The pro-virus maskers, when faced with the legitimate masks-don't-work argument, reply they do work because they stop the virus being carried in water droplets. As if, pre-Covid, everyone walked around literally coughing and sneezing directly in each other's faces.

Also no one ever died or even got sick before Corona. Especially not old people. We are surrounded by stupid ass idiots

Well, that's it--I keep seeing morons posting their vaccine story. "Feeling great, got the vaccine yesterday. A little soreness at the site"

I am not worried about the day I get the shot (not getting it but just saying). Or that week, or that month.

I am worried about down the road. Kinda like when they put the SV40 in the polio shots. 40 years later, early cancers.

I just know they are going to say you have to have it to attend classes.

Kimber and everyone else at or with kids at school. Get exemption any way you can, legal or not. Bribe/threaten a medical person to fill out the paperwork without the shot. Tell them they will suffer the same fate as your child if they inject him. "The lead or the gold. Choose." type offer.

This is mass murder and war. Behave accordingly.

If a person tested positive, then was killed in a motorcycle accident, and is considered a WuFlu death, why isn't a vaccinated person, killed in a motorcycle accident, considered a WuFlu vaccine death?

All - listen to crrow777radio.com episode 275. A nurse used a form of an affidavit to successful make her hospital back down over having a mandatory Flu shot and I think the letter she wrote is available for you to adapt. I'll be using this if my son's school in the UK goes full retard and requires him to receive this death DNA-modifying Frankenstein BS. The other avenue is to tell his university that he's happy to accept their "offer" (everything is simply an offer) as long as:

1. They can provide the evidence to show it's perfectly safe - they can't
2. Whoever's in charge and trying to mandate this will take full personal liability that in event he's suffers any sickness or injury they will pay compensation to the tune of (make up a figure) $10M

Write this in an affidavit form and they won't sign it.

Then if they still try to exclude him, you have grounds to fight in the courts as he's being discriminated against.

I am not giving legal advise here and do your own homework first; Gemstone University on YT is the starting point - Ken Cousins.

Me also.

I haven't been much on flu shots, and only had one in recent years and my previous Dr suggested shingles vaccine. About that time I realized an acquaintance was having a horrible time for years with shingles, had been to Duke, Emory various specialists and had no hope for improvement.

So, I got the first shingles vaccine and wound up in Exigent care TWICE, and my dermatologist said don't even get a flu shot.

Even without those problems I would be leery as hell about anything covid related.

The virus is real, but how it's being handled is unreal.

Looks like a power grab to me.

Apparently somebody doesn't like this post:

It's looking more and more like Nurse Tiffany Dover - who fainted on live TV after taking the vaccine, has died.

https://twitter.com/search?q=%23whereistiffanydover&src=typed_query&f=live

All her social media, which was very active, is inactive or deleted. Her family is silent. Multiple death record sources have been found for her.

Word is going around the globe that she is likely dead, despite desperate and in some cases fraudulent attempts to prove she is alive. No word from her directly.

First case of live on TV lethal injection? She was a 30 year old mother of 2 who had virtually no statistical chance of dying of the virus!

The mRNA vaccine is supposed to cause our own cells to grow spike proteins on the cell surface which the immune systems responds to by creating antibodies which target cells with spike proteins (covid etc).

That's the happy story that we are supposed to believe.

It does not explain why the Australian developed mRNA vaccine was causing people to create HIV related proteins which were detected in HIV tests.

At the start of this plandemic Indian researchers identified HIV genes in the covid19 genome ... that got my attention.

I wonder if the human kill switch that the mRNA vaccines are supposed to install into sheeple are linked to HIV machinery ... the current mRNA vaccines could be a global autoimmune disaster (read: solution, from the parasitic class)

Hitler would have been speaking to himself in a mirror if people thought for themselves. These people laying the rules are homosapiens just as you are, what makes them "better or more trustworthy"?

Respect like trust, is earned when you have developed an understanding the person giving the orders is worthy of your desire to follow!

This is not the US military, where your told to respect them because of rank! The highest ranking never earn that rank in politics, it is their ability to "suck up" to peers, this in no way is worthy of respect or trust!

Wow, most comments here are heavily anti-science prejudiced, providing yet more evidence that we are on the cusp of a second dark age, which will probably last 1,000 years like the last one and we'll have another Renaissance--maybe. How long before we go back to witch burnings? "She changed me into a newt." Flat earth. The earth is the center of the solar system (1/4 of American believe that; 7% believe chocolate milk comes from brown cows). The particular incident is alarming and no one should run to the front of the line to be vaccinated without some history. Except for politicians like Rubio and Jonie Ernst who claimed the virus was a hoax and masks were worthless and then they ran to the head of line. At least, no matter how brainless, stick to your convictions.

And why hasn't this story made it anywhere else. Conspiracy by the MSM of course. A friend told me where the story was. And then I scanned the comments and thought I had entered Breitbart by mistake.

Well, when you inject a poisonous toxin in the form of a vaccine designed to alter your DNA into the blood stream, what do you expect???THERE CANNOT BE A VACCINE FOR A VIRUS THAT HAS NEVER BEEN ISOLATED, PURIFIED, OR GENETICALLY MAPPED period.

Vaccine = control, slavery and destruction of your immune system so you die faster.

In the 5000 years humanity has known about the flu, not one single vaccine has ever been successful in eradicating it. All of a sudden, 5 companies boast a miracle vaccine at the same time. Think about that for a minute.

When you live in fear however, you cannot think for yourself and will blindly accept government propaganda willfully.

THIS is exactly the mechanism that will be used!! I suspect there will be a delayed response with the MRNA potion so when a (of whatever kind...) wild virus takes the patient out it will "See!? This will be the one death not blamed on Covid. Everything will line up with the narrative.

