceptable.

... I will also contact the New York Times about the article where Tufekci used her platform to attack my credibility. She mentioned my name six times in her piece, despite there being multiple authors on the Cochrane review.

She has no track record of publishing original research on acute respiratory illnesses, and it appears that if she does not like what's in the review, it's open season on the scientists ... We are the copyright holders of the review, so we decide what goes in or out of the review. We do not change our reviews on the basis of what the media wants."

Cochrane Crushed Under Weight of Bill Gates' Money

When you're one of the richest people in the world, you can buy virtually anything you want – including control of the media and academia. In the past, the Bill & Melinda Gates Foundation (BMGF) funded the placement of "educational" messages in popular TV shows such as "ER," "Law & Order: SVU," and "Private Practice," including topics such as HIV prevention, surgical safety and the spread of infectious diseases, i.e., vaccinations.¹⁸

In 2006, the Bill & Melinda Gates Foundation (BMGF) also gave a $1.15-million grant to Cochrane to "support the development of Cochrane's next generation evidence system, with a specific focus on maternal and child health ... a major component of Cochrane's wider technology development program designed to address the challenge of ever-increasing health data."¹⁹

As for why BMGF and other foundations that funded Cochrane may have been interested in this venture, Children's Health Defense reported:²⁰

"[T]he foundations' targeted pots of money appear to be helping Cochrane build a 'next-generation evidence system' that will use technological advances and machine learning to maximize the impact of 'Big Data.'

Vaccination is one of the policy arenas where the rollout of Big Data is being most enthusiastically embraced, with researchers acclaiming Big Data's potential to streamline the delivery of 'rationally designed vaccines' and to 'track the success of vaccination campaigns' ...

BMGF is actively promoting Big Data as a vaccination tool in the developing world, where it can 'track pandemics' and help vaccine workers 'determine what percent of a region they have immunized from a disease.'"

In 2018, a Cochrane review of human papillomavirus (HPV) vaccine²¹ was heavily criticized for conflicts of interest of the authors, including Dr. Lauri Markowitz, a CDC employee involved in the HPV vaccination program.

In a BMJ rapid response, it was further noted, "The Bill and Melinda Gates Foundation has been very influential in promoting HPV vaccination. In regards to the Cochrane HPV vaccine review, Cochrane has a conflict of interest in that it is a beneficiary of Bill & Melinda Gates Foundation funding."²² Children's Health Defense added:²³

"A ... Cochrane review highly favorable to the human papillomavirus (HPV) vaccine – one of the most disastrous vaccines ever rushed onto the market – suggests that the foundations are getting plenty of bang for their charitable buck.

Despite ample indications that manufacturers used phony placebos and other statistical gimmicks to hide the serious risks of HPV vaccines, and mounting evidence of other 'deceptive practices ...' [the review] of HPV vaccines reported no increased risk of serious adverse effects and concluded that deaths reported in HPV studies 'have been judged not to be related to the vaccine.'

These conclusions likely were well received by ... BMGF, which has supported the HPV vaccine's introduction around the world."

Cochrane Founder Thrown Out for Not Following Vax Dogma

Suffice to say, even "gold-standard" research organizations like Cochrane have been infiltrated by globalists looking to further their world domination narrative – mask-wearing included. If there were any doubt, consider the story of professor Dr. Peter Gøtzsche, a Danish physician-researcher who co-founded the Cochrane Collaboration in 1993.

Cochrane's reputation remained remarkably unblemished all the way up until 2018, when Gøtzsche and Cochrane-affiliated researchers Lars Jørgensen and Jefferson – of the featured mask study – published a scathing critique of Cochrane's review of the HPV vaccine, pointing out methodological flaws and conflicts of interest.²⁴

Gøtzsche was subsequently expelled by the Cochrane governing board, with the board insisting his removal was due to "repeated misuse of official letterhead to espouse personal views" and not due to his criticism of Cochrane's HPV review.²⁵ Four board members (Dr. Gerald Gartlehner, David Hammerstein Mintz, Joerg Meerpohl and Nancy Santesso) resigned in protest of Gotzsche's removal from the governing board.²⁶

As it stands, Demasi suggests Cochrane may be a sinking ship, one that's continuing its tradition of succumbing to pressure over controversial scientific conclusions, even if they're sound. Jefferson, meanwhile, told Demasi that the editor's attack on the mask study may backfire:²⁷

"I think Soares-Weiser has made a colossal mistake. It sends the message that Cochrane can be pressured by reporters to change their reviews. People might think, if they don't like what they read in a Cochrane review because it contradicts their dogma, then they can compel Cochrane to change the review. It has set a dangerous precedent."

Everything is a scam and a crime against humanity: the science dominated by BigPharma and government institutions, the masks, the origin of C-19, PCR tests, trials and the effectiveness of biological weapons against C-19 and the emergency use authorization (EUA) . Scientific research is subject to the power of large corporations commanded by the globalist elite and diabolical characters such as Bill Gates, who do not try to generate knowledge about reality but seek to adapt reality to the manipulation of power. data science, in which computer science and social science come together to produce and systematize enormous amounts of information The allopathic doctrine follows what the globalists say.

The Fauci cult was “all in” with bunk mandates for the scam, including lockdowns, social distancing, masking, vaccinations, boosters, Remdesivir, ventilators, and using the unvaccinated as scapegoats for every sickness and death In late January an Oxford epidemiologist published the most rigorous and comprehensive analysis of scientific studies investigating the efficacy of face masks against C-19 and flatly admitted that plastic-filled mouths and nose veils are certifiably useless. and now floating used and polluted in the world's oceans, they are a worthless joke.

