Yes to all that you said. I kind of ran out of gas after #pizzagate. But up to that point I coll mountains of documentaries and articles regarding the OKC bombing and 9/11 and the se regarding FBI malfeasance could be said of those events as well. For example, I think 60C agents were deployed for 9/11 but not a one was allowed to ask questions or collect data outside of certain parameters enforced by the higher ups. Whistle blowers were murdered truth covered up. Every time. And so I came to subscribe to people like Catherine Austin I state that the system is so wholly corrupt that reform and escape are impossible; and the path forward is to focus on personal and community resilience while the empire of lies run money (and moral authority) as it collapses about us. But even with your own power, water food, will this failing blood cult and empire leave any of us alone? I say ask the Amish. It h been easy for them. Salmonella counts are far worse at USDA approved sausage factories! USDA always seeks to shut down little, independent businesses, for example Amish ones you do when the bad guys make it impossible for you to survive?