The days are coming when they start targeting us with "Cases". The tests, just like the vaccines, will have harmless placebos for the useful, and deadly effects on the resistant.

This is all a mind game that will be used to turn us against each other. sons against fathers, wives against husbands, employers against employees.

Dissidents will be punished, first socially, then ostracized from society, and further, banned from the coming uni-polar system...

Liberty or Death!

This daily scare propaganda is becoming slickening. I just did a search of Luke Letlow, R-La who apparently was healthy as a horse and only age 41 and in one week dies from Covid alone. Well, I do not believe any of this and it is being reported word for world by all media outlets. I am very sorry for his family but I have to believe there were other medical conditions that have not be told to us so they can keep beating the vaccine drum. What kid of world politicizes a medical condition? Well, it is a sick and insane world lead by Gates, Zuckerberg, Soros, Obama, Bloomberg, Biden, Clinton, Epstein and this mentally ill media! I cannot take much more.

▲ 25 ▼ 1 Reply ↩

chiquita 2 days ago

It is unfortunate about Luke Letlow and we're going to be hearing a lot about his story. There's no way to really know what his underlying health was and we probably won't ever know. it will always be assumed he was "perfectly healthy" at age 41. Could be. In my lifetime, I've known a few "perfectly healthy" 35 to 50 year old men who dropped dead quite unexpectedly, including one or two who did have routine physicals.

One thing about Covid (and can probably also be said of influenza as well) is it affects different people differently. The stories coming out throughout this indicate a vast range of symptoms that aren't experienced by all patients. It's a very strange illness.

Any truth in the rumour US hospitals awarded 35.000 USD from the government for any reported death caused directly or indirectly from COVID-19?

Actual death rate of patients suffering from COVID-19 less than 2 percent?

No mention of recovery rates by healthy people; getting proper hospital treatment?

▲ 6 ▼ 1 Reply ↩

adr 3 days ago

What rumor? That is truth. Even USA today "factcheckers" had to say it was true.

Per CDC guidelines, every positive Covid case is a guaranteed payment of $18k and if the patient is put on a ventilator, it is $35-45k.

If a Covid test is administered at a hospital clinic, including pop up test centers, that counts as a hospital admission. A positive test is $18k.

The hospitals are supposed to keep a running log of positive cases and submit them for a one time payment from the US government. Some hospitals have run up a tab of a few hundred million.

days, weeks and months have passed.

Never mind, years have passed. Your entire life has passed. You are born. You grow up being programmed. You get a job. You repeat all the things your parents did. You never make decisions on what the future might look like. You are told what it will look like.

Now, some realize their contribution to the future. Ones that can rest for a bit and rub their two braincells together. Good news! Those who could speed up the process decide to f the dog the rest of the way. :)

in other news, covid has cured the flu.

<https://www.blacklistednews.com/article/78885/mysterious-disappearance-of-flu-in-san-diego-prompted-call-for-audit-of-covid.html>

" WHO spokesperson, Dr Sylvie Briand, recently claimed during a press briefing that "literally there was nearly no flu in the Southern hemisphere" of the planet Earth in 2020, but gave no real explanation as to why. She then went on to extend this magical thinking saying that, "We hope that the situation will be the same in the Northern Hemisphere."

" We are well into flu season, but San Diego County's data for flu infections only shows 36 reported cases so far this year. Carl DeMaio tweeted out this shocking revelation, comparing it to this time in other years saying, "In a typical year we get over 17,073 on average!"

▲ 9 ▼ Reply ↩

With so many vaccinated and most countries starting with old people and medical staff, you can expect some normal rate of death for these demographic profiles. With 100k old people in a pool, some number will die within a week regardless of any other factors. It would become interesting, if that rate is significantly higher for vaccinated.

BTW Israel will be a good test case, they're vaccinating about 150k a day, at this rate they can do entire population in 2 months. With such massive data set, by summer it should be pretty clear how effective and how much side effects they'll get.

Interesting. I was scheduled for small surgery in November and the surgeon took one look my above range figure suggested I had an infection.

I said "I don't have any symptoms of any infection and I got a negative Covid test 3 days ago".

Obviously, there was no way I could prove I had no infection.

Nevertheless, he cancelled the surgery on grounds it was too risky.

My personal conspiracy theory is this:

- The Illuminati for decades are in contact with demons through rituals and/or the UFO phenomena
- The Elites have been convinced by the "aliens" that in order to not repeat the Columbus "genocide" of natives in the Americas by viruses and diseases brought by the conquistadores to the Americas..
- .. that Humanity needs to have its DNA modified do as to be compatible with the "alien" DNA
- The "aliens" have "shared" some tech with the elites, so the elites are convinced that the "aliens" (demons and their offspring the Nephilim) are "benevolent"
- They are convinced that Humanity needs to be tightly controlled so we don't "freak out" when the "aliens" do their public "greetings Earthlings, we come in peace..." statement
- So the elites, have planned all this Rona stuff to control humans and modify our DNA (a.k.a make it easy to lose your conscience a.k.a free will)
- I believe this is what the Revelation and Matthew speak of the "great mass delusion that even the elect might be deceived" and the so called "mark of the Beast" a.k.a humans losing their Humanity through DNA alteration thus making humans stop being sons of God

Let the downvotes commence.

It also states that there is no simple law "giving the Council of Ministers the power to declare a state of emergency based on health risks".

In short, the DCPMs (Decreto Presidenza del Consiglio dei Ministri) are unconstitutional.

Hmmmm ... Swissmedic is probably "fact checking" with Snopes. Wonder what the final determination could possibly be????

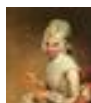

That will be the narrative going forward.

OBTW ... anyone who actually knew her heard from Tiffany Dover, the nurse manager in Chattanooga, Tennessee?