As for the "studies" that the government presented as "evidence" that the masks work, Jefferson told Demasi that they are all corrupted and should never have been accepted as "solid science." flawed observational studies," he explained. In a nutshell, the review found that states with mask mandates did no better than states without them in terms of covid cases, hospitalizations and deaths. The masks are just a political symbol, in other words, not a viable medical intervention.

This was one of the most divisive aspects of the Scamdemic. I honestly think that the wearing of masks hits some psychological sweet spot of security, overriding logic. Like how the same areas of the brain are stimulated by a real tiger or an image of a tiger on a TV screen, hence why people can be frightened of something that they know isn't real. Mask-wearers I've spoken to about masks seem to feel like it at least does something because it looks like it does... I honestly don't care if they so wish, I just don't want the same thing enforced on me, and would like acknowledgement that they can't provide much evidence of masks doing what they claim they do...

Gui, Risk vs. Reward. Supposedly the way what is or isn't done medically. Things are so out of whack the Risk or Reward focus, especially since No Liability shields Too Big P-Harma on vaccines, has shifted from what is the Risk vs. Reward from positive health outcomes to the Risk is all on the Public & the taxpayers. Reward is based on No Liability for the 1% & those doing their maintenance dirty work for them. Players who get paychecks, some get very fat paychecks. When years before all this Planned Demic, Fauci & Gates most likely had long conversations about No Liability Shields afforded Vaccines. Is it a stretch with Gates past history of malicious monopolistic marketing practices that he would jump on this clause with both hands?

The No Liability for many already a problem before Gates took Pole Position to push those beholding on his payroll became involved. His behavior so bad he ended up testifying in Congress for a mild public spanking leading to his formation of the Bill & Milinda Gates Foundation to pump out a White Knight, altruistic, generous caring philanthropist image firewall protecting him from being seen for what he is. If the Risk is all on our Health, Resources & Treasury as individuals as well as country, & the Rewards are $$$, Power & Control for WEF/WHO/Gates & all those who stand with them, how can anything change?

This method of Risk vs. Reward leads to there was never a Pandemic, but clever Massaged Marketing changing long established & known definition & useful practices. There was never an experimental new product as the experiment to its effectiveness & disastrous results were exposed many years ago, in third world countries. Marketed as vaccines and delivered through Jab/s, mandated on the public the current experiment seems to be how much can we get away with. A sweet Risk vs. Reward in recent history widespread throughout the Rockefeller/Gates/Too Big to Fail P-Harma when risk is too big to ignore, pay penny penalties.

Using masks for a virus that doesnt exist will never work . Masks are a sign that the slave will obey his MASTER and be his obedient  no matter what . Oh no I cursed that will make me not credible for the calm and meek . Remember during the false flag 1918 bird brain flu the researchers could not spread the flu flu no matter what they tried . People started keeling over when they came out with the life saving 5 grams of aspirin every couple of hours causing pneumonia and drowning in ones own body . Then came the miricale of the vaxx to save the day with the same death saving results of the 2019 Scamdemic , With all deadly viruses you must have a catalyst to do the killing because deadly viruses dont exist like they say just deadly scientists Hell bent on control .

Its funny how they need a super microscope to study these tiny dangerous killing machines but then tell you to wear a mask to stop the spread . Like asking a chain link fence to stop a freaking gnat from escaping . People are so clueless maybe they need to be weeded out .

Thank you all for your interesting comments. Masks = fear + "vaccines" + physical and mental illnesses + pollution. Corrupt science causes suffering, disease and death. More than 400 studies show the failure of COVID policies and mandates. Vaccines are the incentive to boost the pandemic and the masks have only been for control, not for safety. Some of us don't like the government controlling our genes and our immune systems. The Covid mask is just a tool for everyone to get vaccinated and the CDC knew that all along. The first genocidal trick of bringing all minorities to the vaccine outlets failed, so they tried the mask trick. Masks and "Vaccines" have been the tools to instill fear of death and disease, it is a sign that the world is in a pandemic, and many are supposed to be in fear and panic at all times.

The use of masks showed that the government can tell everyone what to do and force them to do something without really explaining why. They want us all to feel sorry for killing all those poor vaccinated people who are supposed to be immune to what they say we spread. The science was falsified, the size of the holes in the masks at least 5 to 10 times larger than the Whuan coronavirus. People have been subjected to the yoke of tyrants, defense mechanisms, and blind obedience to authority that are part of the mass formation psychosis acting as a form of brainwashing and mind control by the mass media subjected to the deep state.

Ian Miller talked about how masking narratives are affecting the way people think. Miller is the author of the book "Unmasked: The Global Failure of COVID Mask Mandates". He noted that people followed mask mandates out of fear: simply because they didn't know what COVID was all about from the start. "Remember, the WHO was saying something like three and a half percent of people who got COVID were going to die." "Once things open up and you see everyone wearing a mask and you don't want to be the only person there and cause a scene and have a conflict and get yelled at because you're not doing what everyone else is doing," Miller.

he said. In promoting masks a generation of censors has been stifling the scientific debate about masks on social media platforms. When Scott Atlas, a member of Trump's White House coronavirus task force, questioned the effectiveness of masks last year, Twitter removed his tweet. These acts of censorship were widely denounced, but the scientific police of social networks are not intimidated, as I found out about the damage caused to children by the use of masks. The "independent fact-checkers" affiliated with a nonprofit group called Science Feedback, which has partnered with Facebook in what it calls a "fight against misinformation." The group describes itself as "nonpartisan," a claim I would label "mostly false" after studying dozens of its fact checks that impose progressive orthodoxy on climate change and public health.

Many studies have been done on masks. After reviewing 65 scientific articles (original studies, literature reviews, and meta-analyses), the researchers concluded that there was statistically significant evidence of what they called "Mask-Induced Burnout Syndrome."

