Fifty thousand mostly male adults invaded the nation of Spain this week in on leaving their native Morocco and storming the beaches across the straight into a nation not their own.

Fifty thousand.

Sorry, but at that level this is not some organic movement.

This is coordinated, organized, funded, directed and controlled.

Some organization wanted Spain to face a giant illegal migrant crisis that would overwhelm their resources.

Assembling a group of fifty thousand, feeding a group of fifty thousand, making that fifty thousand are properly hydrated for a perilous sea journey across the ocean of this takes money, planning, coordination, determination, and a well thought effort.

There are inflatables required, organization required, timing executed, you need an element of surprise and numbers that overwhelm.

The make-up of the fifty thousand is instructive. Not fifty thousand starving for food not fifty thousand woman with children who are starving and see no future at Morocco.

No.

This group was all military aged males, young males, youthful males, the most and rebellious types.

A clear indication that some organization was behind the invasion. As if hand selecting the most incorrigible and unruly from the population to inflict the maximum damage and chaos on Spain.

Such an effort takes months to plan. Organize. And to successfully pull off fifty thousand people arriving on shore and just storming through the streets of a city not their own.

At a cost of just forty dollars per migrant the cost can run into the millions of dollars. Quite a tidy sum.

What NGO, what organization, qui bono? who benefits from such an invasion of Spain? Further, who would wish to inflict the cost of dealing with such an invasion on Spain?

Why Spain, why now, who has the means to throw at least two million dollars probably quadruple that into a one day rubber raft invasion of Spain from Morocco?

So that Spain has to now bear the cost to house, feed, process all of these people arriving all at once.

Spanish leadership has been extremely vocal in their condemnation of Israel, its transgressions they see Israel committing in Gaza and the West Bank.

And Israel has been threatening retaliation. Threatening two nations in particular Spain and Ireland, both of which have had leadership condemning Israel for their horrendous actions over the past few years toward their Palestinian neighbors

Could Israel have funded this invasion in retaliation for Spain's refusal to get- and go-along? Is the present government of Israel that petty, that small minded that aggressively conniving and evil? That they would retaliate against a sovereign nation that condemns their actions at full throat, and so Israel would fund and an invasion of their nation so they'd have to cope with the tremendous burden of resources to deal with this instant illegal migration?

Could that be?

Could Israel really be that petty, that vindictive, that awful and evil that they'd Spain for not showing fealty by funding fifty thousand migrants to arrive all at

Some deep pocketed organization was behind this "invasion". The coordination obvious. All strapping men, fifty thousand assembled, provided rubber rafts, a a once?

Pssst.....and if indeed Israel was behind this particular "invasion", which is most possible, it is probable, could they have planned to flood all of Europe with African migrants in some effort to change and alter the demographics there seriously a permanence?

To what end?

Will anyone with a national amplification ask the necessary questions posed by "invasion", will they extrapolate the past twenty years of "invasion" from Africa into the what used to be predominantly white nations of Europe?

Italy is gone. Done.

Demographics are destiny.

The Muslim invasion of Italy is complete, and with the number of children they are having in Italy, juxtaposed with the less than replacement population native Italians are experiencing, in just sixty-to-eighty years Italy will be more falafel, and ka pizza and spaghetti.

That is already a fait accompli. Done.

Shocking to you as you've grown up with this idea of Italy, and Rome, and classical history. The ruins, the cobblestone streets, the romance, the fountains.

Last I saw a migrant was swimming in the Trevi Fountain stealing coins. Just last week. I saw pictures. Migrants. Bathing in multiple Old World Italian fountains.

Italy is done. Gone. A conquered Muslim nation.

Why and How?

Who funded the illegal migration? And why?

Who is responsible for this week's Spanish invasion?

That was one Helluva coordinated event. You don't throw a few rubber rafts off the shores of Morocco and have fifty thousand all males jump in and row.

And if Israel was behind it all, and there is good reason to believe they are, maybe everyone needs to revisit the entire European invasion of illegals.

Makes me admire Hungary so much more. Makes me appreciate Viktor Orbán so much more.

I ask you, who, and why?

Oh, this happened, right before all of our eyes. Someone or some organization some nation, just “punished” Spain.

Why?

Is this the punishment for not being subservient to every last wish of the Israel

Who opened our own borders? And why?

Yes. Bringing down the West will allow a certain group to consolidate power, or so they Italy goes the way of South Africa. I live in a rural poorer area of Hawaii and we are bein with Mexicans and other Latins, people speaking Spanish only, many fighting age men tattoos, just buying lots, dozing and then installing trailers etc for a pop up home. I see overweight Latin families at Costco just after the first of the month here in this far flung USA. I cannot help but think that there is a government subsidy to this ongoing replace Polynesians and Caucasians. I have not taken a week off work in 37 years. I am the moe slaving away, chasing the American dream, and here are thousands of people given adv over the native population. It is diabolical. When it comes to Spain and Italy, it is on their patrol boats and helicopters with shoot to kill orders on any approaching vessel that do turn around or cooperate. NO ONE should be allowed entry a sovereign nation without protocol. This is an at least partly a self inflicted wound.