There are 1.5 million Americans in nursing homes , the average survival rate is 12 months . Most occupants have several comorbidities and rate themselves as having fair to poor health. There is a reason some people call them death houses.

Anyone else notice that Europe, which gave the first vaccines has the mutated Covid? It started in England. And guess what, magically now they report it in Colorado. Get ready they planned this perfectly to start right before Biden gets in power so that they can lockdown the entire US and world. Watch.

This is going exactly how they said in Canadian Parliament. New lockdowns. New strain, they'll call Covid-21 which will be more deadly. Yes, world leaders got a shot but that was the antidote for the virus they created.

The real history of vaccines shows that they were rolled out against disappearing maladies. When a disease was "conquered", the grifting quacks did a victory lap to accolades from the media. Close observation demonstrated spikes in the targeted diseases, due to vaccination. Vaccines are a poisonous fraud.

▲ 4 ▼ Reply ↩

Mrgior31513 3 days ago

Polio downtrend started before the vaccine came out and simply kept following the same downward trend after the vaccine was put into use. I can't speak to the efficacy of the polio vaccine or it's role in the supposed eradication of that disease, but I know that much is factually correct.

DARPA experiments involve the use of genetically modified viruses that insert genetic material into human cells, specifically neurons in the brain, in order to “tweak” human brain chemistry. In one example, DARPA-funded research has altered human brain cells to produce two new proteins, the first allowing neural activity to be easily detected by external devices and the second allowing “magnetic nanoparticles” to “induce an image or sound in the patient’s mind.”

DARPA has acknowledged its efforts to create a Brain Machine Interface(BMI).” Though first aimed at creating “a wireless brain modem for a freely moving rat,” which would allow the animal’s movements to be remotely controlled, DARPA's goal of applying such brain “enhancement” to humans in order to enable soldiers to “communicate by thought alone” or remotely control human beings for the purposes of war.

Medicare pays $28 for a single vaxx shot, and another $16 for follow ups, so $42 for a full dose. Pretty cheap and efficient way to kill off the unwanted eaters in the population.

But, pharma makes a killing (pun intended).

$42 x 10 million = ...come on, you can figure that out, just for starters.

All the deaths in the US attributed to covid are registered as "covid related deaths".

Of the 330k so far, only a small percentage is directly because of the disease itself

A death qualifies as a covid death if the dead person has been tested positive with covid in the last 30 days prior to death, or has a covid infection at time of death.

The reason for death can be vastly different, like cancer, heart failure, accident etc.

Apparently there is a Centre For Countering Digital Hate, that has been established to control the online speech about covid 19 and vaccines being sold for it

This is what they propose people should do when they look for information on the internet.

Pretty much everything you find on ZH, and most things I have ever said would be branded as misinformation by the liberals.

".Some tips when you see vaccine misinformation online."

: - If you see bad information, ignore it

- Don't comment on the post, this gives engagement to it

- Block user - If it comes from someone you know personally, message privately

- Go find good info, engage

https://twitter.com/Imi_Ahmed

It seems that few people show this interest fortunately. In my opinion when the freedom of thought and expression is dead, our cultures and societies are dead as well.

If they somehow survive and transform into a "living dead" entity where critical thought has been outlawed, I hope there will be a revolution that ends its worthless existence.

On one hand you would have a microscopic number of people who would believe or pretend to believe something that is incorrect

On the other you would have the same thing, but a controlled environment where the information and intellectual engagement/arguments have been removed by a entity that tries to convince you that they know what is best for you.

A blanket ban on critical thought ensures large scale ignorance, of the type that is easily manipulated.

Plato once said.

"Dictatorship naturally arises out of democracy, and the most aggravated form of tyranny and slavery out of the most extreme liberty."

I think that this is true, and it happens because of corruption inside the democratic system. Its not the system it self that fails, its the flawed nature of the people who will ensure that the system fails. The election system, the justice system, the indifference of the people when they have been brainwashed by the media who is owned by the same special interests that invest in politics.

Its like we can rise to the point where the is great liberty and freedom, but when we are given a choise to move forward or burn everything, we chose the latter.

So, today, if anyone dies within 28 days of "testing positive" for CoVid-1984, it is a "CoVid Death".

I say, let's have a level playing field.

If anyone dies within 28 days of being Vaccinated, it should be a "Vaccine Death".

As soon as they are giving more Vaccines than getting "Positive Tests", I'll bet we'll have a Vaccine Pandemic.

What could go wrong with injecting allergens like Glycol and Aluminum into your blood?

And of course the vaccine has a new allergen in nano particles.

Also wonderful is the RNA strand that goes into your cells and uses them to make the spike protein. This RNA strand is created in the cells of Monkeys.

To alleviate fears and demonstrate efficacy these vaccines were tested on the cloned cell lines of an aborted fetus.

And don't forget, these vaccines which need to be carefully stored and prepared will be administered by many health workers with IQs lower than that of the monkeys that produced the RNA strands.

Every young healthy person should say Yum Yum, I can't wait to get this vaccine, to prevent a virus that will do nothing more to me than a cold would.

One of the known potential side-effects of a SARS vaccine is sensitization, followed by cytokine storm reaction on re-challenge with the virus (i.e., community exposure). This happened with a vaccine in testing for SARS-1, which is part of the reason why no vaccine was ever fully developed.

I personally know of a nurse who actually had PCR-confirmed Covid-19 last spring and nevertheless thought she needed to get the vaccine. She had a severe reaction to her first dose, with all the symptoms of her original infection.

They don't want you to know this because they want everyone to get it. Remember in Endgame when Thanos said that 50% of the population needed to die for the planet to live. Predictive programming. These vaccines will eventually kill 50% of the population. It will take decades. But that is the goal.