I have never seen anything destroy the happiness and carefree world of childhood in my lifetime as masks did. The masking of children for the entire school day, after school singing in choir, outdoor sports including cross country (!) was the most diabolical, absurd, cruel, insane form of psychological manipulation I have ever witnessed. I still cannot forgive the teachers who told the kids every minute to pull their masks up throughout the school day. We still have teachers and students who cannot take them off. I see a mask on anyone to this day and I cringe. Just diabolical!

I've been seeing a man and his daughter wearing masks and goggles at the health food store where I shop for the past three years. She is about 10-11 years old now and is becoming quite chubby--like her father--probably due to lack of exercise because of mask wearing. They even wear them in their car when leaving. I've heard him telling her to pull her mask up when she's outside the store. I feel terrible for her and can only hope she isn't being abused in other ways.

It is terrible to think that children have been locked in their homes for lack of air and sun in the middle of nature. In addition to the serious danger to mental and physical health of the terrible masks, knowing that there is no risk except serious previous pathologies Many children have natural immunity to COVID-19 and are also not significant vectors of transmission. So there really was no need to impose draconian COVID restrictions on children for fear of their safety or the safety of others, let alone a vaccine that would have lifelong health consequences.

murder of defenseless children. Consider long-term health problems, mental and physical health such as respiratory problems. Children are the ones who have suffered the most from the use of masks. A study involving more than 25,000 children reveals that masks are harming schoolchildren in many physical and psychological ways and have a negative effect on their behaviour, focus and interest in learning. These negative effects are censored on social media, underestimated by the media, and ignored by government officials. Of the 25,930 children studied, the database includes at least 17,854 health complaints filed by parents.

These health problems and impairments were seen in approximately 68 percent of masked schoolchildren who were forced to wear face coverings for an average of four and a half hours per day. These included irritability (60%), headache (53%), difficulty concentrating (50%), less happiness (49%), reluctance to go to school/kindergarten (44%), malaise (42%) learning problems (38%) and drowsiness or fatigue (37%). www.researchsquare.com/.../v1

And most seriously, the biological weapons against the C-19 that have caused millions of deaths, diseases and a great economic crisis due to the mandates and confinements of the population. One of the basic tenets of modern medicine is the right to informed consent, but this disappeared as C-19 gripped the world and vaccine companies saw huge opportunities for profit. There has been widespread deception by governments, public health officials, social media platforms and the media, with people losing liberties at every turn for failing to comply with mask and vaccination mandates or just express your opinions about the situation. This is the subject of the documentary called Uninformed Consent.

The film promises an in-depth look at the narrative surrounding COVID-19. It explores not only who controls it, but also how it has been used to inject nearly everyone on Earth with new and untested technology. It is a sobering look at the destruction of human rights, not just on a larger scale but on a more personal level through the story of the devastating loss of one person, a story too many people can relate to these days. The film also features commentary from doctors and scientists who were brave enough to take a stand and speak out against Big Pharma and other elites who are profiting from global vaccine mandates. librti.com/uninformed-consent

I sewed a mask from netting and an old T-shirt, wore that for a few weeks, received a lot of laughs and great conversations but then signs started popping up about acceptable materials and I was turned away. I was escorted out of Costco by a Mgr bc my nose was out, I refused to cover it. We had a heated exchange with me asking if he actually believed a bandana was affective against this deadly virus? He gave an incredulous glare and with that I tore off my mask, walked out with my entire face exposed, breathing freely rather than a little nose longing for freedom. I absolutely rebelled at every opportunity. Lost family and friends; they chose smug, fear based insanity, their choice. I still get po'd thinking about that crap. People were completely nuts!!

Kat, I've got a better one. Heated discussion with a grocery store manager. I returned with black shade netting over my face. The kind that blocks all of 65% of sunlight! About 5% of the protection compared to a lady wearing a veil at a funeral. A-OK with him. Then I started wearing my motorcycle helmet with the visor OPEN. I stopped and asked him if it was acceptable. He replied "As long as you're covering your face". Insanity.

Great points and so true about so many people being completely nuts. Reminds me of my husband's work - a contractor required its staff to wear masks. One supervisor wore one but he cut a hole in it so he could smoke cigarettes. My husband and fellow workers got a laugh out of seeing the dude walking around with a mask on and smoking a cigarette through that hole in his mask.

It seems that rural areas fared better, at least where I live. We observed the masks bit for a short time, then people simply did not wear them and no one forced us to. I do see some people, seniors who still do, but very few. I recently had to go to the hospital overnight. They tested me, I was negative just like I told the nurse. She said if I wanted to walk in the hall, had to wear a mask but in my room did not. What nurses and drs coming and going from my room, they took their masks down when came in. Sort of proves to me that masks are ineffective or they would wear them all the time.

Yes, Randall, contact with nature, an air free of toxins and a healthy diet will make us free from the harmful action of pathogens. First of all we must power the natural immunity that is the one that will defeat the C-19. For this we must take care of "the ground", that is, the internal environment of the body, to defeat any external germ. What Bchamp called "ground" is very close to what modern medicine has now called the innate immune system. We must consider the adaptation of people to diseases, through a suitable modulation of the immune system. Traces of viral DNA can be found scattered throughout the human genome and scientists have verified this. When an epidemic occurs at some point in evolution, the population that is attacked by any pathogen adapts. First of all, take care of a good adaptation to natural immunity.

Does your study prove that cloth masks or scarf used as a mask allow a virus to pass through to the 'warmer' environment? Or, does the oft described mosquito flying through a cyclone fence suggest something?

Wish I could find the study? Not worried about "germs", concerned with Terrain conditions that favor opportunistic bugs to proliferate....Cold dried out sinuses lead to the normal reaction of a runny nose attempting to flush out germs....When nose doesn't run NAC orally and nebulized is called for to thin and increase mucus flow..so needed in case of covid "dry Cough"...and of course nebulized H2O2 to destroy germs/debris....