Swissmedic got lots of funding from Bill Gates. No wonder they approved this poison. Corruption in Switzerland is as bad as in the USSA Swissmedic and the Bill & Melinda Gates Foundation (BMGF) signed a new finance agreement on 3 February 2020. Swissmedic has been involved in development cooperation under the initiative with the BMGF since 2015. The partners are now continuing their efforts to improve low-resource countries' access to medical care for a further three years. The renewal of the finance agreement is of strategic importance to Swissmedic. Ongoing projects and development cooperation can therefore continue for the longer term.

If masks work (I doubt it) then we all know that Trump actually did the Dems a favour by not wearing a mask because if Trump had have mandated masks then Dems would have opposed masks.

Over the last 5 years, the only times MSM has agreed with Trump:

1. When he bombed Syria
2. The vaccines work ... although they did everything in their power to delay saying the vaccines work and are desperately trying to give the credit to Biden or at least ignore Trump's role in speeding up the process of bringing the vaccines to market.

If Trump got another four years then MSM would be saying the vaccines don't work. Perhaps that is why they were so desperate for Biden to win...

Some Concerns About the Covid Vaccine:

the cell cycle is a tightly choreographed procedure.

i’m concerned the covid vaccine’s nano-particles or synthesized mRNA will disrupt the DNA replication phase of cell division.

this could lead to damaged DNA which could lead to cancer.

And what if the mRNA is damaged during transport, what potential mutant protein might it might it.

Also, scientists say they have no clue what happens if translation occurs during cell division, so again are we looking at a mutant protein?

the nano-particles themselves could cause endogenous and/or exogenous DNA damage, even before replication.

So next time someone throws in your face a scientism “fact check” that the covid vaccines will not “alter DNA”, ask them if they can prove that the nano-particles will not cause DNA damage. they cannot because literally NO tests have been done.

During cell division, the cytoplasm is split up among the daughter cells, but there will be heavy nano-particles in that cytoplasm.

i’m not allowing them to mess up my perfectly healthy cells for their vaccine experiment.

normally gene therapy is a highly individual and personalized treatment, as in the doctor stays with you all night, is through an iv, is a last resort type of scenario, and usually involves either repairing or destroying damaged and harmful cells.

With the covid vaccine, which is technically a form of gene therapy, it is not personalized, it is not carefully administrated with an iv under the watch of a disease specialist, and they are essentially mutilating perfectly healthy cells hoping they can create the right protein and get it to impale itself through the cell membrane. it is a complete nightmare.

Honestly i think these advancements in science and technology are amazing. I think most of the scientists are straight up no nonesense good people.

But i absolutely do not trust the intentions and agendas of politicians, billionaires, big pharma, mainstream media, bureaucrats, Liberal Professors, and corrupt scientists responsible for the end delivery. they could switch up a few variables and have these mRNA vaccines programming your cells to create snake poison. or enact their FunVax agenda.

Obama once said: "you can question my policies, but don't ever question my intentions."

I say it is pointless to question policy if intentions are not also questioned.

these powerful people sometimes forget they are not gods.

Monsanto tested Roundup on mice for 3 month trials. because after 6 months they end up dead.

the HPV vaccine trials had their placebos spiked with poison.

the Polio vaccines in the 1950's had cancer causing material.

I am an Anti-Vaxxer because mass and mandatory vaccination is the perfect vector for genocide or harmful experiments the people most likely to commit such a genocide are the exact ones pushing for mandatory vaccines like evil maniacs right now.

In Software Engineering a methodology called Object Orientation "o-o" is used to design and build complex systems. Basically a "class" is developed that describes the "object" you wish to create. This class, say a button on a web page, defines the position, size, color, text etc of the object. The class is then "instantiated" creating a real world object. The button object knows how to draw itself when asked, how to receive a mouse click and how to notify anything that might be listening. It is a black box that really knows nothing about the "outside world".

Efficient, easy to design, understand and build. Seems natural even organic and works very well.

Then we have the human body wtf.

Seems to violate every "contract" of good o-o practice. Every cell seems to have its own copy of the plan, the program. Why does it need that ffs. Who would even think of such a goofy thing?

Then it occurred to me... Go back to the beginning of you. The smiling alpha sperm has finally penetrated the defensive shield of the smiling egg (leaving the competition to die a painful loser's death).

Half of Papa's DNA and half of Mama's DNA is combined to make the first single cell of, you. The first instantiation of the cell object that contains your full DNA that is unique in all the known universe. Then it splits - 2, 4, 8, trillions. All in fact the same object class. Why this may be so and why it works so well is another issue.

Now, as far as I can tell, the vaccinators propose to inject humans with a "mRNA" compound / particle / device that will dive into these "cell objects" to modify the cell function (as expressed by the DNA) to "patch" the cell to make it an antibody factory. Something like that.

So,

- If the jab contains 1 billion mRNA particles then does that mean 1 billion cell objects are patched?
- Does this mRNA replicate? It is replicated when the cell divides, no?

- Does the mRNA work different in all the different types (perhaps millions) of cell instantiations?
 - What happens if the cell object is patched more than once, or in different places?
 - What happens if a different brand of the mRNA particles is used later? Do the vaccines fight it out for dominance of the cell? "Two vaccines enter. One vaccine stays."
 - If the vaccines need to be frozen super solid for transport then:
 - How much is destroyed during production, transport and storage?
 - How much is destroyed during defrost?
 - How much is destroyed hitting the steaming streaming ~100F blood network?
 - How much is destroyed by mechanical forces of injection and turbulence
 - How much is destroyed by the immune system's massive defense forces?
 - How much is destroyed inside the cell and nucleus.
 - What happens to all the broken pieces and trash left around of unknown composition and activity?
 - What about the exosomes and other extracellular vesicles, recently discovered, difficult to study and poorly understood?
 - What about the nuclei of the Gut Microbiome full of more trillions of creatures that are our friends and there are more of them than there are of us. Do they get "patched" too?
- Getting a chill, must be a window open somewhere.

First time in history we are told world wide to just wait at home for symptoms to worsen and not to treat early. We have the internet to communicate and all efforts to inform others about what is effective against an illness from doctors actually saving lives in the field are ignored or labeled as not scientifically proven. Research on what works in other countries, it's been months, why doesn't the media (including ZH) publish results of treatments that work? You could save lives by doing so, ivermectin works.

Well I must say I'm totally shocked that people are dying from taking a vaccine that gained approval in months rather than the 5-10 years vaccines usually take for approval, and still don't have an exactly exemplary history of safety. Can't wait to see how many don't suffer any long term ill effects, since there was ZERO testing for them.

In Florida, the vaccines are now being distributed to long term care facilities (old folks homes). A senior at one of these places averages about 700 days before dying simply because old age is predictably lethal.

If we're giving, say, 7,000 vaccines a day to LTCF residents we can expect 10 daily deaths of seniors that got their vaccine that very same day. It'll have nothing to do with the vaccine.

interestingly enough, swiss media itself was until a short while ago not reporting on the case at all, the only available reports were from neighbouring austria.

what this shows is that swiss media takes its marching orders on what to report or not to report from the swiss government itself; swiss media was momentarily thrown off-track and had to await further orders on how to "officially" deal with the calamity!

on old year`s eve, local news is now reporting that all is fine, with "swissmedic", the national health task force stating there was no medical indication or evidence that the 91-year-old patient had died due to taking the vaccine.

the media: it`s obviously covid-19!

somebody, preferably elderly dies after taking the vaccine.

the media: it`s definitely not the vaccine!

spot the difference.

Can't help remembering the "Gulf war syndrome" injections given to British and US soldiers in Iraq.

The common factor for the 275,000 British and US veterans who are ill appears to be a substance called squalene, allegedly used in injections to add to their potency. Such an action would have been illegal. Squalene is not licensed for use on either side of the Atlantic because of potential side effects.

I wonder how many are not able to comment on vaccines today because they died from cancer caused by simian 40 virus in the polio vaccines in the 1950s and 1960s? Poor bastards never even knew where they got cancer.

a zyklon CCP vaccine that can kill you, whereas the virus won't, immunity that doesn't prevent the spread, millions of active cases where the virus will be given to BIPOC, prisoners and politicians first (yay?), no idea as to short and long term side effects, India with a 95% recovery rate WITHOUT A VACCINE!!!! (AND NO-ONE CARES) - now what does that remind me of - oh yes, socialist governments worldwide - enabled by their central banks money printing - giving back the very same money they stole to fund socialism. you cannot make this shit up.

I expect to see more of this, a lot more. This is only the immediate effects, wait a year and see just how many more die from this 'vaccine,' that would be the short term. Then we have the unknown effects from the long term. With hundreds of millions invested in these vaccine producers by Soros, Gates, Fauci and the rest of the 'New-Age-Ruling-Elite' what is there to trust? No one can be held liable if you develop complications from this 'cure.' Insurance companies have already stated that if the producers, distribution channels and governments can't be held liable then neither can they. Eugenics at it's worst and mandated by governments world wide. Now why are many of the HCQ production facilities being blown up?

Offering a vaccine for an entirely cured disease is medical malpractice and should result in the doctor being banned from medicine entirely. Zinc + HCQ and other treatments are an Ace in the hole. There are two kinds of antibodies that were being produced by the coronavirus. There are neutralizing antibodies, which are the kind you want, which fight the disease, and then there are binding antibodies.

The binding antibodies actually create a pathway for the disease in your body, and they trigger something called ... a paradoxical immune response or paradoxical immune enhancement. What that means is that it looks good until you get the disease, and then it makes the disease much, much worse ...

Coronavirus vaccines can be very dangerous, and that's why even our enemies, people who hate you and me — Peter Hotez, Paul Offit, Ian Lipkin — are all saying, 'You got to be really, really careful with this vaccine.'"

All this for a com pow flu!??? I got it and got the sniffles, scratchy throat, and a mild hershey squirts, which did not last more than a week! Some around me got it too! The person I got it from was hit a little harder. She got the sniffles with a tremendous headache which lasted 4 days. She however, lost her sense of smell and is just now, 4 mouths later, getting it back. Her family, all got it and all but the dad did well. He, who is over 50, fat as hell, diabetes, and a bad liver got pneumonia, which lasted almost a month, and pulled through.

This bug is real but hyped to panic! I have to admit, I got scared, while this Chicom flu went through us. But now that's it's past, I see what bull this hype is! Unbelievable we destroyed the economy over it! Morons, all of us!

Disclaimer*

In 2014 we published a disclaimer about the forecast. In six years the scenario has changed dramatically. This new disclaimer is meant to single out the situation from 2020 onwards. Talking about the United States and the European Union as separated entities no longer makes sense. Both are the Western block, keep printing money and will share the same fate.

After COVID we can draw two major conclusions:

1. The Western world success model has been built over societies with no resilience that can barely withstand any hardship, even a low intensity one. It was assumed but we got the full confirmation beyond any doubt.
2. The COVID crisis will be used to extend the life of this dying economic system through the so called Great Reset.

The Great Reset; like the climate change, extinction rebellion, planetary crisis, green revolution, shale oil (...) hoaxes promoted by the system; is another attempt to slow down dramatically the consumption of natural resources and therefore extend the lifetime of the current system. It can be effective for awhile but finally won't address the bottom-line problem and will only delay the inevitable. The core ruling elites hope to stay in power which is in effect the only thing that really worries them.