The truth will, always, out. But now a greater truth has become very evident indeed; humanity can no longer hold any faith in the once great scientific institutions such as Cochrane, and not just Cochrane, as it seems almost all of them, particularly surrounding the existing pharmaceutical industries ; have sold their once great credibility to the devil, for handfuls of silver cast at their proverbial feet. Madness!!

The results show the religious MASK wearing pattern of behavior has been quite accurately described as wearing of the "covid scientists' Hijab". Scientists with masks strapped to the right place on the face (shockingly along with the rest of the community) could be now judged as true believers in the covid claptrap.

Chris This is not to do with 20 pieces of silver. (Without the original version..there would have been no Christianity. This is ALL ABOUT fear. Just look at the ordinary GPs who now say they were threatened with being struck off if they didnt " follow orders". At the highest level, the "9 11" syndrome was and is, the ultimate threat. Yes, Chris, in these days you can very easily see how the "leaders" play science at will and turn on their "lie" meters and you can also see the desperation of people who try to live honestly and find themselves with a world where money, even if it is the product of corruption, is a great motivating force to achieve more prestige and power. Being honest, helpful, generous, and other virtues can get into an unwanted realm, where small ethical transgressions pave the way for larger transgressions to come. Leaders should be very aware that corruption money is not the way to achieve happiness. Being healthy, considerate, honest, helpful, generous, self-sacrificing, and much more should be seen as strange, ridiculous, and unrealistic.

No matter how dark the lies, the light of truth will prevail. An entire pharmaceutical industry has been built around this bad behavior and sells its products to the highest bidder. Corruption and greed has infected modern society to the point that we are killing ourselves and everything around us. Greed is a serious danger for people, and above all, it has great significance for the leaders of this planet because it opens the door to vanity. When these leaders believe they are important, powerful, they are like gods and in the end, they are slaves to all vices, such as greed and pride.

what was not noted is 1. Fauci, himself, stated Masks do not work but given people 'security' and 2. WHO also stated that masks do not work other than to give people something to do and, probably more importantly, is a way to gain control over the public, getting them to submit to a narrative being promoted. It is really frightening that an institution so highly regarded for its independent standards of science can so easily be bought off. The publicity of this buy off was not enough to shame the organization and bring it back to its original high standard. No wonder Gates can laugh at how easy it was for him to become a health guru--a few million dollars for marketers to rebrand him was all it took! He did this during an interview series by ???Jon Stewart.

Other than that, I only use them when I am spray painting and working with wood on the table saw, especially with cedar, which its dust can be detrimental to one's lungs. Cancer and such.

Posted On 03/31/2023

Yes, badboy, we must protest another consumerism that causes diseases and pollution, masks. The Swansea University team found that heavy metals and plastic fibers were released when the masks were immersed in water. Before the pandemic, we sought to reduce the use of plastic straws, reduce packaging, but now we are seeing millions of these masks are exacerbating the pollution of the planet and seriously affecting biodiversity. Siliceous fragments and leachable organic and inorganic chemicals were observed in all disposable masks. Worrying heavy metals, such as lead in association with silicon-bearing fragments, and other leachable metals such as cadmium, antimony, and copper, were detected.

Also leachable polar organic species related to plastic additives and pollutants, polyamide monomer and oligomers, surfactant molecules, dye-type molecules and polyethylene glycol, representing environmental toxicity. Masks are usually collected, packaged, and sent to landfill, or burned, releasing particles into the atmosphere that end up as "plastic rain." or "plastic smog" that can get into your food, drinking water, and the air you breathe.

It just never ends with the Covidians. It's why I've long held that this is not about public health and probably never has been; it's a religion, a very lucrative religion provided one subscribes to all tenets of the faith's dogma, never questions the fallibility of the priesthood even when there is ample reason for doing so, and continues parroting harmful guidance disguised as science. If any part of that is off-base, please point it out. The CDC is still pushing jabs on infants six months and older. Still. Despite a raft of data showing young children to be at almost zero risk while there is ample evidence documenting the potential harm of vaccines. It's as if these want the "sudden, unexplained" deaths to keep happening.

It's as if the excess deaths in several countries are a feature, not a bug. It's as if causing a host of heart and reproductive problems among otherwise healthy people is the goal. How can anyone draw the opposite conclusion based on the actions of those involved? I realize those points violate our expectations of officials and so-called experts, but when you exhausted the plausible reasons for explaining something, you have to consider alternative conclusions. These people are not stupid. They can read. They can understand data. They are choosing to ignore it and they count on the far too many unquestioning people who remain in society to dutifully nod their heads and keep rolling up their sleeves.

Yes, covid was a) a big money maker, b) a test for controlling an entire population, and c) a political agenda to promote the Great Reset of the WEF. Remember lockdowns forced people to use technology for shopping and bill paying and communication, etc. It is a totally controllable process where people were conditioned to accept living with this isolation. It was a priming process to ready the public for "social credit cards" which can be used to control people completely. The entire society is increasingly being monopolized by corporate control which was the Gates goal. Vaccines are just one facet of this goal, a multi-faceted agenda to undo individual nation states and remove controlling powers from access by the public.

principia-scientific.org/the-science-that-shows-why-masks-fail-against.. An article from the New England Journal of Medicine says this; "We know that wearing a mask outside health care facilities offers little, if any, protection from infection. Public health authorities define a significant exposure to Covid-19 as face-to-face contact within 6 feet with a patient with symptomatic Covid-19 that is sustained for at least a few minutes (and some say more than 10 minutes or even 30 minutes). The chance of catching Covid-19 from a passing interaction in a public space is therefore minimal.

In many cases, the desire for widespread masking is a reflexive reaction to anxiety over the pandemic." www.nejm.org/.../NEJMp2006372 Did you know that studies show that when doctors DON'T WEAR MASKS during surgery, that post operative infections DROP by 50%? This ALONE tells you HOW DANGEROUS and USELESS masks are as they become a bacteria factory that the person then SPREADS all their germs ALL OVER the place with every breath. pubmed.ncbi.nlm.nih.gov/1853618

I don't know why this is still such an area of debate when it's been known for decades that masks don't work to stop any such viruses because viruses are too small even for an N95 mask. They ONLY work on the INHALATION, meaning they're only even designed to stop YOU from breathing bad thing IN.. NOT PREVENT you from spreading germs around! This is why even in surgical settings especially not only do they not work but they actually increase post-operative infections by 50%. Doc Graham: MASKS! Folks, let a surgeon of 30 years (a.k.a. me) teach you about MASKS. COVID 19 virus particle size averages 125 nanometers (0.125microns); the range is 0.06 microns to .14 microns; one needs an electron microscope to see a COVID 19 virus particle.

The hoarded N 95 mask filters down to 0.3 microns. So, N95 masks block few, if any, virions (virus particles). This is a simple fact, so you just cannot argue against it. Other surgical masks, home-made masks and kerchiefs do the following: 1) they allow free passage both ways (in and out) of COVID 19 virions. 2) they become a warm, damp or moist reservoir of COVID 19 particles in asymptomatic "carriers" (estimated to be 85% of all people tested).

For surgeons, years of training, intimidation, and humiliation teach us to touch NOTHING but our surgical field. Lay people constantly touch, re-arrange, and manipulate their "masks", wonderfully inoculating thousands of virus particles onto their bare or (even worse, gloved) hands. So, these absurd masks ENCOURAGE the fomite transmission ("infected" articles-to-hand-to face transmission of the virus). So, go ahead and allow idiots to delude and mislead you to the false sense of security - and danger - of masks!" principia-scientific.org/why-masks-dont-work-against-covid-19

Yes, RichJedi, "You can fool everybody for a while. You can fool some all the time. But you can't fool everyone all the time." Abraham Lincoln. White House chief medical adviser Fauci doesn't actually believe face masks are effective in protecting people from the Wuhan coronavirus. The true science reported by Dr. Mercola highlights the failure of the WHO, the danger of confinement due to serious indoor transmission and useless masks that have been a hoax for the control and manipulation of the masses. The masks have been an incentive to take the venom of the snake, the terrible biological weapons and to instill fear, to enhance this false pandemic. World crises are often caused, and other times unleashed by the corruption of institutions, and large multinationals, which take advantage of the situation to grow, while the poor are getting poorer.

The great fortunes increasingly store more capital, while the underdeveloped countries and the working class of the Western countries experience the greatest calamities. What COVID did, and what the pandemic did, is show us what we don't want: surveillance, censorship, lockdowns, and mandates are a preview of a future where we subscribe to the history of control, of progress equal to control. . We were shown that so we could choose clearly, intentionally, and consciously. Right now we have a very clear choice. Of course one of them is to preserve our human integrity and own our body and soul.

Later we learnt it was tested on 7 or 8 mice. The lady on climate in davos said they "own the science". This is "science for sale". It was always there, predetermined results especially with the Big Pharma. Only this time the bastardisation of scientific research can no longer be covered.

Studies will always have critics since they are designed and funded. Is there any other analysis that can offer some insight? What about trend analysis which is more about looking at large numbers for example did the masks reduce the numbers infected? What about mechanical analysis of masks and wearer adherence, viral size and ease of transmission in public and private settings. What are the conditions and settings that would make a mask protective or not protective as this seems to be the main issue so if the mask was to work what are the hypothetical conditions and properties that must exist for the mask and the virus and do we have these in the public or private setting.

It seems the critics believe that there is a setting where it does work. What is that setting and why does it work given that the virus transmission is mainly aerosol and can hover in the air for many hours after, the masks themselves do not stop aerosols but fluid and must be used meticulously on a regularly bases which means for the term of the pandemic with no slip ups. Perhaps the setting where it may offer benefit is in a short time frame only with a vulnerable group in society if that is the argument then they should pursue that line but in the general setting over a period of years the proof is not there and the reasons are many.

Posted On 03/31/2023

Masks don't exist in a vaccuum. All the conditions you mention are part of the value of masks. When it comes to ultra small microbes the masks that are typically worn, the ones that created a huge profit for the mftrs, are useless. Not mentioned is the harm masks cause. They hold microbes and feed them back in the body via the nose, entering the brain. Thus all those reports of headaches and head colds, etc. Facial fungii infections are common especially when wearing these muzzles all day. Why is they no focus on these actually harms! So even here we have a manipulated conversation with a big piece of the situation effectively eliminated.

Of course masks DO work against respiratory viruses. An airborne virus remains airborne when it encounters a human wearing a mask. This is because the mask is sealed from inside and outside and glued to the human face such that no pathogen, living or otherwise, can ever dream of getting into "its" respiratory passages. This does not need a meta analysis of the findings of RCTs or other analysis to prove. It should be obvious. Why is it that humans ("scientists") want to make issues such as this a big scientific conundrum requiring reams of time, energy and (even) paper to "prove", refute, refute the refutation ad infinitum?

Is it not common sense that an airborne virus cannot be stopped with a mask unless you are stupid enough to seal off your oxygen supply? Science has become a circus not unlike the parliamentary systems of third world "democracies". And the circus clowns are "at it" once again. Hall of mirrors on the one side and a total waste of resources on the other. Sorry, I will continue to trust my observation and intuition. I am unimpressed with both sides of this useless argument as well as other scientific -ups over what should otherwise reasonably be common sense.