The collapse of the Western financial system - and ultimately the Western civilization - has been the major driver in the forecast along with a confluence of crisis with a devastating outcome. As COVID has proven Western societies embracing multiculturalism and extreme liberalism are unable to deal with any real hardship. The Spanish flu one century ago represented the death of 40-50 million people. Today the world's population is four times greater with air travel in full swing which is by definition a super spreader. The death casualties in today's World would represent 160 to 200 million in relative terms but more likely 300-400 million taking into consideration the air travel factor that did not exist one century ago. So far, COVID death toll is roughly 1 million people. It is quite likely that the economic crisis due to the lockdowns will cause more deaths than the virus worldwide.

The Soviet system was less able to deliver goodies to the people than the Western one. Nevertheless Soviet society was more compact and resilient under an authoritarian regime. That in mind, the collapse of the Soviet system wiped out 10 percent of the population. The stark reality of diverse and multicultural Western societies is that a collapse will have a toll of 50 to 80 percent depending on several factors but in general terms the most diverse, multicultural, indebted and wealthy (highest standard of living) will suffer the highest toll. The only glue that keeps united such aberrant collage from falling apart is overconsumption with heavy doses of bottomless degeneracy disguised as virtue. Nevertheless the widespread censorship, hate laws and contradictory signals mean that even that glue is not working any more. Not everybody has to die migration can also play a positive role in this.

The formerly known as second and third world nations are an unknown at this point. Their fate will depend upon the decisions they take in the future. Western powers are not going to take over them as they did in the past because these countries won't be able to control their own cities far less likely countries that are far away. If they remain tied to the former World Order they will go down along Western powers but won't experience the brutal decline of the late because they are poorer and not diverse enough but rather quite homogenous used to deal with some sort of hardship but not precisely the one that is coming. If they switch to China they can get a chance to stabilize but will depend upon the management of their resources.

We expected this situation to unfold and actually is unfolding right now with the November election triggering a major bomb if Trump is re-elected. If Biden is elected there will very bad consequences as well. There is a lot of bad blood in the Western societies and the protests, demonstrations, rioting and looting are only the first symptoms of what is coming. However a new trend is taking place overshadowing this one.

The situation between the three great powers has changed dramatically. The only relevant achievement of the Western powers during the past decade has been the formation of a strategic alliance, both military and economic, between Russia and China. Right now the potential partnership between Russia and the European Union (EU) is dead with Russia turning definitively towards China. That was from the beginning the most likely outcome. Airbus never tried to establish a real partnership but rather a strategy to fade away the Russian aerospace industry. Actually Russia and China have formed a new alliance to build a long haul airliner. Western Europe (not to mention the United States) was never interested in the development of Russia or forming anything other than a master slave relationship with Russia providing raw materials and toeing the line of the West. It was clear then and today is a fact.

Russia has been preparing for a major war since 2008 and China has been increasing her military capabilities for the last 20 years. Today China is not a second tier power compared with the United States. Both in military and economic terms China is at the same level and in some specific areas are far ahead. In the domain of high-tech 5G has been a success in the commercial realm but the Type 055 destroyer is also another breakthrough with the US gaining a similar capability (DDG 51 Flight III) by mid of this decade (more likely by 2030). Nanchang, the lead ship of the Type 055 class, was commissioned amid the pandemic and lockdown in China.

Six years ago the likelihood of a major war was tiny. Since then it has grown steadily and dramatically and today is by far the most likely major event in the 2020s. The ultimate conflict can come from two ways. A conventional conflict involving at least two major powers that escalates into an open nuclear war. A second scenario is possible in the 2025-2030 timeframe. A Russian sneak first strike against the United States and its allies with the new S-500, strategic missile defenses, Yasen-M submarines, INF Zircon and Kalibr missiles and some new space asset playing the key role. The sneak first strike would involve all Russian missile strategic forces branches (bombers and ground-based missiles) at the different stages of such attack that would be strategic translation of what was seen in Syria in November 2015. There was no report that the Russian had such a capability of launching a high precision, multiple, combined arms attack at targets 2,000+ kilometers away. Western intelligence had no clue. The irony is that since the end of the Cold War the United States has been maneuvering through NATO to achieve a position to execute a first strike over Russia and now it seems that the first strike may occur but the country finished would be the United States.

Another particularity of the Western system is that its individuals have been brainwashed to the point that the majority accept their moral high ground and technological edge as a given. This has given the rise of the supremacy of the emotional arguments over the rational ones which are ignored or deprecated. That mindset can play a key role in the upcoming catastrophic events. At least in the Soviet system the silent majority of the people were aware of the fallacies they were fed up. We can see the United States claims about G5 being stolen from them by China or hypersonic technology being stolen by Russia as the evidence that the Western elites are also infected by that hubris. Over the next decade it will become obvious that the West is falling behind the Russia-China block and the malaise might grow into desperation. Going to war might seem a quick and easy solution to restore the lost hegemony to finally find them into a France 1940 moment. Back then France did not have nuclear weapons to turn a defeat into a victory. The West might try that swap because the unpleasant prospect of not being Mars and Venus but rather a bully and his dirty bitch running away in fear while the rest of the world is laughing at them.

If there is not a dramatic change of course the world is going to witness the first nuclear war. The Western block collapse may come before, during or after the war. It does not matter. A nuclear war is a game with billions of casualties and the collapse plays in the hundreds of millions.

A few weeks ago, someone had published the transcript of when the FDA voted on whether to allow vaccines to be produced using cheaper cancerous cell lines. I think that approval occurred about 15 or 20 years ago. The dialogue was comical because most had a conflict of interest. In summary, none of them knew if the new cell line technology presented a danger. They essentially said they'd approve and then maybe see what happened later on.