But when we look at these years in greater detail, we understand that nothing has been fortuitous. The chaos, pain and rage we have all faced with the corruption of predators who only seek to entrench themselves in their pathetic beliefs of power and money has pushed us out of our comfort zone, made us think outside the box and made us questions that we would never ask ourselves in a normal situation. We need the protection of our conscience with full need of free will.

The entire industry of filtration can now retire or look for a new career. Asbestos removal? No problem, surgical mask - those particles are huge compared to a virus. Clean rooms, contaminated environments, industrial processes, molds, toxins, spores, biohazard areas etc. etc. nothing to worry about the mask has your back!

It has always been my contention about masks, that if one can breathe - that is oxygen can get in and carbon dioxide can get out; then so can the virus. Also, would you re-eat the waste coming out of your rear end? The why re-breathe the waste coming out of your mouth?

If studies are influenced by donors, then donors should never be allowed to prove that they gave the money for that study or person. They can say it but not prove it and in fact anyone should be able to claim it even falsely so that it becomes a question of saying without proof in other words another party acts as go-between and is given the money but the go-between never discloses the donor only that the money has been distributed and the donor can never prove that they gave it since it is essentially anonymous and anyone can say that they gave the money so as to keep it so.

I never believed all the nonsense about this virus from the beginning. Being proactive and doing all the things one should do to create a healthy immune system...I really didn't worry. I got an exemption, so I wouldn't have to wear a mask...and we ordered groceries from the store. The one time we both went marketing we were forced to wear masks. In less than a week my daughter and I came down with Covid at the same time. She had just enough HCQ for one person...and made me take it. I didn't feel well only one night...and went to bed at 6 PM...which was unusual for me as I am a night owl. However, I was up the next morning without anything other than a slight cough for several weeks. My daughter wound up sick for well over a week...and it took her quite awhile to get back to normal. It proved to us both that MASKS DO NOT WORK!!! The virus was so miniscule that it could go through the much larger portals in any masks. It showed the stupidity of those who promoted masks.

So what will it take until people finally stop following the media? I'll say my observation is such that the Plandemic is for one purpose and that is to REDUCE GLOBAL POPULATION!!! There are 9,3 billion hungry locusts. Start speaking of CONTRACEPTION in your family and see how fast the common sense spreads. THINK FOR YOURSELF! Yes masks of highest quality do help. Cheap masks only further the plandemic!!!

I wore a mask when I had to for entrance into grocery stores, dentists & doctors' offices. I usually kept one folded up in my pocketbook to reuse when necessary. I am probably lucky I didn't get a sinus infection. I knew the mask wasn't going to prevent me from getting a virus or spreading it if I were infectious. Without being a virologist or a molecular biologist, I knew the virus particle was too small to be stopped by a flimsy mask. What I would be interested in knowing is how much tonnage of garbage we generated by throwing away used masks. I haven't read that tidbit yet. I don't have to guess where the majority of masks were made. It would not surprise me to read that paper masks contain hazardous chemicals. Since one side is white, they are probably bleached.

And, when they are disposed of, they end up in landfills and possibly our waterways & oceans. Another piece of data I'd like to know is how many times people adjust their masks while wearing them. Whatever that number is, it's probably tripled or quadrupled for children. If one thought masks prevent entry or exit for viruses, all those adjustments would invalidate that theory. And one more idiotic use of masks: people were often required to wear a mask into a restaurant and then took them off at the table to eat & drink. No restaurant has installed a virus zapper over each table. People laugh, cough, sneeze and talk during dinner. Well, maybe not as much talking occurs now that everyone is using a smart phone.

First and foremost it should be clarified that viruses are not alive, they can't reproduce, so it all makes no sense. They are cleansers, so if the pharma liars would tell the truth about that people would/might ask if viruses are there for detox, what to detox from? If one would say to detox from toxins in food, to detox from toxins in drugs, to detox from toxins in the air, to detox from toxins in water, to detox from toxins literally everywhere the whole card house would fall apart and the usurers of the bible couldn't make any money anymore..... "Allopathic medicine is based on the "germ theory", that microbes and viruses, cause disease. Medical science bases the use of vaccines on the theory that the body forms antibodies to "fight" natural viruses.

They believe that these antibodies live on after the virus is contained, thereby creating immunity. First we must consider the facts known to evaluate medicine's viral theory. Science has proved that virus are not alive, that they are predominantly protein but that they contain organic DNA. Science has proved that virus increase only in the presence of live cells, and that they cause certain cells, and/or parts of cells to dissolve. What is believed and taken as fact but not proved, is that viruses are nondiscriminatingly destructive "things" that self-replicate. That is like saying that laundry soap, because it is found in homes inhabited by.."

While I'm not arguing that Cochrane hasn't lost credibility in the last few years, I think the skeptical press, especially, has been sensationalizing what Soares-Weiser said in her statement. If you go to the Cochrane website and read her whole statement – which, disappointingly, is not available as a link from the study page, but one has to look for it under the News tab – it sounds more like she was saying the conclusions of the study were open to misinterpretation and she was asking the authors for less-ambiguous wording in their conclusion. I agree that the extra hoops Jefferson and his team were forced to jump through in the process of publishing the article, and the fact that the editor felt she had to issue a statement due to press pressure, are yet more examples of the dogmatic mainstream narrative and the crushing of what science is supposed to be about.

Well two nurses who do not know each other, one is a family member, the other I met in a shop, both told me masks can cause hypoxia. Now there are many different kinds of masks, the family member said the ones she had at work would not cause hypoxia but that they are expensive and most of the public would not be able to get them. So it all depends on the mask.

Posted On 03/31/2023

Any type of cover over your nose will cause hypoxia - hypoxia is bad for brain health (think dementia), promote the growth of cancers and could result in fainting. Most people are not able to breathe in enough oxygen even without a mask, therefore wearing a mask is making this even worse.