Here's the kind of collusion that has been going on between the CDC and Pharma “Back in 2018, ICAN, through its attorneys, submitted a FOIA request for all communications exchanged between Dr. Frank DeStefano, Director of the CDC’s Immunization Safety Office, and the pharma companies, GSK, Sanofi, and Merck, which make and sell most childhood vaccines. The CDC located responsive documents, but withheld a substantial amount in its production claiming a “deliberative process” privilege. In other words, the CDC was claiming that the communications between these for-profit pharma companies and the director of CDC’s immunization safety office were not going to be released because they involved discussions setting CDC policies or decisions! More than 2 years later, and only after a lawsuit was filed, the CDC withdrew its objection when ICAN forced it to defend this preposterous position in open court.

In 1986, when all vaccine manufacturers were granted immunity from liability (the only product in American to be granted such a pass), Congress made HHS and its agencies responsible for vaccine safety. The CDC’s Immunization Safety Office is supposed to play a central role in ensuring the safety of these liability-free products. As you know, the CDC vigorously promotes the administration of the approximately 74 doses of vaccines on its childhood vaccine schedule, most of which are made and sold by GSK, Sanofi and Merck. What we do not know is whether the CDC takes its role as a watchdog over the pharmaceutical companies seriously, especially when those companies earn billions of dollars selling these vaccines. In order to find out whether the Director of the Immunization Safety Office, Dr. Frank DeStefano, has been fulfilling his responsibilities as a watchdog, ICAN submitted a FOIA request to the CDC.

The request sought all of DeStefano’s communications with GSK, Sanofi, and Merck while he was the Director of the Immunization Safety Office. The CDC located 281 pages of responsive records, of which 81 pages were completely withheld and 30 pages were redacted. The CDC explained it was withholding the 81 pages because:

After a careful review of these pages, some information was withheld from release pursuant to 5 U.S.C. §552 Exemption 5...Exemption 5 protects inter-agency or intra-agency memorandums ... Information withheld under this exemption was protected under the deliberative process privilege. The deliberative process privilege protects the decision-making process of government agencies. The deliberative process privilege protects materials that are both predecisional and deliberative.

The CDC withheld communications between DeStefano at the CDC and private for-profit vaccine manufactures, who DeStefano is tasked with policing because it claimed these documents need to be kept from the public to protect “the decision-making process of government agencies.” The CDC, in essence, claimed that DeStefano and GSK, Sanofi, and/or Merck were acting together to create “formal or informal agency policies or decisions.” This admission was incredible. Dr. DeStefano and the CDC are supposed to act as watchdogs over these companies, not engage in secret conversations with these companies to formulate CDC policies and decisions!

ICAN’s attorneys argued that the redacted and withheld emails plainly do not qualify for protection under Exemption 5 and that, if indeed the Safety Office is formulating and creating official government policy hand in glove with the very for-profit pharmaceutical companies it is supposed to be a watchdog over, this conduct heightens ICAN’s concern undoubtedly making these documents of great importance to the public. ICAN also demanded a detailed listing of every withheld document and information concerning same. Only when the CDC had to file its formal motion defending its position for withholding these documents did it finally capitulate.

One of the documents originally withheld was a draft version of a Manual for Active Vaccine Safety Surveillance, created and reviewed by DeStefano as well as individuals at GSK, Sanofi, Merck, and others. It contains some very concerning admissions, including: “The introduction of additional safety surveillance (including active safety surveillance) could potentially lead to negative impact on the public’s confidence in the vaccines and the willingness to participate in vaccination programs.”

Discussing Adverse Events Following Immunization , the report states: “Although extensive efforts were initiated to actively find cases of AEFI in multiple settings, underreporting remained a major limitation (e.g., more than 38,000 deaths within one month of vaccination would be expected in the eight countries; however, only 33 deaths were reported.”

Perhaps more interesting, however, is the fact that the CDC did not produce any documents showing its oversight, policing, or role in ensuring safety of GSK's, Sanofi's, or Merck's vaccines.”

OK I will do this again for your vaccine dopes...

There are basically three vaccines... Not one is approved but three are allowed for EMERGENCY USE [whatever that means]

1) RNA Lipid vaccine. This is Pfizer and Moderna. This type of vaccine is new and never attempted on humans. It consists of a lipid particle that allows the RNA strand to enter the cells. The RNA strand simulates infection and stimulates antibodies. The RNA segment is based on proteins that make up the Corona capsid head.

The RNA never leaves the body. The Lipid particle never decays.

2) Adenovirus... This is the old tried and true vaccine used over the last 40 years. It uses a Human Adenovirus to carry the attenuated COVID virus into the body. The body makes antibodies to the weakend virus and offers immunity. This is the SINOCAN vaccine strategy and the Russian vaccine strategy.

3) Oxford. Similar to #2 above but uses an Ape Adenovirus so as to avoid any immune response attack to Adenovirus that might harm or destroy the vaccine. The use of a cross species virus has never been used on humans.

Why are Pfizer and Moderna in the lead with production? Simple they don't rely or require a pool of virus to make the vaccine. The RNA is synthesized as is the lipid. COVID is a very very very large virus so it grows very slowly in the lab which is a plus in a way since it mutates infrequently.

So those are your vaccine choices. New technology, proven safe in animals, Old tried and true attenuated virus, or the Cross species virus which has never been used on humans but has been used in animal studies.

Astra has a new antibody drug that works and confers immunity in the worst ICU case in a few days. Immunity last for at least 6 months. I do not know the synthesis of the antibodies but probably mononclonal antibodies that are well targeted.