Although I agree with most of what Dr. Mercola writes, as a health care provider, researcher and decades-long immunocompromised autoimmune disease patient, you will never convince me that masks don't reduce transmission. It's almost impossible to do a valid study. Even if you teach people how to properly wear a mask, studies show they still don't follow proper protocol. Further, all you have to do is make the slightest mistake removing it and voila, mask protection undone. And finally, masks don't protect people's eyes. Although masks aren't foolproof, I have no doubt that I'm still alive today because I have a full face mask that covers my eyes and has its own respirator. It's the kind of device you can imagine seeing after a nuclear attack. Granted, this is not your basic N-95 mask, but it proves that the concept of masking is a valid one. It's the deficiencies of the products and their faulty implementation that cause failure.

Posted On 03/31/2023

You could also walk around in a full deep-sea diver's outfit with your own oxygen and that would protect you. But the point of the studies was whether or not masking could help in an epidemic or pandemic real-world situation. The fact that, in practical terms, it's impossible to get people to use masks properly, even assuming they do work, means that masking as a nonpharmaceutical intervention is not really helpful. It's just performative. We can argue all day long about studies. If masking was actually effective, we would have seen real-world effects of that by now.

The fact that there's no good pro-mask study, considering the vast spigot of money available over the last three years to produce one, is pretty telling also. Vulnerable people like yourself are welcome to wear an effective mask, as you do. Just as the people in the cancer clinic I went to (pre-Covid) who were vulnerable due to chemotherapy wore masks, along with their caregivers. But forcing everyone else to wear a mask is arguably unreasonable.

Neither I or my lady friend have been Vaccinated for Covid. However, my lady friend is an Anesthesiologist and is on the front lines of this. She swears by an N95 masks as prevention. She flies all over the world , double masked on airplanes, and she , nor I have gotten Covid. A couple years ago a lady friend of hers, also an Anesthesiologist, worked Very Closely with a young Doctor in Los Angeles who got Covid ..and died. It was pretty big story when it happened. Again, the N95 masks seemed to protect her friend. So, I am wearing a N95 mask when I go to Home Depot, the grocery store etc and have not gone to the family cousins Christmas Party, the Best Party in town, for 3 years. I survived a Massive heart attack 8 years ago and a Massive stroke 5 years ago, so I Don't want Covid. I will be 72 in a week. So, it is " steady as she goes" with the N95 masks for me and my lady friend.

A classic fallacious argument, "Well, if masks don't work, then why do surgeons wear them?" www.sott.net/article/438827-A-classic-fallacious-argument-If-masks-don.. ".. there is no question in my mind that healthy people should not be wearing surgical or cloth masks. Nor should we be recommending universal masking of all members of the population. The premise that surgeons wearing masks serves as evidence that "masks must work to prevent viral transmission" is a logical fallacy that I would classify as an argument of false equivalence, or comparing "apples to oranges." Although surgeons do wear masks to prevent their respiratory droplets from contaminating the surgical field and the exposed internal tissues of our surgical patients, that is about as far as the analogy extends.

Surgical and cloth masks do nothing to prevent viral transmission. .. face masks have never been shown to prevent or protect against viral transmission. Which is exactly why they have never been recommended for use during the seasonal flu outbreak, epidemics, or previous pandemics. If a surgeon were sick, especially with a viral infection, they would not perform surgery as they know the virus would NOT be stopped by their surgical mask. Another area of "false equivalence" has to do with the environment in which the masks are worn.

The environments in which surgeons wear masks minimize the adverse effects surgical masks have on their wearers. .. surgeons work in sterile surgical suites equipped with heavy duty air exchange systems that maintain positive pressures, exchange and filter the room air at a very high level, and increase the oxygen content of the room air. these conditions limit the negative effects of masks on the surgeon and operating room staff. And yet despite these extreme climate control conditions, clinical studies demonstrate the negative effects (lowering arterial O2 and CO2 re-breathing) on surgeon physiology and performance"

I have a sincere question. My young daughter has special needs, severe health problems and immunocompromised system. I agree with all of what dear Dr. M and everyone here has said. So far so good. BUT what about face shields? Those are hard plastic. Viruses cannot go through it. They will not stop viruses from entering my daughter's nostrils when someone sneezes or coughs, as viruses will be in the air and flow directly to her face through the open bottom of the face shield. But they will stop saliva droplets from reaching her face when people speak. As far as I can see, face shields would protect her in every situation where no one is coughing or sneezing. (I handle the face shield by the headband on the back of it, without touching the plastic on the front.) Does my thinking make sense, or I am not seeing something? I'd really appreciate your guidance which I know will be reliable!

this is just silly - what size is a virus? what size are the 'holes' in the paper surgery masks? if the 'holes' were small enough to stop a virus it would be impossible to breath through the paper mask - those are the facts no studies necessary - every medical doctor knows that masks were not made to stop viruses or germs - masks stop blood and other bodily fluids from incisions squirting medical staff in the face and stop mucus drips and spittle from landing in incisions

Still debating the face diaper issue? Really? Just can't fix stupid... Never enough facts or truth to change minds & no cure for the insatiable addictive emotional "juice" of the bloodlust for power, feigned virtue, & "being right". Here's the only important fact anyone needs to know: NO PATHOGENIC VIRUSES EXIST! END OF STORY! Now, for all those junkies who love wasting their time in the drama club theatrics of bouncing the phantom "virus" ball, here a a few pertinent facts: 1) every face diaper manufacturer prints a disclaimer on the package, as quoted for N95 masks from McCordick, as follows: "THIS RESPIRATOR HELPS TO PROTECT AGAINST CERTAIN PARTICULATE CONTAMINANTS BUT DOES NOT ELIMINATE EXPOSURE TO OR RISK OF CONTRACTING DISEASE OR INFECTION.