Referring to the mRNA vax you state this “New technology proven safe in animals”. It was proven very unsafe in repeated animal safety trials beginning around 2005 in SARS Covid 1 animal trials. After animals had the vax and were exposed to the wild Covid virus they had massive immune/ inflammatory reaction, organ failure and death. Dr. Judy Mikovits and many others have detailed this. Fauci allowed for the Covid 19 human vax trials to proceed without first completing animal safety trials.

It would be helpful of governments, and the medical profession generally to track the vaccine serious-side-effect-and-death rate in the same way so that individuals can compare personal risks.

Therefore I expect they will neither publicize nor collect such data because they have no respect for individuals, preferring livestock, and want the only decisions to be theirs.

These regular flu virus are no problem for most people. The people who have taken vaccines often like the folks in Wuhan get screwed with cytokine storm from exposure to regular flu virus.

LOL. 95% of the planet by late spring? Hahahahahahaha!

Obviously you need the Bill Gates Starter Lesson in Africa. Go to Africa to sell computers. Discover that the school you're trying to sell to doesn't have electricity. Now try to sell them -- hell, try to GIVE them -- a vaccine that has to be kept at -30 degrees until five minutes before use. HAHAHAHAHAHAHAHAHAHAH!

Oh, I get it. You only meant 95% of the civilized world, right? The ones with money and deep-freezers on demand? Still ain't gonna happen. You have up to sixty percent of the population in Europe refusing it right now. You have SEVENTY PERCENT of health-care workers in American hospitals refusing it right now. Sensibly, as most of them have already been exposed and developed natural immunity, which is almost always superior to anything that comes out of a needle.

But by all means, have one yourself. Have two yourself. Have ten if you want -- so many people don't, there will surprising amounts of it sitting around being otherwise useless.

Further: He got the vaccine on 24. dezember, two days later he suffered strong pain in the stomach and urethra. Blood pressure went down and pulse went up. He was very uneasy. Next day, the doctor was called, and when he called back, the men was already dead.

Mainstream-Media and Swissmedic wrote that he had pre-existing condition, but this is not true, except from dementia.

Is nurse Tiffany Dover still alive?

< The CDC says that fainting after vaccines can be common [really?] and "it is usually triggered by pain or anxiety." I have to wonder what kind nurse is able to do her job when she is always fainting with a bit of pain.

Besides some statements from the hospital, one of the dubious pieces of evidence they are using is a supposed video of Dover being supported by fellow hospital staff days after she collapsed on TV.

There are a few weird things about the video. Why did they feel the need to put the ate on the signs? They were obviously trying to prove that the photo was staged after the collapse and not before. Also, why is 'Tiffany' seeming to twitch? Could this be lasting damage from the vaccine? Maybe, but I do not even think this is Tiffany. Why does this woman look a bit "thicker" than Tiffany, have darker features (she looks Indian!) than the blue-eyed nurse, and part her hair in a drastically different fashion? How convenient that 'Tiffany' is masked here...

So is Tiffany Dover actually dead? I have no idea. She very well could be. What I will say is that I do not think anyone has shown conclusive proof that she is still alive and I very much doubt the 'Tiffany' trotted out for the hospital photo op was the real deal. >

a) If the masks work against Covid-19, they should work against the seasonal flu. The method of spread is the same with both viruses. In 2019, 22,000 people died of the seasonal flu. If masks work, those numbers should have plummeted this year because we all wore masks, but notice how nobody is publishing them?

b) Flu deaths in this country are not at 320k, that's just people who died WITH Covid-19, those numbers include, for example, people who got shot or died in a car accident. Only 6% of those people, or 19,600 die BECAUSE of Covid-19. Compare that to the 22k that died of the seasonal flu last year and you can easily spot the hoax. THE SEASONAL FLU KILLS MORE PEOPLE, AND NOT JUST PEOPLE WITH ONE FOOT IN THE GRAVE.

▲ 1 ▼ Reply ↩

HANGTHEOWL 2 days ago

Zero have died from "COVID" ,,it does not exist,,,and the number of regular flu deaths is also highly over inflated to keep the fear of the viruses alive,,

The majority of the people that die from the "flu" ,,die from dehydration,,simply because they do not drink enough water when sick,,,by the time they feel so horrible that they go to the hospital,,it may be to late because their organs have already begun to shut down,,,,

That is entirely possible. Lowered quality of life from permanent damages should also be factored in as well when considering the damages of vaccines.

I agree with that, but there is no evidence of 65%, I advocate for the TRUTH. Read any of my other posts on comorbidity and manufactured Covid numbers and get back to me fool.

So first the WHO claims the vaccine doesn't even work now instead we find out it kills you. Now think how corrupt our regulatory agencies (and on a global scale!) are for approving suck poison. Sickening!

What is the Vaccine Fatality Rate (VFR)?

Anyone know how many people have been jabbed and how many have died?

I love covid particularly when 41 year old republican congressmen with no preexisting conditions die from it.

Herd Thinning...

Anti-maskers, anti-vaxers keep the home fires burning the joint to the ground...

Luke Letlow, Louisiana's incoming Republican member of the U.S. House, died Tuesday night from complications related to COVID-19 only days before he would have been sworn into office. He was 41.

Bet it hadn't ANYTHING to do with COVID19

More to do with QUACK DOCTORS and TRUMP2021

Enjoy your VAXX.

From his own website: Congressman-elect Luke Letlow, 41, passed away this evening at Ochsner-LSU Health Shreveport due to complications from COVID-19.

But I am sure Trumper that everyone is just lying to you and that Ochsner is a quack hospital with quack doctors that don't know as much as you... I am just sure... a big fat sure.

Is anyone keeping tabs on Dem & Repub politicians:

of each that 'tested' positive, those becoming symptomatic, and those who have passed-on?

U.S. gov paid $1.95 billion for a 100 million doses, as I recall, which works out to be $1,950. per dose.

A pretty hefty price, it seems.