MISUSE MAY RESULT IN SICKNESS OR DEATH."; 2) based on "official scientific data" regarding the size of the "virus" & the filtering capability of the N95 mask, to put it into an accurate visual perspective, it would be equivalent to you walking through a door 30 FT wide & 30 FT high; 3) the wearing of masks is behavioral modification & relentless re-enforcement of the "bogeyman" & proliferates fear-porn; 4) focus the hysteria on masks wearing while people beg for & line up for the real killer; 5) a measurement tool for monitoring acceptance & compliance; 6) is a passive powerful visual marker & symbol for signaling 'obedience'; 7) masks aided in causing people to get sick; 8) the China made masks contain toxins & contaminants; 9) destroys families/relationships & provides the excuse for people to abandon rationality & common sense, fueling anti-social behavior & psychopathy; 10) helped "snitches" & spawned blame, segregation, ostracization & hate to foment & proliferate; 11) masks became a "security blanket" in lieu of truth; 12) depleted oxygen lowered immunity, created lethargy, & caused mass cognitive dysfunction; 13) greatly benefited AI to focus & improve eye scanning technology; 14) a huge theft of wealth.

Why - absolutely correct. Every single law, statute, act, rule, diktat, bill, regulation, mandate, order, ordinance, policy, program, procedure, system, process, plan, contract, curriculum, agreement, agenda, etc., created by government, corporations, rulers, NGO's, the legal system & technology is designed purposefully to enslave humanity, destroy liberty, erase Reality & historic wisdom, & stymie inherent creativity. But, yet, people readily & willingly abandon truths, responsibility, accountability, principles, ethics, virtue & vigilance in lieu of petulant, immature, irrational, five-sense perceptive reptilian emotionality, instant gratification & temporal self-serving incentives.

The satanic cult knows this all too well, for they are much the same, except, for the fact that they have all the "toys", "have a means to the end" plan & gleefully deploy the deleterious self-gratifying weaponry of "fear of loss", gluttony, hedonism, & debauchery to manipulate & satiate the penned up, "no mind" fat hogs at the trough of lustful desire, until its time to slaughter. For the psychopathic satanists, now that technology has evolved enough, the time has come to dispose of the disgusting livestock & move on to play with their new technology toys, robotics, & "immortalize themselves with transhumanism.

They fully plan to utilize these new toys to complete the transition, as they have shown in their sadistic dystopian hollywood movies & video games. The good news is that the people still possess the power within them to stop the game & reclaim their God-given Free Will. The question is, will, We, the People, wake up, clutch the cannons of Reality & deploy our greatest defensive power, the omnipotent power of truth, liberty & virtue?

Before sending our kids to kindergarten, most of us parents teach them to cover their mouths and noses when they sneeze. As far as I know, there haven't been formal studies of whether, and to what extent, this behavior prevents or mitigates the spread of "germs." It's common sense, and that's why it has become a fixture of etiquette virtually everywhere. Not going to school or work when you're sick is another common sense practice that would be hard to fault scientifically. Now that we recognize, because of science, that spread is not contained by such measures, we still observe them because they are "prosocial" behaviors that probably do help, even to a small extent, they signal a kind of solidarity, and they either help us (staying home when sick and receiving care or caring for ourselves) when we do them, or at least don't harm us.

I recognized mask wearing as akin to these common sense measures. I wore a mask when I went into stores and requested that customers wear them in mine. I felt that outdoors they made little sense and interfered with taking in fresh air. The debates and mandates were the kind of distraction that allowed opinions, reflecting personal biases, to fester into deep divisions, polarization and hatred. Continuing to flog this deadly horse helps no one. The Cochrane study didn't determine that masks were/are harmful - just that it didn't have the evidence to pronounce them "effective." Just like sneezing into your elbow or staying home when you're sick. Can't we leave this? Vaccine mandates, on the other hand, are serious issues - although their harms and helps are much more complicated to evaluate than both sides will admit. A humbler attitude is called for, before the divisiveness and hatred does more harm than this or any virus.

You're missing the bigger picture. Forcing people to wear worse than useless masks is tyrannical and comparing them to covering your mouth and nose when sneezing so as not to blow snot all over the place is ridiculous. Push back on this demonic mandate or expect even worse in the future. Sometimes "hatred" is actually a good thing - like when it arises to recognize and combat danger. If it didn't have a purpose why would it exist?

Yes Randy, also: Experts are denouncing the impact of the pandemic and confinement on children's speech, language and communication development. The first factor: the mask. "It is depriving us of non-verbal communication," she explains about the way in which masks do not prevent us from observing facial gestures, something especially important when learning to speak. "Babies, when they are born, pay more attention to the eyes of people. From their first year of life or a year and a half, they focus on the movements of the lips of adults when they speak", he develops, for his part , Nria Esteve Gibert, associate professor of Psychology and Educational Sciences Studies at the Universitat Oberta de Catalunya (UOC).

This is when they start to babble and say their first words. Her look - which helps them distinguish sounds and even languages - now comes face-to-face with a mask. All these issues are exacerbated in boys and girls with dyslexia, autism spectrum disorders or hearing disorders. The latter, in fact, often compensate for hearing problems by looking at the lips of the person speaking to them. "Not having this information can cause them even more impediments," explains Esteve, from the UOC,

Yes, Gui; the masks are having a very negative effect on the children in more ways than one...mentally, emotionally and physically. The entities pushing this evil aren't stupid - just evil. They're fully aware of the harm they are causing. Many People read lips. Personally, from the time I cover my breathing apparatus with a mask, my face begins to sweat. When I was forced to wear one, in order to purchase groceries; I kept it below my nose as much as possible. 1. I can't stand having my oxygen intake blocked. 2. I can't stand any synthetic material covering my face. I can smell the toxic fibres. It amazes me when I see people cycling and jogging with the muzzle on (not really!).
